Farm Topics

By ED REBMAN

Farmers who want to make a success of their potato crop this year should not neglect thorough and timely applications of spray. Farmers sometimes quit spraying too soon. If plants are large, spraying is often difficult, but should not be abandoned. Since 50 percent of the potato yield is made in the last few weeks of the season, spraying should be continued until frost or harvest. MSC tests have shown that spraying with DDT improves the quality of the potatoes and steps up production from 60 to 100 bushels per acre. Plants should be sprayed first when they are four or five inches high. If plants have gone beyond this size and have not been sprayed yet, the spraying should start immediately. Spraying every 7 to 10 days is recommended.

DDT will control flea beetles and potato leaf hopper. The hopper often causes severe damage after hatching time as it leaves the hay fields and migrates to the potato fields after hay is cut. Effective use of DDT comes when it is mixed with Bordeaux mixtures or a fixed copper solution. The Bordeaux or fixed copper solution will control blight.

DDT should be added last and the solution sprayed as heavy as 125 gallons to the acre. The tractor should be driven slowly to get complete coverage.

Know Soil Needs When Liming
Here's a word of advice on soil liming from Kirk Lawton, soils specialist at Michigan State college. He says that it's important to know which soils are acid and in need of lime. But it's equally important that lime isn't added to land that is already sweet enough. The addition of too much lime to soils results in an effect on plants which is called "overliming" injury. Crop yields may be lowered due to the fact that certain plant nutrients may be made unavailable. So be sure you know what you're doing. . . don't apply lime when the land doesn't need it.

MCS Scientist Has A New Undulant Fever Treatment
Dr. I. Forest Huddleson, Michigan State college research scientist, renowned for his investigations of Bangs' disease and undulant fever, announced last week end the discovery of a new treatment for undulant fever. Dr. Huddleson described the treatment in Copenhagen, Denmark, where he is attending the Second International Congress for Microbiology.

The method involves a new application of the sulfa drugs. Since the drugs were first introduced several years ago, they have been used with little success in combating undulant fever.

In his research, Dr. Huddleson learned why the sulfa drugs became impotent after a disease reached an advanced stage. Inroads of the fever, after several weeks, he discovered, cause the bloodstream to become loaded with inactive antibodies which are unable to resist further the destructive germs. When sulfa is applied at this stage the inactive antibodies counteract the actions of the drug. As a result, the bacteria continue their multiplication and activity in the body.

With these and other findings at hand, Dr. Huddleson experimented with the introduction of new, active antibodies into the blood stream of the patient at the time the sulfa is administered. The process was immediately successful.

In its present form, the treatment consists of injecting whole blood into the system of the patient and then administering sulfadiazine in small amounts for one week. Dr. Huddleson expects to be able to perfect a compound that will enable a physician to inject the sulfa and the antibodies into the blood stream at the same time without the necessity of relying on a blood bank.

News of folks, your neighbors and mine... but did you know that—

The old thermometer has been soaring higher, higher each day but Charlevoix seemed like heaven to the editors after a week-end in Ann Arbor where it was really hot... The C. C. Hendersons arrived home one day last week. They had started for a three weeks trip to West Virginia but the terrific heat turned them back. They got off the bus in Charlevoix feeling like wilted lilies...

Mrs. Lillian Preston of Los Angeles, Calif., is visiting her sister, Mrs. Leo Carey and other relatives here for a month... Nearly fell off his chair the other day when an acquaintance told about making some new dresses for her small daughter for school. "School," I ejaculated and then suddenly realized that in two or three weeks mothers will be ready to start Tommy and Sally to school... Where has this summer gone, haven't even got all my Christmas letters answered yet...

Don't the many sailboats on Round Lake and Lake Charlevoix look inviting and their sails seem to lend a coolness to the air... This town is fairly bursting out at the seams with folks, and can't remember when I have seen so many cars concentrated in one town. Just try and find a parking place short of one's own drive... Mr. and Mrs. Allen Westgate and son, Blake of London, Ont., visited a few days last week with Mrs. Westgate's niece, Mr. and Mrs. Lance Neff. After completing a tour of the United States and Canada the Westgates think Charlevoix the nicest. They will return here later in the fall to purchase or build a cottage.

Met Mrs. W. H. Rudolph the other day, only to learn that Mrs. is an editor's wife, also. The Rudolphs live in Macomb, Ill., but summer at Sequanota... Mr. and Mrs. Richard Poor of Gloucester, Mass., who have been guests at the home of the latter's aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Dell Dutcher for several days, left for Chicago. They plan on touring several western states before returning to their home in the East.

It's "home on the range" for the housewives of Charlevoix and preserving is the order of the day... Mrs. Ida Barnes of Charlevoix was a guest for the past week at the home of Mrs. Eva Blandford... To let her niece, Jean Morrison, of Monominee, know what National Music Camp at Interlochen was like, Mrs. Ed Edwards got together an impromptu party Sunday. Those making up the party were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Weststaff, Mrs. Bernice Weststaff, Nancy Kipke, Jean Morrison, Mrs. Jerry Seuder, Mrs. Florine Stelter, and Mrs. L. E. Lowe and Mrs. Edwards. Next Sunday will mark the close of National Music Camp for another year...

Weddings, weddings and more are in the offing during the coming month... Speaking of weddings, engagements and such, wonder how many folks remember Sally Ann Mayne, who used to live here? Now a resident of North Chester, Calif., and a student at Pasadena City College, the young lady announced her coming marriage to the Philonian Restrictive Club at the college telling of her coming marriage to Don Matson of Van Nuys, Calif., also a student at Pasadena City College. Sally Ann is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Ansley Mayne. Mr. Mayne is a nephew of Mrs. Kenyon and Sally's grandfather used to be the Judge here in Charlevoix County...

Miss Gloria Taylor and John Tomasunas who have been visiting for the past two weeks with Miss Taylor's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Taylor returned to Grand Rapids Sunday. Mary Marie Murphy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Murphy of St. Louis, Mo., celebrated her tenth birthday on Monday with a lawn party at their summer home in Boulder Park. The guests included Jimmie Leo and Johnny Brown and Patty M. Connelly all of St. Louis, who are also spending some time in Boulder Park; and Halina and Rene Dehennings of Detroit.

Don't forget to save your fats. They are badly needed and it is being as patriotic a duty as when the war was on... The Don Conneys, who have returned from Tulsa, Okla., discovered a novel idea for a roadside stand. Down where watermelons are really something, Watermelon Courts were built along the roadside. Clever awnings decorated the courts, smart little waitresses attended you and one could stop in the sheltered spot and enjoy a piece of ice-cold watermelon... Mrs. Gerald Lowe and son, Dan, of Ferndale visited relatives here for a week... Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Zavitz of Huntington Woods arrived last week to spend two weeks with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Block...

Sailing Race to East Jordan is Set for Sunday

The first annual free-for-all sailing race between Charlevoix and East Jordan will be fought out this coming Sunday as one of the features of the annual Sportsman's Day of the Red and Gun Club.

Prizes totalling $225 have been contributed by Earl A. Young, the East Jordan Chamber of Commerce and the Charlevoix Board of Commerce. The money will be divided $100, $75, and $50.

An effort was made to line up some racing scows to form a separate class. Due to previously made arrangements, these could not compete. Consequently scows alone cannot be entered Sunday in the race, which is open to all other classes and types.

The race will start here at 10 a. m. in Round Lake with Capt. Joseph Howard acting as starter. The East Jordan Chamber of Commerce will set up the finish markers at the other end. Hollis Drew is acting as chairman of the race committee there.

Next year the race will be sailed from East Jordan to Charlevoix. S. E. Coleman, Board of Commerce secretary, says that several classes likely will be possible then, including one for scows.

Petoskey Will Hold Sport Show Aug. 23-24

The Charlevoix Rod & Gun Club as well as other sportsmen's groups in Charlevoix County have been asked to take an active part in the annual Emmet County Sportsman's Show at Petoskey Aug. 23-24.

The event, the oldest sportsmen's show in this area of the state, will include a huge air show, water events, competition for children, and a two-day display of log-rolling by the world champion birlers.

Skeet and trap competition will be held at the new Sportsmen's Park on US-31 north of Petoskey.

Vesti McDonoughs Observe Their 50th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Vesti McDonough, Sand Bay, Beaver Island, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. McDonough were both born on the Island and have remained here during all their wedded life.

Tuesday at 9:00 a. m. the couple attended Holy Mass in thanksgiving for the many years granted them together. Many relatives and friends attended Mass for their special intention.

After the services at church, a breakfast was served to the immediate family at the McDonough home.

In the afternoon, a reception was held from 2 to 4. Many friends called.

A dinner honoring Mr. and Mrs. McDonough was served at the King Strang Hotel. Thirty guests were invited.

Meanest Person Steals First Base From Kid's Field

"Who stole first base?" is the question being asked by the kids of the north side playground at Mr. McSaba's and not a line in a radio script.

Someone, who might be nominated for the meanest person of the year, did steal the first base ball, which was one of a set loaned to the playground by Gordon Friedman. And now Louis Bonrissau and the kids are finding it necessary to buy another from their practically non-existent funds.

The playground idea for the town youngsters started early this spring and has grown into a supervised program with at least twenty kids of all ages spending most of their time at the site at the foot of Mt. McSaba. Regular supervisors have been George Smith, Uno Suomela, Max Novak, Don Swinton, Buck Seymour and Herb Campbell, who under the supervision of Bonrissau, the father of the idea, have given generously of their time all summer.

The kids even have their softball team and have joined the league with games scheduled every Tuesday and Friday. The smaller youngsters play on Wednesday evenings.

Plans are now underway to enlarge the grounds and have playground equipment for the smaller children and supervised nursery class.

Early Risers Save Home From Car Fire

The fact that two Detroit visitors here chose early Sunday morning to go fishing at Ironton likely saved the Pete Bennett home and store from burning down.

As Mr. and Mrs. William Lewis drove down to the ferry landing at 5:30 they saw smoke pouring from the Bennett Chevrolet parked beside the house. They rushed the Bennetts, who called Charles Marshall.

Little could be done to save the car but Marshall went to Ironton with one of the city fire trucks and the Bennetts say his prompt arrival saved the house. They have no idea what caused the car to catch fire. The engine and tires were not damaged.

Chief Etienne Gives Safety Don'ts to Boats

The water is beautiful and boating can be a lot of fun but with so many accidents every week here are a few don'ts which will mean safe boating if followed closely.

Don't fail to give large vessels, in fact all vessels, a "wide berth" and don't see how close you can come to another boat without hitting it.

Don't start on a trip without the proper equipment on board and in good order, that is, fire fighting, life saving, signalling and other safety equipment.

Don't run your boat close to beaches or shore property at excessive rates of speed.

Don't fail to observe the speed limits.

Don't take too many aboard. Don't start the motor up until you have thoroughly aired out the bilges.

Remember these few simple rules and you will have a happy vacation, warns Joseph Etienne, of the legal life boat station.

A partnership, begun last fall, was dissolved here Tuesday when Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Reed sold their interest in the WaySide to Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Stroud.

The buying place and teenage room on Petoskey avenue was opened Feb. 20. The Strouds plan to operate it.

The Reeds plan to continue to live in Charlevoix.

Gar Wood Firm to Pay All Accounts In Full

Because Gar Wood, Jr., chose to put $9,600 more of his personal cash into the defunct company, all creditors of the Gar Wood, Jr., Specialties Co., will receive full payment of their accounts on Aug. 15.

On that date Don Coney, temporary receiver for the firm, will mail out checks for both the secured and unsecured accounts. Coney explains that disposition of the assets of the company, which closed March 7, did not produce enough to meet even the secured claims. Wood sent enough more money from Tulsa to pay them all in full.

ACP to Resume Soil Saving Work

Conservation activities by Charlevoix county farmers under the 1947 Agricultural Conservation Program (ACP) have been resumed according to Walter H. Henley, chairman.

Surveys are now being made by county officers to determine the amount of work done under the program during the first five months. Funds available nationally for practices under ACP will be somewhat less for 1947 than in 1946.

One of the biggest problems farmers face now will be in obtaining and spending conservation materials such as lime and phosphates.

New Steel Ketch Visits Charlevoix

Among the sights in Charlevoix Harbor this last week has been the new 77 foot steel auxiliary ketch, Maaroufa, owned by Henry B. Babson of Chicago.

She has diesel power; all woodwork is of teak, some of which quartersawed; a crew of four. She left Chicago on July 19 on her maiden voyage to Canadian waters.

Veterans who have not already done so are urged to make application for Terminal Leave Pay. The closing date for these applications is Aug. 31.

New Phone Rates Would Cut Cost Of Long Distance

Although the proposed increase in rates asked by the Michigan Bell Telephone Co. would boost the monthly phone bill paid by Charlevoix city and county citizens, the advance actually would not be as large as is indicated by a bald statement of the rates themselves.

In the public's favor is the new service proposed by Michigan Bell and called "extended area service." In plain language, the Bell company proposes, if the new rates are granted by the Michigan Public Service Commission, to do away with long distance charges between places within a natural community.

In this case the community would be the area served by the exchanges at Charlevoix, East Jordan, Boyne City and Petoskey. After the new rates take effect, a phone user in Charlevoix, for example, could call a number in any of the other towns and pay no toll charge.

Thus for those who use much long distance, the new rates easily could mean no actual advance. For those who make mostly local calls, the new rates are a definitely higher charge.

According to C. L. Johnson, district Bell manager, the proposed rates are set so that the added cost of doing business will be shared equally by all phone users in proportion to their use of the telephone. He also points out that the extended-area service proposed by the company undoubtedly will result in greater use of lines between the four communities.

At present there are approximately 1000 phones connected to the Charlevoix exchange. With 3000 at Petoskey, 900 at Boyne City and 400 at East Jordan, this new set-up would give Charlevoix users 5400 connected phones.

Individual-line flat-rate service, from present rates of $2 to proposed new rate of $3; 2-party-line flat-rate, from $1.75 to $2.50; 4-party-line flat-rate, from $1.50 to $2; and rural-line residence service, from $1.50 to $2.

Proposed increases for business service are: individual-line flat-rate, from $2.88 to $5.50 a month; 2-party flat-rate, from $2.30 to $4.50; and rural-line business service, from $2.25 to $3.50 a month.

David B. Silberman has purchased the home at 412 Michigan avenue of Mrs. W. E. Hampton. The Silbermans have occupied this place for several past summers.

"Billy" Girard and his son, Lowell, U. S. Champion log birlers, of Gladstone, will be the feature performers at the Sportsman's Carnival on Sunday. The all-day event is sponsored by the Rod and Gun Club.

Other events will include a skeet and archery contest at the range north of Charlevoix at 9:30 and 10:30 respectively. Casting contests will be held in East Park beginning at 1:30 and will be followed by a program of water events.

The birlers will present their act at 7 p. m. and at the prizes for the days events will be awarded.

Al Eagle, conservation director of northern Michigan, Ed Starbuck of Boyne City, conservation officer of this district and Warren Shapton, conservation officer of the Grand Traverse district will be guests of the Rod and Gun Club.

Andy Ammond, bird specialist of the Conservation Dept., and well-known writer of articles on Michigan birds also has been invited to attend the first annual carnival.

Judges for the contests will be: Skeet, Frank and Al Griller of Petoskey.

Archery, Marjorie Wood and Annabelle Hillier; Casting, Everett Gulembos of Bellaire, and Lawrence Isman, of Central Lake.

Prizes being offered are: skeet, 1st prize, 1 case shells to fit winner's gun; 2nd, 1/2 case shells. Archery, 1st, 1 doz. arrows; 2nd, quiver; 3rd, $3 merchandise coupon. The prizes will be the same for the men's, women's. The third prize in the juvenile section will be a free airplane ride. Bait casting, 1st, bait-casting rod worth at least $25 wholesale; 2nd, reel; 3rd, 300 ft. nylon line. Wet and dry casting, 1st, fly rod; 2nd, automatic reel and tapered line; 3rd, $5 in merchandise. Prizes are same in both contests.

Sale of Cigarettes to Those Under 21 Illegal

That sale of cigarettes to those under 21 is illegal is being called to the attention of Charlevoix merchants by the WCTU here.

Some time ago the question came up and the local chapter wrote for exact information. Section 12826 of the Michigan laws of 1915 reads:

"Any person within the state who sells, gives to or in any way furnishes any cigarettes in any form to a person under 21 years of age shall be punished by a fine not to exceed $50 or imprisonment in the county jail for not to exceed 30 days for each offense."

The WCTU reports that many Charlevoix merchants are cooperating by refusing to sell to those under 21. Others are selling, they believe, through ignorance of the law.

Charlevoix Spoils You

This town of Charlevoix certainly does things to you.

Last Friday I had to go to Ann Arbor. It was the first time we had driven down through Michigan in the summer in three years.

Places we used to admire enviously now looked dry and sort of colorless. Several times on the way we remarked that only utter necessity could drag us away from home after this—that Charlevoix had so many advantages and attractions as a place to be that there was little point in gallivanting around.

Hay Fever Remedy

Speaking of Ann Arbor brings up a news story from there.

Dr. John M. Sheldon, head of the Allergy Clinic at the University Hospital, gives a lot of rules for hay fever sufferers in the summer. They include staying off country roads, avoiding drafts in the bedroom, and so on.

There's a lot simpler one—simply come up North and leave the blooming pollen down below.

IOOF Rites Held For Grant Crandall

Grant Crandall, 74, resident of Charlevoix for more than 50 years, died at his home Saturday following a long illness.

Born in Blooming Valley, Pa., on Sept. 4, 1873, he came to Antrim county as a child. He was married to Mary E. Chilton in Charlevoix on May 13, 1903. For the last 30 years he has been employed as a caretaker of summer cottages.

He was a member of the I. O. O. F., and the L. O. O. M.

Besides his wife he is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Wesley Smith of Detroit, and Mrs. Leo Friend of Harbor Springs; two sons, Oakley of Dearborn and Earl of Charlevoix; a brother, Bert of this city; one sister, Mrs. Ben LaNore of Muskegon and five grandchildren.

Odd Fellow rites were held at the See Funeral Home at 2 o'clock Tuesday. Burial was in the Brookside cemetery.

Friends Attend Party For John Bingham

John Bingham, whose birthday was Wednesday, celebrated the occasion at a party given by his mother, Mrs. Harry Bingham, at their Pine Point home on Tuesday. Little guests enjoyed swimming, games and refreshments which included ice cream and cake. Those present were Martha and Butch Coleman, Bobby and Lynette Maize, Patty Bulow, Mike Genie, Perry Smith, Roy Whitley, Beth Lewis, Marlene Boss and Mabel Bingham.

CARD OF THANKS
We want to express our sincere appreciation to all those who during the illness of our mother, Mrs. Lizzie Black, cheered her with their flowers, cards and by their calls; and to those who helped with their sympathy and flowers after her passing.

IN MEMORIAM
In loving memory of our dear mother, Sarah Matilda Murray, who passed away two years ago, August 11, 1945:
Gracious, gentle Mother
Always sweet and kind—
You only saw the good in folks,
And to their faults were blind;
God's taken you to heaven;
Where all is joy and mirth
But the place you left so empty
No one can fill on earth.

BEAVER ISLAND

By Mrs. J. C. Hanley

Without a doubt, Home Coming on Beaver Island is like a get together of one big family. Hundreds of former islanders and friends of the island returned and were greeted by their families and friends.

The ladies on the island not only helped prepare the big August dinner, which was served at the Parish Hall, but took care of their many guests. So it's a busy, happy week-end.

The dinner was delicious. Every one was satisfied. Over 400 were served between 12 o'clock and 3 o'clock.

The Parish Hall was decorated with a canopy of vari-colored crepe paper. Vases of red ramblers roses were spaced at intervals in the center of the long tables.

Mitchell Baird's orchestra furnished the music for the dance. During intermission, Mrs. Paul Heflin sang the Irish songs. Terry Hanley presented an original skit, "Back to Beaver Island" to the tune of "Back to Donegal." Community singing followed, led by the Ladies Choir.

The Home Coming was a big success, due to the fine cooperation of all.

Listing all the visitors would be an impossible task but—

Mrs. Anna Snergel and three small sons of South Haven are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Gus Mielke.

Dr. and Mrs. Charles McCann and family, Bay City, have arrived and will spend several weeks at their cottage.

Miss Mary Green, Chicago, has been the guest of her sister, Mrs. John Andy Gallagher.

Mary Lou O'Connor left on Friday's boat but like magic, she was back again Saturday.

That can happen when one has an aviator for a boy friend.

Andrew Grossi and two sons, Dr. Grossi, all of Chicago Heights, spent a week on the island. They have a big house under construction on Little Sand Bay.

Mrs. Annie O'Brien, Escanaba, flew to the island for the Home Coming. Mrs. O'Brien, with 80 summers to her credit, enjoyed the modern mode of travel to the island, her birthplace.

Georgia peaches are appearing in the local markets, but one came to Hanley's house last week. Marie Riordan, sister of your B. I. reporter, came to spend part of her vacation on the island.

She will visit the Henry Allens in Ann Arbor before returning south.

Anna Cain, Cleveland, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon LaFreniere.

Teddy Wojan was discharged from Little Traverse Hospital and is convalescing at his home. The injury was not as serious as was first reported.

Archie LaFreniere's hand which was badly cut in the ice crusher, will be in a bandage for some time. He narrowly escaped losing two fingers.

Ten days ago, a crew of county road repair men from the mainland arrived on the island. With the help of our own road crew, these men have King's Highway really fit for a king.

An incident happened during the week which gave us all concern. The tide, which was being heated to pour into the tank on the back of a truck, became overheated. An explosion took place sending tar in all directions and causing the tank car to be set afire. By quick action, the crew escaped with only one of the men having his face covered with tar, but only minor burns resulted. Before the coast guards arrived with fire apparatus, the men had the fire extinguished. Chief John Kirby and his wife were on the island for the week-end. Chief Kirby was formerly stationed here.

Margie Gathiff returned to Chicago with Mrs. McCourt. Margie will visit in the Windy City about a month.

ROCK ELM

By Mrs. A. B. Lawton

Mr. and Mrs. Jo Hyatt, who have been spending their vacation visiting relatives and friends here and in East Jordan returned in Detroit the first of the week.

The weather certainly plays tricks on us this summer. First we have a frost that sings the potato tops a little, then it comes so hot that it nearly bakes the cherries on the trees.

Lawrence Jensen has about 85 cherry pickers now working in his orchard. The daily output is 300 bags or about three tons of cherries.

Murray School

Mrs. Grant Furgeson

Mrs. George Hair of Detroit, who has been visiting relatives here this past week, returned to her home Saturday.

Mrs. Frank White of Gainesville, Fla., is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Bob White and family.

Mrs. Harold Meggison and daughter, Luann of Wheeling, W. Va., visited Mrs. William Hair on Saturday.

Ellsworth Notes

J. Timmer, Reporter

The village tax rate this year is eight mills, according to notices sent last week by Grant A. Hastings, treasurer.

A fine crowd attended the Mission Fest held Thursday afternoon and evening at Barnes park. Espousal by the Reformed and Christian Reformed churches of the vicinity. The evening meeting, which was tried for the first time this year drew a large crowd.

Upper Torch Lake Will Dedicate New Fire House, Have Firemen's Field Day and Parade On Aug. 24

Upper Torch Lake will dedicate its new fire hall and community building on Aug. 24 with a firemen's field day, parade and suitable ceremonies.

Promptly at 12 noon the Charlevoix Band, led by Max Smith, will start the parade at Eastport in front of Ed Dawson's. The march will be to the firehouse where the dedication and flag raising will take place. Paul Wolf, president of the Upper Torch Lake Association, will give the acceptance speech.

At 1:30 the ball game at Barnes Park will commence. Other games are planned at the park also. Speed boat rides will leave from Harper's dock at Hopkins Beach.

During the past week the fire truck and prize boat made a swing around through Elk Rapids, Charlevoix and Central Lake.

Plans for the dedication day were made at the annual meeting of the Association Aug. 4 at the Masonic Hall in Torch Village. Paul Wolf, retiring president, thanked the members for their cooperation and complimented the Association on the gains made during the past year. The nominating committee then reported out just one name—Wolf's, and despite his protests he was reelected. Other officers are Hans DeYoung of Atwood, vice-president; Nellie Fry of Eastport, treasurer; Olive Monard was reelected secretary. Spencer Arnold, Marie K. Brown, Tom Avey are newly elected directors. The next meeting will be in the fire house Aug. 25 at 8 p.m.

At the annual meeting it was explained that the fire truck had had to be stored at Conrad Klossner's at Atwood since there was no other heated building large enough which was available. The truck is owned by the members of the Association and despite contrary stories, it was not to be transferred to any township or other control.

Twenty-four members of the Association last Tuesday donated their services and helped to pour a new concrete floor in the fire-hall. Final work is now going on so it will be completed by Aug. 24.

REAL ESTATE OF ALL KINDS
Charlevoix - the beautiful Michigan

The Tow Line

News of folks, your neighbors and mine... but did you know that—

Rev. Ellsworth Dykstra has declined the call to North Blenden and will remain here. It was Supt. Roy Bennett who called Monday morning and wanted to know when next Easter was. Almost laughed aloud for, "My thought at the question was 'Migosh, will I ever make it through Labor Day?'". Charlevoix is surely the "Companyingist" town that ever was. For example at the editor's home during the past week Mr. and Mrs. E. I. Starkrauf and children of Coldwater, Mrs. Fannie Blauvelt and Mrs. Fred Graves of Jonesville, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Briggs of Ann Arbor, Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Upright and daughter of Lansing, Charles Chapman of Evanston, Ill., and Sidney Straight of Ann Arbor.

While the heat has really been something, even in northern Michigan, the Upper Peninsula has gone to one better. Some tourists in Charlevoix who have just been vacationing near Houghton said that they have been having 103 heat in Houghton. Said they got into a funny traffic jam for more than two hours. It seems that the bridge between Hancock and Houghton got so hot a section of the draw bridge expanded. For two hours the fire department poured water on that section of the bridge before it contracted enough to be closed.

The J. Raleigh Nelsons of Ann Arbor will be coming to Ironton this summer. However, they do not expect to open their cottage there. They will be with the Wilbur Clines at their home on Dixon Avenue from Sept. 8 to Sept. 22. Mr. Nelson says that this will mark the 50th year of their coming to Ironton. In that 50 years, 1946 was the only one when they have not spent some time at their summer home, and that was because of Mr. Nelson's serious illness.

This is now the time of the year to dig up your iris and separate the bulbs for their replanting. In the "I would like to see" department, some Charlevoix folks expressed a wish that the town could be kept "Charlevoix the Beautiful". It was a desire to see the sidewalks before our business places closed down at least once a week. With so many, many folks concentrated in a few short blocks there is much debris on the sidewalks, such as guns, cigarette stubs. True it would freshen up Main street, give the place a cleaner look and one would not ruin his shoes trying to dig off somebody's cud of gum.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Guthrie of Indianapolis were house guests for three days of Mr. and Mrs. Don Coney. Charlevoix was honored by an unexpected guest last week, it being Joan Davis, the famous movie star. She appeared at dinner in a formal gown and several persons hearts may have skipped a beat when they discovered who she was. The big picture window at the Ronald Abfalter house certainly looks most attractive. Elsie Scudder carries several pictures in her purse of this section of the country after a snow storm. Needless to say one feels cooled considerably after looking at them. Gee, wouldn't a snowbank feel right good along the road now!

Congratulations to Bill and Charles Bollinger on their new store fronts. Now the windows are completed and a good looking display is in each. Certainly gives that block a real lift. Speaking of store windows, one knows that fall is not far off when they look at the hunting scene in the Abbey window. It's most attractive. Also, the window of Bill Ochs' pictures in the drug store has certainly created considerable interest. There are some wonderful shots of Charlevoix as well as interesting folks in Charlevoix.

Blackberries need rain or they will burn up on the bushes. There is a bumper crop if only rain would come along. Mrs. Rosa Nettleton's "Lena", the life-sized model of a woman she constructed from a great deal of chicken wire, cotton, cloth, a modeled face and hours of time, has created a great deal of comment and admiration. "Lena" has been sitting out on the front porch of the Nettleton home on Burns Street for the past few weeks. With 36 different outfits, Lena has quite a wardrobe and it has got to the point that folks are wondering what will Lena be wearing today. Last week she surprised her admirers and donned a man's garb, even unto the (Continued on page 10)

Several requests have been received here for Mr. Tubbs to sing a couple of numbers with the Snow Belt Chorus, a popular feature of last year's program.

Former Student From Cuba Visits Teacher Here

Twenty years ago, at the business college at Muskegon, Mario Campa, a Spanish student from Cuba, made a promise to his English teacher when he left the school. "I'll see you again."

Last week the English teacher, now Mrs. David Blake, received a telegram from that pupil. The next day he arrived in Charlevoix and said, "I have kept my promise. You see, I have no business in this cold, north country, so you must know I came especially to see you."

With him was his wife and the couple were guests of the Blakes at a beach party on Lake Michigan.

Others sharing the fun were Mr. and Mrs. William Copeman, Miss Jeanne Copeman of Ann Arbor, Mrs. Trine Nelson, Joan Nelson, Ben Williams of Panama Canal Zone, Dean and Mrs. William A. Rush and three children of Adrian college and Mitchell Baird.

The Campos own a big coffee plantation in Cuba and had been doing a tour to the West by plane. They plan to return again to bring their son to learn English.

Model Ship to Be Placed in Park

Within a short time the city's new boat will be installed in the downtown park for all to see. It is the model ship made by Capt. Allie Moore and used in the Centennial Parade at Traverse City. It will be repainted, renamed and probably placed in the south end of the large pool.

Money to buy the boat was contributed by Charlevoix citizens. They were: Julius Gilbert, Kit Carson, Don Campbell, Earl A. Young, E. D. Hawley, Harley Ochs, John Schroeder, Brown Motors, Frank Courter G. B. Van Dusen, Bernie Ward, Glenn See, Argo Milling, E. J. Hiller, Palace Theatre, Dutcher & Johnson, Mont's Cafe, Parkside Restaurant, Sugar Bowl, L. E. Towe.

Advice Given to 4-H Exhibitors

Suggestions to 4-H Club members who are to exhibit in the Club division of the Charlevoix County Fair Sept. 2 to 5 have been made by Karl C. Festerling, district club agent. They are:

The produce should be excellent—clean, free from injury, uniform in size, shape and color, and true to type. Root crops like beets and carrots, should be topped and washed. When shown in bunches, however, the tops are left on. Cauliflower should not be trimmed too closely. Cucumbers, egg plant, peppers, melons, squash, potatoes and tomatoes should be wiped but not washed. Sweet corn should have the husks peeled back a little. At least five different vegetables must be grouped attractively for a garden exhibit.

New Rules Cut Limits On Birds

A 12-day pheasant hunting season with the season bag cut from eight to six, a 30 day duck season with the daily bag cut from seven to four, and the opening of additional deer hunting territory are the major new rules for the 1947 hunting season approved by the Conservation Commission. Michigan shares the nationwide slump in pheasant numbers, and the 10-day shorter season, Oct. 15 to Oct. 26, is expected to reduce the illegal kill of hens. Summer reports of game men and conservation officers have indicated fewer pheasants than there were a year ago.

Deer hunters have had their territory increased by roughly one tier of counties, as the southern boundary of the open zone has been moved southward to highway M-50 from Lake Michigan to Grand Rapids, along highway M-21 from Grand Rapids to Owasco, and north along highway M-13, US-23 and M-47 to Saginaw Bay, excluding the Thumb. Expansion of the deer herd and resultant damage to agricultural crops prompted the boundary extension.

Deer hunting regulations are otherwise unchanged, except as the Legislature authorized bow and arrow hunting for "one deer"—buck, doe or fawn—Oct. 11-Nov. 5 in 17 counties besides Allegan, Gogebic, Isco, Montcalm, Ionia, Oscoda, Ontonagon, Iron, Schoolcraft, Mackinac and Luce. Michigan's waterfowl hunting regulations drawn up in conformity with federal rules, permit hunting Oct. 7 to Nov. 5, from sunrise to one hour before sunset, except on opening day when shooting starts at noon.

Candidates Urge Voters to Go to Polls Thursday

Both candidates for the vacant seat in Congress at the special election Tuesday were in Charlevoix last week and both outlined the principal points of their platform.

Both candidates urged that all voters go to the polls Tuesday and vote.

Harold D. Beaton, Escanaba democrat, says that Michigan's Congressmen do not pay enough attention to our tourist and fishing industries. Along with his program of tax reduction, Beaton favors greater Federal aid for road building, seasonal tax relief for seasonal resort institutions, and more Federal funds for rivers and harbors.

Charles Potter, republican of Cheboygan, was here at the Beach Hotel Saturday and Sunday, meeting many and talking over political matters.

His platform included looking out for the veteran, ridding our government of Communist infiltration, tax reduction, promotion of the tourist industry, and protection of the interests of the farmer and labor.

Potter also stressed the fact that as the 11th district lies in both Upper and Lower Michigan, he would represent both areas impartially.

City to Ask Bids On Painting Tank

A partial report on the traffic survey conducted by the State Highway Department on South Bridge St. was presented to the City Council at their regular meeting Monday evening. No action will be taken by the city or state until the report is completed.

Permission to advertise for bids for the painting of the city water tower was granted to Supt. Angus G. Leitch. Permission was also granted to the State Highway Department to post one side of Nichols St., with No Parking signs while the street is being used as a temporary US-31.

Summer Festival Nets $882.25 for School

The 17th annual summer festival netted a total of $882.25 for St. Mary's school. Rev. Leo Zeilinski, pastor of the church, has announced.

Mrs. Harry Lesser of 202 Dixon Ave. won the first prize of $50. The drawing was made at the party given at the V. F. W. hall on Sunday evening. Members of the Altar Society assisted at the party.

Ann Duly and Theresa Sheek were co-chairmen of the event. Father Zeilinski would like to thank the summer girls, the summer residents as well as the local residents for their cooperation in making the party a success. Funds are used for the operation of the school.

Bowlers Will Meet At VFW Tuesday

Charlevoix bowlers are invited to meet next Tuesday at the VFW Hall here to discuss plans for the coming year.

Jack Hartzell, acting secretary of the Charlevoix Bowling Association, has called the meeting.

Citizens Honor Lewis C. Reimann for 21 Years As Camp Charlevoix Head

Speaking for the Board of Commerce and for the people of Charlevoix, E. J. Edwards Sunday night paid tribute to Lewis Reimann and Camp Charlevoix. This summer marks the 21st year for the camp. The Board of Commerce officers took the opportunity of the Sportsman's Day hook-up and crowd to pay public tribute to Mr. and Mrs. Reimann for what they have meant to Charlevoix.

Edwards briefly recounted the story of the founding of the camp and what it has meant to the generations of boys who have come here. He then presented Reimann with a document from the Board of Commerce, which read:

An Appreciation
Twenty-one years ago Lewis C. Reimann came to Charlevoix to establish a character camp for boys.

This summer that camp has reached its majority. During these 21 years Camp Char-

Plans for New School Building Received Here

Preliminary plans for a proposed new high school building to replace the present inadequate one have been received from the Warren S. Holmes Co., of Lansing.

The new building could be put up in three sections, thus spreading the cost over more years and allowing the present structure to be used while two-thirds of the construction is going on.

The proposed building has no basement, thus saving that cost. It is designed so that inside partitions can be moved easily if at any future time a change of room size is needed.

The plan would place the new building where the present one stands and extending north from it. Thus the school structure would be a big U, with the present elementary school the west wing; the gym being the bottom section and the new building the east wing.

The plan would provide for an enlarged gym of the stadium type, such as Petoskey's. This would be accomplished by building a new north wall. In this larger center section would be shops and a band room.

The new east wing would contain offices, cafeteria, kitchen, science and ag labs, home economics room and classrooms.

As soon as more detailed information and cost estimates are received, the Board of Education plans to call another public meeting to report on the proposition and ask for suggestions and possibly a vote on future moves.

Pile Driver Cuts North Side Current

First electric current troubles this summer, as far as the consumer is concerned, occurred last Wednesday between 1:40 and 3:15 p. m.

All over town lights and motors grew dim or stopped.

Just as one of the last piles at the railroad bridge was being driven a few hundred inches, it snapped the power cable to the north side. Immediately the load was thrown on the other cable at Bridge street. But it proved too much of a load and lights kept flickering off until the power crew could get their crews re-aligned. The old cable still is not completely repaired.

Foster Company To Store Boats

The Foster Boat Co. this fall plans to offer a new and needed service to boat owners in these parts.

For the first time it will make its yard space available for storage of small boats.

The only limit on this, according to President Harry Foster, is that no craft larger than Foster's 36 foot cruisers can be handled. The boats will be stored outside under tarpaulin.

License to Kill

Under the above title the Saturday Evening Post last week carried one of the most shockingly pointed stories I have seen in a long time. Not since the Reader's Digest carried "And Sudden Death" has there appeared such a scathing commentary on our national habit of murder by motor.

The article points its own moral. It should be read—and heeded. We can do our share towards safety on our highways by a public opinion which supports police officers when they turn down an application for a driver's license from an unfit person.

Cooperation Pays

The Sportsmen's organizations of Charlevoix and Emmet County last Sunday and next are setting an example which all the vacation country of the North can well follow.

Each planned to stage a Sportsman's Carnival. The Charlevoix Rod & Gun Club sponsored theirs Aug. 17 so as not to conflict with the Beaver Island Homecoming. As soon as the date was set, men from the Emmet County club at Petoskey came over to offer their help.

"It was accepted. So last Sunday when the Carnival was held here, the Petoskey skeet field was closed down completely, the Emmet club's skeet division was here and took charge of scoring at the skeet shoot.

Next Saturday and Sunday members of the Rod & Gun Club will return the favor, going to Petoskey to help out at the Sportsman's Day there.

By cooperating, both clubs will have much more successful events, more recreation will be supplied our summer guests and everyone will benefit.

In contrast to it was the unfortunate scheduling of two major North country events on the same day a while back. Although an accident, the conflict in dates helped neither event.

Up here we have enough summer events to have something worthwhile going on every week somewhere in our vacationland. These should be scheduled so that our summer folks, if they wish, can see them all.

New Bridge Put In Place; May Be Opened to Traffic This Week

The new temporary bridge may be operating Thursday or Friday if most of the wiring and other needed material arrives so the electrical hookup can be finished.

Shown above is the new 123 foot span in place after it was swung in place and latched to the pontoon which will carry the moving end. Due to the fact the pontoon rode higher than was originally planned, three feet was cut of the bottom of the four supports carrying the bridge and the shorten-1 props then rewelded to the pontoon. When the old bridge is wired, iron pigs in the counter balance will be used for ballast in the pontoon. They will partly replace the water ballast.

A 45 horse electric motor will drive the operating winch of the new span. A 15 horse motor will run the ballast pump. Only actual tests will show how fast the new bridge will operate.

Lumber Company Office, Alhambra Are Landmarks of Heyday of Lumbering

Two of Charlevoix's oldest buildings, the Alhambra Hotel and the offices of the Charlevoix Lumber Co., are to be razed soon to make way for the new bascule bridge now under construction over Pine river.

With them will go landmarks of another era and much of the early history of Charlevoix, for their construction in the early days marked the growth of a fisherman's settlement known as Pine River to that of a permanent village.

The history of the mill might well be the history of Charlevoix. The first equipment was brought here from Whitewater, Wis., by O. S. Washburn after Redington, Nelson and Co., had chosen the present location for a mill. In 1870 George W. Esterly and Co. purchased the mill and it was later known as the Whitewater Furniture and Manufacturing Co.

It was during those years that the present office and the adjacent building were constructed.

In 1891 the company was incorporated as the Charlevoix Lumber company by John Nichols. E. J. Hiller, who has been with the company for 40 years, became manager in 1918 and part owner in 1923.

Since the logging area became depleted about 1915 there has been little lumbering as the old timers knew it and the business has become more or less a retail business. Part of the mill was burned in 1930 and the remainder of the mill buildings have been torn down.

With the old office will pass the old logging days and the camps and their hardships will remain but a memory.

The building which has been the Alhambra Hotel since 1923 also played a vital part in the history of Charlevoix. Built in 1871 it was the first 'theatre' in the village and was known as the Opera House. It was here that all the traveling road companies, magic lantern shows, home talent shows and later silent pictures were shown to the public.

The building was actually the Lewis House, named for its builder, Dr. Levi Lewis, one of the first physicians in this area. He also operated a drug and grocery business on the first floor of the building in partnership with John Aekert.

Later the upper floor was used as a basketball court. Stores still occupied the first floor even after the remainder of the building was converted into a hotel. In Jan. 1946, it was sold to Bucher and Ballard of Flint, and a bowling alley was installed on the first floor.

The building was purchased by the state after the lower walls on the channel side were declared a hazard.

Do You Need Lime?

With the lime plant at Charlevoix now producing lime, the question that is most frequently asked is "do I need lime?" Many requests have come in to the County Extension Office during this past week asking for lime tests. Thirteen soil samples were tested last Wednesday and Thursday and they range from very sour to very sweet soil. Four of these samples needed lime badly. They were so sour that establishing a seeding was very difficult. Two others were in the middle or neutral. They could add lime but it would do them no good and they would derive no benefits from it. They should put their money into fertilizer rather than into lime. The remaining six samples tested sweet which means that they not only do not need lime but it would be disastrous to their soil and future crop yields to add lime. Adding lime to these sweet soils would tie up into insoluble compounds vital elements that plants must have to grow. In their case they should apply fertilizers rather than lime.

Anyone wishing a lime test should drop a card to the County Extension Office at Boyne City.

Vacation for Breeders Association Announced

The Michigan Artificial Breeders' Cooperative announces a vacation and holiday of the central bull stud and the 95 local insemination managers of ABAs that are conducting the business in 43 counties," says Wesley Mahaffy, president.

"The program," he says, "has been conducted without a break for three and one-half years and the 95 insemination managers conducting the business in the local will get a few days well deserved vacation."

The vacation will occur Aug. 23 to Sept. 2.

This is at the season of the year when the least number of cows are bred and it coincides with the season of lower values in semen production by bulls, brought on chiefly by warmer summer weather.

Shipments by the M. A. B. C. are made regularly three days a week and this short vacation of ten days will cut out only four shipments, including the Labor Day holiday. Shipments will start again Sept. 3, according to Paul Doctor, Secretary of the Antrim, Charlevoix, ABA.

"The Antrim Charlevoix has 77 ABA herds of 763 cows using the artificial breeding service with the Michigan Artificial Breeders

Ragweed Control

These sneaky hay fever days may be on the way out for some people. During the summer and fall, many areas in Michigan are covered with a heavy growth of ragweed which produces a large amount of pollen. This pollen is airborne and causes hay fever in five to ten percent of the population.

Ragweed areas, however, usually are found on fallow land, roadsides, and other uncultivated areas where a cover of vegetation is needed to prevent soil erosion. A program of weed control which reduces the pollen production in these areas and yet retains the soil-holding properties of the native vegetation is desirable. 2,4-D fitted the need for this kind of weed control and could be used at reasonable cost.

Ragweed was killed by a single application of 2, 4-D at a concentration of 1 part of the weed killer to 1000 parts of water. Pollen production by old plants was stopped, but plants were not immediately killed, by spraying with a concentration of 1 part of weed killer per 2,000 parts water. No pollen was formed at all when plants were sprayed with a 1 part of weed killer per 4,000 parts water at the stage of growth just before flowering.

Manistee River, Three Day Sailing Trips, Annual Carnival Keep Campers Busy

The Manistee River trip, the annual Carnival and the tying of the standing between the Green and Gray teams were the stand-out activities during the next to the last week at Camp Charlevoix.

The week's program opened with water front activities because of the continued heat wave. That evening three intermediate cabins went to the movies, the cabins being 13, 14 and 15.

On Tuesday morning, the big trip of the year left camp, headed by Ben St. Laurent, chairman of the trip committee, and Chuck Southwick, assistant canoeing instructor.

The outing was gone from camp for four days. The boys to make the trip were Bill Craig, David Gorsline, Palmer Beebe and Bob Eschbach, all of cabin 16, Dale Arn, Leonard Boord, Pat Larson, Don Pfarrer, Victor Segar and Dick Robbins.

The outfit was picked up Friday morning by Phil Steding who drove the camp truck down to the agreed meeting place along the bank of the river.

Also leaving camp on Tuesday was the last trip of the 1947 season to Wilderness State Park. This trip was made by cabins 8 and 9 under the leadership of Fred Kassner and Jim Harrison.

The boys that went were Dick Lambrecht, John Hickox, Chuck Dunlavy, George Maghielse, Tom James, Billy Bissell, all of cabin 8. From cabin 9 were Bill Traylor, Jim Dreyer, Peter Sears, Don Custer, Emerson Dentel and Bob Miller.

Another trip left camp Tuesday also with cabins 11 and 15 going out on Lake Charlevoix for a three sailing jaunt.

Headed by Bob Nicholson and Ian Wilson, the boys going out were David Ball, Ted Miller, Larry Dunlavy, Jay Herbert, Tom Thomas, Doug Treadgold, Bill Conrad, Mike Boswell, Hal Shields, Billy Hall and Tom Mackey.

On Thursday the junior section was taken to the State fish hatchery and the Coast Guard station in Charlevoix. That night, cabin 17 made their last town trip to Charlevoix under the leadership of Phil Steding.

With the coming of the camp carnival, all of Friday was spent in preparation of that event.

The profit being turned over to the Foster Parents, Inc., of New York for the support of a war orphan in Europe, the Carnival was a great success.

Cabins 16 and 12 came out with the most popular concessions. Cabin 12 outdid all the other outfits with 16 close behind. The winning concession consisted of a penny toss in a fish pond, a winner receiving a ride on the motor bike belonging to Ian Wilson, counsellor, of that cabin.

Cabin 16 under Al Reynolds, had a dart board with balloons and drawings of various camp characters as targets.

On Sunday afternoon, the Grey team swept two of the three swimming group events to tie up the competition for the season. Today, a boy hunt will be held to determine the winning side.

The campers will go out in the woods and hide from the pursuing counsellors, the score being determined by the number of campers caught from each side.

Preparations are being made for the four big events of final week at Camp Charlevoix, the Green and Grey Banquet, the final council ring ceremony, the rodeo and the final banquet.

North Side News

By Marlon Eisendrath

The North Side has quieted down quite a bit in the last few days as a good many of the summer visitors have departed. . . . some permanently and some with the intention of returning for Labor Day. There were enough left, however, to hold the weekly baseball game with Belvedere which the North Siders won again.

Among those who returned this week were Erna Eisendrath and her two children, Ann and Ellen, who have been at Holiday Camp in Minnesota this summer.

Bonnie Feibleman, granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Godchaux returned Sunday from a Caribbean cruise. She is staying at the home of her grandparents on Michigan avenue.

The Jefferson Miller's house was all left for their respective homes this week; Ann Weller and Marcel Hess returned to Baltimore and John Wineman returned to Chicago.

Others who left for Chicago this week include Sue Block, granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Block, Virginia Strauss and Barbara Chernin; Linda and Ted Hunsinger, and Jeanne Harris.

Walter Harris left on Monday for his home in St. Louis. He had been here for about three weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Nathan were up here for the week-end and decided to stay over for a few days. They are staying at Mrs. Nathan's father's home on the Loch estate.

Mr. Irving Bateman left Sunday night for home after spending most of the summer up here.

... NO ADMISSION CHARGE ...

Let's Wake Up Rip Van Winkle!

Millions of bushels of food may rot in our fields this harvest time, instead of being available to the markets of the world — because of our shortage of freight cars. Here is a way that thousands of cars can be freed for service — in a hurry.

Are old-line managements asleep while freight trains creep at a snail's pace — by agreement?

ARE you interested in the price of food? Does it give you a twinge to see those pictures of mountains of wheat piled on the ground and potatoes going to rot — when there's a desperate world food crisis?

The bottle-neck is our freight-car shortage. But thousands of cars could be freed by a single decision — if old-line railroad managements would act.

Don't Blame the War!

This is hard to believe, but it's true: we have today only three-fourths as many freight cars in our country as we had twenty years ago. This shrunken fleet is now called on to handle the greatest peacetime traffic in history. And the war itself is not to blame for the shortage — for in no single year from 1925 to the start of hostilities did the railroad industry buy as many cars as it junked. Twenty years is a long time for even Rip Van Winkle to sleep!

What Can Be Done?

There is at least one remedy that can be applied at once — despite the steel shortage and other difficulties in car-building. This remedy requires no new equipment, no period of time to work out — nothing but an act of management:

Lift what appear to be agreements between railroads that deliberately slow down many freight trains!

Here is an example. There are eight important schedule routes by which you can ship "fast" freight from California to Chicago. These routes vary in length as much as 150 miles. But, curiously, the time schedule for each of the eight is exactly 118 hours — and 30 minutes!

Similarly, scheduled freight trains moving west over the important routes from Chicago to the Coast areas, despite great differences in terrain and mileage, take exactly 150 hours — on the nose!

Is This Free Competition?

Could it be that these schedules are fixed by agreement? That the trains which could be fastest are held back for the slowest — so that no road can have even the slightest competitive advantage?

Railroad men know that, in many instances, a whole day could be cut off these schedules between California and Chicago — if managements would simply order it. If that were done, on these roads and on others, it would ease the national car shortage at once!

There is good reason to believe that by lifting deliberate freight slowdowns, on the roads that still practice them, we could provide more cars this summer and fall than our shops can possibly build. And, at this critical time, every car that can be freed for service is desperately needed!

A Call For Action!

The next few weeks will be the most important ones in our food problem. Our wheat crop is estimated to exceed any previous record by 300 million bushels. It is even now being piled in the fields — for want of cars.

If you feel as strongly about this as the C&O does, write to your newspaper and your congressman. Do it today while it is on your mind.

Ask them to stir up Rip Van Winkle — and tell him that time is short. Demand that our trains be scheduled not merely to suit the private deals of the railroads, but so that we can make the best use, for the whole public, of our shamefully depleted stock of freight cars!

BEAVER ISLAND By Mrs. J. C. Henley

Perfect vacation weather continues on the Island. Not one gloomy, rainy day in three weeks or more.

In the country, grasshoppers are taking over and causing damage. Not a flower remains in the garden, due to the insects. George VanErick's wooden shirt and jacket was left on the ground while he was working at the airport, and the grasshoppers ate huge holes in the shirt and the lining out of the jacket.

The golden wedding anniversary of Mary and Vest McDonald was a happy affair. Not only were all the McDonough sons and daughters present for the occasion, but all of Mary's sisters, her one brother, and her bridesmaid, Bonnie Gallagher were there.

Mr. and Mrs. Pete Rivers, Fort Lauderdale, Fla., are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Cull.

M. K. Chew and son, Milo, of Charlevoix were recent Island visitors.

The Christian brothers departed Friday. Just before they were to board the North Shore, a fire of some size broke out in the under brush near the retreat house. The brothers, together with all available men in town, rushed out to fight the fire. Within an hour, the fire was under control. Jack Lyons very kindly detained the departure of the North Shore until the brothers could safely leave.

Mrs. Mary McDonough and son, Charles, of Charlevoix are visiting Mrs. Elizabeth Gallagher, Henry Allen and daughter, Louise, flew to the Island for the week-end.

the bride and groom attended the ceremony.

The bride wore a floor-length dress of pink marquisette with a skirt made of tiers of ruffles. Instead of a bouquet she carried a prayer book which has been in the Bemis family for many generations. The reception was held after the wedding in the Belvedere casino. After their honeymoon Mr. and Mrs. Bemis will live in Prescott, Ark.

News of folks, year neighbors and mine... but did you know that—

There is going to be "music in the air" this week-end when all the barber shop quartets who will be here start giving forth. I distinctly remember that day last year, for it happened to be the day I arrived from California to buy "The Courier." Walked down Main street, getting as far as Henry's Barber Shop when a man with a make in his hand stepped up and placing the instrument before me said, "Would you mind answering the following question to the man on the street: 'Are you happily married?'" My first impression! Anyway the paper was purchased that day!!

Mrs. Guy Greene and her mother, Mrs. Annusman of Detroit arrived Wednesday and will spend the month of September at the Greene-cottage at the Belvedere. What a compact and improved shop is Slezak's Repair Shop. Now Charlevoix is awaiting the day when the old shop is torn down and a brand new building takes its place. It was Nelly Crandall who said, "I am really having a wonderful summer in Charlevoix and I appreciate it no end!"

There are quite a few sneezers in town. Certainly a difference in the pollen count from Charlevoix and regions around Lansing. It has never been more than 29 here and it is up in the 600 count down in the lower part of the state. It's no wonder folks lie themselves to the North Country. The topic of conversation these days is not so much about lengthening Sally's dresses but how mother is going to tease her old clothes down to the required length that Dame Fashion decrees. Guess there will be a lot of us all in the same boat, wearing those old clothes in spite of fashion.

Week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Wycoff were Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Trayer and daughter, Dawn of Eaton Rapids. Mrs. Trayer and daughter are remaining for the week and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Wycoff and children of Eaton Rapids will be here for the coming week-end after which time all will return home. Understand that there is really plenty of "night life" in Charlevoix.

Mrs. John McCumons of Marquette is visiting her niece, Mrs. C. R. Munyon. Mrs. Helen T. King of Detroit was a week-end guest of Mrs. Frank Kenyon. Mrs. Nell Bennett, of Mt. Clemens was calling on old friends while here last week. Mrs. Bennett will be remembered by many as Clara Poppin who used to be bookkeeper with the telephone company. Dudley Towle, who has spent the last two weeks in Ann Arbor as the guest of former schoolmates, Raymond Waggoner and David Logan, returned home last Thursday. He was accompanied by Dr. and Mrs. Raymond Waggoner and their son, Raymond. They returned to Ann Arbor Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Henley and two children of Falls City, Neb., have been visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Henley, Jack, who graduated from Charlevoix is now practicing law in Falls City. Mrs. Walter Henley is visiting her daughter, Mrs. J. Bracham in Kalamazoo. The miniature of the ship "LaCouronne", built by Frank Novotny and exhibited at the World's Fair, and which has occupied an important place in the editor's front window, still continues to be an object of much interest to tourists passing through Charlevoix. Mrs. Nelly Locke who has been a guest of Mrs. Eva Blanchard for the past two weeks returned Friday to her home in Charlotte.

It is quite a pleasant shock when one is showing one's friends about town to discover how many new homes have been built, or are in the process. And some of them are mighty attractive ones too. For a fellow with clever ideas, one has to take his hat off to George Smith, Jr. Walked into his new home the other day to discover that he had taken an old organ out of its mid-victorian case, and put it in a new modern one, electrified it and made himself an organ that has a mighty sweet tone. Incidentally Mrs. Smith did right well at playing calopie music the other day for the circus that was held in the Smith's yard. It is going to be a general exodus in another week. Already summer folks are talking about getting back home in time to get the youngsters to school. The Cliff Turners of Detroit were here last week-end with their 4½ months old youngster who was the joy and delight of its grandparents, the Harry Turners.

Rebekahs To Meet
The Charlevoix Rebekahs will resume their meetings Sept. 2 after the summer vacation.

Moses Granddaughter Has Narrow Escape

A granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton Moses, 403 Michigan avenue, narrowly escaped from being kidnapped Monday when a prowler broke into the James H. Moses home in Chicago.

The story was headlined Tuesday in the Chicago Tribune. According to that paper, a prowler had entered the James Moses home, taken the three months old baby from her bed and in snatching on a light had awakened the nurse. A struggle followed in which the nurse was knocked out. The prowler left the baby unharmed in a chair.

Meanwhile the parents with their other daughter, Lynn, 3, were on their way back to Chicago from Charlevoix when the attack took place.

Brother Believed Dead for 28 Years Comes Here to Visit Mrs. Bernie Ward

"It's just like a story book," said Mrs. Bernie Ward. "I am still suffering from shock."

It was just a few days ago that Mrs. Ward was told the best news that she had ever heard—that a brother, Charles, who has been declared dead for 28 years, was alive. "It was like a voice from the dead," she declared.

When Charles was but two years of age, the mother, Mrs. Mollie Hall, was left alone to support her little family. Kind relatives helped in the care of her children while she was the breadwinner. Finally she was informed by some relatives that they had taken Charles to an orphanage. When she went later to get him, she was told he had died.

All through the years Mrs. Hall had felt that the boy was somewhere alive. Every Christmas and birthday she wrote a letter to her son at the orphanage but her letters were never answered. Her faith did not waver and she knew that if he were alive sometime he would be brought to her.

A few weeks ago a cousin informed Charles, now 30 years of age, and answering to the name of Kenneth Groth, that he was an adopted child. Stunned by

New Owners Plan Grand Opening for The Argonne

The Argonne, for years a popular recreational place for Charlevoix folks, is again open and under new management.

The new owners are Mr. and Mrs. William Matzinger, Charles and Paul Fillard. For many years Mr. and Mrs. Matzinger successfully operated a dining place at Houghton Lake, selling only because they wanted a larger establishment.

The formal grand opening is planned for this Saturday evening although the state liquor license arrived last Saturday and the bar and dance floor have been operating this week.

Since the new owners took over the closed establishment from Ken Seibert, considerable work has been done there. A new floor has been laid, new wiring installed, much cleaning and painting and papering done.

Although the kitchen has a new stove and has been renovated, meals are not being served as yet. The Matzingers plan on opening the dining room in September.

They plan to enforce one rule strictly. No person under 21 will be allowed in the Argonne at night or at tables where drinks are served. If necessary, proof of age will be asked of all those who are not well above 21.

David Glassford was ringmaster and also doubled as the strong man and the bare-headed leopard; Sue Beaudoin was Madame Gazing, the leopard-tamer and also the fortune-teller; Douglas Smith, the tattooed man; Cynthia Smith and Karen Smith, clowns; Terry Cox was a cow-boy; George Smith, an Indian; and Mitzie, the Fochman's pook, was the clown dog. Also included were roller skating and mopping acts, and such attractions as an African chicken and a "wild eat."

Another attraction was the Best youngsters' two Shetland ponies and coll.

It was then that Charles brought his mother to Charlevoix to meet his sister. He had been adopted by a childless couple and had always longed for brothers and sisters. Now he found he had both.

Charles Hall—Ken Gorth for 28 years—lives in Jeffersonville, Ind. He is married and has three children.

A graduate of the University of Indiana, he is a civil engineer. His foster mother died nine years ago.

"My prayer has been answered," Mrs. Hall kept saying as she kept looking at her son in the Ward home last week. "Now I can die in peace."

The son, who is also stunned by the discovery and his young looking mother, said, "We'll never be apart again."

First Unit of Proposed School Meets 3 Needs

Three of the five major building needs of the Charlevoix public schools would be met by the first part of the proposed new school construction program.

The five are:
More class room
Agricultural and science facilities
Adequate shops
Proper band room
Added spectator space in the gym

As outlined in the plans of the school architectural firm of Warren S. Holmes of Lansing and submitted to the Board of Education here, a new high school wing could be added to the present elementary and gym building. This new part would be where the present old building stands. Construction could be in three steps.

The first of these would be the enlarging of the present gymnasium section. This now is 60x108. By constructing new north and east walls for it, this section would be enlarged to 88x138.

On the basement level, two complete new shops would be added, 24 by 90 and 30 by 40. This would make possible two classes for wood and metal work. This second shop would be approximately where the open space between the old building and the gym now is.

Above this second shop would be the new band room. Completely sound proofed, it would permit practice during school hours without disturbing classes, something which now is impossible.

This third room would be a quarter circle, built in amphitheater style. South of it across a corridor would be an instrument room and wardrobe for uniforms.

The third need met by this first construction would be more spectator room in the gym. Moving the north wall back would make possible a stadium type space at the north side of the floor, adding close to 800 seats to present capacity.

The new east wing of the proposed building could be put up in two sections, thus spreading the cost over a longer period and making it possible to use the present high school building for much of the time. The new wing would house class rooms and laboratories.

When full details on cost and construction are on hand the Board plans to call a public meeting of the district to hear a report and to discuss future moves.

Circus Raises $22.48 More for Hospital

Thursday was Circus Day in Charlevoix—circus day for a gang of North Side kids who had the interest of the Charlevoix Hospital at heart.

These youngsters presented their circus in the George Smith, Jr., yard and as a result of their combined efforts raised a total of $22.48 toward the proposed new hospital.

David Glassford was ringmaster and also doubled as the strong man and the bare-headed leopard; Sue Beaudoin was Madame Gazing, the leopard-tamer and also the fortune-teller; Douglas Smith, the tattooed man; Cynthia Smith and Karen Smith, clowns; Terry Cox was a cow-boy; George Smith, an Indian; and Mitzie, the Fochman's pook, was the clown dog. Also included were roller skating and mopping acts, and such attractions as an African chicken and a "wild eat."

Another attraction was the Best youngsters' two Shetland ponies and coll.

Work of Wrecking Old Swing Bridge Begun by Crew

Tuesday morning the last car rolled across the old swing bridge here and it was opened for the last time.

The new temporary span had been tested Monday and found ready for service. Due to delays and last minute changes, it was completed ten days behind schedule.

It operates about as fast as the old span did, opening and closing in 8½ minutes.

Wednesday the work of cutting the old span into three parts was started. One end was blocked up, the big crane hooked to the other and this section was cut off with torches.

Monday also saw the razing of the old Alhambra Hotel start. F. E. Davis of Northport has bought the 76 year old building of the state and had a crew here Monday. His contract calls for the building to be completely down in ten days.

Davis plans to salvage the material, heating equipment and plumbing to use in a new hotel at Northport which he is building. He also bought the Alhambra furnishings.

B. of C. Will Refit Model Schooner

The model schooner purchased last week by the Board of Commerce with funds supplied by public spirited Charlevoix citizens will be placed in East Park next Spring.

Last week a request came from the Emmet County Sportsman's Club to show the model schooner at the annual Carnival at Petoskey Saturday and Sunday. The schooner was hauled over for the Carnival, and later brought back.

However, with Labor Day only one week away, it was decided not to try to place the model ship this summer. It needs new rigging, new lights, new paint, according to S. E. Coleman, Board secretary. These will be put on between now and next spring. Then permanent cradles will be put in the pool in the city park and the schooner put in place.

Potter Carries City In Special Election

With 23 out of 25 precincts in Charlevoix county reporting on the special election held Tuesday to re-elect a successor to the late Fred Bradley, Charles E. Potter, of Cheboygan, was given a total of 645 votes to 218 for Harold D. Beaton, of St. Ignace.

Telegraph Office To Close In Evening

This week will be the last one that the Western Union office here will be open evenings. Effective Sept. 2 the office hours will be 8 to 12 a. m.; 1:25 to 5:25 p. m. Sundays the hours will be 9 to 11 a. m. and 5 to 7 p. m.

Mrs. Dan Dalton and children, Kay and Joyce, her mother-in-law, Mrs. Wesley Gilder and Mr. Bert Bendelow arrived Tuesday from Detroit for the holiday week end.

Barber Shop quartets and close harmony fans from half a dozen western states either have started or soon will be heading for Charlevoix for the fifth annual SPEB Quartet Jamboree here this week-end.

Two new and novel features will mark the event. First is the new stage decoration at the high school auditorium, designed by Al Young and built under his direction. A thoroughly professional piece of work, it makes use of black light, fluorescent colors and fills the entire stage. Long time residents who have seen it say it is the most novel and effective stage setting ever used here.

The second feature is the local chapter's official taxi which will meet trains, buses and airplanes to receive visiting SPEB celebrities. On the truck will be a couple of tubs in which the guests will ride.

Among the society's dignitaries expected are: Associate International Secretary, W. L. Otto, Detroit; Inter. Vice-pres., Jerry D. Beeler, Evansville, Ind.; Inter. Board members, Roy S. Harvey, Muskegon, and G. Marjio Brower, Grand Rapids, the latter to act as master of ceremonies at Saturday night's program; Fred N. Gregory, pres. Brazil, Ind. chapter, and Jack M. Dollenmaier, pres. Milwaukee, Wisc. chapter.

Festivities planned for the entertainment of out-of-town guests will begin with a Chapter Party for members on Friday night in which the Byrns City chapter will participate. A Ladies Party at the Hallett Hotel will be held at the same time under the chairmanship of Mrs. Charles E. Hamlin.

Big event of the Jamboree as far as non-members are concerned will be the concert Saturday at 8:30 p. m. at the high school auditorium. Here the state champions of Kentucky and Michigan will appear, as well as a dozen other outstanding groups from this state.

Following the big concert will come two events limited to members of SPEB. First will be the Afterglow Saturday night after the concert. Then Sunday evening at the Belvedere Casino will be the dance and floor show.

BEAVER ISLAND

By Mrs. J. C. Hanley

Although the summer season is drawing to a close, the heat remains. What a blessing to have Lake Michigan within a stone's throw. There's no better perspiration for a quick pick-up on these hot days than a quick dip in the lake.

The White Swan came to the island loaded with coal. Carl Keubler is the sales manager and distributor of the "black gold."

Mary Malloy, Jay McDonough and Sally Cull left on Wednesday's boat for Chicago to attend the summer school of Catholic Action. These girls are members of the Catholic Action Cell group on the island.

Mrs. Paul Hefflin entertained a group of friends last Tuesday afternoon at her lovely summer home, Islewood. The invited guests were: Mesdames Arthur Miller, C. E. Webster, Elizabeth Gallagher, Carrie Sondergaard, J. C. Hanley and Mary McDonough. Refreshments were served (Beaver Island raspberries on short cake). Mrs. Gwen Sheridan, sister of Mrs. Hefflin, assisted in entertaining.

Mrs. Emma Tilley, who spent three weeks at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Art Larsen, has returned to her home in Traverse City.

Mr. and Mrs. James Lyons, of Akron, Ohio spent a few days at the Larson's home.

Mettie Perron, a Frenchman who has lived on the island for many years, is a champion berry picker. During strawberry season he picked 125 quarts, and it takes a lot of picking to make one quart of the wild berries. Mettie is busy picking raspberries now.

Some of the young tadpoles who have learned to swim this summer are Billie Bennett, Chuckie Dudley, Michael McCann, Barry Joseph, Terry and Ann Marie Hanley.

Mrs. Edna McCann returned to Detroit Saturday after spending two weeks with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Belfy.

A group of floaters enjoying a vacation on the island are Mr. and Mrs. Berlette Custer, and family, Decatur, Ind.; and Mrs. Cooper, Frankfort, Ind. They have one of the McDonough cabins on Sand Bay.

The roof of LaFreniere's ice shed fell in, wrecking the building so much that it had to be torn down. The shed was built 63 years ago.

Grace Marie McCann returned with Dr. Charles McCann and family to Bay City last Sunday.

Mrs. Carrie Sondergaard, one of our reporters, who came to the island for the past 30 years, has something to be very proud about. She has just received word that her grandson, J. Lawrence Sondergaard, has been appointed by Gov. Rennebohm of Wis. to serve as state treasurer.

Larry, as he is known to his friends, spent many summer vacations on the island with his grandmother. Judge and Mrs. E. R. Boyles, Lansing, returned to their home Monday.

An uneventful Sunday was suddenly changed in a thrilling experience for your B. I. reporter. A visitor, Francis B. Stubbs, Lansing, and the owner of a Seabee plane, invited Vernon and Missette LaFreniere and the reporter for a ride to Mackinac Island. The ride to the island was beautiful and made in 30 minutes. The return trip was not so smooth. Due to an oil leakage we were grounded at Pellston. The mechanics at the airport could not discover the place of leakage. A Pellston plane was chartered to bring the party back to Beaver where anxious ones were awaiting a long over due plane.

Francis Stubbs and pilot are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hefflin.

Mr. and Mrs. William Karthase of Boyne City were visitors to the island over the week-end.

At a mid-day ceremony last Thursday, Billie Cugell became the bride of Dr. Charles Nagler. The wedding took place in the solarium of the Beach Hotel overlooking Lake Michigan and was performed by Dr. M. Perley of Louisville, Ky.

The bride wore pale orchids with vivid centers on a gown of beige crepe. Her sister, Mrs. Frances Philipp was matron of honor. Charles Kosher assisted the groom. The wedding ceremony was followed by a luncheon for the immediate families.

Mr. and Mrs. Simeon Cugell of Detroit, parents of the bride, are directors of Charlevoix's Camp Q-Gull and of the Cugell Day School in Detroit. Dr. Nagler is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Nagler of Detroit.

After a flying honeymoon trip to Montreal and Bermuda the newlyweds will reside in Detroit where Dr. Nagler will resume his professorship at Wayne University and Mrs. Nagler, directing duties at the Cugell Day School.

Belvedere Enjoys Annual Cabaret; Hardin Wins Cup

By Sally Bagby

Highlights of the social season at the Belvedere is the annual cabaret, held last Saturday.

This year the party was built around the theme of the sinking of the good ship S. S. Belvedere, with the guests invited to come in what they wore when the ship went down. Costumes ranged from pajamas and life jackets to formal dresses, with all variations represented. The decorations of fish nets and sea weed carried out the theme.

The floor show was built around the dreams of a shipwrecked sailor, Tommy Upson, who had survived the sinking of the S. S. Belvedere, with "The bare necessities of life." The traditional girls' chorus line opened the show as the first part of the sailor's dream, followed by Nancy King singing "A Primitive Man." As she finished the song, Hugh Cross rushed across the stage dressed as the primitive man himself, slung her over his shoulder, and rushed her off the stage.

Betty White, assistant to Calla Travis for the dancing classes, danced a Spanish number to "Malignencia", and was joined by her sister, Jenn, in a duet.

Nancy Walker sang two songs, "I Don't Know Why I Love You" and "What Am I Going to Do About You".

The final number almost stopped the show. A boys' chorus line, which has been a feature several times the last few years, again made a hit. With wigs of heavy yarn and short skirts, the boys attempted to imitate the maneuvers that had been executed earlier by the girls.

Later in the evening the Charlevoix Barbershop Quartet sang several numbers. Members of the Chicago Club came over in what they wore as their ship went down, and also sang a song. Presentation of the cups for the golf tournament and the junior tennis tournament was also made.

For the third time in succession, Hord Hardin won the Men's Championship, and the Sun Pin-gree Trophy is now in his permanent possession. The runner up for this division was Richard Moss.

In the Belvedere Flight, O. Mitchell won his match with H. Simpson, and in the Sportsmen's Flight, Mr. Pike defeated Forsythe Tramel.

The Women's Championship was won by Mrs. George Bisbee, who defeated Mrs. A. P. LeLand. The Women's Class A Trophy was won by Mrs. Sam Pingree, who defeated Mrs. S. Donahue.

The consolation prizes in the various divisions were: Men's Championship, Sam Pingree defeated Ben Tate; Casino Flight, J. G. Kotte defeated A. P. LeLand. In the baseball game played last Sunday morning, the Belvedere won 3-2.

The results in the last matches of the Junior Tennis Tournament are as follows: Girls' Doubles, Minor Morrow and Nancy Walker defeated Ann Sherer and Barbara Cross; Junior Girls' Doubles, Ann Sherer and Barbara Cross defeated Nancy Bagby and Mary Stella Moss; Junior Girls' Singles, Minor Morrow defeated Nancy Walker.

Two sailing races were held last week-end. The Saturday race was open to both the youngsters and the older sailors, while the two races scheduled for Sunday were open to the younger sailors only. The second race on Sunday was postponed because of squalls and stormy weather.

George Shwab, Jr., with Leslie Lee won the Saturday race. The other boats were: Dave Replogle and Barton Hale, Joe Sherer and C. Colton, Jim Ingham and Barbara Lee, Sally Bagby and Mrs. R. Cramer, and Dave and Carol

Rogers. Only two boats finished the race Sunday. A squall hit the race with force enough to capsize one boat and to force three more to leave the race. The race was won by Bob Ware with Betsey Replogle, and Dave Rogers. Carol Rogers and Bill Pendle finished second.

In a ceremony at 4 p. m. Sunday at the Barnard Methodist church Miss Hazel M. Matchett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Matchett, became the bride of Lawrence J. Heldt, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Heldt of Detroit.

Offering

An interesting view showing the beauty of the property from the lake side.

PERSONAL

This is addressed to you, whether you are looking for a spot to build now, or if you just want to own a most desirable piece of lake frontage in Northern Michigan . . . a site at Ironton, only six miles from Charlevoix-the-Beautiful.

Are these pictures interesting to you? They were all recently taken of, or from, the property being called the Highlands of Ironton . . . a few—just a few—choice building spots, each with 200 feet of deep water frontage and located just south of the "only free ferry in the world" (Believe It Or Not) at the beginning of the South Arm of beautiful Lake Charlevoix.

By some, this location has been compared to the upper Hudson River. But it is not necessary to make comparisons. This location has a charm and beauty of its own. As a Realtor and from the office that has been selling Lake Charlevoix frontage for over forty years, it is my sincere feeling that this is the best ever offered from my office. Location! Beauty! . . . and priced so that you should be interested.

Yours for the Highlands,

Missing Since Aug. 14, Body of Ellsworth Resident Is Found

Missing since the Ellsworth Ox Barbecue on Aug. 14, the body of Harry J. Taylor, 70, was found at midnight Monday by his three sons in the woods near their homes and three miles south of Ellsworth.

His rifle was found nearby and death was pronounced suicide by Sheriff H. E. Tanner, Coroner Bryan Diton and Prosecutor John Greig of Antrim County.

Although he was known to be despondent over continued ill health, Mrs. Taylor attached no importance to her husband's continued absence. He frequently left home with no word and spent several days at the homes of the sons.

When the sons, Lewis, Ralph, and Robert, learned that their father was missing, they at once started to search, finding the body in the woods.

Mr. Taylor was a retired farmer, and a well driller. The couple have lived in Ellsworth for 15 years.

Born in Wayne Dec. 1, 1870, he came to Ellsworth with his parents 64 years ago. On Aug. 18, 1900 he and Miss Eliza Carson were married.

Surviving are Mrs. Taylor, four sons, Lewis, Ralph, Robert and Ernest of East Jordan; two daughters, Mrs. Robert Evans of East Jordan and Mrs. Esther Green of Blissfield; two sisters, a brother and 13 grandchildren.

Funeral services will be Thursday 2:30 p. m. at the Ellsworth Pilgrim Holiness church. Burial will be in Ellsworth cemetery.

Goldman Myer Fund Directors Relected

Members of the board of directors of the Lenore Goldman Myer Memorial Fund, who were in Charlevoix for the summer, and the local operating committee met at the A. V. Goldman home Sunday.

A report was given by the committee on the work completed during the last year and approval given by the board on the projects planned for the coming year.

The fund, which is beginning its seventh year of operation, was instituted in 1940 as a memorial to Mrs. Jesse Myer, of St. Louis, Mo., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin D. Goldman and a summer resident here for many years prior to her death in 1940. Mr. Myer, Mr. and Mrs. Goldman and their sons, Jack and J. Lesser Goldman, constitute the fund's board of directors.

The local operating committee include Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Ranger, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bridge and Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Meyer. Mrs. Ranger was reelected chairman of the committee and Mr. Bridge, secretary-treasurer.

Amos Webster Finds Family's Lost Rings

Amos Webster is gaining quite a reputation as a finder of lost jewelry.

While working in his garden last fall he recovered a ring he had lost in 1903. He thought it had been stolen.

Last week he recovered a ring lost more than three years ago by his daughter, Marjorie. Although she thought the ring had been lost down the drain it was found in the garden.

But no trace has been found of a third ring belonging to Mrs. Webster which she knows was lost in the garden.

The road around this corner no longer looks like a street in Charlevoix during the resort season. Harvesting the bountiful crop of cherries in the Jensen orchard was finished on Tuesday, and Mr. Porter was able to put a large enough crew of pickers in his orchard to finish Friday night. Jesse Lawton was called Saturday afternoon to put the wiring on Lee Danforth's pump in repair. This kind of weather calls for a dependable water supply. Lawrence Jensen had his cherry orchard sprayed again as soon as the cherries were off to protect the trees from disease.

State 4-H Show, Farmers' Day To Be Held At MSC

With the new and better facilities for housing exhibits, the annual State 4-H show and Farmers' Day program are expected to draw many interested spectators to Michigan State College.

The 4-H show in August 26 to 29 and the Farmers' Day program is August 28. This year's program will be one of the biggest ever. Twelve hundred boys and girls will be housed on the MSC campus and will bring more than 4000 exhibits with them. There will be 1200 head of livestock alone, with approximately 500 in the dairy division.

Beef cattle and sheep entries will be housed in the new agricultural engineering building. Dairy exhibits will be shown under the football stadium and swine will be housed in the judging pavilion and beef experimental barn. Horses will be shown in the riding horse barn. Exhibits such as gardening, home economics, crops, and handicraft will be shown in the college auditorium.

The Farmers' Day program is being held in conjunction with the State 4-H Club Show because many farmers families come to the MSC campus for the big farm youth contest of the year. Families are invited to hold picnic lunches noon or evening.

The college farms and barns will be open during the day so that farmers may inspect the livestock and experimental work. Direction signs will be placed, and visitors can drive their own car or take a bus. Buses will tour during the day and spectators can stop at any point of interest and continue on the next bus. Evening programs will be held Wednesday and Thursday nights at 8:00 in the college auditorium.

Replant Iris for Vigor Next Year

If you'll divide and replant your iris plants sometime in August you'll find that next year's display of blooms is improved because the plants have more room and the number of perennial weeds in the beds is reduced. Irises should be dug and divided every four or five years.

Irises grow from a large fleshy root that lies in a horizontal position with small roots growing down and from the sides. These roots should be replanted at or near the surface of the soil in the same position that they originally grew in. In heavy soil, root rot is possible if the roots are planted too deeply.

Sandy loams are best for irises but they will grow in almost any kind of soil. For an extra "boost" for the new plants, apply some bonemeal or superphosphate around them at the rate of three pounds per 100 square feet.

Summer Poultry Management
All pullet flocks are definitely on the increase. J. M. Moore, extension poultryman at MSC, says wise egg men are selling all the layers when they finish laying. One reason is the high cost of feed. Nowadays a hen has to pay for her board.

This calls for a change in farm flock management. Cull the flock and do a good job of culling. Moore advises that the yearling flock should be culled when it drops below 50 percent production. As an example, if a flock of 200 birds are laying 50 eggs daily, cull out 100 of them, and the remainder would then be laying 50 percent.

Put the birds that are still laying and not gona into a moult into a summer shelter... a temporary quarters made of a roof and a roost supplement, and of course, feed hoppers and water troughs. Give the empty laying house a thorough cleaning.

When you are cleaning the permanent laying house, remove all equipment, roasts, litter, and manure. Scrape and sweep all dirt from the floor, walls, and ceilings. Scrub the whole house with hot lye water. When you have done that and scrubbed and disinfected all the equipment, take out the windows in the laying house for two or three weeks. The sun will dry the house out. Two days before using the permanent house again, spray the interior with a disinfectant solution mixed with water.

Watch your pullets! At the first sign of egg production, you can move your pullets into the permanent laying quarters and get them ready for their season's work... laying eggs.

Champion Birler Visits Ed O'Neill

Aug. 17 was a big day in the life of Ed O'Neill.

At that time he met his "star pupil" who has become the World Champion Log Birler. He was Billy Girard, who performed at the Sportsman's Day program.

It all started back many years ago when Mr. O'Neill worked for the Buckeye Lumber Co., at Gladstone. Billy was then a small lad who used to hang around the mill, for his dad worked there. Fascinated by the men working on the logs and seemingly having a natural aptitude for the work, O'Neill showed Billy some of the tricks. The lad's father also knew about log birling. Oftentimes the two men would get on one of the big logs with Billy and another lesson would be in progress.

It was about 25 years since Billy and Mr. O'Neill had met. Now partially blind, Mr. O'Neill could not see his former pupil doing his tricks Sunday, but he was able, through the efforts of Don Swinton, to have a long chat with him. They recalled many stories, especially the one about the time they were birling on an elm log and the bark came off and in they went.

Beaver Island's Size, History, Beautiful Drives Are Surprise to First-Time Visitors

By L. E. Towe

There's more, a lot more, to the Beaver Islands than just St. Ignace and what a one day visitor can see.

True, the village curving around the beautiful harbor is charming, quaint, likely the most isolated community in Michigan, and one of the most historic spots south of Mackinac. But it is not the island by a long way.

For that island, 13 miles long and six wide, has some of the finest natural scenery I have seen in the Middle West. Three things are combined there. It has Lake Michigan, fine inland lakes, and a forest which has not suffered the repeated burnings so much of Northern Michigan has had.

Combine this with the isolation supplied by 30 miles of water, and the combination is natural scenery hardly found elsewhere in the state.

To see it, either a car or horses are needed. But horses can be rented or cars taken across on the ferries.

The chief impression after one leaves St. Ignace is the size of the place. There is no feeling of being on an island, at least as ordinarily meant.

Next most surprising are the inland lakes. We saw three, and nowhere in Michigan do I know of any which look better. There's just the right combination of sandy beaches for cottages and lily pads for bass.

The road on the island's east side is the more open and it leads down to the light house at the south end, built in 1851, whose circular staircase looks like filigree work and whose staff now is living high on blueberries and wild raspberries.

The west side road is easily the most spectacular. For miles at the southern half it runs through almost continuous tunnels of green, the trees in the half century since it was built having grown completely over it. Old logging camps and occasional open spaces where deer feed at twilight are frequent.

Also on this west side is one of the chief historical spots of the island—the home and grave of Feodora Protar, the exiled Russian nobleman who was the island's friend and benefactor for some 30 years. Also nearby is the wooden cross marking the spot where Engineer Cross was killed and buried when his logging train piled up.

The deer herd, with only 78 bucks taken out last year, is increasing. The pheasant virtually has disappeared since a severe winter kill years ago but the Hungarian grouse are gaining.

After the first frost, the Islanders say, will come some of the best sport of the island, the fall bass fishing. Barney Lake, for example, has been steadily stocked with legal size black bass. When the weather turns cooler, they will start biting almost any kind of bait.

In fact, the fall is one of the best times to visit Beaver Island. No other part of Michigan has more colorful hardwoods, the fish are biting then, and the summer rush is over.

Many Countries Send Men to Mackinac

Mackinac Island—The sixth North American Assembly for Moral Re-Armament has turned to international affairs with the arrival here of representatives of India, China, Canada and Jamaica. Delegates from Paraguay, Norway, Sweden, Denmark, Scotland, England and Switzerland are also present. They include diplomats, government officials, legislators, mayors, capitalists, industrialists, labor leaders, manufacturers, clergy, newspaper publishers and athletes.

The theme of the gathering will be "New Men—New Nations—A New World."

Dr. K. T. Sih, on a special mission to the UN Conference, heads the Chinese delegation here, and India is represented by its Davis Cup team. The Canadians include Honorable D. R. Michener, Provincial Secretary for Ontario; Mayor R. H. Saunders of Toronto; Mrs. Cornelia Wood, Alberta legislator; Fred Bull of Ottawa, director of exports for Canada; Brigadier W. G. Beaman of Kingston; and Cecil Morrison of Ottawa, wartime administrator of the baking industry.

Bishop Will Preach At Methodist Church

Bishop Raymond Wade, head of the Bay View Association will be the preacher at the Methodist church here next Sunday in the absence of Rev. Gaylord Howell. His sermon topic will be "Christ the Way."

Dises Over America

The most amazing event in history is the appearance of unexplained dises over America. Their explanation is necessary to every Man and Woman in this country.

The amazing explanation involves not only the dises alone... but it answers the greatest and most potent of mysteries.—Why do anthropoid apes sit spellbound before two crossed sticks? Why do children draw an arc one third of the way up a sheet of paper when confronted with the idea of death? What is the meaning of the twenty eight fires that struck at the exact center of the American population? The answer to these questions is the most important information you have ever received. Dr. Secord Speaks At Kiwanis Meeting Developing the maximum capabilities of your own personality is the way to happiness, Dr. Secord told the members of the Kiwanis Club Monday noon at the meeting at Shady Corner.

Dr. Secord, head of the Speech Department at Brooklyn University, is a former resident of East Jordan. For a time he was a member of the speech staff at the University of Michigan.

Monday he took as his topic the values or qualities that make for successful personality. There are four of these, he said. They are:

Health, one of the major factors of which is freedom from worry, which in turn depends on a personal feeling of being able to meet whatever comes.

Knowledge which means knowing ones self, others and an acquaintance with the world around us.

Confidence in self and in others.

Courtesy, or respect for others and their feelings, which means a more pleasant contact with our fellow beings.

News of folks, your neighbors and mine... but did you know that—

Charlevoix students are about to begin that well-known "school daze" period next Monday morning. At that time they are more fortunate than most Michigan students who started the day after Labor Day... Among the recent newcomers to town are Mr. and Mrs. Joe Strayer and their small son, George William from Grand Rapids. Mr. Strayer is an engineer for Freedman Aircraft Corp.

Helen Ash, niece of the Archie Livingstons, flew here from Miami for her vacation... Dr. and Mrs. R. B. Armstrong and children, returned Monday to Rockford, Ill., after visiting at the Edward Shanahan home... It was Ann McCann who said, "I just read an article that said if you want to live long you have to work." According to that several of us are slated for good, long lives for it seems as though a fellow just can't get caught up.

Personal nomination for a gal who has been more than blessed with company this summer, Dorothy Sec. Not only has she had a houseful most of the summer, but a cottage full as well... Bob and Shirley Ashton who have been living at Plum Island, Wis., and who have been visiting at the Partridge and Ashton homes, received word that Bob has been transferred to the Coast Guard headquarters at Marquette.

Mr. and Mrs. William J. Guild and daughter, Ellen, of Valparaiso, Ind., have returned home after spending the past week with Mr. and Mrs. Jule Guild and family... Mrs. Herman Scheer, who has spent the summer here with her sister, Mrs. Louise Etshokin, expects to leave next week for her home in Chicago... Charlevoix's pollen count is still ZERO, which means SOMETHING, these days.

There are quite a few folks here for the sneezes. If you are in that group, just wander down to the park some day if you are a bit lonesome and will find others here for the same purpose. The little park is the get-together place for all the hay fever sufferers, according to Irish Coleman.

Folks who had appointments for finger waves, facials, etc., last week at the Krohn Style Shop discovered that the Krohns had been called to Detroit very suddenly by the death of an aunt... Mrs. J. F. Webb of San Marcus, Texas is visiting her mother, Mrs. Margaret Novak, and her brothers, Max and Bill for two weeks... Didn't Al Young do a swell job on the stage decorations for the Jamboree Saturday night at the high school. His ears must have burned plenty for everyone was talking about the spectacular job he did... Recent guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Don Coney were Dr. and Mrs. Blaine Talbot from Maurice.

Have you read every ad in this week's issue. This show window for the town's merchants holds some real values for you... Mrs. Mary Traute of Ft. Myers, Fla., who has spent several weeks in Charlevoix, has been in Detroit for the past ten days and has now returned... Should have a beautiful fall here. Summer folks who have to return now are going to miss some of the real beauty of Charlevoix...

A big and hearty welcome to the teachers, new and old, who will start on their teaching careers Monday morning in CHS... Mr. and Mrs. Nyle Jessup and two children have returned to their home in Royal Oak after visiting with Mrs. Jessup's mother, Mrs. Eva McDonald... Kay Anderson of Petoskey spent the Labor Day week-end with Phyllis Williams... Lyla and Lylas Hardy of Saginaw visited last week with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jud Hardy... Stanley Shapton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Shapton was graduated from Michigan State College at the completion of the summer session. He has accepted a position with the General Electric Co. in the credit department. Mr. and Mrs. Shapton will make their home in Lansing.

Sylvia Falk and Leslie Dykehouse of Detroit were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Cox. The couple became engaged here and now declare that they want to return here for their honeymoon... Lt. j.g. Earl Broussard returned Monday night to his duties as Coast Guard Marine Inspector in Chicago after spending the Labor Day week-end with his family here... Mrs. Joel Johnston left Tuesday for Ashland. (Continued on page four)

Citizens Enable City to Avoid Power Shutdown

If Charlevoix citizens had not given outstanding cooperation the last two months, there would have been electric trouble and shortage here aplenty.

That statement is made by City Supt. Angus Leitch. During July and August, Charlevoix used 10 percent more current than a year before. But because the users spread the load so that it was not concentrated at a few peak points, it never was necessary to ration or cut off any section of the city.

The only power shutdown all summer was caused by the break in the cable by the railway bridge. Because it would take a year to get a new cable, repairs for splicing the broken one have been obtained.

This week the cable to the North Side by the highway bridge will be moved to make room for work on the new abutment. This will entail a brief but complete cutting of all power to the North Side during one night.

Model of Famous Christmas Tree Ship Made by Capt. Allie Moore

Patterned after the famous ill-fated Christmas Tree Ship, the Rouse Simmons, the model which has been on display in Wood Bros. window is a display of Allie Moore's craftsmanship.

The Simmons was a 185 foot, three masted Lake freighter, used during the regular season for carrying cargo and in late November for hauling a cargo of Christmas trees from the Upper Peninsula to Chicago.

The story really starts back in 1887 when two brothers, Herman and August Schuenemann conceived the idea of using their cargo vessel for carrying holiday trees. As their own venture in their own ship, it proved profitable until 1898 when Herman, the crew and ship sailed from Thompson Harbor and never were

Football Practice Starts; Opening Game Is Sept. 19

With the first football game scheduled for Sept. 19 with Gaylord there, Coach Ray Kiple started practice Wednesday.

Prospects look good for the coming season, he says with nine lettermen and a large string of last year's second squad back. He was expecting at least 50 to report for the pre-school practices.

The lettermen are Pat Martin, Dick Jolliffe, Dave Hardy, Bill and Bob Carey, Bill Peterson, Warren Shadko, Arnold Loper, Dave Smith and Dick Donaldson. The coach refused to say what positions he expected any one to play.

Dr. Buttrick Will Preach At Ironton

Ironton was shocked Tuesday when Mrs. Simon, wife of the summer pastor at the Ironton church, died suddenly of a heart attack. The couple had been living at Shula Vista.

A service will be held in the church Sunday and Dr. George Buttrick of New York City, and well known in the north in this area, will be the guest speaker at the 10:00 service.

New Furniture, Carpet Store to Open Here

This community will have a new retail business soon when the Charlevoix Carpet and Furniture Co. opens.

Owning and operating it will be John S. Gupta, who for 27 years had his furniture store in Grand Rapids. Mr. and Mrs. Gupta have moved to 1228 State St. With them is their son, John S., Jr., an Air Force veteran.

Gupta has purchased the former Herrington property at the junction of US-31 and State street. Plans are drawn for the new store he plans to erect there. Whether he builds this fall or next spring depends on materials and costs.

The company will specialize on floor coverings—the, linoleum, carpeting and rugs, and on servicing them. Furniture also will be stocked.

The stock now is at the Foster Boat Co. building on the North Side.

Caddy Tourney To Be Sept. 6; Is Open to All

Any boy or man who has been a regular caddy this summer at Charlevoix is eligible to enter the Caddy Tournament to be held here Sept. 6 at the Belvedere course.

It is sponsored by the Michigan Caddies which is putting up the $50 in prizes, and which plans to make it an annual event. The tourney is open to any caddy, whether he worked on the Municipal or the Belvedere courses.

There will be three classes. Boys will be from 13 to 16 years old. Juniors will be from 16 to 19 and seniors 19 years and older.

The tournament will be for 18 holes of medal play. Chbs will be available for those boys who do not have them.

Colonial Club Men Ask Examination

Sept. 11 has been set as the date for the justice court examination of Marsh Meek and O. Gatti on a charge of having gambling equipment.

The date was set Tuesday when the two men, owner and operator of the Colonial Club respectively, were arraigned before Justice Horace O. Fowler and demanded an examination. Representing them was A. T. Washburne of Petoskey.

Present for the State were Edward Langley and Russell Schmitt, investigators for the State Liquor Control Commission.

The charge came as a result of a supposedly routine investigation Saturday night by the State Liquor men which developed into a search by State Police. Equipment—wrapped, crated and stored away—was found. It was seized and is now at Gaylord.

North Shore Goes On New Schedule

The North Shore now is operating from Beaver Island instead of Charlevoix.

Leaving St. James at 7 a. m., it arrives here at 10:30 and starts back about 12:30.

North Side Kids Thank Their Playground Leader for Work

In spite of a well prepared and rehearsed speech, "Here, Louie, and thanks a lot from all the Mountaineers" was all Charlie Dennis could think to say as he presented a gift to Louis Bourisau, volunteer playground director, before their last baseball game Wednesday night.

The Mountaineers, in case you don't know, are the kids from the North Side playground near Mr. McSaula. Louie is the fellow who started the project and who has kept the program going for the hometown kids even when it meant devoting all his time, effort and even money from his own pocket to do it.

More than 50 youngsters, ranging from kindergarten to Junior high school age, who enjoyed the playground during the summer, were included on the list of donors of the gift, a wallet.

The program started early last spring when Louie had an idea about the playground and decided to do something about it. With the help of interested parents, he started the recreation center and they have kept the project going. Now they've completed a successful summer and are making bigger and better plans for next year.

Archie C. Belding Sent Certificate By State Board

Coming as a surprise, Archie C. Belding Thursday received from the Michigan Corporation and Securities Commission a certificate in honor of his 25 years continuous service as a real estate broker.

Accompanying the certificate was a letter from Howard M. Warner, head of the Commission, in which he said:

"For several years past it has been the custom of this Commission to issue to each real estate broker who has continuously renewed his license for 25 consecutive years, a Certificate of Distinctive Service in recognition of a quarter century of service to the public. These certificates, of course, are issued only to those persons with an unblemished record for the 25 years.

"We are happy to inform you that your records disclose the fact that you are entitled to receive one of these Certificates and it is enclosed herewith. We feel certain that you will be proud to display this evidence of your fine record on the wall of your office."

The engraved certificate itself carries the signature of Commissioner Warner and the seal of the department.

Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Young returned Sunday from a two weeks visit with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Alden Olsen in Chetek, Wis.

Mother, Son Die After Vacation Car Hits Tree

Injuries incurred in an auto accident on US-31, 4 miles south of Charlevoix near the George Block farm at 1 a. m. Sunday proved fatal to two Traverse City residents who were enroute to the Upper Peninsula for the week end.

Mrs. Adelaide Meereis, 59, wife of William Meereis, died a few minutes after being admitted to the Charlevoix Hospital and her son, Arthur, 21, driver of the car, died at 9 a. m. Sunday.

According to Sheriff Floyd Ikens and Deputy Ted Coblenz who investigated the accident, it is believed the car left the road and side-swiped a tree when the driver went to sleep.

Mrs. Jean Fennell, 40, and her daughter, Vivian, 16, who were riding in the front seat, received minor injuries and were treated at the Charlevoix Hospital. Mrs. Meereis was asleep in the back seat at the time of the accident.

Besides her husband, Mrs. Meereis is survived by three daughters.

The bodies were taken to the Martinson Funeral Home at Sutton's Bay for services and burial.

Norwood Union Meets Thursday

The Norwood Local of the Farmers Union will hold its regular meeting at the Norwood Hall Thursday evening.

New School Would Supply Needed Rooms

A wing, 180 by 64 feet, is proposed as the major part of the new high school building in the plans submitted to the Board of Education.

With overcrowding, steadily increasing school loads, and a lack of adequate laboratory, class room, band and agriculture space, the Board commissioned the Warren S. Holmes Co., of Lansing to draw plans for a new building. Whether it will be built depends on the decision of the school district and costs.

The new wing as planned would occupy the site of the present 46 year old building and extend north from it. It would be slightly longer than the present west or elementary wing of the school.

It would consist of two stories with no basement, and connected to the present gymnasium by a section containing offices, shop and band room.

In this connecting part on the first floor would be an entrance foyer, and administrative offices. Also facing on Mason street would be a cafeteria, 28 by 64, with a semicircular teacher dining space projecting toward the street. At one end would be a small stage, 12 by 19, thus making it possible to use the cafeteria as a small auditorium if it should be needed. Adjoining it would be a serving space and kitchen, 22 by 30 feet.

A corridor down the center of the wing would be lined with lockers on both sides. Opening off it would be eight classrooms. As planned these would be 22 by 20 and 22 by 30 feet in size. However, with steel and masonry piers every ten feet, it is possible either at the start or later time to shift a partition ten feet and make larger or smaller classrooms.

A stairs to the second floor is at the north end of the wing.

The second floor has the band room and storage space in the connecting space. Facing on Mason street would be a 24 by 60 foot assembly room which could also be used as a library. At the southeast corner is the science laboratory, 22 by 70 feet. In the circular space above the teachers dining alcove is a similar space for a glassed growing bay.

Next the science lab is the agricultural laboratory 22 by 40. The rest of the space on the second floor is taken up by five classrooms and the corridor.

Gar Wood to Sell Pine Point Property

If the Circuit Court will permit, the Gar Wood Industries company will not be dissolved.

A petition for dissolution was filed by Gar Wood, Jr., after the plant here closed. Since there is a possibility that the corporation could be useful in another connection, he is asking that it be continued.

However, he is offering for sale the 185 acre Pine Point property here which he bought of R. E. Olds.

Birthday by Nov. 1 Kindergarten Rule

Only children who will be five years old by Nov. 1 will be admitted to kindergarten this fall, Supt. Roy Bennett says.

This is the same rule that was followed last year. Two weeks ago The Courier was told that the deciding date would be Dec. 1. Nov. 1 is right.

Barber Shop Song Fans Throng City for Annual Jamboree

With singing fans here from all parts of the Lower Peninsula and neighboring states, the Charlevoix Chapter of the Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barber Shop Quartet Singing in America, Inc., put on its fifth annual Jamboree Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

First formal event of the Jamboree was the Chapter meeting Friday night at Dr. D. C. Nettleton's basement, when 143 members and guests gathered. With Loton Willson of Boyne City as master of ceremonies, group singing and quartets alternated during the evening.

Among the performers were the Kentucky Troubadours, the Metro-Gnomes, Cosmopolitans, Gardenaires, Boyne Aires, High Pockets, Chordmasters, Cabin Boys. A high point of the evening was the visit of the Blendettes of Muskegon. Singing here for the first time were the Notables of Muskegon, a new and young SPEB group composed of Harold Dobb, Jim Miah, Don Richards and Joe Cannon.

The same evening the SPEB wives had their party at the Hotel with Mrs. Charles Hamilton, Mrs. Jerry Scudder, Mrs. Henry Ingalls, Mrs. D. C. Nettleton and Mrs. Al Young in charge. Besides the planned program, there were frequent interruptions when some male chorus would be brought in.

On the stage decorated by Al Young and Henry Ingalls, ten quartets Saturday night presented a two hour program.

The decorations were one of the hits of the show. When the audience entered, all that could be seen were two huge hands and checked coat sleeves holding a welcome banner. When the curtains opened, a 12 foot face with open mouth slowly lighted. The open mouth was the sound stage within which the singers stood. A curved back and solid plywood construction provided an excellent acoustical arrangement.

The set was painted with a theatrical fluorescent material. By using black light, the colors came alive and glowed. A professional job, the set was built and finished by the two men who gave most of a week's work to the job.

Jack M. Dollenmaier, past president of the Milwaukee Chapter, introduced G. Marvin Brower, international director from Grand Rapids, who was master of ceremonies.

The quartets taking part were the Northmen from Traverse City; the Boyne Aires of Boyne City; Cosmopolitans of Grand Rapids; Cabin Boys of Charlevoix; and Kentucky Troubadours of Louisville, the Kentucky state champions.

The Snow Belt Chorus, led by Loton Willson of Boyne City, sang during the intermission. Then the quartets which sang next were the Gardenaires of Rosedale Gardens; the Chordmasters and the Blendettes of Muskegon; the Metro-Gnomes of Midland. With the massed choruses in front of the stage, Harry Tubbs of the Gardenaires sang Old Man River and Wagon Wheels. Final quartet was the Barons of Harmony from Saginaw, Michigan state champions.

Preceding the program some Hellzapoppin comedy was presented by the BO Four—Bert Escott of Detroit, Henry Ingalls, Bud Gill and Don Feagan. Assisting them were Clarence Olmark and L. E. Towse in search of a seat.

The high school auditorium was filled to capacity for the Jamboree concert. Following it, the traditional Afterglow was held at the WaySide. There, refreshments were served by the Charlevoix chapter and a series of impromptu concerts were given by the quartets and individuals.

Sunday afternoon an open air concert was staged in the city park. Dallas Henry acted as master of ceremonies. Various quartets sang, recorded music was broadcast, Loton Willson led singing by the Snow Belt Chorus composed of all Barbeshoppers, Howard D. Tubbs of Garden City sang two solos.

That evening came the final event of the Jamboree, the party held at the Belvedere Casino. Henry again was in charge of the program. He called various quartets to the mike, introduced individuals, explained the geography of the casino. Among the singers who performed was Bob Barker of Traverse City, who is to join the Ted Waring organization as a tenor soloist.

Called to the platform were six members of the Charlevoix chapter who had worked hardest at the Jamboree. Refreshments were served by Wayne Belding's orchestra concluded the evening.

Credit for the success of the Jamboree goes to members of the organization who worked for weeks beforehand to complete arrangements and plan activities. Henry Ingalls, chapter president, was in general charge and with Al Young built the stage setting designed by the latter. Dr. D. C. Nettleton arranged the program and supplied the headquarters for the whole session. Jerry Scudder, club secretary handled the publicity, finances, and room accommodations. Two Things Charlevoix Needs

A letter and a brief speech have pointed out two things which Charlevoix needs. There are other things of course: the new hospital, a larger school, more boat houses. But these two merit particular attention right now.

The letter is from the State headquarters of the Sister Kenny Foundation. It says that a drive is to be put on here soon to raise funds.

We have just been through a cancer drive and the Salvation Army fund raising. Now comes the Sister Kenny and after that there will be others. Now all these are worthy causes.

But an appeal for funds once a month soon will kill off the charitable feelings of the best of us.

The sensible thing is to have a Community Chest, raise enough at one time to take care of all these worthy appeals, and then lay off until another 12 months has rolled around.

It takes but little more organization and work to do the job once and have it over with than it does to do it each of 12 times. The response too is better.

This would be a good thing for the literary clubs and the Kiwanians to join forces on. It is one thing Charlevoix needs.

A talk which Supervisor George Haggard gave before the Charlevoix City Council brings up the second point. Neon signs, rooming houses and boarding houses are threatening one of Charlevoix's finest residential sections.

There is nothing wrong with rooming and boarding houses. Good ones are needed to care for our summer guests who do not own homes, yet who want to spend a vacation here and enjoy the recreational advantages our three lakes offer.

But it is an established fact, as Haggard pointed out, that commercial ventures inevitably will drive out and ruin a fine residential area if allowed to spread.

The process already has begun in the First Ward. It is not too late to stop it. If positively halted now, no great damage has been done. If not halted, Charlevoix will be a much poorer town ten years from now.

The responsibility rests with the public and its chosen officials. If the public is too apathetic to back a move to halt the present trend where it is now then the fault is our own and we shall have no one else to blame.

Why Not?

This week a letter came to the editor from E. J. Madill at Washington which was complimentary and pleasing to our self-esteem.

Mr. Madill is assistant chief of the Division of Protective Services of the Department of State. His first paragraph said:

"I have been reading the Courier for years and observe that since you have assumed ownership the quality of reporting and the presentation of factual material is comparable to some of our leading daily papers."

While that is complimentary, the inevitable question it brings is: "Why not?" Why should not the small community have the same quality of news coverage and editorial service as the large?

The day definitely is past when the weekly paper is a makeshift thing devoted to promoting the partisan interests of one political party, or the personal aspirations of its editor. Today a growing majority of the weekly and small daily papers are news organs, dedicated to serving their communities, and within their geographical fields they are doing a job which is comparable in quality to that of the metropolitan daily.

For more and more the able and aggressive newspaperman is turning to the smaller communities. Many are finding that the vaunted romance of big city newspaperdom is a daily grind and tedious monotony, and that the community newspaper offers more variety and a richer life than a job on a big paper.

And after all, why doesn't the small community deserve as good news service as the large? There are many more of them, they comprise a larger slice of our national population and wealth, and to most folks who know both, the small town has just as fine folks and as high a level of intelligence as the city.

Our Best Wishes . . .

The best wishes and congratulations of this community should be extended to the Upper Torch Lake Association.

Representing a growing neighboring community to the south of us, the Association is completing a year marked with a lot of accomplishments.

Comprising mostly scattered dwellings and resorts, the Association in the last two years has purchased a fire truck that is excellently adapted to its needs; has built a fire hall and community meeting place; and has staged a most successful dedication and community day.

In addition, it has built up a community spirit and a lot of good will for itself and its section.

That is the sort of thing which benefits not only the immediate area concerned but all this northern territory. So, we of Charlevoix should be proud of having such a nearby community and such fine neighbors.

October's Bright Blue Weather

Those of our summer citizens who think that after Labor Day the North has nothing to offer should come back in October. A visit up here then can supply just as much in pleasure as one in the summer.

True, an extra sweater will come in handy. But to compensate for cooler nights there are many things.

In October Michigan is at her most colorful. We are fortunate in being in the hardwood belt with its yellows of the sugar maples and poplars, flame of the soft maples, browns of the oaks and birches. A weekend, or a week here then is a continual color tour such as some counties stage just for one day for the benefit of guests.

Fishing is far better than it usually is in the summer. Things are not so crowded and life can be taken somewhat more leisurely and restfully.

Giving many folks the wrong impression of northern autumns is the two or three week spell of rainy, bad weather which normally comes in September. Once that is over and Indian Summer arrives, the North country is a wonderful place to be.

Cabin and cottage owners say the wise thing to do now is reserve a place to stay in the fall—then they will be ready for those who want something different in a northern vacation.

Toy Boats Spread Charlevoix Story

How Charlevoix is publicized has been illustrated by one thing this summer.

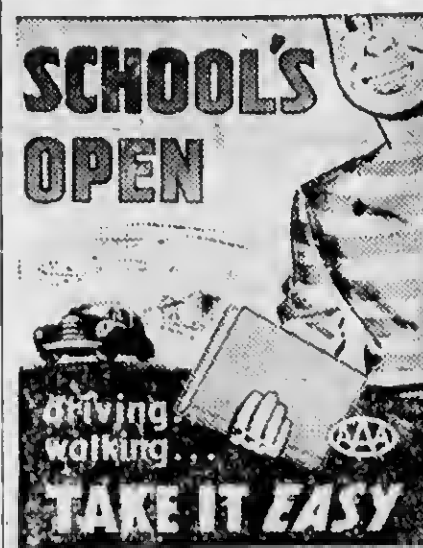

A manufacturer put his line of top sailboats in the Central Drug Store. Through the Board of Commerce, the words "Charlevoix the Beautiful" were stamped on every plastic sail of the models.

More than 100 were sold, going to most of the states of the middle West.

Letter To the Editor

Dear Sir:

Charlevoix is advertised as a beautiful summer resort where relief may be found from hay fever. Charlevoix has achieved the beautiful part of the advertisement by enhancing her naturally beautiful setting with parks and drives and lovely homes, but I am surprised to see rag weed growing in the crevices of the sidewalks.

I should think it a matter of civic pride that ragweed not be allowed to grow anywhere in the city limits. If it gets a foothold here you will lose your profitable tourist business from the hay-fever victims.

I saw ragweed growing between the sidewalk and curb where it is a civic responsibility at the following locations: west end of Antrim St., 305 Nettleton St., out near R. R. depot.

It seems to me that one of your least expensive and most effective civic improvements would be a program to eradicate this noxious weed.

Sincerely yours,
Anna Louise Cochrane,
Indianapolis, Ind.

W. D. Wood to Teach Dale Carnegie Courses

Rev. W. D. Wood of Charlevoix has qualified and been appointed as one of the six instructors in Michigan for the Dale Carnegie Course.

Starting Sept. 4 he will be in charge of a weekly class at Traverse City and on Sept. 5 of one at Alpena.

The course is an effective public speaking and human relations and lasts for 17 weeks. Enrollment, he says, is limited to 40 so that more personal instruction can be given.

Rev. Wood went to New York this summer where for three weeks he attended the Carnegie course of instruction for directors of such work. Completing it successfully, he was certified as an instructor.

Belvedere Family Is Near 6th Generation

A family which has been coming to the Belvedere and Charlevoix for five generations is soon expecting a sixth generation to carry on the tradition.

It is the Tramel family of Evanston, Ill. Back before the days of the Pere Marquette, when Charlevoix was reached only by boat from Traverse City or horse and buggy from Petoskey, C. N. Hadden started coming here summers. His daughter, Mrs. James Forsyth and her daughter Mrs. George Tramel and their families continued to do so as have the next two generations—Forsyth Tramel and James and Wilmet Tramel. Now sometime this winter Mr. and Mrs. James Tramel are expecting the sixth Belvedere generation to arrive.

land, Ohio, where she was called by the death of her mother. She expects to be away two or three weeks. . . Dorothea Badger, one of the new teachers in Charlevoix schools arrived here last week from Ann Arbor. With her came her son, Bill, and her daughter, Becky. Bill returned Labor Day to Ann Arbor where he will enter the University as a freshman. Becky will remain in Charlevoix and enter the eighth grade. . .

For a woman who enjoys antiques and knows how to make them grace her home beautifully, we nominate Abbie Lewis. . . Andy Essenberg left Friday for Lansing where he will spend the winter months. . . Mrs. Karl Preston left Tuesday morning for Mulliken where she will visit her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Stevens. She is enroute to her home in Glendale, Calif., after visiting her sister.

Mrs. Leo Carey and other relatives and friends here for a month. . . Grace Papineau, Bill Papineau and Sally McKenzie of Dearborn were visitors at the Leo Carey home.

The other night at the "After-Glow" party for the Barbershoppers, the Kentucky Troubadours got up and sang "Oh, We're Glad to Be Here in Charlevoix, up where the lake breezes blow; Climb up Mt. McSaubia for climbing's our hobby, to see the sights below; We see some boats on Lake Charlevoix, down by the Pere Marquette bridge; Oh, what a joy for a girl and a boy, here in Charlevoix." They made quite a hit with their bit of doggerel. . . Funny thing, though, one really gets a new sense of appreciation for Charlevoix after having many visitors all summer. Of course one of the things every one does is drive around and show off the town and after hearing guests exclaim about the place and then to read in the thank-you letters that it really is one of the prettiest and best places in Michigan, well, one really begins to realize that "There's no place like home" . . .

Plans Sermon Series

Mrs. Gilbert Hostess At Birthday Party
It was a "happy birthday to you" party Tuesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Julius Gilbert when a group of friends gathered there for the evening in Mrs. Gilbert's honor. Gin Rummy and bridge occupied the evening after which the group enjoyed a buffet supper.

Health NEWS

"Health News" is presented by your Doctor of Medicine as a health service of the Michigan State Medical Society.

Watch That Sun

The annual vacation is a thing of the past for many people in August. Nevertheless, the danger of severe sunburn is still present and must be considered each time you plan a day at the beach or a tanning session in the garden or back yard.

Medical authorities warn that severe sunburn is dangerous and that too much sun may result in chills, fever, headaches and even delirium.

The best prevention for sunburn is gradual exposure to the sun's rays. The first period in the sun should be no longer than 15 minutes, unless it is after 4 p.m. when the rays of the sun are less direct and do not burn as fast as during morning and early afternoon hours. Each day the exposure period can be increased until a good protective coat of tan has been built up.

Olive oil and cocoa butter are good to put on your skin before going into the sun, especially while you are building the protective coat of tan.

Some people get their worst burns on misty and cloudy days. They forget the sun's rays burn on a misty day just as on a bright, cloudless day.

Blonds sunburn more easily than brunets and children of any complexion are more likely to get sunburned than adults because their skin is more tender.

If you do get sunburned, calamine lotion is soothing and does not stain clothes. Olive oil and cocoa butter also provide some relief. In treating sunburn, remember it is just the same as other burns and should always be treated by a doctor of medicine if it is severe or if it produces a fever.

Sentinel of 1885 Show How Times Do Change
Times have changed since 1885. A copy of the issue of June 10 of that year of the Charlevoix Sentinel proves it.

Half the front page is devoted to advertising, including Dr. Crouter's baking powder, Cooper Bros. groceries, and Dr. Keeley's positive cure for the liquor and opium habits.

Local news included mention of a 42 pound trout netted by Weaver & Bedford, the Congregationalist meeting at Atwood, the fact that more cemetery land was needed as only eight lots were left. A home talent play was planned, and the Sentinel took an unkind dig at East Jordan: "East Jordan has ordered a half-dozen packages of fire crackers and two sky rockets and will celebrate the Fourth."

The big news sheet was not trimmed at the top, thus forcing readers to cut it themselves, or forego reading four inside pages which were printed in Detroit probably and carried patent medicine ads, and little love stories, world news, but no local stories.

Ship transportation was big news then. Almost half a column is devoted to ads giving boat schedules. The Clara Belle, Capt. Mel Thompson, left East Jordan at 6:30 a. m., and Charlevoix at 9:30 a. m., "touching at all intermediate points." Capt. Iliam Estell and the steamer North Star had a similar schedule between here and Boyne City.

The Thos. Friant ran between Harbor Springs, Petoskey, Charlevoix and East Jordan.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Withers of Wyandotte are visiting their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. James Miller.

Melva Nordrum Given Party

Mrs. O. Ibsen Nordrum entertained with a party on Sunday, Aug. 31, in honor of her daughter, Melva Annette's fourth birthday anniversary. The party was held at the home of her grandmother, Mrs. Orson Cook.

The tables, set in a grove of trees, were covered with colorful tablecloths. A crepe paper sun-bonnet girl and two large birthday cakes covered with pink canopies decorated the table which was graced with bowls of gladioli.

Favors were presented to the guests by the little guest of honor. The children played various games. Melva received many gifts.

Health NEWS

"Health News" is presented by your doctor of medicine as a health service of the Michigan State Medical Society.

Polio Vaccine

Medical scientists cast new light on polio recently when it was disclosed an experiment has proved that a certain strain of infantile paralysis, known as the Lansing strain, can be made harmless and also turned into a vaccine to combat the dread disease.

This new vaccine is only a partial answer to the polio problem because there are many other strains of polio virus. Before a successful vaccine can be developed, one must be found that will be effective on all types of polio.

It is interesting to note that the Lansing strain used in the recent successful experiment received the name "Lansing" because it was obtained several years ago from a Lansing, Mich., boy.

Stanford University scientists, experimenting on rats, developed the successful vaccine. They found that only one of the vaccinated rats developed polio and that it recovered. However, 83 per cent of the unvaccinated rats, developed polio after they had received the same deadly dose of polio virus administered to the vaccinated rats.

Now that the infantile season is here again, you will be interested to know that in some cases the disease can be diagnosed within 21 hours after its onset, according to a Minnesota doctor.

He said that polio treatment should begin immediately in order to relieve discomfort of patients and to minimize crippling effects.

Although medical scientists are working day and night to develop a vaccine for all types of polio, present weapons in the fight against the disease are observation of polio precautions and prompt treatment by your doctor of medicine if symptoms develop.

Duck Shooting Starts Later

Duck hunters, traditionally early risers, may sleep later this season.

The very earliest shooting hour is 6:34 a. m., and in the last week of the 30-day season, on the western side of the state, shooting will not start before 7:35 a. m. Opening day they may sleep latest of all, as shooting starts that day at noon.

The official shooting timetable for the migratory bird season prepared by the conservation department, shows the closing hour varies from 5:29 p. m. in the west part of the state in the first week to 4:20 p. m. in the east part of the state in the final week.

Federal regulations that knock half an hour off each end of the shooting day allowed last year provides that this season wildfowling shoot only from sunrise to one hour before sunset.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Gloster and two children of Detroit, left Tuesday after two weeks here with his mother, Mrs. Georgia Gloster. Other guests there were Mr. and Mrs. John Walters of Detroit.

Historic Buildings On Beaver Island Are Potentially Big Tourist Attractions

Three of Michigan's finest historic buildings south of Mackinac are in Charlevoix County—and are in danger of being lost. All three are on Beaver Island, to bronze or even wooden markers show what they are. Neglected roofs and walls are bringing rot and decay.

All three have romance, real historic value and could be made major tourist attraction.

The three are the old fur post, oldest building on the island; the Mormon printing office; Dr. Feodor Protar's home.

The fur post is a two story structure at the south end of the main street. Made of 16 inch hand hewn white pine logs, it was put up sometime in the 1750's or '60's. For a short time it was abandoned as being in too hostile and wild a country. Later it was a halfway point between the Mackinac and Green Bay posts.

The big 36 or 32 foot canoes with their eight paddlers would race across from Wisconsin, lay over here, change crews and then go on to Mackinac with their bales of beaver pelts.

The post now is occupied by an Indian family but roof repairs and attention to the wall logs are needed.

The Mormon printing office is a black north. Built by King James Strang for his "Northern Daily Observer", it housed the press which had been brought to Michigan by the Jesuit fathers a century before and on which Bibles and catechisms were printed in Ojibway.

Unoccupied now, it has been used as a rooming house. Cleaned out, it would make an excellent tourist attraction, especially if facsimiles of the old Northern Daily Observer and other mementoes of the Mormon period could be placed on the walls.

Virtually unknown outside the island, the story of Dr. Protar is one of the finest in Michigan's history. He was a Russian nobleman who came under the influence of Tolstoi. He is said to have freed his serfs and in other ways was altogether too liberal for the czarist government, which exiled him.

Coming to this country, he eventually arrived at Beaver Island. There until his death on April 12, 1925 he was the friend, doctor and help in time of need of virtually every person. Ready to build a pretentious home for himself, he turned out money over to a widow with a large family when her own home burned down.

He never would accept pay for his services; was always on call day or night, and refused to mingle with outsiders.

His log house today, four miles from St. James, is badly in need of a new roof and other repairs. During the hunting season it is rented out to deer hunting groups. And each year more of the mementoes of the doctor are gone. Only a few of the books, a few pictures and the larger pieces of furniture are left.

One difficulty in the way of preserving all three historic mementoes is that the title of each is sadly mixed. But, properly preserved, the three together would form a major tourist attraction which would be unequalled, historically, in all the northern part of the peninsula.

Games party every Tuesday night at the American Legion Hall. Open to the public. Everybody welcome.

Los Angeles Paper Publicizes Charlevoix

Charlevoix received considerable notice on Aug. 23 in the Los Angeles Herald-Express.

A society reporter, Pat Borham, was a guest of the Preston Tuckers at their summer home on Lake Charlevoix and described this country and its beauties, both as seen from the ground and the air. She made quite a point of the green woods, blue waters and the cool, fresh air, although no specific mention of the contrast with southern California was made.

The clipping was sent to Mary Margaret Orlovski by a Los Angeles friend.

The Owner Says

"THIS ENTIRE PENINSULA CAN NOW BE YOURS"

Gar Wood, Jr., who purchased this unusual property in 1943 as the intended site for his summer residence, now offers it for sale in one piece, at a price unheard of for such desirable Lake Charlevoix frontage.

With almost a quarter-mile frontage on U. S. 31—with a mile of depth, and almost a half-mile of width—this opportunity to own over 9000 feet of frontage on the most beautiful lake in the North is as unusual as the price at which it may be purchased.

A fine sand beach cove on Lake Charlevoix, a clean deep-water shore. The ONLY deep-water sand-shelf on the Lake. Sheltered Oyster Bay affords the finest bathing—sailing—power-boating—water skiing, and fishing.

ONE HUNDRED FIFTY and 78 100ths ACRES of closely timbered, ridged and well-drained land, naturally terraced!

A summer Lodge with fourteen bedrooms, six baths, private baths each for Master's quarters and for kitchen staff, large dining and game rooms, each with fireplace, HUGE main lodgeroom with 'ridge-pole' height ceiling, a twelve foot fireplace, generously lighted with screened windows. Deep-well water system under electric pressure, electricity (110v & 220v AC) direct from City of Charlevoix. All mainland frontage under tight fence!

Entrance to property only five minutes from City, private road from grounds entrance to Lodge, and along lake to tip of peninsula. Crossing roads and trails to recreational area in mid-peninsula. Ample pasture area for riding stable. Now a game sanctuary sheltering deer, grouse and other small game. New owner may hunt or continue sanctuary at his own option.

Cabin timber, sand, lake gravel, present in abundance for extended building. Big trees, and small trees. Birch, beech, cedar, fir, elm and others. Enough to build a cabin city—and never change the forest appearance.

News of folks, your neighbors and mine... but did you know that—

By this time the Jack Supernaw family are comfortably settled in their winter home in Madison, Wis. However, Doctor plans to return to Charlevoix sometime in October to get in some of the beauty of this place during the fall and to FISH. He expects to bring some of his Madison friends with him who also enjoy fishing...

Is there a bit of ragweed in your yard? If so, stage a one-man campaign and pull it out. With Charlevoix's low count during hay fever season, let's not let this weed get a foothold of any kind in this vicinity... A fellow with a million dollar personality is Jack Gettleison, who has been here with his wife on the farm for the past two months...

Some of our best new Charlevoix citizens this week are the new teachers who have arrived to take on the responsibility of teaching YOUR CHILD. They are important folks and it is up to you as parents to know who these folks are. And then just think of all the teachers who have done a swell job through past years and are good, substantial citizens in this community. Has it ever occurred to you to give them a word of encouragement, or even a pleasant "Good Morning" as you meet them downtown?

Mr. and Mrs. Phillip S. Jones and children, Ann and Sandy, have returned to Ann Arbor for the winter months after spending the past two weeks with Mrs. Jones' mother, Mrs. Harvey Campbell. Just before Mr. Jones came to Charlevoix on vacation he received his Ph.D. in math at the University. He was also doing part time teaching there. Now he returns to Ann Arbor to a full time teaching position.

How strange it seems to cross Iridge street and not find it as congested as a large city.

More and more cottages are closing for the coming months. Many folks are reluctant to leave and several have asked, "What is a winter like in Charlevoix?" (It's wonderful). They have the bug to stay on... Mrs. Carl Left is moving this week to Beaver Island, where she will teach. The Larry Blocks left Monday for their home in New York City. "An afraid that we are going to run into some hot weather," he said, but business calls him home.

The Lewis Reimann have gone from Camp Charlevoix to Ann Arbor. "During the past week Mr. Reimann was in Iron River visiting relatives and friends. He says that things are looking wonderful for camp next year... Have you noticed the mountain ash trees that are so beautiful now... Didn't realize that fall was so close upon us until I walked into Mrs. J. C. Marshall's yard the other day and saw a dahlia as large as a dinner plate in full bloom. That always means that fall is not far away.

For a gal who never has a dull moment, we nominate Sally Bergeon. For her, last week was a dilly. Trying to locate her son, Michael, and another boy who had started hitch-hiking from the Traverse Fair, going to Flint and having Mike do a sleep-walking act at 4 a. m., getting some 12 blocks away; meeting her son, Clarke from Ft. Knox and making a flying trip back to Charlevoix so that he could be here for a few hours. Well, Sally really had herself a time.

There was surely a tickled fellow, Bill Wallace, who returned to his home after a 14-day bout with an infected eye at the hospital. The weather was just too perfect to have to be still in a hospital. Sunday night Mrs. Wallace found herself getting supper for 11 youngsters who had come to give Bill a real homecoming welcome... Clarence Wood showed himself quite an artist when it comes to candlebra he made for his daughter's wedding. He made the ones that stood behind the massed baskets of white gladioli for his daughter's wedding. Now he plans to give them to the Congregational church so that they can be used for Vesper services at Christmas time, etc. Wonderful gesture on his part.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hahn and Marie Fessenden left Monday for Muskegon. Mr. Hahn flew up to be here for the Wood-Lucas wedding but did not arrive in time to hear his wife sing the two beautiful numbers before the ceremony. Saturday night the family was frantic when Timmy, the dog, got into a tussle with a skunk out at Little (Continued on page four)

Racing Is Big Feature of Charlevoix County Fair

Football Team Will be Heavier

With a line averaging 185 pounds and an entire team 180, Coach Ray Kipke expects to have a fast and heavy football squad to go after the district title this year.

Despite the hot weather, practices have been going on every afternoon for the last week. Fifty-five reported out for drill. Included were 12 lettermen: Ray Williams, Dave Smith, Bill and Bob Carey, Arnold Loper, Bill Peterson, Dave Hardy, Pat Martin, Dick Joliffe, Warren Shadko, Dick Donaldson and Bob Shanahan.

While it is too early to pick a starting lineup for the opening game with Gaylord on Sept. 19, he has a fairly good idea who will be on the first string at the time. Kipke is quick to point out, however, that any list at this time is only for the first game. "Some of the other boys can easily improve enough to be there before long," he says.

Bill Carey, quarterback, has been elected captain. Others for the backfield will be Martin, Dick and Jim Joliffe and Hardy. Dick is the 200 pounder who is a dash man on the track team and is a likely fullback.

Probable ends are Bob Carey Smith and Williams. Tackles are Shadko, Smith, Jim and Jerry Gibbons. Guards are Don Burke, Hiram Potter, Phil Martin and Jack Roberts. Peterson and Donaldson are competing for the center position.

Two reserve games already are scheduled with Petoskey and Kipke is looking for two more.

Charlevoix Pollen Count Is Lowest

While folks in the southern part of the state are suffering and sneezing in the pollen-laden air, the ragweed count up here remains low with Charlevoix showing the minimum of this section.

Each day the State Department of Health checks on the number of ragweed pollen grains per cubic yard of air at key points throughout the state.

From July 29 to Sept. 4 the figures received by The Courier have been:

	Total	Avg.
Charlevoix	472	13
Gaylord	720	19
Petoskey	749	20
Lansing	14,213	385

Charlevoix of late has seen the count dropping to 15 and less grains. Lansing on the other hand has been steadily above the 1,000 mark, with 1,599 counted on Aug. 27.

Bridge Elected to Insurance Board

Robert Bridge of Charlevoix last Thursday was elected a member of the executive committee of the Michigan Association of Insurance Agents at the 49th annual convention at Mackinac Island.

The keynote speaker at the meeting was Sen. Homer Ferguson whose subject was Free Enterprise. He urged that America, which has made itself the hope of the world through free enterprise, not sell that system short.

302 Yachts Bring Summer Business Here

Charlevoix has concluded its most successful season in modern history with a total of 302 pleasure craft visiting the local harbor in July and August. Capt. Joseph F. Howard reports. Among the visitors were boats from 38 states and Canada. The number does not include boats which claim Charlevoix as their home port but only those cruising the Lakes.

What this means to Charlevoix has been revealed in a survey made by Mr. Howard and interested merchants. It is estimated that each boat which entered the harbor stayed an average of six days and carried an average of eight passengers. Including the owners, guests and crew.

While here the boat owners not only purchased fresh meats, vegetables and fruits but visited nearly every store in town. According to the survey each person spent an average of $8.00 a day while in port.

Added to this is the fact that more than half the visitors ate at local restaurants and hotels while here.

Several of the boats were new craft, the first built since the war, and are much larger than the older boats. These ships demand larger dock or slip space than is now available. It is expected that next year will see many more new boats now under construction.

Ray S. Hamilton, owner of Hamilton and Son yard, said when asked about the number of boats which received repairs here this summer, that seven large boats had been on the ways in his yard for extensive repairs. He said most boats were gasoline powered and that these had their tanks filled while in port.

Forty boats are stored in his yards during the winter months. Mr. Hamilton said and estimated that at least 85 more boats were stored at other docks and in boat houses during the season they are not in use.

Emerald Gallaghers Lose Infant Son

Graveside services for Michael James Gallagher, three-day-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Emerald Gallagher, who died at the Charlevoix Hospital Tuesday, were held at Holy Name cemetery, Beaver Island, on Wednesday evening.

The father is in South Africa with the Merchant Marine.

Resort Trains End Runs This Sunday

Sunday will mark the last run of the Pere Marquette resort trains this summer.

Both the 9:30 a. m. and the 9:29 p. m. south bound trains will be discontinued then. Monday there will be a northbound at 3 p. m., and a southbound at 4:43 p. m. The latter will carry a Chicago sleeper.

Kiwanis Meets At 6:15

Starting next Monday, the Kiwanis Club plans to meet Monday at 6:15 p. m. The change of hour was made to accommodate those who have other meetings Monday night.

Town Boards Will Confer on Snow Removal

Members of all the Township Boards in Charlevoix County are being invited to meet with the Road Commissioners to go over the threat to the county's snow removal program.

The meetings will be in Charlevoix Sept. 17, East Jordan, Sept. 19, and Boyne City, Sept. 22.

This decision was reached Monday at the regular meeting of the Road Commission.

During recent years the county maintenance funds have been depleted steadily by rising costs of labor, materials and equipment. No new revenues have been received; gas and weight taxes have remained at the same level or declined during the war.

When Gov. Kim Sigler vetoed the one cent gas tax boost, the last available source of new income was lost. Faced with this condition, the Commissioners decided to meet with township officials, go over the entire situation and attempt to work out the best possible solution before winter comes.

About the only possible major economy which can be made is the drastic curtailing of snow removal on the township roads.

Ernest J. Kibbe, Merchant Here, Passes Wednesday

Ernest J. Kibbe, 55, retired Coast Guardsman and groceryman, died at his home early Wednesday morning after a long illness.

Mr. Kibbe was born in South Haven on Feb. 20, 1892. He entered the Coast Guard service in 1910 and was stationed at South Haven, Sleeping Bear Point and Charlevoix. During World War I he served at Wacouche, Va., and was in command of the St. Joseph Coast Guard Station when he retired from the service in 1927 and came to Charlevoix to live.

He has operated a grocery store for 20 years but has been inactive for the last three years.

He was a member of the American Legion and had been a member of the Masonic lodge.

He is survived by his wife, the former Viola Essler, whom he married at Petoskey on April 23, 1916; one daughter, Mrs. C. F. Heise; his mother, Mrs. William S. Kibbe; a granddaughter, all of this city and two brothers, Theodore of Minneapolis, Minn., and Warren of Cadillac.

Funeral arrangements have not been completed.

Pre-School Clinic To Be Held Monday

A pre-school and infant clinic will be held at the Health Unit at 305 Petoskey Ave., on Monday. Hours will be from 1:30 to 2 p. m., and will be in charge of Dr. A. F. Littenberger and Mrs. Marian Rice.

Physical examinations will be given and vaccinations and immunization given as desired by the parents.

VFW Meets Thursday

First VFW meeting of the new year will be held Thursday at 8:30 p. m., at the organization's rooms.

Comm. Sheridan Root says that plans will be made for the social and business program.

State Road Head City Guest, Discusses Highway Problems

The road problem facing Michigan today is maintaining the commonwealth's billion dollar investment in highways, Charles Zeigler Monday told the members of the Kiwanis Club here.

Zeigler, State Highway Commissioner, pointed out that no new construction had been done during the war and that roads depreciated under the heavier loads and curtailed maintenance program.

Post-war planning, aided by the federal government, was started in 1945 and resulted in the present construction program getting under way in 1943. Federal funds, matched by the state, have helped considerably but still are inadequate. The Commissioner cited two million dollars to be spread over 3300 miles of secondary routes.

Of the local situation, he pointed out that Federal Aid money had made possible the construction of the new bridge here. The county needs much other road work done, he stated, but so do the other counties of Michigan. Route 66 is becoming more important in the state transportation picture as a main tourist artery and this will be reflected in future improvements.

Of all highway units, the county today is in the worst financial condition. Lowered income and increased responsibility have combined to cause this.

The primary need is enough money so that the state's billion dollar road system can be maintained, and the bulk of this job must be done by the counties.

In order to get accurate figures, the State Department has asked the Michigan Good Roads Association to make a detailed study of the highway needs. On the basis of the information thus obtained, future construction, maintenance and financing can be worked out.

Three units now share the job of maintaining Michigan roads—state, county and township. If any of these fall down, for any reason, the entire system is jeopardized. All three must receive adequate support.

Here with Commissioner Zeigler were B. T. Kennedy, of the right of way division; L. D. Zimmerman, district engineer; and L. B. Nugent, district forester, all of the road department.

The highway visitors were given a sample of Charlevoix sailing in the afternoon aboard the Trident. In the evening they were entertained at a fish dinner at the Nautical by a group of county citizens.

School Enrolls 19 More Pupils

The enrollment of the Charlevoix public schools on the first day was up slightly over last year with 789 pupils enrolled as compared to 770 at the same time last year. Supt. Roy G. Bennett announced Tuesday.

The slight increase is in the elementary department where 446 are enrolled this term and 418 were registered in 1946.

The enrollment is: Elementary school—Kindergarten, 65; First grade, 59; Second grade, 58; Third grade, 65; Fourth grade, 71; Fifth grade, 69; Sixth grade, 59.

Junior high and Senior high classes—Seventh grade, 57; Eighth grade, 56; Ninth grade, 61; Tenth grade, 71; Eleventh grade, 45; Twelfth grade, 52.

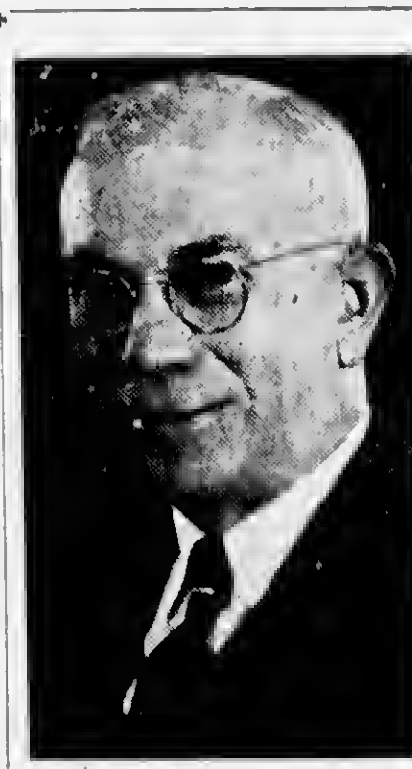

The new teachers in the elementary will have the following rooms: Mrs. Dorothea Badger, 3rd grade; Mrs. Geraldine Goss, 4th grade and Glenn Snider, 6th grade.

Road Men Meet At Mackinac Island

The annual conference of the Northern Michigan Road Commissioners Association was held at the Grand Hotel, Mackinac Island, Sept. 5 and 6.

Hon. Charles M. Zeigler, State Highway Commissioner, and Walter Briggs of Detroit were the principal speakers at the meeting.

Those who attended from Charlevoix county were Mr. and Mrs. Angus Fochtman, Orton Vandusen and Ralph Hamilton of Charlevoix; Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Gangerman and Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Reynolds of Boyne City; and S. E. Rogers of East Jordan.

Completion of US-31 In Near Future Seen By Zeigler

If acceptable bids on the US-31 underpass at Bay Shore are submitted Sept. 18, that job likely will be completed by September, 1948, Commissioner Charles Zeigler said Tuesday morning.

The underpass is the next major step in the new section of the trunk line between here and Petoskey. The grade, which stays close to the lake shore for much of the way between here and Bay Shore, was finished before the war.

Bids now are being asked on the steel for the underpass at the railroad and for the construction.

When this is completed, work can begin on paving the road if funds are available. Much depends on the continuance of the Federal Aid Funds, now coming to the state at the rate of 13 1/2 millions a year. If this is stopped, that amount of construction will have to be postponed.

The new pavement will be concrete like that beyond Bay Shore.

At the Kiwanis luncheon Monday, Commissioner Zeigler was asked what disposition would be made of the Alhambra Hotel site. He said that he did not know but before it was sold the Highway Department would try to make sure that the purchaser planned to use the land in such a way as to be an asset to the city.

H. Medsker, 71, Hurt By Runaway, Found In Yard

Lying in the farm yard of his isolated Hayes township home after being injured in a farm accident Sunday, Herman Medsker, 71, was found Monday morning by Ed Klooster, a cattle buyer of Atwood, who was touring the area.

He was taken to the Charlevoix Hospital where he was treated for a compound fracture of his left leg, bruises and exposure.

He was injured about 6 p. m., Sunday when his team ran away in the field and he was thrown from the wagon. After crawling from the field he was unable to get into the house and laid in the yard for more than 16 hours before he was found by Mr. Klooster.

Cal Bennett, Leader In County, Passes

Funeral services for Cal Bennett, 52, former East Jordan supervisor who died unexpectedly Thursday, were held at East Jordan on Sunday with burial in the Sunset Hill cemetery.

Mr. Bennett served as supervisor or from South Arm township for 12 years and was chairman of the Board of Supervisors for two years. He was the owner of Cal's Tavern near East Jordan and was chairman of the Northern Michigan district of the Table-Top Licensee Congress. He was one of the founders of the Top O' Michigan REA and was its secretary. He was also active in fraternal and civic organizations.

He is survived by his wife and eight brothers.

Public Meeting Sept. 15 to Vote On New School

What will be done about the needed and proposed new high school building will be decided Sept. 18 at a public meeting to be held in the high school assembly room.

Monday night the School Board of the Charlevoix District met with a representative of the Warren S. Holmes Co., Lansing, architects, and went over the tentative plans for a new building. As was suggested at the annual school meeting in June, the Board then voted to call another general meeting of all residents of the District to hear the report and discuss the proposition.

The Sept. 18 meeting is open to all interested persons. Since a new building will cost into the hundreds of thousands, Supt. Roy Bennett, speaking for the Board, is urging that all taxpayers and parents attend.

Present then will be Dr. Wilford Clapp, in charge of all school construction for the State Department of Public Instruction. He will discuss the architectural features of the proposed building. Then will follow an open discussion of costs, financing, construction and any other related topic.

Following this general airing of views and suggestions, the Board of Education will ask for a vote on going ahead with the building plans. Its future moves will be guided by this vote of the public.

That an experienced architect can put a lot of extra values in a building is shown in the plans for the proposed new high school here.

Designed by the Warren S. Holmes Co., of Lansing the new structure would complete the modern plant started 20 years ago with the construction of the present elementary wing. The Holmes Company, which also designed the elementary school, has been planning educational buildings for some 40 years.

The main part of the proposed building would run north and south parallel with the elementary. Its two story walls would be built of narrow piers every two feet with windows taking up most of the space between. This uniform ten foot construction permits construction of classrooms fitted in size to meet the varied needs of the school.

A school all too often has been used for a few hours every day and then stands idle. Three potentially useful public meeting rooms are provided in the proposed building, which would serve the school during the day and the public at other times.

First of these is the 28 by 64 foot cafeteria which has a 12 by 18 stage at one end. Next is the 24 by 60 foot assembly room on the second floor. Third is the 22 by 30 English class room which also would have a 22 by 10 stage, useful for public speaking and drama classes, and for any kind of meetings.

A fourth room which unquestionably would be much used would be the band room. Sound proofed and built with a rising floor, it would provide practice quarters for the city band and other musical groups.

Major purpose of the new building, of course, is to provide much needed classrooms and laboratories. Included in the latter would be two shops for manual arts, a new agricultural laboratory, where now there is none, and an all-purpose science lab.

THE TOW LINE

Wood. Mr. Skunk sprayed the place plentifully but luckily Timmy did not get polluted so that the family was able to take him back in the station wagon Monday when they returned to Muskegon.

The Jim Fosters left Wednesday for Ann Arbor where Jim will be in naval architect school again. Recent guests at the Dan Wyett home were Rev. and Mrs. Harold Reese and boys of Williamston. There is another Williamston family in our midst, the Hammonds, who live at Ironton.

The house seems mighty quiet at the home of Mrs. James E. Meggison since all her company went away. She has been entertaining during the past few weeks Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Joslyn and two sons, David and Donald of Ypsilanti. Mr. and Mrs. Ty Kirby and children, Jimmie, Kay and Connie of Detroit and Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Huston and daughter, Margaret, also of Ypsilanti. The school bell called them homeward.

The J. Greenbaums left Friday night for their home in Chicago. Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Styles entertained at a dinner Thursday evening for Mr. and Mrs. George Emrey and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Starkey. The Starkeys will spend the winter in Chicago and the Emreys are going to Florida.

Marian Benninghoff, who has worked during the summer months on the Belvedere, left Sunday to take up her duties as Registrar of the Dental School at the University of Michigan.

Have you noticed the express trucks lately. The chief articles are trunks, more trunks, baby buggies, scooters, and bikes. Yes, sir, the summer residents are leaving fast. Surely am glad to know that the smart woman of fall wears feather hats. They are much in evidence in fashion magazines and at fall social functions. Gives me one bit of comfort. I can get my many old ostrich number out of moth balls and wear it again, even though I haven't one of those long-skirt affairs to be smart.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Adams of Findley, Ohio were guests for the past week of Mr. and Mrs. James Foster. The two men were buddies in the army and this is their first meeting since they received their separation papers. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Cartier are moving from Belvedere Ave. to the Hart house on Clinton Street.

The Kentucky Troubadours, who made such a hit at the Barber Shop Jamboree really gave Charlevoix a plug in their paper, the Harmony Swipes, their Louisville Kentucky Chapter paper. The baritone of the quartet is editor of the paper. He said in part, "Charlevoix is the boating and yachting center of the northern part of Michigan's lower peninsula. It is a rich community and has many fine hotels and resorts. Millions of dollars worth of boats lie at anchor, or come and go from its docks. It is a fisherman's and hunter's paradise. There are more barbershoppers per capita in Charlevoix, than any place in the world. It was a swell time with a swell bunch of guys and gals."

Incidentally Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gregory, Merle Gregory and Eddie Koch, all of Brazil, Ind., were guests and Fred Gregory was instrumental in getting the Troubadours to come to Charlevoix.

Monday was an important day for all faculty of the Charlevoix schools. The day was taken over for an all day conference and a time to iron out many difficulties always present at the beginning of school. The grand finale was a tea in the late afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bennett.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hunt, Jr., and daughter, Coral Louise will leave Thursday for their new home in Marshalltown, Iowa. Punt has been in Charlevoix for the past two weeks, on terminal leave from the Coast Guards. He plans to teach and take part-time student work in the Central Iowa Business College at Marshalltown. They have been at the home of Mrs. Hunt's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Holmes.

T. H. Cox was back home Wednesday after going to Akron Sunday to get the family's new station wagon which he drove home.

Gordon Freedman returned Monday noon from a trip which took him to Cincinnati, Chicago, Cincinnati and Charlevoix. He flew all the way.

Miss Calla Travis, Famed Dancing Teacher At Belvedere, Plans to Publish Book spirit, is an ageless person and an institution on the Belvedere. A Grand Rapids resident in the winter months, she has known Charlevoix for her summer home since a small child.

Back in the early days she was brought here by her grandmother. She well remembers that first trip from Grand Rapids to Petoskey. Then the couple came to Charlevoix in a wagon.

She also remembers the funny old bridge across the channel. The bridge was operated by hand and she and other girls used to be allowed to get on the bridge and help turn it.

It is no small wonder that the Travis girl led the children in recreational play and taught dancing in the club amusement hall on the Belvedere. Back in Grand Rapids, friends of the Travis girls used to gather at the beautiful old family home with its two large living rooms. Here they would dance, the quadrille being the most popular. Then on Saturday mornings there were children's plays with dancing games.

Back in the Gay Nineties Miss Travis entered Ackley Hall, a private Episcopal boarding school for girls in Grand Haven and there, while a pupil, she was also dancing and deportment teacher.

Following her graduation from Ackley Hall she established a more complete dancing course for summer at the Belvedere Club, directing the evening dances for young people. Also children of town residents were asked to belong to the club by invitation. Several of our business men and young matrons, and the city banker, learned their dancing steps here.

It was during this period that the "Two-step" became so popular. In spite of the fact that many persons were highly critical of this form of dance, the new step gained popularity and the quadrille found itself on the wane.

"I realize that patent leather shoes and long gloves are now a thing of the past, but I still demand that every Tuesday night when it was family night at the Casino, that the children be dressed," said Miss Travis. Ball room dancing occupies the evening and ends with the kiddies dancing with their parents, many of whom learned their first dancing steps from Miss Travis as well.

Miss Travis is not so keen about the past. Her interest is in the future. She is working on a Book of Dances which is to be published. Then, she is much interested in her pupils, many of whom are now teaching all over the country.

This year Betty and Jean White assisted Miss Travis. Each year she brings students from her dancing school at Grand Rapids who are doing preparatory work for graduation. Her big idea now is to assist and help young teachers.

And sometime she hopes that she can winter in Charlevoix, a dream she has never had time to realize.

Girl Scout Leader To Hold Meetings Here Sept. 15 to 18

Miss Eleanor Schmitt of the Girl Scout National Staff, who will conduct a training school in Charlevoix Sept. 15-18.

Miss Schmitt has directed Girl Scout work in several communities, served as a local trainer, been a member of the Chicago staff for several years, executive secretary in Highland Park, Ill., for 5 years and has been a Community Advisor on the National Field Staff for the last few years.

Miss Schmitt's visit to Charlevoix will provide an opportunity for parents, leaders, committee members and any citizens interested in the Girl Scout movement to become better acquainted with the work and aims of the character-building organization for girls. These meetings are open to the public and are not limited to those active at the present time.

The schedule for the meetings to be held at the City Hall is: 1 p. m. Sept. 15 and 16, general training meetings; 8 p. m. Sept. 17, meeting for council and committee members; 7:30 p. m. Sept. 18, general meeting and Brownie Fly-up ceremony.

Miss Schmitt will be in Central Lake on Sept. 11 and 12 for training meetings for Antrim county. The meetings will be held in the Township Library.

Believes in Not Letting Epidemics Happen

Michigan communities seldom make the headlines with tragic stories of disease epidemics. Such scourges have been practically eliminated in Michigan — because the medical doctors of Michigan were among the first in the country to advocate preventive immunization. Today, in Michigan, immunizing against specific diseases is taken for granted as the enlightened way of not letting epidemics happen. However, the cooperation of the people in your community is the most important factor in the success of this medical program, especially in immunizing school children against certain diseases.

News of folks, your neighbors and mine... but did you know that—

By the looks of the windows of some of our merchants, the fall fishing and hunting season is just around the corner... Charles H. Reimers left Sunday evening for his home in Mundell, Ill., after spending two weeks with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. George Haugan of North Point. Then he will fly to the University of Miami where he will start his sophomore year. This is the 16th year Reimers has spent his vacation in Charlevoix... Mr. and Mrs. Walter Fink left Tuesday for Los Angeles where they will spend the winter months...

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Beattie, their daughter, Mrs. William Satchell, and her son, Ernie of Muskegon, have been visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Elzinga. Mr. Beattie is a brother of Mrs. Elzinga. Have you by any chance any red pine cones on your back forty? If so, your kiddies can make themselves some money by picking up bushels of red pine cones. The State Department of Conservation is making a drive for 3000 bushels of cones and is willing to pay $5.00 a bushel for them... Just settling back and feeling that school was well under way when who should come along and jar me out of my pleasant thoughts but a paper salesman, who whipped out a long folder and said, "How about some Christmas cards?" Why do people persist in rushing the season? Am just getting my second wind from Labor Day... The Glenn Krohns have been vacationing, doing a trip through Canada and to Niagara Falls.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Priest left Sunday for Clearwater, Fla., where they plan to spend the winter. They will spend some time in Grand Rapids, later for more time with folks in Lima, Ohio. Then, instead of going directly through the Snokies, they are going to enjoy them and stay a while. Their home has been rented to Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Ball of Detroit. Mr. Ball travels in the northern part of the State. There are two children, Donna Kae, who started in the eighth grade this week and little Patricia Ann, eight months old. With the family is the mother-in-law, Mrs. V. Hillenbrand.

Our deepest sympathy to the Waldron family of Traverse over the tragic death Monday of their son, Bob. The young man was to have been married next month. His fiancée, a telephone operator, was on duty at the long distance board when the news was flashed through her switchboard. She handled the call personally...

Miss Frances Durance has returned to her teaching position at Mackinaw City. She spent the summer at her home here... Mr. and Mrs. Ed Beaudoin and daughter of Detroit are visiting for ten days with Mr. Beaudoin's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Beaudoin... Lyle Beaudoin of Detroit is spending his vacation with his family here... Louis Halstad Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Halstad, has enrolled at the branch division of Michigan College of Mines at Sault Ste. Marie. He was awarded a four year scholarship for an outstanding record during high school...

Dr. and Mrs. Kenneth Bordine and daughters, Lyndell and Virginia of Mt. Pleasant, were recent week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. James Courier. Dr. Bordine is superintendent of the Training School at Central State Teacher's College. Mrs. Bordine will be remembered as Nellie Ingalls, formerly of this city... More summer folks closed their homes this week-end for another season and are looking forward to getting back early next year. They are Dr. and Mrs. Louis Rasmussen, Mr. and Mrs. Frederic Fehhneimer and Mr. and Mrs. Alvin D. Goldman. The Rasmussens and Goldmans go to St. Louis, the Fehhneimers to Chicago until later in the year when they will go on to California for the winter... Certainly a lover of Charlevoix sunsets is Mr. Goldman. His favorite spot in town is his porch facing Lake Michigan where he has spent many an evening. Sunday night Mrs. Goldman was about to have the porch door locked and then thought of her husband and knew that his last few minutes would be spent in his favorite place... And did you happen to see the rainbow over Round Lake (Continued on page 10)

Gatti Hearing Set for Sept. 26 at Cheboygan

Formal hearing on two charges against O. Gatti of the Colonial Club have been set for Sept. 26 at 10:30 at the Cheboygan Court House.

Wednesday morning this information was received from the office of Glenn Hogue, special assistant attorney general at Detroit, connected with the Liquor Control Commission. Monday the scheduled inquiry was held at Detroit arising out of the Aug. 30 raid here on the Colonial Club. Hogue's office was quick to insist that it was not a "hearing" but only an inquiry to establish facts and obtain records. The hearing will be before one or more of the three state examiners at Cheboygan.

The Commission is bringing two charges against Gatti. First is that of unlawfully allowing gambling equipment on the premises covered by the license. The second is allowing an intoxicated person on the premises. The examiner at Cheboygan will take evidence on the charges and report his findings back to the state Commission. Hogue's office stated that no official mention is made in the papers of Marsh Meek or his ownership of the building.

100 Concert Tickets Allotted to City

Four quality musical programs will be given this winter at the Northern Michigan Concert series to be held in Petoskey. Clarence Odmark is member chairman for Charlevoix, which has been allotted 100 tickets. The series will be held in Petoskey, Odmark says, because it is the most central spot and has the best available auditorium.

Just what the programs are depends on how many memberships are sold. The more, the better programs. It is hoped that the Don Cossack Chorus can be one of the numbers. No single admissions will be sold, only tickets for the entire series. Tickets however, can be transferred. They will be on sale Sept. 30 to Oct. 6. A list of the Charlevoix members will be published to help those with tickets arrange transportation.

Steelhead, Bass Starting to Bite

The steelhead and bass are beginning to bite. Sunday Hy Marple, Dr. L. E. Grate and Bud Gill were out trolling in Marple's cruiser. In South Arm Dr. Grate caught two steelhead, his first, and a bass. Marple landed a bass. Saturday morning four men in less than three hours hooked 13 bass near the railroad pier, using worms. They were James Annis, Sr., Sigward Anderson of Chicago; Chester Shea of Thompsonville and Gordon Neff of Charlevoix.

Kibbe Services Are Held Friday

Funeral services for Ernest J. Kibbe, 55, who died at his home early Wednesday, Sept. 10, were held at the See Funeral Home at 2 p. m. Friday with Rev. A. B. Claypoole officiating. Burial was in the Brookside cemetery. Mr. Kibbe, a retired Coast Guardsman, had operated a store here for 20 years. He also was active in fraternal and civic affairs and had served several times as second ward alderman.

After 13 years with the city police, Glenn Rose Tuesday handed in his resignation. He is now with the Auto Electric Service in charge of the office and parts room.

Bell to Install Added Equipment at Old Office

The Michigan Bell Telephone Company has started the excavation of property across from the City Hall for the construction of a new $100,000 building as part of its post-war expansion and improvement program.

C. L. Johnson, manager here for the company, said the building was expected to be completed early in March. The installation of $28,000 worth of special long-distance equipment will begin immediately afterward, he added, to speed up the service.

Two positions will be added to the switchboard in the old building next month at a cost of $11,000, he continued, to improve present service and to provide central office facilities for some of the customers on the waiting list.

During the first half of next year, Johnson said, four more positions will be added to the switchboard at a cost of $14,000. Charlevoix's manually-operated service will be converted to dial within the next few years, Johnson said.

Council Again Discusses Signs In Residence Areas

Business signs in residential sections again were discussed by the City Council Monday night—and control measures promised which would allay the trouble by next summer.

As before, Supervisor George Haggard of the first ward appeared on behalf of north side property owners. Specifically mentioning the signs of the Beach and Surf Hotels as the worst offenders, particularly the former, Haggard pointed out that the Beach Hotel had plenty of room for the sign on its own property where the neon flicker would disturb only its own guests.

He asked for definite information from the Council on what it intended to do and was assured by the Council that the sign ordinance would control nuisances such as this and would be in effect before next summer.

Three bids were received by the Council for painting the water tower. Two from Bay City were rejected but the $550 bid from J. D. Hartwell of Boyne City was accepted, conditioned on his having full insurance protecting the city against any claims as a result of the work. The city furnishes the paint, which was bought before the recent price advance.

Teachers Club Has First Party of Year

The Teachers Club held their first party of the year, pot-luck dinner at the Belvedere Club on Thursday evening.

Places for 50 were laid at tables decorated with gladioli. Mrs. Dorothy McRae and Miss Frances Milner were in charge of the arrangements and the program was provided by Mrs. Bertha Shetterly and Clarence Odmark, who was master of ceremonies.

Guests were husbands and wives of teachers, and members of the School Board.

Bennett, winner of the Class A trophy with an 82 score; Bill Barber, 15, with 180 for 36 holes in the Class C; and James Niswander, 17, who had 85 for 18 holes in the Class B competition. The tourney was sponsored and the trophies donated by the Michigan Cleaners.

Resort Season Getting Longer, AAA Reports

Unseasonably cold weather which kept many tourists out of northern Michigan in June and July may well turn into a blessing in disguise for Michigan resort operators, according to Automobile Club of Michigan's Travel Bureau head Harry Rogan.

For that early cold weather may have accomplished what travel men have been striving to do for many years in stretching out the tourist season, Rogan says. Tourists are creatures of habit, and they don't vacation early or late because they've always gone in July and August, he adds.

Early September reports indicate that those who stayed home in June and July this year are vacationing now. Once a person samples a week in Michigan's "Indian Summer" weather in September or early October, he'll come back again after Labor Day, Rogan believes.

Travel volumes for the first half of September are up five percent over a year ago, while this August showed a six percent drop over 1946. Auto Club ratings reveal.

Basic to a really healthy tourist industry in Michigan is lengthening of the season, Rogan says. July and August do have the hottest days. But when every-one floods to resorts at once, facilities can't possibly handle them. Resorts turn tourists away, and no one is pleased.

Resorters cannot profitably expand their plants for a two-month season, Rogan said. As more workers take vacations, they must be shown that Michigan can be just as pleasant in May, June and September as in July and August. From this trend will come lower prices and better accommodations, as resort operators become less seasonal, he states.

One reason given for not taking vacations after Labor Day is that children start back to school. Records show that 50,000,000 persons don't have any children. Habit is the real reason, Rogan states.

Travel ratings at Auto Club till Labor Day of 1947 showed an eight percent jump over 1946. The aggregate income to those connected with the tourist industry in Michigan, from these figures, will be well above $400,000, 000 for 1947, Rogan believes.

Bike Riders Are Warned By Chief

Parents are being asked by Chief Clarence Heise to warn their bicycle riding children about obeying traffic rules.

The same rules which govern automobiles also apply to bikes. Stop signs are to be obeyed. Traffic is to stay on the right hand side. In addition, bicycles are not to be ridden so as to endanger or frighten pedestrians. And they are to stay off the sidewalks in the business district.

Last week the fire truck was slowed down by a youngster on a bike. Chief Heise says that future infractions of safety rules by bicycle riders will result in the parents of the offenders being called in and asked to answer for their children.

St. Mary's School Enrolls 65, Shows Increase of Seven

The enrollment at St. Mary's parochial school is 65, an increase of seven over last year.

Eleven students graduated from the eighth grade in 1947, the largest class to leave the school, and the first grade this year has 15 students, the largest in the recent history of the school. Kindergarten pupils attend the public school.

There are 35 pupils in the first four grades and 30 in the 5th, 6th, 7th and 8th grades.

Plans are being made for an all-day open house once every six weeks just before the report cards are distributed. In this way the instructors hope to meet the parents and discuss with them the needs of their children.

Playground equipment, acquired by the public school board when the rural schools were consolidated, has been installed on the school grounds. Included are various sized swings and may-poles.

The school children are now conducting a campaign for distributing Catholic weeklies in the home.

Fr. Leo Zeilinski is superintendent of the school. Sister Athanasius teaches the lower grades and Sister Leone the junior high group. Sister Paulette is housekeeper at the convent.

Traverse Truck Driver Dies In Crash

Robert J. Waldron, 22, of Traverse City, was killed in an accident at 7:15 a. m. Monday when his Ford truck and semi trailer left the highway, crashed through a wooded area and burned. The accident occurred 5 miles south of town on US-31 near the Mederiek Waffle farm.

Mark Boersma of Cadillac, who was following Waldron, witnessed the accident. After trying to extricate Waldron from the crushed cab, he went to the Waffle home to call the fire department and ask for help. While he was gone a gas tank exploded demolishing the cab.

Boersma told Sheriff Floyd Ikens who investigated the wreck that he believed Waldron was enroute from Traverse City to Petoskey with a truck load of Coca-Cola at the time.

He was an Army Air Force veteran, who was to have been married next month and had been working overtime to earn extra money.

The body was removed to the See Funeral Home and later to the Weaver-Wolbrink Mortuary in Traverse City.

Rod and Gun Club Meets Thursday

The regular meeting of the Charlevoix Rod & Gun Club will be Thursday night in the L.O.O.F. Hall at 8 p. m.

Future School to Be Decided Thursday Night

Whether or not needed class and laboratory room will be provided for the high school students of the Charlevoix school district will be discussed and possibly decided Thursday night at the special meeting to be held in the high school assembly room. Called by the Board of Education, the meeting is for all citizens of the district. It is set for 8 p. m., to give folks in the rural areas time to get in.

The purpose is to study the blueprints and reports on a plan for a proposed new high school building. At the annual meeting the voters instructed the Board to have such a plan drawn by a competent school architectural firm, get estimates on costs and financing, and then call a special meeting in order to submit these findings back to the people of the district.

All this will be done Thursday night.

The general building plans will be presented. It will be explained how the structure can be put up in sections, thus spreading the cost over more years and permitting the present school to be used for much of the time. General discussion on all phases will follow.

Finally the Board will ask for a vote of those present on what course it shall pursue—go ahead, with the program or continue to use the hazardous and overcrowded present building.

Delegation Attends Bankers Meeting

Both Charlevoix banks were represented Tuesday afternoon and evening at the annual fall meeting of District 2 of the Michigan Bankers' Association. It was held at Traverse City. Going from here were the entire staff of the Charlevoix County State Bank; Mr. and Mrs. Archie Livingston and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Livingston of the Charlevoix State Savings Bank.

City Golf Course Has Good Summer

Charlevoix's municipal golf course had its best season since the war, Charles Hamlin reported to the Council Monday night. Despite the fact a new $375 power mower was bought, the course came close to paying its operating costs. The unmercifully hot spell in August cut down attendance and boosted water consumption.

The Council expressed its appreciation to the staff which ran the course this summer and re-appointed all three for next year: Charles Hamlin, supervisor; Frank Poole, club manager; Ron Abfalter, grounds keeper.

October Events Planned by Club

Three events for the fall season were approved Monday by the Kiwanis Club at its first evening meeting since summer.

A chicken pie supper and Ladies Night was suggested for October. The Club will give its annual Halloween party for the young folks. A white elephant sale will be held this fall. Goods for the latter are now being collected. F. R. Bulow is chairman of this latter event.

Bill Peterson and Bill Carey were guests of the club at the dinner and program.

Pickles Pour Into Heinz Salting Plant Here As Farmers Harvest 1947 Crop

Pickles which will be eaten next year have been pouring into the plant of the H. J. Heinz Co., here in a steady stream every evening.

According to Howard Brumm, Heinz manager for this district, this season promises to be just a fair one, the late spring and summer dry spell having combined to cut down on the crop.

Despite this, he does expect the farmers around Charlevoix will come close to filling the pickle salting station's 14 tanks with between 9000 and 11,000 bushels of cucumbers.

Mostly these are hauled in the evening after the day's pick is completed. At the station, they are dumped in a chute along which they slide to a canvas conveyor belt. This carries them to the sorting machine where they pop over slots and then drop into six crates. As these are filled, they are placed on a roller conveyor and pushed to the various tanks.

One tank is for gherkins, another for slightly larger size and so on. At each tank, count is kept of the number of bushels dumped in, the right amount of salt and water added and boards anchored on top so that the cucumbers will be in the brine. Here they will set all winter. In March or later, they will be loaded into tank cars and hauled to the processing plant for final packing.

He had been a member of the Grange and had received an honorable discharge from the organization due to ill health.

Besides his wife, he is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Archie Brown and two sons, Orville B. and Myron, all of Charlevoix and five grandchildren.

Lawyers Clash At Gambling Hearing; Ruling Due Sept. 25

Deciding that he needed two weeks to read the testimony and ponder the evidence, Justice Horace Fowler Thursday announced he would give a ruling in the Meek-Gatti case on Sept. 25.

Marsh Meek and O. Gatti Sept. 2 were charged with possession of gambling equipment as a result of a raid on a State Liquor Commission men at the Colonial Club here Aug. 30. Charlevoix men demanded an examination and this was held Thursday.

Representing the State were Prosecutor C. M. Bice; Glenn C. Hague, special assistant attorney general; W. R. Schultz and Ed Langley, investigators for the Commission; Capt. Earl Hathaway, Sgt. Edgar Wulsh and Trooper Robert Johnston of the State Police. For Gatti and Meek there was Attorney A. T. Washburne of Petoskey.

The story of the raid was rehearsed, Washburne forcing the investigators to admit by inference that what started out as a seeming routine liquor check soon developed into a busy ferreting for evidence of gambling, with the State Police right there handy but with no search warrant.

The real clash of the case came in the afternoon. Washburne, protesting against admission as evidence of a roulette wheel, table top, and poker chips, maintained that the raiders legally could search only the premises controlled by Gatti, who held the liquor license. When they invaded Meek's section of the building without a search warrant, they were acting illegally.

Bice countered with the argument that the license covered the entire building, that Meek surely knew there was a liquor license, and when he voluntarily brought or kept equipment in the same building he automatically made himself subject to the search provision of the license, no matter if he had not signed it.

Hence, Bice continued, the search of Meek's part of the Colonial Club building was legal and both men could be prosecuted under the charge.

Not brought out at the hearing was how the State intended to convict Gatti of ownership of gambling equipment when Meek and he both agreed he did not and never had owned or been connected with it, his interest being solely in the dining room at 237 Meek street.

Christmas Tree Ship Belonged to Bonner

Mrs. G. F. McCallum of Chicago comes forward with definite information about the Christmas tree ship. She writes: "I noticed in last week's paper the article about the Christmas tree ship. The ship belonged to Capt. Manus Bonner at the time it was lost. He had chartered it to the Schumanns to carry the Christmas trees."

Golf Foursome Eats Roast Pig

A group of Charlevoix golfers who have played together during the summer months staged a grand finale to the season last Thursday evening when they had a dinner-party at the home of Dr. and Mrs. D. C. Nettleton. It featured roast pig. The men prepared the meal, invited the wives to share it with them, and then to prove that they were really good sports in the kitchen as well as on the golf course, washed and wiped the dishes.

As Mrs. Edward Chaloupka is leaving for California this week, a number of friends were entertained at the home of Mrs. Charles See, honoring the lady.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Yes, I'm Guilty!

Folks sometimes criticize us small-town editors for the way we often play up "little things" ahead of big... human, local news in place of world events.

I can't deny it. Read the Clarion and you'll learn about the Martins' golden wedding anniversary... about the community sing down by the river... the husking bee at Soler Hoskins', where neighbors helped husk the corn, and later drank sparkling beer together.

"Little things?" Maybe, but from where I sit, they add up to the bigger things we call America: The friendliness of small towns... the helping hand... the respect for one another's rights. And above all the love of fellowship and freedom—whether it's freedom to speak one's mind or choose between a glass of beer or buttermilk.

I figure that if everybody looks after the "little things," maybe the bigger things will take care of themselves.

On Aug. 16 at The Birches in Charlevoix, I left a wishbone shaped dinner ring in the Ladies' wash room.

It is sterling silver, set with zircons.

Although of little value in itself, I prize it highly for sentimental reasons and will pay $15 for its return. Write to Mrs. R. D. Holcomb, 2154 South 108th St., Milwaukee 14, Wis.

Let's Face Hard Facts

SOME DAY these good times will be over!

SOME DAY production will catch up with demand, employment will be down and most of the world will be looking to us for a handout. Taxes will be terrific.

Isn't it plain horse sense to save now for the rugged days that lie ahead. We don't mean to hoard, but lay something aside for the time when money won't be so easy to make.

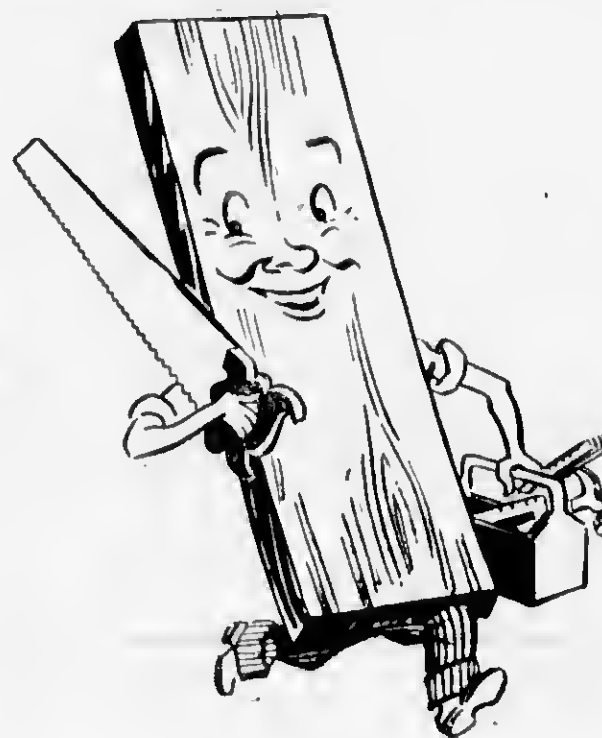

If you don't have a bank account please accept this invitation to get started. It's the best move you'll ever make.

BEAVER ISLAND

By Mrs. J. C. Henley
The past week brought much needed rain and a break in the heat wave. Regardless of the long, hot spell, gardens are in good condition.

Speaking of gardens, there are several who had lovely flower gardens this year: Mrs. O. C. Wright, Mrs. Walter E. Smith, Mrs. Ella Sommerville and Mrs. Agnes O'Donnell deserve mentioning for their efforts.

Dr. and Mrs. John Montgomery have returned to their home in Spring Lake after visiting on the island. Margie Gatliff returned with them and will attend school in South Haven.

Mr. and Mrs. George Mitchell, Lansing, spent their vacation at Leonard's Point Lake cottage.

Mr. and Mrs. Truman Ramsey have rented an apartment in Charlevoix for the winter. Ramsey's father, Gilbert Ramsey, is visiting his son for a few days.

A number of school children were enthusiastically looking for frogs, snakes, grasshoppers, caterpillars, etc., for their science assignment. Too bad teachers didn't ask for spiders. Housewives would have been glad to donate specimens. An assortment of these insects can be found on every window pane, which is really a pain when one tries to keep windows clean.

Mrs. Frank Nackerman and daughters, Ellen and Colleen are visiting Mrs. Nackerman's daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Huston.

Capt. and Mrs. Theodore Grosskopf, Racine, Wis., are visiting on the island and renewing old friendships on the island. Capt. Grosskopf is with the Light House Service and at one time they made their home on Beaver Island.

It's a wonder the hill around Tony Wojan's mill can hold such a stand of lumber.

Slab wood is plentiful on the island—ull good hard wood, too. Mark Cross, who has been piloting the North Shore in the absence of Jack Lyons, should wear some sort of uniform to distinguish himself. The honors have been going to one of the helpers who wears a captain's cap.

Mrs. Left and son, Jack, Chicago are visiting among their relatives. Jack, who has just returned from Korea, is on terminal leave awaiting his honorable discharge.

A shock box had a lot of folks jumping and squealing one day last week. Some joker wrapped up a couple of charged batteries into a package resembling a box of candy. Pete Rivers, custodian of said box, had the time of his life presenting the box as a gift to different ones around town. I, personally, jumped three feet into space not to mention the sound effects that took place at the same time when the package was presented to me.

Mrs. E. R. McCormick, Lansing, is visiting her sister and family. Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Miller, Sr. and daughter, Lillian, left last Monday to visit Mrs. Connaghan's daughter and son, who live in Detroit and another daughter in South Bend, Ind.

Henry Allen and son, Tommy were on the island Saturday and Sunday.

The excursion planned to Harbor Springs on the North Shore last Sunday was postponed due to a stiff sou'wester.

Mrs. Lawton, Reporter

The recent rains have improved conditions for fall seeding and will help pasture.

Lawrence Jensen completed seeding 15 acres to wheat the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. James St. Arno and baby daughter, Judith Ann of Detroit called on Mrs. St. Arno's aunt, Mrs. A. B. Lawton, with whom she made her home during her high school course, last week Saturday afternoon. Mrs. St. Arno was formerly Dorothy Thomas. She graduated from East Jordan high school with the class of 1944 as valedictorian.

Ellsworth—The local canning plant of Reid, Murdoch & Co., will resume canning operations Wednesday after having been idle for two weeks since the string bean harvest.

The bean crop was the lightest in the history of the factory, due to the heat and drought during July and August. Red beets are now being canned and the crop is not large.

the other day after the shower. If that wasn't a picture! . . . When summer folks return next year, patrons of Selma Pearl's Beauty Shop will have to go over to Park Avenue to the new shop there. Workmen are busy remodeling the home formerly occupied by Mrs. Ada Beeman and making a modern place of it. The old porch has been torn off the house, and fluorescent lighting plus much paint is going to make the place most attractive. The Pearls will use the rear of the house for their new living quarters . . . The Tom Coxes and son, Terry, drove to Sault Ste. Marie Sunday in their new Mercury station wagon so that the young man could see the locks. During the war this privilege of viewing the locks was denied visitors and the place is now making up for lost time as well as being quite a honeymoon mecca, we understand.

Little Marilyn McClintock in the first grade, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Robert McClintock, has a hard time getting back into the groove at school this fall. The other day she approached her mother and said, "Mother, how long before I can grow up and be a mother and can stay at home all day like you do?" . . . Did you hear Ferdinand, the fog-horn Tuesday morning. With the sun shining we wondered why—Guess Ferdinand was trying out his basso voice, getting ready for stormy weather . . . Well, the county fairs are drawing to a close, the kids have had their airplane rides, taken in the side-shows and begged for just another quarter, and before we know it, fall will really be here.

Those present were Mesdames Robert Dickie, John Struthers, Ada Wood, Minnie Timmer, Bernice Pearl, W. D. Wood, Winifred Bumbach, Anna O'Brien, Gus Jericho, Ethel Hamlin, Hazel Murray, Ed Cunningham, John Funk, B. Cranmer and the hostess.

The next meeting will be Oct. 9 at the home of Mrs. John Funk.

News of folks, your neighbors and mine... but did you know that—

Did you know that it snowed Monday morning perhaps all of two minutes. Sunday night Michigan got the end of the twister that had been playing pranks down Florida way. After this, Florida can keep her windstorms at home for it was perfect weather until that came along... Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Morrow have received word that their son, Robert, who is serving with the Air Corps at Tacoma, Wash., has been promoted to Corporal. Just can't keep a good fellow away from town. The Julius Gilberts from Highland Park are back in town again, and will remain until Friday.

Word has been received from Gene Bridge that he has spent a couple of weeks in a hospital in Italy, having a rather painful time. However, he has had some bright moments, too, for Don Brown, who is also stationed in Italy, and he got together not long ago and had a real gab-fest for a couple of days. The John Harshas are in town from Detroit and are busy remodeling their home on State street.

Last week was an interesting one for two former war buddies, Franklin Ochs and Leslie Sang. It was in New York that the two men met. They shipped out on the Queen Mary together and became good friends. One morning Sang sighted land through his porthole and suddenly remarked, "There's my grandfather's farm!" The cat was out of the bag. The ship was headed for Scotland. While there, Sang married the daughter of a hard-ware man in Glasgow. Last week the couple and their young daughter, Janella, were here from Flushing, N. Y. It was Mrs. Sang's first trip about the U. S., and she was especially thrilled with it in this section. The lakes and hills reminded her of Scotland.

It's strange the effect that the weather has upon folks. Cooler weather makes folks look a lot more prominent and better dressed. During the summer months, the women would pass by the office window, with scanty clothes the order of the day, hair piled up high just to get it off the neck, barefoot sandals; men were in slacks suits, or less, deck shoes were prominent, neckties were absent. Now look at them. Fellows have found that freshly cleaned suit, donned a white shirt and tie. The women—their hair is well groomed again, a few are sporting the new length dresses. Yes sir, it takes cool weather to dress folks up to look their best!

Said a youngster to us the other day, "Would you like to get a real view of Charlevoix? Then just climb to the top of that stone pile they've dumped at the end of the street for the new bridge." And there is no doubt that one (Continued on page two)

Marion Center Group Picks New Officers

Mascho, recreation leader, Jennie Martincheck, member of county women's committee, Florence Williams, song leader, Countess Mascho, hospital service chairman, C. H. Mascho.

Four Youths Escape In Serious Crash

Four youths narrowly escaped serious injuries about midnight Saturday when their car faded to negotiate the curve at Susan Creek, left the road, jumped the creek and hit a large elm tree. The boys were enroute to Charlevoix when the accident occurred. The car was badly damaged.

Don Vosburg, 18, riding in the front seat of the '41 Chevrolet which was driven by Walter Robinson, 18, of Grand Rapids, was admitted to the Charlevoix Hospital by ambulance for treatment of a back and neck injury. He was dismissed to his home Monday.

Robinson, Julius Resnor and Ben Ratenburg, both 18, and all of Grand Rapids, escaped with minor cuts and bruises.

Rayders Take Gaylord Opener by 26-0 Score

Giving evidence of a potential powerhouse, Charlevoix's big football squad Friday humbled the Gaylord team a 26-0 trimming in the opening game of the new season.

Handicapped by a wet day and a soggy field, the maroon team outplayed their less experienced hosts in every department, the best performance being turned in by the line.

Charlevoix received. Two first downs, the second made on a 20-yard dash by Pat Martin, came fast. Then Martin went across, but the score was voided by a holding penalty against Charlevoix.

When Charlevoix again got the ball, a pass, Carey to Williams, put the team in scoring position and Dick Jolliffe carried the ball across. Bob Carey kicked point.

Bill Carey scored in the second half. In the third, following a short Gaylord punt, Pat Martin cut back off tackle and ran 40 yards for a score. After an exchange of punts, Gaylord fumbled and Williams recovered near the ten yard line. Jolliffe scored again and Bob Carey kicked.

Coach Ray Kipke in the fourth period sent in an all-reserve team except for Bill Carey at quarterback and Peterson at center. The boys, with a 26 point lead, put in most of the period practicing passes. No scores were made.

The starting lineup was: ends, Carey and Williams; tackles, Loper and Shadko; guards, Potter and Burke; center, Peterson; quarter, Bill Carey; halfbacks, Martin and Hardy; fullback, Jolliffe.

Work on the rebuilt south pier of the Pere Marquette railway bridge was completed this week. Final job, according to J. C. May in charge of the work, was cutting off the steel piling below the surface of the channel.

White Elephant Sale to Be Held Here Oct. 10-11

The annual White Elephant Sale sponsored by the Kiwanis Club will be Oct. 10 and 11 at the American Legion Hall.

A larger stock even than last year has been accumulated and will be on sale. The club, however, still welcomes gifts and will call for them if word is sent to any member of the club this week or next. F. R. Bulow is sale chairman.

One item still is scarce for which there always is a big call. That is men's neckties.

The sale will go on both morning and afternoon of both days.

Rod, Gun Members Sponsor Junior Rifle Club Here

Boys who want to learn how to shoot correctly will have the chance this winter.

The Rod and Gun Club is sponsoring a Junior Rifle Club and plans to have regular shoots all winter providing an indoor range can be obtained. This fall the shooting will be at the club's outdoor range on the old Chicago Club golf course.

Louis Bourisau, Jr., is in charge of the boys. He will be helped by other members of the club. Boys wanting to join should see Bonnie Nickerson or Don Swinton.

There will be three classes, junior, intermediate and senior. The first shoot was held last Sunday. The club has a few 22 guns of its own and is obtaining the loan of others for the boys to use.

Although membership at the start at least, likely will be limited to 20, with each one shooting 25 rounds the ammunition bill will be sizable. During the fall and winter the club plans to stage a series of events to raise funds for this purpose.

The first will be Oct. 11 in the City Park when a 12 gauge automatic Remington shotgun will be awarded.

Community Treasure Hunts Start Again; Will Be Held Every Week

How well do you know your town?

Twenty-two persons learned about the city Sunday night, when the first of the traditional Charlevoix Community Treasure Hunts was held. Not even the tail-end of a hurricane stopped the regular enthusiasts who arrived at 8:30 to begin the hunt, wrapping in heavy jackets, carrying dictionaries, telephone books and flash lights.

The hunt was staged by the winners of the last one: the Norman Anses, Lyle Miles, Franklin Ochs and Getch Campfields.

The clue was a fast one with one clue leading to another as fast as the contestants could find the white placards. It lasted one and a half hours. Each one had contributed a quarter to make up the jackpot and Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Ratigan, Mr. and Mrs. Drew Young and Marguerite Young were the winners of the $3.50.

This treasure hunt is a com-

Meeting Asks for More Data on New School

Further investigation of the high school situation was the order given the Board of Education here last Thursday night by the 120 voters who attended the special meeting at the school building.

Called by the Board to present a report on proposed additions to the present educational plant, the meeting had a bombshell dropped on it by Dr. Wilford Clapp, in charge of all new school construction in Michigan for the State Department of Public Instruction.

Dr. Clapp outlined the serious need in Michigan for more school buildings. He pointed out the serious effect of overcrowding, and showed how the 15 mill amendment prevents districts from erecting needed schools.

It had been expected he would analyze the proposed new building. Instead he said that there is not enough room on the present grounds and that a much larger area is needed for a new high school. He stated that the district should be in no hurry to build but should be sure it has ample room before putting up any new structure.

A few questions bearing on the ability of the district to finance a heavy construction program at this time were asked but no definite sum which could be raised was suggested or accepted.

Finally the meeting voted to have the Board investigate other and more spacious sites, and the cost of constructing an entirely new and separate high school. When this information is ready, another general meeting of the school district will be called.

Mrs. Ash Rites To Be Saturday

Mrs. Estella L. Ash, 81, widow of the late George D. Ash, died Tuesday morning at the Charlevoix Hospital.

She had been in failing health for several years but had only been seriously ill since Friday and a patient at the hospital since Monday.

Born near Carson City on Sept. 20, 1866, Estella Lenore Smith was married to Mr. Ash on Feb. 22, 1886. About two years later they moved to Lansing where they resided until 1920 when they made their summer home at Bellaire and spent the winter months in Florida. Mrs. Ash has resided with her daughter, Mrs. A. L. Livingston since May, 1946. Mr. Ash preceded her in death in Nov. 1929.

She was a member of the Methodist church of Bellaire.

Besides her daughter, she is survived by two sons, Gerald of Los Angeles, Calif., and Major of Miami, Fla.; a sister Mrs. Sylvia T. Hoover of Ventura, Calif.; four brothers, Harley B. and Vern Smith of Bellaire; Charles K. of Birmingham and Otto of Middleboro, W. Va.; ten grandchildren and six great grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held at the See Funeral Home at 3:30 p. m., Saturday with the Rev. Louis O. Ellinger of Bellaire Methodist church, officiating. Burial will be in the Brookside cemetery.

College Opening Causes General Student Exodus

Trunks have been packed, train and bus schedules checked, dorm reservations completed and the last good-byes said as college students and recent high school graduates leave for the halls of higher learning.

Most of Michigan's colleges and universities will have Charlevoix students in their classes this year.

Michigan State College at East Lansing calls the greatest number. Among those returning there are Harold Chew, Dick Fochtman, Bud Webster who will be accompanied by Mrs. Webster, Howard North, Helen Jean Hammond, Anne Campbell, Marion Craig, Joan Nelson, Elaine Brown, Joan Leise, Bill Ochs, Doug Byers, Jack Abfalter, Ardeth Howe, who will be accompanied by her sister, Vonda, a freshman student this year. Maxine Lewis and Sally Miller also have enrolled as freshmen. Bud (Continued on page four)

Foster Boat Adds Two New Products, Reports Good Year

A profitable past year, sizable production despite shortages, and new products being added to the company's line were features of the annual report of the Foster Boat Co.

The annual meeting was Saturday. Stockholders then elected H. G. Foster, Charles A. Duerr, Victor S. Manley, Clair S. Webster and James E. Foster as the Board of Directors. H. G. Foster, company president, reviewed the financial year which ended Aug. 31.

Material shortages curtailed production. Despite this, nearly 2,000 boats and more than 12,000 oars were produced. Production, he predicted, would be 25% larger this coming year.

Two new products are being developed to take up slack during the 60 day seasonal slow period in the late summer and fall when northern boat demands slack off and before the southern market starts. The company, Foster stated, aims to have a steady year around operation.

The new products are a line of toboggans and the "Snow Scooter", the latter a single runner coaster. Both have been well received by sports goods dealers, Foster says.

The company also will continue its policy of using the words "Charlevoix the Beautiful" on all its stationery and advertising as one means of city promotion.

Wickersham Heads Ironton Bureau

Ironton, Farm Bureau met Wednesday with Arlo Wickersham with 20 members present.

Meeting places for coming year were selected. Next meeting will be held at the home of Clyde Cunningham Oct. 8. After the meeting refreshments were served by the hostess.

Crew Helps Search For Missing Sailor

Capt. Joseph Etienne and a crew of Coastguardsmen from the local life boat station joined the search Thursday for the body of Arlie Maker, 45, who was lost off North Manitou Island when his boat foundered and broke up in Lake Michigan early that morning.

Dean Richardson, 45, another member of the crew, swam to the island and reported the accident. The men operated the 50-foot LCM craft between Traverse City and the island for the North Manitou Island Association. They were several miles from the island when the accident occurred.

At Teachers Meeting

Supt. Roy G. Bennett and Robert Richards were in Mt. Pleasant Saturday for the Guidance program given at Central State Teachers College.

New Owners of Pine Point Property to Open Girls Camp There Next Summer

Charlevoix will have another quality summer camp starting next summer.

This was assured last Saturday when Don Coney, personal representative of Gar Wood, Jr., announced the sale of Wood's Pine Point property. New owners are Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Mowrey and Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur L. Gunnerson.

The Mowreys of Orchard Lake, are part owners and operators of the Owen & Mowrey company, fruit canners at Milford. Gunnerson is athletic director and head of physical education at Western High School, Detroit. He has held that position for 18 years.

The camp will be for girls only, and in its clientele and general program will be similar to Camp Charlevoix. The enrollment likely will be limited to 70 or 75, although for the first season this will have to be held to 40 or 50 girls.

The big lodge facing Charlevoix will house the camp. Instead of a number of small cabins, Gunnerson says they plan to operate more in the manner of a sorority house, with the girls using the dozen guest rooms as small dormitories.

Last week-end there were 15 persons at the lodge starting to get things ready for next summer. Brush and trees are being cleared away so that the road will swing behind and not in front of the lodge. A large parking place also will be cleared. Eventually a new road will be opened from US-31 direct to the camp instead of the present and longer one which uses streets in the Pine Point development.

Considerable roof repairs will be made this fall. The kitchen will be completely remodeled so it can care for 75 to 100 persons. Electric refrigeration, deep freeze, modern cooking and serving equipment will be installed.

New double deck beds for 70 girls have been ordered and are on the way. Much of the interior will be repainted, the entire lodge cleaned, and considerable new plumbing installed.

Mr. and Mrs. Gunnerson will have charge of the camp. For 12 years he was connected with the National Music Camp at Interlochen. The last three there he was director of the Junior Division, the former Camp Pennloch.

Resigning from Interlochen in order to start a camp of his own, he served last summer as assistant director of the Wayne county Christmas Seal camp at North Lake near Chelsea.

Assistant director will be Oscar Felden of Detroit.

Don Coney closed the deal with Mowrey and Gunnerson last week. Negotiations and selling were handled by Mrs. Hazel Fritz and Mrs. Grace Getzel of Plymouth Real Estate.

Kiwanis Will Have Ladies' Night Monday

The Kiwanis Club will have its fall Ladies' Night next Monday with a chicken dinner served by the Barnard Grange at Barnard.

An interclub program for all the service clubs in the county has been tentatively set for the second week in October. Dr. Gerald Gibbons is making arrangements.

Capt. Hubert Paddock spoke at the meeting Monday, telling of the State Kiwanis convention in Lansing. The 1948 convention will be at the Soo, the home of the new Michigan president, James Robertson.

Warren Shadko and Don Ecklund of the high school were club guests Monday.

Feeder Cattle to Be Sold At Gaylord

Stock feeders of this section who want to buy graded feeder cattle will have an opportunity Oct. 2 at the cooperative sale to be held at Gaylord.

It will be the second annual sale of the Northern Michigan Beef Breeders' Association. Approximately 500 head of Herefords, Angus and Shorthorns will be offered.

Most of the consignment will be steer and heifer calves, with some yearling steers and heifers included. The cattle will be sold in uniform lots of six to 12 head. However, a few choice calves, especially suited for 4-H club purposes will be sold individually.

Institute Is Oct. 2, 3

The annual Teachers Institute will be Oct. 2 and 3 at Traverse City.

Eveline Township Will Vote On Liquor By Glass

A special election has been called in Eveline township on Oct. 21 to decide whether or not the sale of liquor by the glass will be permitted in the township.

The issue arose when Enit (Jack) McDermott asked for permission to build and operate a tavern in Ironton.

McDermott's initial appeal was denied unanimously by the township board. He then circulated a petition and obtained the required number of names thus making it necessary to call a special election to settle the question.

On Oct. 21 the 340 qualified voters of the area will be given an opportunity to voice their opinion via the ballot box on the subject.

Resident of City For 55 years, W. A. Woods Dies

William A. Woods, 84, resident of Charlevoix for more than 55 years, died Monday in Petoskey where he had lived for the last year. He had been in failing health for several years.

Born in Newfoundland on Dec. 25, 1862, Mr. Woods was married to Theresa O'Brien in St. John's Cathedral on Oct. 10, 1887. He came to Chicago that fall and was joined by Mrs. Woods in May, 1888. About 57 years ago they came to Charlevoix and have resided at their present home on Petoskey ave., for 45 years. For several years they have spent the winter months in Petoskey near their daughter, Mrs. Clifford Coley.

He was a member of St. Mary's church and helped build the present church.

Besides his wife he is survived by four daughters, Mrs. James Payne, Mrs. Lewis Reid and Mrs. Hugh Kenner, all of Detroit and Mrs. Coley of Petoskey; two sons, William P., of Grand Haven and John J., of Chicago; 34 grandchildren and 24 great grandchildren. Two daughters, Mrs. Mose Zess and Mrs. Homer Brady, preceded him in death.

A requiem Mass will be held at St. Mary's church at 9 a. m., Friday with burial in St. Mary's Catholic cemetery. The body reposes at the family home where the Rosary will be recited at 8 p. m. Thursday.

Resigning from Interlochen in order to start a camp of his own, he served last summer as assistant director of the Wayne county Christmas Seal camp at North Lake near Chelsea.

Assistant director will be Oscar Felden of Detroit.

Don Coney closed the deal with Mowrey and Gunnerson last week. Negotiations and selling were handled by Mrs. Hazel Fritz and Mrs. Grace Getzel of Plymouth Real Estate.

An Open Letter to Dr. Clapp:
Dear Dr. Clapp:

When you addressed the school meeting here last Thursday you outlined an ideal and highly desirable goal for this district—a separate high school building surrounded by a large area to be used for school, community and recreational purposes.

Admittedly, it is an excellent plan. But as a citizen of the district, I can see several apparent snags in the way.

You, as head of the new construction for the Department of Public Instruction, are well acquainted with the building situation throughout Michigan. You have had a long experience with schools. Would you help us up here by giving your opinions on some of the questions which already are being asked?

The following points are not exhaustive by any means. But they are typical of those which we as citizens want answered.

Q. Does a school in a comparatively small community such as ours need a large surrounding area like one in a large city?

Q. What bearing on this recreation area problem does our rural school attendance have? Many of our pupils live in the country and are at the school only during class hours.

Q. You mentioned both Homer and Concord. How much of their large expanse of open land is actually used by the school aside from elementary playground and athletic field?

Q. Of what value except for landscaping is a large neighboring area to a high school like ours? (We already have a large athletic field.)

Q. What do you estimate a suitable, separate high school building would cost this community? Or how much are similar communities spending for complete new buildings?

Q. Could this district, with a valuation of $3,742,501, finance an entire new building in five years?

Q. Would it be possible and practicable for us to attempt building a separate high school piecemeal and so spreading the cost over more years?

Q. Would it be difficult to operate a high school in two parts? Would the state department approve a program which had music, shop, gym and laboratories in one building and classrooms in another a half mile or so distant?

Q. Does it cost more to operate two separate buildings than one, each with its own cafeteria, heating plant, gym, shop and janitor staff?

Q. If you believe we should start now to accumulate a sinking fund for a new building, what are we to do during the next ten years to relieve the present inefficient overcrowding, and almost total lack of laboratory and shop space.

We folks here grant that your suggestion would be the ideal solution to our high school problem. And we hope that with the help of your experience, you will show us how we can achieve that ideal.

Respectfully yours,
LARRY TOWE.

We All Need Fun!

Nobody in Our Town is exactly lazy (even though Pete Swanson's missus claims he sleeps till seven A.M.). But the hardest working man of all is Doc Hollister—on call, morning, noon and night.

Funny thing, Doc's favorite prescription to his patients is: You ought to have fun. The pace of modern living, even on the farm, demands some relaxation.

And as Doc says—fun is a personal thing. For the missus it may mean a movie or a good book; for Dad, a mellow and refreshing glass of beer; and for the kids, parcheesi or the radio. Doesn't mean everybody has to like the same thing—so long as they relax, have fun, together, in the home.

Doc doesn't have much time himself. After a hard day, he'll relax before the fire with a glass of beer—and wait for the phone to ring again. And from where I sit, Doc deserves each well-earned minute of that relaxation.

Return From Vacation

Mr. and Mrs. John Schroeder and Angela arrived home Saturday after a 2800 mile trip to Montreal and Quebec. They came home by way of the White Mountains, Old Orchard, Boston, New York, Philadelphia and the Pennsylvania Turnpike. One of the high spots was a Pennsylvania Dutch dinner at Shartlesville which included fried chicken, a boiled dinner, 22 vegetables and shoo fly pie. It cost $1.50.

Rev. Struthers Writes of Work of Jamaica Mission

A letter from Jamaica, British West Indies, to their friends here has been written by Rev. and Mrs. Charles Struthers.

Rev. Struthers, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Struthers, is a missionary there, whose work is supported by the Charlevoix Church of God.

The letter says:

37 Hope Road,
Half-Way Tree P. O.
Jamaica, B. W. I.
Sept. 9, 1947

To Our Many Friends in Charlevoix:

Greetings from the beautiful Island of Jamaica! It has been nearly a year since we landed so we have had opportunity to see and feel the different seasons of the year and know whether or not we like them. We will agree that during those real cold months of January, February and March, it is nice to bask in a tropical sun and bathe in the sea at leisure. However, taking everything into consideration, I don't believe that we could choose the tropics ahead of beautiful Northern Michigan. Right now you are enjoying the most desirable weather while we are cooking in a 95 to 100 degree temperature.

We do appreciate the many letters from Charlevoix friends. They show that you have an interest outside your community and that is a wholesome sign. A community, like an individual, all wrapped up in itself, makes a very small package.

Our high school, which numbers 90 students, is growing each term. The students feel like they know more about Michigan in general than they ever knew before. They read the "Courier" at every opportunity and follow the sports headlines with interest. Many Jamaicans are good athletes and although the island is small, we will have a team in the Olympic next year.

We find many opportunities to teach abundant living. Leadership is needed in the Christian Church in Jamaica. There is a great joy in lifting people out of their superstition and sin and to help them build noble character.

Yours for a world Brotherhood,
Charles & Florence Struthers

Marking the start of the group's new year the W. S. C. S. of the Methodist church will have a dessert luncheon Oct. 2.

It will begin at 1:30 p. m.

The Tow Line...

could get a real eyeful from that point. It's too bad that Jay Gilbert had to go back to Rochester and couldn't get in on the crowd of bridge watchers there is now.

Mrs. Carlton Dean of Lansing is in Charlevoix for a few days while her husband is attending a convention in Petoskey. Hasn't this been the "wedding-est" time. Evidence of that was seen last week-end when we were in Fairbank's Bakery. A trip to the bake shop made one think the whole town was getting married. Cakes everywhere and fancy cup cakes as well. There was even a silver wedding anniversary cake thrown in for good measure. They talk about some folks always having their finger in the pie in the doings of a town. Guess the Fairbanks could claim a whole hand when it comes to making wedding cakes.

Mrs. E. B. Bowman says that she feels like a lost soul. Her sister from Resselear, Ind., was with her for a month and she departed. Then her daughter, Linda, left for college. Guess there is many a mother and daddy who have a terrible let-down feeling due to such a quiet house since the kids left for college. Mr. and Mrs. Clair Webster, Jr., who have been in Charlevoix for the summer, left last week-end for Lansing. They took Sally Miller with them to enter school at East Lansing.

Miss Barbara Kysella of Wayne is spending a month at her cottage on Nettleton st. Mr. and Mrs. Bernie Ward and son, Billy, visited in Grand Rapids last week-end with Mrs. Ward's mother, Mrs. Mollie Hall. The occasion was Mrs. Hall's birthday.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kiner and two daughters of Perryville, Ohio, have been visiting for the past week with Mrs. Kiner's sister, and brother, Mrs. Alonzo Murray and Arthur Godwin. It's perch fishing time.

If you have some excellent magazines or books that you no longer use and you feel would bring a lot of joy to a convalescent, why not take a few of them to the hospital? The hours seem mighty long sometimes, and a good magazine or a good detective story can work wonders. Also there are children who could while away many an hour if there is some good game or toy on your shelf that is no longer used.

It takes the P. R. Ross family to up and do the unexpected. Last year P. R. Ross frightened everyone by having a heart attack. Now last week Phoebe Ross did the unexpected. She was rushed to the hospital and operated on the same day for an emergency—gall stones. Anyway the lady is resting comfortably.

Had a most interesting chat with J. H. King, a member of the Chicago Club who has been coming to Charlevoix for the past 35 years. It is truly interesting to talk with our long-time summer residents. Strange to say, I think many of them have the interest of the town more at heart than some all year folks. They certainly thrill over improvements that are made during their absence and are eager to know that more are in the offing. Mr. King remarked about the beautiful new bridge that is being built and added that Bridge Street would help to match it if all the unsightly signs could be done away with. It would help to dress up Main Street... It's a thought alright.

Holy Cross Sodality Installs Officers

Holy Cross Sodality at St. James held its first meeting Friday with Dorothy Lee McCann acting as temporary chairman.

After Joy McDonough had been elected secretary to fill the vacancy made by the departure of Marjorie Gatliff, Father Fabian Keenan installed the new officers: Madonna McDonough as prefect, Joy McDonough as secretary, and Lillian Greene as treasurer.

Father Keenan received the following as new members of the Sodality: Jack O'Donnell, William Gallagher, Walter McCauley, and Emmet Schmidt.

The meeting was adjourned immediately following a talk by Father Keenan in which the accomplishments of the Sodality during the past three years were reviewed, among which was the purchase of the new organ for Holy Cross church.

Rose Ross Weds
Henry E. Klooster

The Norwood Methodist church Saturday afternoon was the scene of the marriage of Rosa Ross, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Ross, and Henry Edwin Klooster, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Klooster of Ellsworth.

Rev. Howard Moore officiated at the double ring ceremony performed beneath an arch of evergreens and garden flowers, flanked by baskets of white gladioli.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore her sister's wedding gown of white satin, a finger tip veil, and carried a bouquet of white roses.

Miss Darlene Holbeck was her only attendant and wore pink taffeta. James Klooster of Atwood assisted his cousin as best man.

A reception for the guests was held following the ceremony at the Norwood Town Hall. There the bride and groom cut the traditional three-tiered wedding cake which was served with ice cream.

The couple are both graduates of Ellsworth High School. After a trip through Northern Michigan, they plan to live at Ellsworth.

Out of town guests at the ceremony included Mr. and Mrs.

Lagerman Hansen Nuptials In Church

Baskets of autumn flowers decorated St. Mary's rectory for the wedding of Miss Norma Lagerman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Lagerman, and Charles Hansen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Hansen of Chicago, at 8 p. m. Saturday.

Rev. Leo Zeilinski read the single ring service in the presence of the immediate families.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white marquisette gown, bracelet length sleeves and a full skirt. Her double fingertip veil fell from an orange blossom tiara and she carried a bouquet of pink roses.

Her only attendant, Miss Dorothy Winnick, wore a yellow satin gown, a headdress of yellow mums and tulle and carried a bouquet of yellow and white mums.

Harold Mathey of Chicago, a Navy ship-mate of the bridegroom's, was best man.

Mrs. Lagerman chose a gold gown, brown accessories and a corsage of gold mums for her daughter's wedding. The bridegroom's mother wore a navy ensemble, black accessories and a white rose corsage.

Immediately after the ceremony a reception for 150 guests was held at the home of the bride's parents. Pink and white gladioli and tapers decorated the refreshment table which held the wedding cake. Bouquets of fall flowers were used about the rooms.

The couple plan to spend a week here before leaving for Chicago to make their home. For traveling the bride will wear a three-piece gray suit and black accessories.

The bride attended the Charlevoix high school. The bridegroom graduated from Seann high school, Chicago, and served in the Navy for 3 years.

McGhen-Johnson Vows Exchanged At Home

Mrs. Lydia McGhen of this city and John Johnson of Bay Shore exchanged their marriage vows at a quiet ceremony performed at 8 p. m. Saturday at the bride's home here.

Rev. E. P. Linnell of Petoskey read the double ring service before a background of fall flowers in the presence of their immediate families.

The bride was attired in a crepe gown and black accessories. Her flowers were a corsage of gardenias and pink roses.

Her sister, Mrs. Dorothy Milligan of Lynbrook, L. I. N. Y., was her only attendant. She wore a black gown accented with sequins, black accessories and a corsage of pink roses and white asters.

Fletcher Johnson of Bay Shore assisted his father as best man.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception for 30 guests was held. The refreshment table which held the three tiered wedding cake was decorated with pink and white gladioli and tapers. Bouquets of gladioli, asters and dahlias decorated the rooms.

The couple will make their home here.

Those from away who attended the wedding were Mrs. William Yost of Wayne; Mr. and Mrs. Victor Shureb of Detroit; Miss Lela Johnson of Bay City; Mr. and Mrs. Marion McGhen of Traverse City; Mr. and Mrs. William Taylor of East Jordan; Mr. and Mrs. Allen Niswander of Petoskey; Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher Johnson and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Dietze of Bay Shore.

There will be a chicken supper Saturday, Sept. 27 at the Farmers Union Hall on US 31, the former Hilton School, at 6:30 p.m. 38-39c

Betty Lou Hankins Weds George Stephens

In a simple ceremony performed at the Church of God at 2 p. m. Sunday, Miss Betty Lou Hankins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Hankins of Petoskey, became the bride of George Ralph Stephens, son of Mr. and Mrs. John S. Stephens of this city.

Rev. W. D. Wood officiated at the service before an altar decorated with fall flowers and tapers in candelabra in the presence of 150 guests.

Mrs. George Shaw sang "Because" and played "The Indian Love Call" and the traditional wedding marches.

The bride selected a gray tailored suit, navy accessories and a corsage of white gladioli for her wedding.

Miss Elaine Taylor, cousin of the bridegroom and her only attendant, wore an aqua suit, brown accessories and a corsage of pink gladioli.

Earle Stephens assisted his brother as best man. Don Baumbach and Herbert Hamlin seated the guests.

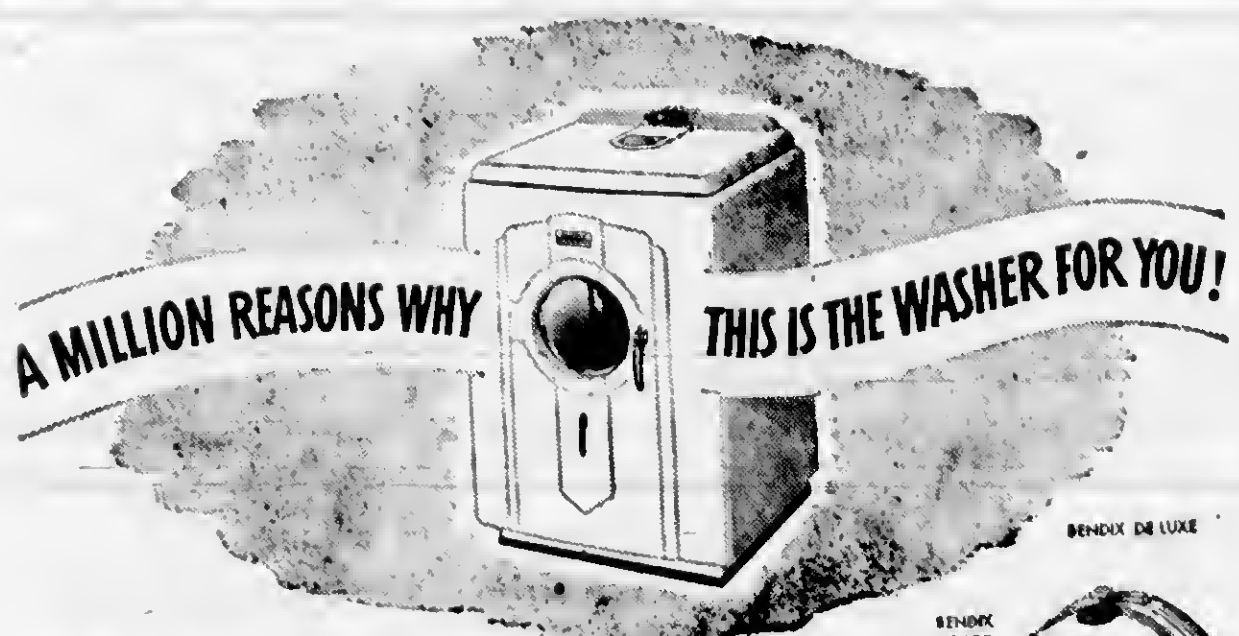

Mrs. Hankins wore a brown suit with matching accessories and a yellow gladioli corsage. Mrs. Stephens chose a soldier blue suit, brown accessories and a corsage of pink gladioli.

Following the ceremony a reception for 125 guests was held at the couple's future home at 207 Upright ave. A feature of the refreshments was the large tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bridal couple. Bouquets of fall flowers were placed about the rooms.

The date was the 26th wedding anniversary of the bridegroom's parents who received many remembrances of the occasion.

After a wedding trip to the Upper Peninsula, the couple will make their home here.

The bride is a graduate of the Petoskey high school. The bridegroom attended the Charlevoix high school and during World War II served 32 months with the U. S. Marine Corps reserve. Out of town guests were Mrs. Amelia Ludlow of Dowagiac; Mr.

Air the Silo First

If you have a silo with a pit here's a word of caution. Poisonous gases may collect in the bottom of the silo and they can kill if you go down into the pit without first airing the pit. Usually this happens in a silo which has a pit and no doors in the bottom which can be left open to air the silo. And, of course, it could happen in any silo which had its doors closed so the gases could collect in the bottom.

Here's a method to test your silo for safety: light a kerosene lantern and lower it into the silo on a rope. If there is not enough oxygen in the silo to keep the lantern burning, then it's not safe for you to go into the silo. To remove this collection of gases and to put more oxygen back into the silo, blow air into the silo with the silage blower or a vacuum cleaner. Then check with the lighted lantern to be sure. When you can lower it into the silo without the flame going out, then it's safe for you to go in yourself.

These same precautions apply to persons working in wells or cisterns. They, too, should light a lantern to lower into the well before actually going in themselves.

Keep Fertilizer In Dry Location

The suggestion to buy fertilizer when it is available is a good one to follow. Take delivery when you can, but be careful in storing that fertilizer. Fertilizer supplies should be stored in dry places—cut off drafts that bring in moist air.

Don't put the bags directly on a concrete floor. If your storage space has this kind of floor, place boards over it so that they are criss-crossed. This will also let air circulate under the bags.

Another point to consider is stacking of the bags. Don't overdo it and stack the bags too high. The weight may cause the fertilizer to cede. This, in turn, will make application more difficult when the time comes.

Seed Rye for Extra Pasture

Rye will help to supply much needed cow feed and assist in keeping the cost of producing milk from going higher. It will provide the earliest grazing grass in 1948 and often causes milk yields per cow to go up as much as 10 per cent. Grain costs are lessened through the use of rye. Silage and hay feeding can be reduced. Since rye sometimes flavors milk, careful grazing should be practiced.

Farmers should allow one acre of rye per cow. Rye should be seeded at the rate of 6 or 7 pecks per acre. Two varieties are now available, Rosen and Balbo. Rosen rye is very winterhardy but makes a slow growth in the fall and early spring. Balbo is not so winterhardy but makes a larger growth in the fall and early spring.

Efficiency: Large Farm Often Key to Good Income

Could you use $15,000? That's a pretty easy question to answer, isn't it? Some farmers have made that much more net income than other farmers over the last eight years.

Records kept by the MSC Farm Management Department from 1938 to 1945 show that farmers made more money by having their farm businesses more efficient and larger. Well operated large farms (averaging 244 tillable acres) paid the operator an average annual labor income of $3,476 while poorly operated large farms only paid $1,074. Even small farms (averaging 86 acres) that were well operated paid an average annual labor income of $1,560. This shows the value of efficient operation.

Times ahead may not be as favorable for farmers as during the period when these records were kept. Changes in the farming program will be necessary to help keep incomes up. Increasing crop yields and livestock production are two of the best ways of doing this. Changes to be justified should still pay even if prices decline some.

Mrs. Harriet Preston, 90, Watches Work On Bridge, Enjoys Living Today

Seated near the window of her bedroom, Mrs. Harriet Preston, who has reached her 90th birthday, has a ring side seat to watch the tearing down of the 'Alhambra' Hotel and also the river gang at work on the new bridge.

Mrs. Preston, who has spent several summers here, is at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Charles Holmes on River Street.

Tipping the scales around 100 pounds, Mrs. Preston has a thin, bright face with eyes that sparkle with the joy of living. "I am the oldest of any of my family," she said. "I am through having birthdays. I never have been waited on yet, nor do I want to be."

Asked to what she attributed her good health and long life she said, "I've always worked."

Mrs. Preston has lived to see the baby of the fifth generation in her family, born a few months ago. She also is the granddaughter of Preston Tucker, the man who has been the originator of the Tucker car, which is attracting so much attention in the automotive world. He spent several week-ends this summer with the family, coming up from Chicago. Now she awaits the time she will take a ride in his new car with the engine in the rear, one of the distinctive features.

"Preston wanted me to come to Chicago in June to the grand opening but I thought I couldn't get around as fast as the rest and I didn't go," she said, although she has no signs of rheumatism or arthritis.

During the year Mrs. Preston divided her time between children. There are six. "By the time I have made the rounds," she laughed, "another year has rolled around. She is most active and says that she is seemingly in better health than her children.

She reads the paper and books without the aid of glasses, was able to walk down town by herself until they started tearing down the bridge. At present she declares she is in the pot-holder business for she has been making them by the dozen for members of the family for crocheting is her favorite indoor sport.

Dogs Cause of Visit

Here of Illinois Couple

Cocker spaniels led to the visit here last weekend of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Stewart, of DeKalb, Ill., where he is vice-president and sales manager of the Wurlitzer Co.

Two years ago Mrs. Stewart, who raises cockers, inserted an ad in a dog journal. Ray Ashdon of Charlevoix answered it. A correspondence followed which was kept up. Thursday the Stewarts decided to visit Charlevoix and the Ashdons. They like the place.

First Artificial Ice Is Produced

First commercial manufactured ice was produced here this summer by the Good Neighbor Foundation at its new Ferry avenue plant Sept. 10.

Sale started Sept. 15 with James F. Sherwood buying ice for distribution here and in Iron-ton. Eastport also took 2½ tons the first day.

The plant, which is rated at three to nine tons daily, is not yet operating at capacity. When this will be increased to 32 tons. Mechanical troubles have held down production since the start.

Freedom isn't Free!

A Railroad Salutes the Freedom Train Which Starts Its National Tour in Philadelphia This Week

THIS week the whistles will blow and the church bells will ring in Philadelphia. For there, where our Constitution was born, the most remarkable railroad train in history is beginning a national tour—a train transformed into a rolling shrine to display the great documents on which our American freedoms are based.

As the school children of Philadelphia (and 300 other cities to come) gaze on Jefferson's draft of the Declaration of Independence, or the official manuscript of the Bill of Rights, or Lincoln's pen notes for the Gettysburg address, sober thoughts will run through the minds of their elders.

FREEDOM, as world events have taught us, isn't free like the air we breathe. It isn't from everlasting to everlasting. It was won by bitter struggle, and it can be lost with tragic ease, if we and other Americans take it for granted.

The lesson of our time is that freedom must be earned, in each generation. Either we continue to earn it, or we shall wake up some morning to find that it has slipped through our fingers, as it slipped through the hands of other people in the world. A dictatorship will have taken it from us.

IN our business hours many Americans speak of "Free Enterprise" as though it were a God-bestowed blessing. Some are surprised to find that it isn't listed in the Declaration of Independence under Mr. Jefferson's "unalienable rights."

But freedom of enterprise, like our political liberties, doesn't blow like the wind from Heaven. It must be earned. Either business, in serving itself, serves the public, or it invites strangling regulation.

It can almost be said that the measure of our success as a republic is the amount of regulation we can get along without. Judged by this standard, we have a long way to go. Does anyone believe that either the Securities Exchange Act or the Taft-Hartley Labor Bill is a tribute to our success in self-discipline?

THE duty of the business man and the labor leader is to make our economic freedoms work. This is a duty they have to the whole public, not merely to their own group or class. It is far better that these men should disclose and assail the wrongs in our system than that they should see, hear and speak no evil. Either we do our own housekeeping or an indignant electorate will do it for us.

What would have happened in the twenties, for example, if a few determined men in Wall Street had publicly denounced the iniquities then practiced in the name of the Bull Market? Such an action would have broken all the rules of the Club, but the crash and the depression would have been easier, and business would have escaped a whole morass of legislation.

And what restrictions could the labor movement have avoided if some audacious leader had insisted that his union be accountable to the laws and customs of contracts?

It is taking us a long time to learn that, when we invite the devil to take the hindmost, the devil may take us all.

IN the words of Tom Paine: "Those who expect to reap the blessings of freedom must bear the fatigues of supporting it."

There can be no liberty that isn't earned.

That, to us, is the import of the Freedom Train. And the Chesapeake & Ohio, which is one of many railroads over whose tracks this national shrine will pass, salutes it on the start of its historic mission. We will guard it well when it comes our way. May it have a fruitful journey!

He can choose to be assigned directly to duty in Europe or with one of five famous Infantry divisions in the Far East. Or he may choose to be stationed near home for the first full year of his enlistment (where there are vacancies). Men with or without prior service may choose one of the famous combat divisions in Japan or Korea.

Would you select a career in aviation?

This you can do, and be guaranteed the training you choose before you enlist! Only requirements beyond regular physical and mental examinations are that you be a high school graduate, or that you are in the Air Force and can qualify. It's today's great opportunity to write your own ticket in the Air Force.

Would you want to learn to fly?

If you are single, 20 to 26½, and have had two or more years of college education or the equivalent, you can become an Aviation Cadet with the U. S. Air Force. Nowhere else can you get better training, for nowhere else is aviation advancing as fast or as far as in our own Air Force.

Would you go to a leadership school?

If you have qualities of leadership, would you want to develop them to their fullest? U. S. Army Leadership Schools are now selecting likely candidates from servicemen to take these valuable courses.

The Army and Air Force are doing everything possible today to help each individual develop along the lines that he picks for himself. Army and Air Force training is thorough and take-home pay is better than most civilian jobs. Opportunities for advancement are wide open to every man in uniform. Make your choice today at your U. S. Army and Air Force Recruiting Station.

Doctors Attend State Convention

The annual meeting of the Michigan Medical Society is being held in Grand Rapids this week.

Dr. and Mrs. G. B. Saltonstall left last Thursday to spend a few days in Detroit before going to the convention city. They plan to return here Wednesday.

On Thursday Dr. and Mrs. L. E. Grate and Dr. and Mrs. Robert McClintock will leave for Grand Rapids for the final sessions.

Rose E. Bissell, Irving Manville Wed

Miss Rose E. Bissell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bissell, became the bride of Irving Manville, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Sarasin, at a quiet ceremony performed at St. Mary's rectory at 11 a. m., Monday.

Rev. Leo Zeilinski read the service in the presence of their immediate families before a background of fall flowers.

The bride wore a dusty rose afternoon dress, brown accessories and a corsage of white gladioli.

Her only attendant, Miss Alice Boss, wore a navy dress, matching accessories and a corsage of yellow gladioli.

John Bissell, brother of the bride, assisted as best man.

Following the wedding a breakfast was served at the Parkside. At 2 o'clock a reception for 40 guests was held at the Nautical.

The refreshment table was centered with a tiered wedding cake and decorated with bowls of flowers in pastel shades and lighted tapers.

After a wedding trip through southern Michigan the couple will make their home here. For traveling the bride wore a gray suit with navy accessories and a white corsage.

Both bride and groom attended Charlevoix high school.

Among the guests were Mrs. Rose Bissell of Milwaukee, Wis., and Mrs. Don Wales, who moved here recently from Midland.

Hartzells Return From Vacation In East

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hartzell and their two children have returned home after two weeks vacation in the East. Driving to Detroit, they took the boat to Buffalo and then went on to Pennsburg in eastern Pennsylvania, his former home. News of folks, your neighbors and mine... but did you know that—

Versal Shearer is another Charlevoix boy who is away to school. He is at the University of Michigan... Among the late goers from the Chicago Club this year was Mrs. Robert Stuart. She has now returned to her Winnetka, Ill., home... Mona and Dona McFarland, who are attending school at the Marywood Academy at Grand Rapids, spent the week-end with their parents... Wasn't it wonderful to think that so many of the relatives of Mrs. Estella Ash came this summer to visit her? Surely her daughter, Mrs. Archie Livingston, with whom she was living, will always have the wonderful memory of her last summer.

A cucumber from the garden of Art Krulik that has been on display in the Courier window has received a lot of attention. It is 13 inches long and is really a whopper. Art has had wonderful luck with his garden this year... Jack Frost really crept in on this section all unannounced and did altogether too much damage to many of the crops...

Betty Coney spent three days of this week in Grand Rapids attending a style show and sales meeting for the Charis Foundations at the Panlind Hotel... Several gals about town are sporting new fall coats and even a fur coat or two...

What a pleasant person is Mrs. A. A. Schaefer. The Schaefer will soon be leaving Charlevoix for their Detroit home and then on to Florida for the winter... Really got quite a thrill last week when we were taken out to the newly purchased Pine Point Lodge to meet the new owners of the camp. Found that one of the owners was none other than Wilbur Gunnerson, who was Director of Pennloch, when I was publicity director of National Music Camp at Interlochen. Can say from working with him that he is really a prince of a fellow to work with and a real asset to the community. Charlevoix can well be proud that we are going to have such fine folks as newcomers.

Dale Murphy spent the week-end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Murphy... Mrs. Robert Cole is spending an indefinite time with her mother, Mrs. Cora Howard at Jonesville... Fishermen are out but to date have not heard of any great catches... Mitchell Baird is back in circulation again. He has been down Saginaw and Bay City way for some weeks... Did you ever see so many gulls as there are on Round Lake these days?

Eleanor and Elaine Brow left for Lansing last week for MSC where Elaine will continue her studies as a Junior and Eleanor will do post graduate work... Mrs. Edward A. Webb of Elkhart, Ind. is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Molet... John Woods of Lake Bluff, Ill. was in the office this week-end and had plenty of stories to tell about the "days back when he was a boy on Main Street." Guess he must have been quite a boy! Main Street looks some different with the old bank gone, alone with other buildings which have been given over to the park area facing Round Lake. Said he even missed Adam Pfister's old pop corn stand (Can't you old timers just smell it?) His conversation brought to my mind that old rhyme about the "dirt that we really prize is that from which we made mud pies."

More homes are being closed and one by one the summer folks are leaving. However, we have heard of several who plan to return in October. Guess Mother Nature will have to get a hurry on if we have as beautiful a month as we had last year. It was Oct. 15 that the editors arrived from California and all the way from Iowa we were on a color tour such as we never thought would be possible to see again. Michigan was at its height... For information on how to duck yellow jackets call on Barney Englehart and Al Young. Seems that recently Al had his jeep out to Camp Charlevoix and the men were uprooting some trees. One of them surprised the men for there was the biggest nest of yellow jackets that they had ever seen... Vi Ranger has had some anxious moments during the past week as her mother underwent major surgery at Little Traverse. The lady is coming along splendidly now and hopes to be able to return home in about ten days...

Colds, colds. Seems as though half the town is sniffing. Clubs start next week, the young folks are staging parties as was evidenced Saturday night when Gladys Anne Coney had 26 high school friends at her home for an evening party highlighted with mother's good food... Grayling plays Charlevoix on Friday of this week here at home, our first home game. Hope everyone gets out to see our winners!

Girl Scouts Plan Enlarged 1947 Program

With many new women enlisted on committees and as leaders, and with a more ambitious program than last year, the Girl Scouts here are facing a busy year.

Miss Eleanor Schmitt spent three days here in September and helped the leaders plan for the coming year. She hopes to return next April for further leadership training work.

Commenting on the Charlevoix situation, Miss Schmitt said that there are twice as many girls here who should be getting Scout work as are now having it. The big difficulty here, as in most communities, is lack of leaders. More sponsoring organizations are needed to give support and help to these women who assume the actual troop leadership.

Miss Schmitt praised the proposal to start a senior program for high school girls here. She also pointed out that the Charlevoix organization now is a live one and since it represents all parts of the community, it can carry on the work to better advantage.

She commented on the excellent summer program the Girl Scouts carried on last year and expressed the hope that a winter program could be developed which would surpass it.

The new officers, elected last spring, are Mrs. Robert Richards, president; Mrs. Charles Bleha, vice president; Mrs. Uno Soumela, secretary; and Mrs. John Nordrum, treasurer.

This is National Newspaper Week. Its 1947 slogan is "Your Newspaper Serves Freedom by Serving You."

At a time when millions of persons, once free, are losing that freedom, National Newspaper Week can serve a valuable purpose in our country and community by calling attention again to the institution which under the Constitution is our foremost guardian of personal liberty.

Under this right, a Vermont Republican and a Mississippi Democrat can print diametrically opposite statements—and both be protected. Colonel McCormick can blame internationalism for our woes, and the Communist Daily Worker can urge the proletariat to arise. Reactionary management and power-hungry union papers can throw verbal bricks at each other, and at the government. And a country weekly can condemn the administration—or the way the city park is mowed.

For there is the secret and the power of our free press. Every man has the right to present his views in print. He can inform the public of what he thinks and believes. Whether or not he is right is then up to the public to judge.

As long as our newspapers are free to tell the truth as they see it. And as long as our citizens will read, and judge the views presented intelligently. That long are our liberties sure.

Annual Farm Bureau Meeting to Be Held At School Oct. 14

Plans for the annual meeting and roll call of the County Farm Bureau were made last Thursday by the Directors of the Association.

The meeting was at the R. Williams home.

The annual meeting of all members will be at the Charlevoix High School Oct. 14. Luncheon will be served at noon.

The directors named Leo Berg, John Rosquist and Charles Mascho as delegates to attend the state convention at Lansing in November. The Women's Committee will pick the women from the county to represent it at the convention.

New Committees Named for VFW

New committees for the coming year were named last Thursday by Comm. Howard Griffin of the VFW.

Since a membership drive is to be made soon by the veterans' organization, the entire group is divided into two teams headed by Griffin and Senior Vice Commander Cliff Mayhew. The two men then head the membership committee.

At the end of the drive a barbecue will be held on Nov. 1. In charge of this will be Spike Goss and David Matchett.

Entertainment committee is David Matchett, Robert King and T. E. Coblenz. Leslie Everts and Walter Moore are the House Deal committeemen. The House committee is L. C. Allard, Buster Russell, James Whitley, John Geer, Cliff Mayhew and Gilbert Powers.

Visitors From Pearl Harbor Yacht Club Stop Here With New Burger Cruiser

Charlevoix had some interesting visitors last week-end.

They were Mr. and Mrs. H. Blomfield-Brown of Honolulu, Hawaii, who were here in their new cruiser, the Manuahi.

The boat is one of the newest Burger boats, a 50-foot flush decked cruiser built at Manitowoc, according to the plans of the owner. It sleeps six and the crew. An interesting feature is the latest in push button controls.

The boat was beautifully furnished throughout, compact in every detail, and will be the latest of the Browns during their stay in the States.

The Manuahi flies the Pearl Harbor Yacht Club burgee, black with an orange diamond. Its house flag is gold with a red pineapple. (The colors of the Hawaiian royalty) for Mr. Brown has been manager for the past 33 years of the Dole pineapple plantation.

Asked what Manuahi meant Mr. Brown said, "Something for nothing. But I have found out that I really have something and it cost me plenty."

The Browns stopped here to see Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Schaefer of Detroit whose home is on the north shore of the lake. The couples met in Florida last year and plan to see each other in southern waters this winter.

Grayling Sends Team Here for First Home Game

Called "the game of the week", Charlevoix's football team Friday afternoon will play for the first time this season on its home field against Grayling.

Coach Ray Kipke expects to send in the same starting lineup he used against Mancelona last Friday except for Pat Martin at half back. Pat received a severe head bruise at Mancelona and Kipke will not let him go back in until he is fully recovered.

Mancelona proved to be a much different team than Grayling. With the first team playing the entire four periods, the Raydors were able to gather only 13 punts and were outplayed consistently during the final quarter. The score was 13 to 0.

More Goods Needed For Annual White Elephant Sale

More goods still are needed for the annual Kiwanis White Elephant sale, according to F. R. Bulow, chairman.

A considerable quantity has been donated already, but the demand always has been for more things than have been available. The club will collect anything which is saleable and is offered. A call to Bulow or Dean Davenport will bring a car or truck to pick it up.

Proceeds of the sale go to carry on the work of the club. Included in this is the Halloween party when all the youngsters are entertained, Boy Scout sponsorship and similar causes.

The sale will be at the American Legion hall, Oct. 10 and 11. At the Kiwanis meeting Monday, Supt. Roy Bennett presented Clarence Omdark as a new member. Rev. W. D. Wood reported on the international convention in Chicago.

Ladies Night, instead of being this week as announced last week will be Oct. 13 at the Barnard Grange.

Athletic Program Has $2,653 Budget

Basketball	1,604.70
Tournament	197.19
	$2,611.06

The expenditures were:

Medical benefit plan	$ 85.59
Equipment, football	935.89
Basketball	262.95
Track	81.05
Officials, football	109.00
Basketball	214.20

Mrs. Sylvia Gilson, manager of the Chateau, plans to return to her home in Detroit Saturday after the summer season here.

Kiwanis to Bring Talented Singer To City Oct. 10

The girl singer who stole the show at the Kiwanis International Convention last July is coming to Charlevoix Oct. 10.

She is Norma Lou Gregg, 21 year old coloratura singer of Lansing. Her concert here at the high school auditorium is being sponsored by the Charlevoix Kiwanis Club.

When plans were being made for the big international convention, Mrs. Gregg was scheduled to sing before the Michigan-Wisconsin-Minnesota sectional meeting and at a small women's fashion show. She was a success at both.

Word got out and before the convention was over she had been called on to sing at the New York and California-Nevada sectional meetings, had been auditioned by NBC and sang before the 6,000 delegates at the closing session. At every appearance at least two encores were demanded of her.

Following the convention, request for appearances in Michigan poured in on her. Charlevoix was one of the invitations she has accepted. Among the others have been Grand Rapids, Jackson, Saginaw and Traverse City.

Dow Team to Play Here for Benefit Of Hospital Fund

Former world's champion basketball team and always one of the top professional fives in the country, the Dow Chemical team will play here Oct. 28 at the school gym.

The game will be for the benefit of the new Hospital building.

The building committee learned that the Dow team had three open pre-season dates and was coming to Northern Michigan. Arrangements were made Monday for the first of these three games to be played here. The proceeds will go to the building fund being accumulated to construct the new and needed hospital.

These three games will be the only ones scheduled by the Dow team outside its regular professional schedule which takes it over most of the country.

If a strong independent team can be organized here before that time, the Dow squad will meet Charlevoix players. If not, the committee expects to bring the Elks team from Petoskey to supply the opposition.

Easter Lilies Mixed Up; Bloom In Fall

Easter lilies in April are commonplace, but when they bloom in September it's a rarity.

Mrs. Fred Bergmann had such blooms in her garden last week—two lovely, fragrant lilies which looked very odd in their setting of fall flowers.

The bulbs were planted last Spring after Mrs. Bergmann had received the blooming plant for Easter.

Charlevoix is in the midst of a building boom despite the shortage of many materials and the high cost of labor and supplies.

Figures on building permits issued by the city between Jan. 1 and Sept. 1 give evidence that the need for new business places and homes outweighs the higher cost of putting them up.

Permits for 16 new homes give an estimated total of $101,000. Six commercial buildings come to $114,500. In addition there were 40 permits for repairs or remodeling of homes or places. Only 16 of these carried an estimate of cost, but on the basis of these 16 the total would be well toward $30,000 at a conservative estimate.

Largest of the new commercial buildings is the Michigan Bell office at State and Mason streets. The permit calls for a $30,000 structure. In the story released to The Courier Bell officials placed the cost at $75,000.

Other new business places either finished or under construction are Edwards Food Mart, Charlevoix Gas & Appliance Co., Michigan Cleaners, Maxbauer Creamery and Charlevoix Lumber Co.

All but the new lumber office are built of fireproof material such as stone, cement or cinder block, brick or concrete panel. Also except for the lumber office, none are on Bridge street, Edwards and the new House of Jewels, which is a remodeling job, are on Petoskey. Maxbauer and Michigan Cleaners are on the Brant land on Lincoln and Garfield. The new Gas office is on Antrim.

Of the 16 permits for new private homes, a new one on Michigan avenue is the most pretentious. To be built of stone, the permit calls for a $35,000 structure.

Twelve frame house permits total $49,000, a wood, slate and shingle dwelling, $6,000; a cement and cinder block and frame house, $5,000; and a block and frame house at $4,000.

Of the 40 permits issued for repairs or remodeling only 16 estimates were given totaling $6,200. This included the repair of two store fronts at an estimated $700 and $750 each.

Other permits issued include: porches, remodel, replace addition or alteration, 9; remodeling of dwellings, 4; repair houses, 2; addition and remodel, 2; alter house, 3; addition of rooms, 3; extend kitchen, 1; addition of siding, 1; repair house, 2; build garage, 4; repair garage roof, 1; raise house and build foundation, 1; chimney, 1; foundation, 1; remodeling of church, 1; coal shed, 1; move and repair house, 1. Permits were also issued to raise two dwellings to make room for the new Bell building.

Young Adult Group Will Be Organized

The Young Adult class of the Congregational church plans to organize a week night study group for married folks and single men and women.

The first meeting will be Wednesday at 8 p. m. at the church basement. The Mary Birns circle will act as hostess for the evening, which will start with a dessert supper at 8 p. m. Following this will be a brief program and then the discussion and organization of the new group. Officers will be elected and committees appointed at that time. The date for the regular monthly meeting will be set.

The meeting Wednesday and the new group both are open to young adults of the community who are not affiliated with any other church. Future programs will be planned to fit the wishes of the group.

Plans for the evening are being made by a committee of the church: Mrs. Charles Bleha, chairman; Mrs. Ray Kipke, Mrs. Robert Weststaff and Mrs. Earl Faber.

What's a Little Grass?

Saturday afternoon a bunch of the high school boys were asked to get off the city park. They had been passing a football and were told they had been tearing up the grass.

I'll grant that a football can be rather a risky thing to be tossing or kicking around beside a busy business street. I'll also grant that there is a school grounds two blocks up the street where they could kick the ball around all they wished.

But I also maintain that passing a football in the fall is a natural, normal and wholesome occupation for the young male. I also maintain that the goodwill and fun of high school boys is a lot more important and of more value to our city than a few square feet of grass which is trampled all summer anyway by summer visitors.

On the basis of safety, maybe they shouldn't use the city park. But if preservation of the grass is the only reason, let's let 'em use it.

Maybe We Need Just One Law

I saw a letter from the head of the Freuhauf trailer company recently in which he declared the Wagner Act was un-American and should be repealed. There have been countless expressions from labor leaders all the way from Murray and Green on down saying the identical thing about the Taft-Hartley Act.

Perhaps they both are right. What Congress should do is repeal both the Wagner and the new Taft-Hartley Act, enacting in place of them a single management-labor control act.

This would make both sides subject to the same controls, the same rules and the same liabilities. If monopolistic power is denied to one, deny it to both. If one side can bargain on a nation-wide basis, let both. If a closed shop is denied labor, make collective bargaining obligatory on management.

In other words, make both goose and gander eat the same sauce.

Probably this is a wild dream. But it sure would end a lot of injustices.

Information On School Coming

Last week The Courier carried an open letter to Dr. Wilford Clapp of the State Department of Public Instruction.

Over the telephone Dr. Clapp said he would be glad to answer the questions. His reply will appear next week, he said.

The One Track Mind

The weather man has been persistently consistent this year.

Last spring all he could send us was rain, until our good friend Harold Totten was ready to rent out fields as private fishing lakes.

Then last summer all we had was dry weather, until the potatoes quit growing.

Now this fall we had rain for ten days straight, after which it rained some more.

The poet may have been right when he called consistency a jewel, but he sure wasn't thinking of the weather.

MICHIGAN MIRROR

One week from this Saturday.

Michigan's new labor law will go into effect.

All labor unions and all employees will be affected, as the law imposes new obligations with respect to strikes and picketing. It seeks to prevent industrial strife by requiring the use of mediation. Strikes may be called only after the state conducts an election of employees. A strike is legal only if it is authorized by a majority of the employees involved, not a majority of those voting.

Furthermore, the new law seeks to outlaw strikes by employees of public government, public utilities and hospitals, and to settle such disputes by arbitration.

Here's how the new law will work, beginning October 11.

Suppose the workers of the Smithville Manufacturing Company, a fictitious firm as far as we know, have a dispute with their employer. The workers, or their bargaining representative, file a notice of intent to strike with the state labor mediation board at Lansing.

The state board sends a mediator to Smithville. He tries to settle the dispute by getting both sides together.

If these negotiations fail, the state board is required by law to conduct a special election to determine whether a majority of the workers of this firm favor the proposed work stoppage.

The most recent offer of management must be printed on the strike ballot. Cost of the election—printed ballots, etc.—is to be paid by the two disputing parties, employees and the management, either equally or upon some other basis agreed upon.

"It's Living That Counts"

I stole the title of this column from a magazine article that said a whole lot better than I can what farm and country life can mean.

We talk about farm profits, production, research, and mechanical improvements... but isn't it true, what we really value is the life country living offers us?... the chance to be close to our families and neighbors... children sharing in the chores... working with our own hands at a worthwhile job.

And country pleasures are simple: good talk at day's end, and a glass of mellow beer with friends... the companionship of man and wife, untroubled by distractions of the city... the mutual tolerance of one another's tastes—in choosing a friend, or a glass of beer, or a candidate for Governor.

Mind, I'm all for material improvements. But from where I sit the real goodness of our country life is that spirit of tolerance, moderation, and good fellowship.

The State of Michigan does not foot the bill.

Suppose two unions are in a row over who has the right to represent the workers. Such a dispute also goes to mediation. If mediation fails, then a special election must be called by the state board. Expense of this election is to be borne equally by the two disputing unions.

Only until the unions' dispute is settled by the workers, can a legal strike be called.

Contrary to popular belief, Michigan has not had an effective picketing law up to now.

Effective Oct. 11, it is going to have one. The law makes it unlawful for anyone to "hinder or prevent by mass picketing, threats, intimidation, force or coercion of any kind the pursuit of any lawful work or employment." That's a mouthful.

Also: The law makes it unlawful for anyone to "obstruct or interfere with free and uninterrupted use of public roads, streets, highways, railways, airports or other ways of travel or conveyance."

Enforcement of the law is up to all enforcement agencies in the following order: City police, county sheriff's department, Michigan State Police, Michigan National Guard and United States Army. State Police or the National Guard intervene only by order of the Governor upon receipt of an appeal from a mayor or sheriff. The U. S. Army intervenes only upon order of the President upon receipt of an appeal from the Governor.

The new law is the result of a public's protest against industrial strikes that affect the general public welfare. It will be interesting to see whether the law succeeds in its purpose.

U of M Plans Program For Small Business

On the spot and to small businesses of Michigan will be offered by the University of Michigan School of Business Administration in a new program to be launched this fall.

Director of the work will be Dr. William M. Head, newly appointed research associate and lecturer in business administration.

It is planned to set up extension courses and conferences for businessmen in various cities of Michigan where a need for them exists and where they are requested by the businessmen themselves, he said. A course in establishing and operating a business enterprise will be given on campus during the Spring semester.

"Over half of all new business enterprises fail within two years," Dr. Head pointed out. "We believe that the new business, organized by a G. I. or by another person interested in owning his own business, need not fail if it is intelligently planned in the first place."

Among those from out of town who attended the service were Gerald L. Ash of Los Angeles, Calif., Ott. Smith of Middleburg, W. Va., Mr. and Mrs. Charles K. Smith of Birmingham, Harold Adams of Akron, Ohio; Miss Lillian Adams of Washington, D. Concert Series Tickets Go On Sale This Week

An opportunity to bring great musical artists to northern Michigan is being presented to the people of Charlevoix this week.

Memberships to the Northern Michigan Concert Series Association are being sold by a committee headed by Mrs. Arthur Weststaff and C. A. Odmark.

This concert series is to be held in Petoskey, the only place with an auditorium to handle such an attraction.

Public response will determine whether more concerts will be possible in the future.

The Columbia Concerts, Inc., a booking agency, will guarantee 3 and possibly 4 attractions for members of the association when the membership sale has been completed, and it is determined just how much money is available. However, since Columbia Concerts handle only top grade artists, the four concerts will be memorable ones.

The membership sale is limited to this week. It ends on Oct. 5 and after that no tickets will be sold.

Charlevoix has a quota of less than 100 tickets. The following committee members have them for sale:

Mrs. Arthur Weststaff, Mrs. Florence Stecher, Mrs. E. J. Pilgrims, Mrs. Clarence Wood, Mrs. Dean Davenport, Mrs. Walter Miles, Miss Helen Rose Cline, Miss Mary Margaret Orlovski, Mrs. C. J. Fidler, Mrs. Howard Braum, Mrs. Larry Towle.

A list of members will be published in The Courier, so that transportation can be arranged by anyone needing a ride.

The sale ends Sunday Oct. 5. No tickets to the individual concerts will be sold.

City Asks Bids On Diesel Foundation

The City Council at their regular meeting on Monday night passed a resolution to advertise for sealed bids for the construction of a reinforced concrete foundation for the new 1000 kilowatt Diesel engine generator unit which will be installed in the Charlevoix Municipal Electric Light and Power plant early next Spring.

The bids must conform to specifications submitted by Hamilton & Weeber, Grand Rapids engineers, which are on file at the City Superintendent's office in the City Hall. Bids will be received up to 8 p. m., Oct. 13 at the office of the city clerk.

The council also authorized the lease of property in Lakeside park to Stephen J. Flees who is purchasing the former Dustin house on Palmer st.

The only other business was the approval of the payroll.

Lester Gallagher Buys Service Station

The Northside Standard Service Station has changed hands. This week Lester Gallagher took over, having bought out Ivan A. Phillips who sold because of poor health.

George Smith to Head Hayes Farm Bureau

George Smith was elected the new chairman for the coming year by the Hayes Community Farm Bureau last Thursday.

The meeting was at the Clifford Smithers home. Other officers chosen were: Dave Smith, discussion leader; Hazel Eves, secretary; Ann Sarty, associated woman; Mrs. Tapp, Mrs. Eva Ostrum, Mrs. Clifford Smithers, recreation leaders; Harold of Directors nominee, Leo Berg.

Each of those present chose the month he is to entertain the Bureau during the year. The next meeting will be with Dave Smith.

Others served refreshments.

New Wedding Law Puts 30 Day Limit On License

Justices, ministers and newlyweds will need to watch their step after Oct. 11 when the new state marriage law takes effect.

Under the present act, once a marriage license is issued it is good indefinitely. Not so under the new law which says the license must be used within 30 days and is void after that.

The entire procedure, according to County Clerk F. B. Bulow,

The couple first obtains their two health certificates from a physician, showing freedom from venereal disease. These expire after 30 days. They then apply for their license at the county clerk's office. But they must show the health certificates when they apply.

Five days after the application they can get the license. So far, the procedure is the same under both the old and the new laws. But after Oct. 11 the license must be used within 30 days or it becomes void. If this happens, the couple must start all over again with new health examinations to obtain another license.

The change, Bulow says, was made to prevent dodging of the law's purpose. With licenses six months or six years old, either or both parties might have contracted venereal disease in the interval. The change aims to prevent this.

Requiem Mass Held For William Woods

A Requiem High Mass for William A. Woods, 84, who died on Monday was held at St. Mary's church on Friday with the Rev. Edward F. Neubecker of Beal City, Rev. A. V. Ulanowicz of Newaygo, Rev. Leo Zeilinski, pastor of the church and Rev. Fr. Hughonius, O. F. M. of Petoskey officiating.

Among those from away who were here for the funeral were Mr. and Mrs. James Payne, John Payne, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Reed, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Kenner, Roberta Kenner, Mr. and Mrs. Grant Kenner of Detroit; John Woods of Chicago; Mr. and Mrs. William Woods of Grand Haven; Hubert Brady, W2 c USN of Oakland, Calif.; Robert Colley of Ann Arbor; Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Glendon of Roscommon, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Colley and daughter, Betty of Petoskey, Mrs. Clifford Reberg of Flint; Mrs. Mary Kenner and Mrs. John Addis of Ellsworth.

Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Bruce and Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Miller, owners of the Chateau here, spent the weekend at Charlevoix entertaining a group of friends. Included were Dr. and Mrs. W. P. Foster, Dr. and Mrs. Norman Strong, Mrs. Frank Bohrer of Detroit, William R. Mier of Milwaukee, Mrs. W. D. Wacker and Mrs. Ross Whitney of Lansing.

Al Youny Designs Huge Stage Set for Louisville SPBB

When Louisville, Ky., has its big annual SPBBQSA Parade of Quartets on Nov. 22, the stage setting will be the work of Al Youny of Charlevoix.

As a result of the set which he designed for the Labor Day Jubilee here, and the fact that the Kentucky state champions were brought here by Fred Gregory of Brazil, Ind., Youny was asked to submit plans for a stage set at Louisville.

He made a trip to Louisville and is now working on detailed sketches.

The stage has an opening 30 by 62 feet. As the audience comes in they will see a 30 foot SPBB emblem at the left with Louisville's "Welcome You" and "Keep A Good Thing" above and below a bar of music.

By cutting the house lights and turning on black light, this front curtain will disappear and a 25 foot quartet in 1890 styles will be seen grouped around the sound stage in which the quartet will appear.

The annual parade at Louisville draws more than 4,000.

Sour Note Five Makes Wild Music

If you hear "uncouthly sounds" in your neighborhood, look twice before calling the police.

Chances are it will be the "Sour Note Five" band rehearsing or presenting a "concert".

The band, composed of five members of the high school musical organization, have gotten together and created a new and different hill-billy type of music. There's Bob Shanahan and Tom Blehm on the trombone, Jim Gibbons, trumpet, Bruce Shanahan, bass, and Nick Hamilton on the drums.

The name "Sour Note Five" was selected from hundreds of suggestions offered after the band had appeared at two high school pep meetings. The winning entry was submitted by Mary Ann Glados.

Hectic Treasure Hunt Is Forecast Next

The community Treasure Hunt last Sunday night was won by the same group which had staged the first one this fall.

Rather than repeat so soon, the winning crew accepted the offer of John Knight's group to stage the hunt this next Sunday evening. Veteran treasure hunters are expecting a busy evening as the pre-war Knight hunts are remembered as among the most hectic ever staged here.

Last week's hunt almost was a dead heat as the Campfield-Miles-Ance car was only seconds ahead of Knight's in arriving at the William Ratigan home. Last week's clues were: bicycle pump and toy house, pump house, metal tree, Silver Tourist Court; eagle game, Belvedere casino; lighthouse, slanty, Board of Commerce building; a small department with nothing added, depot; LVII, Heinz plant; river's end, west end of River street; presidential conference, Lincoln and Grant; you ought to park now, auto park; Charlie McCarthy and Mortimer Snerd; Wood Bros. turn right—sweethearts, Gehon's; fisherman, bathing beauty, two ducks, sail boat, man on skis, Courier.

MICHIGAN MIRROR

By Gene Allen
Michigan Press Assn. Mgr.

Governor Kim Sigler is a very suspicious individual. His attitude comes naturally as the result of his long law experience.

The case at hand is his personal investigation into gambling clubs at Northern Michigan resorts.

At the beginning of the 1947 tourist season, Governor Sigler warned all law enforcement agencies that gambling was not to be tolerated in resort areas or elsewhere. No slot machines, no roulette wheels, no dice games, and no gambling other than legalizing on horse racing at Detroit and Northville.

With a touch of prosecutive attorney in the state executive offices, Michigan was to remain a no-man's land for organized gambling.

The Michigan season opened this year, as usual, about the Fourth of July. State police and state liquor control commission investigators promptly made their check-ups on places which had opened in other years, off and on. No signs of activity could be detected.

Late in July, however, reports spread that gamblers were opening up, quietly of course, to a few selected customers. At some of police and investigation in main entrance were not successful. One hotel required a certificate that the person was from out of state that he had $500 in bills on his person as evidence that he could afford to lose.

Reservations were received by the hotel from a Wisconsin business man for a week in August. When he arrived, he proved his credit. He displayed money. And finally he succeeded in getting inside the casino where he played games and obtained first-hand evidence. The place was then "knocked over" by State Police.

However, the raid (and there were several others) all occurred in August. Critics implied to the governor that the raids were a mere formality, "token raids" in fact to be made when the season was about over and big profits had been harvested. The governor was furious. He ordered two former grand jury investigators to investigate. And whom are they to investigate? Well, State Police and State Liquor

Control Commission Investigators

Gambling has been winked at, under certain circumstances, by some governors of Michigan. We recall when we spent a week-end at a Michigan resort hotel at which the governor was a guest.

A friend invited us to see the hotel casino. We had never seen a gambling joint, and being a newspaperman, we accepted more out of curiosity than a desire to gamble. In the casino was the secretary of the governor and several members of his office staff. The next day, the governor requested the prosecuting attorney to investigate "reports" of gambling.

No, we don't blame Governor Sigler for being a suspicious man. He evidently doesn't know whom to trust, but we do hope that his report on the State Police and Liquor Control investigators will be widely publicized. At present he has put these agencies under public suspicion.

Services At Frankfort For Mrs. Frank Jones

Funeral services for Mrs. Frank Jones, 43, the former Ruth Durand, were held at the Frankfort Funeral Home on Sept. 23.

She had died on Sept. 20 at the Frankfort Hospital where she had been a patient for two weeks, after being in failing health for some time. Burial was in the Frankfort cemetery.

Born in Charlevoix, she had lived in Frankfort since her marriage to Mr. Jones about 25 years ago.

Besides her husband she is survived by six children; two grand-children; her father, John Durand of this city; a sister, Mrs. Irving LaRue of Detroit and two brothers, Ned of Flint, and Percy of Charlevoix.

Mr. and Mrs. Jones Durand and Percy Durand attended the funeral services.

Attend School Meeting
The Department of City Superintendents held a state-wide meeting at the Soo on Sept. 26-27.

Magazine Describes Cross Industries

The Joint Cross Industries, catching and serving fish was the subject of an article in the August issue of "The Fisherman". The magazine is the news journal of the Great Lakes fishing industry. The story described how John Cross operates the fishing end of the business while Mrs. Cross runs the new Nauticross.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Gebeau have as their guests the latter's mother and aunt, Mrs. W. J. Gordon of Greenville and Mrs. French Arnold of Belding, who arrived Friday for a visit.

BEAVER ISLAND

By Mrs. J. C. Hanley

Remember the heavy snow fall we had last May 29? Well, on Sept. 22 we had hail and snow throughout the morning.

Yes sir, the chickadees, our little snow birds, are back with us. They must have had some advanced weather reports to have been here in time for the snow.

Tuesday, the southwest wind was whipping up the lake to such an extent that neither boat ventured to cross until late in the afternoon when the North Shore decided to make the trip to Charlevoix.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Maxwell and daughter, Bonnie, returned to their home in Chicago after visiting Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Cull.

Donald McDonough has received his honorable discharge from the Army Air Force this past week. He is back on the island with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Burt McDonough.

Dr. and Mrs. Russell Palmer are vacationing on the mainland.

Mrs. Emerald Gallagher and daughter Kathleen returned home Tuesday.

Some lucky families picked a winter's supply of cranberries before the frost Wednesday night.

For a long time, new steps have been needed in front of the church. Now, we have them and it's quite an improvement. The Parish Hall has new steps, also. This I failed to mention when they were completed some weeks ago. Jewell Gillespie is responsible for the good job on both buildings.

Bob McCann reached voting age last Thursday and there was quite a party to celebrate the occasion.

Mrs. Bob McDonough, recent bride, was honored with a miscellaneous shower Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Ray Cull. To entertain the guests, Jack Cull showed movies of major events which have taken place on the island this year.

Refreshments were served after which the bride opened her many gifts. About 30 guests were present.

Wilbur Martin, Harbor Springs came over to the island to move his fishing equipment to the mainland.

Henry Allen visited the Hanleys over the week-end.

Tuesday evening there was a meeting of the American Legion at the home of James McCann.

Mrs. P. J. Elms and infant daughter, Nancy Ann, returned home from Little Traverse Hospital Wednesday.

Eva McDonough flew to Petoskey Wednesday to visit her sister, Rita Elms. When Eva reached the hospital, she met Rita coming out the door. Eva remained in Petoskey to await the arrival of Lloyd, Archie and Frances. LaFreniere and son, Glenn, and Winnie and Lawrence McDonough. The party will leave Sunday for Grand Rapids where Eva and Lloyd will visit for a week or more. The rest of the party will continue on to Ann Arbor to visit Mr. and Mrs. Henry Allen and Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Wilson. From Ann Arbor, the LaFrenieres and McDonoughs plan a trip to Detroit and Canada.

Townships Told Snow Removal Is Up to Them

If township roads are kept open this coming winter the townships themselves must pay the cost, the Board of Road Commissioners regretfully told the various town boards which met with them at Charlevoix, East Jordan and Boyne City.

Only an inescapable crisis in highway finance forced the county Commissioners to take this step, they pointed out. If roads are plowed as in past years, there will not be enough money to maintain Charlevoix county highways next summer and the result in a few years would be destruction of much of the present improved mileage.

The county has the equipment and will plow such roads as are selected, the Commissioners said. But the cost—an average of $190 per mile for the winter—must come from township funds. It is up to the town boards to decide what miles and how many.

Further discussion and decision of the county's road program will take place Oct. 13 when the Board of Supervisors meet.

BEAVER ISLAND

By Mrs. J. C. Hanley

Leo Close, school commissioner, and Joseph Wilson, schoolman of Detroit, paid the first visit of the year to the island schools on Sept. 22.

Last Friday a general assembly program for the children of the village at St. James was held in the McKinley school.

The primary grades were represented by the first graders who exhibited their achievements in reading. Then followed the recitation of nursery rhymes.

The upper grades contributed three numbers. A quartet consisting of Eleanor Gallagher, Bernadette Malloy, Kay McDonough, and Phyllis Wojan entertained with "Come To The Fair." The fifth and sixth graders had a lively contest on the Roman Numerals. The result was a tie. A spot quiz in European geography was conducted by the sixth grade.

The Glee Club comprised of the Junior and Senior high school members presented a choral verse reading in three voices entitled, "The David Jazz."

Varied plans are underway for spending the latter part of the week during which the teachers will be on the mainland for the

M. E. A. Convention. Chief among these are: dental appointments, shopping tours, business trips, fishing excursions, and the acquisition and improvement of hunting supplies for the approaching open season.

Mrs. Joel Johnson returned from Cleveland, Ohio, where she attended the funeral of her stepmother.

Barry Woodrow Struthers celebrated his third birthday by having his cousins over for a party. They were seated around a table centered with a circus and daisy chain cake. Each enjoyed his ice cream and individual nut cups. Out of town guests were Rev. and Mrs. Richard Struthers and daughter, Carol Jean from Greenville.

Mrs. Anandus Evers gave a surprise birthday party in honor of Mrs. Neil Baker. The evening was spent playing games after which the hostess served refreshments.

Ministers Urge Sunday Be Kept As Sacred Day

Ways and means of putting more emphasis on the sacredness of Sunday and discouraging the holding of secular events then were discussed at the regular meeting of the Charlevoix Ministerial Association.

The meeting was held Sept. 23 at the home of Rev. and Mrs. W. D. Wood. The members agreed they would urge that non-religious events, as far as possible, be held on week days. It also was decided to continue the fight against the liquor evil in Charlevoix.

Other topics discussed were the Spiritual mobilization, Columbus Day sermons on "Perils to Freedom" and plans for the annual Community Thanksgiving Service.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Wood. The next meeting will be Oct. 27 at the Gaylord D. Howell home.

Two More At College

Two more Charlevoix students who are away at college are: Robert C. Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Smith of Route 2, who is a sophomore at Michigan Central College at Mt. Pleasant; and Wayne Saunders, a freshman at MSC, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Oakley Saunders of Route 2. They were not included in last week's list.

Mr., Mrs. Alonzo Sage Will Observe 57th Anniversary Next Wednesday

Ellsworth—Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo E. Sage will observe their fifty-seventh wedding anniversary next Wednesday at their home in Shady Nook, on Central Lake.

They were married Oct. 8, 1890 and started housekeeping on the farm where they now live. Both are quite well and active. Mrs. Sage still operating the lunch stand and gas station started 28 years ago. Mr. Sage still helps on the farm operated by his son, Leon.

Mr. Sage will be 77 years old Thursday and was born Oct. 2, 1870 in Clinton county, the son of Daniel and Hannah Sage. He moved to Antrim county when a boy.

Mrs. Sage, 74, was born March 1, 1873, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Drake, pioneer settlers who came here at the close of the Civil War.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Sage received their education in Bay View school, as did their son and a daughter, Mrs. Earl Hinkley of Grand Rapids. Mr. and Mrs. Sage have five grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren.

Gambling Cases Set For Last of Month

Hearing and trial resulting from the Liquor Control Commission's raid on the Colonial Club here Aug. 30 will be the last of October.

The hearing against O. Gatti will be about Oct. 25 or 26 before an examiner of the Commission. Originally set for Sept. 25 at Cheboygan, it was postponed a month. Gatti will be represented by Colombo, Colombo, Colombo and Colombo of Detroit. He is accused of allowing gambling equipment and a drunk on his premises here.

Last Thursday Justice Horace Fowler bound both Gatti and Marsh Meek over to circuit court on a charge of possessing gambling equipment. Both are charged with possession of gambling equipment.

The trial will be at the October term of court, which opens Oct. 27.

Gatti now is at Miami, Fla., but plans to return for the hearing and trial.

The Wilsons plan to drive to Florida in it. They plan to spend the winter there, returning about April.

Holy Name Society Is Reorganized

The Holy Name Society at St. Mary's church has been reorganized under the guidance of Rev. Leo Zeilinski.

Frank Olesky has been named chairman; Ted Browne, vice chairman and Dr. Gerald Gibbons, secretary.

Meetings will be held every Monday evening at the school hall. Plans are now being made for the winter's activities.

Extra Penny Needed To Mail Courier

A request to Courier subscribers comes from Postmaster Joseph Foster. He says:

"Your paper is getting so big now that it takes two cents in postage when parents want to send it to the kids at college or to friends whose names appear. Now all this is good and fine and more power to you, but you know it is a little embarrassing to the city mailmen when they have to return The Courier and ask for another penny. Of course, they could pay this out of their own pocket, and they often do. But when it happens every week, it mounts up.

"So, we're wondering if folks would put two cents postage on the papers they mail. And save a lot of trouble."

Annual Booster Night To Be Held Friday

The Annual Booster Night at the Barnard Grange will be held Friday.

This is an open meeting open to all. A special program has been arranged. A potluck lunch will be served.

Professor to Preach At Meeting Series

Dr. Earl Martin, professor of theology at Anderson College and Theological Seminary, will preach at a series of religious meetings here next week. They will be held at the Church of God nightly starting with Sunday and ending the following Sunday night. All will begin at 8 p. m. Dr. Martin recently returned from a summer spent in Alaska. Besides being a professor, he is an author and able lecturer.

Rayders Win 13-0 From Mancelona

After a seesaw which lasted almost to the end of the first quarter, Martin passed 15 yards to Bob Carey who scored. Carey then kicked the point.

Mancelona again received, and punted back to the Charlevoix 14. A holding penalty against Charlevoix put the ball on the one yard line. Bob Carey kicked out of danger. Mancelona fumbled soon afterward and Charlevoix recovered. Two first downs came from end runs and off tackle plays. Then Martin heaved a short 10 yard lateral to Bob Carey who ran 30 yards for the other touchdown. The kick failed.

The third quarter started much the same with Mancelona receiving, fumbling, and Charlevoix recovering on the 20 yard line. Charlevoix scored, but the play was called back for a Charlevoix offside. Three times more the Rayders came close to the goal but never quite put the ball across, fumbles being partly to blame.

In the final quarter Mancelona took charge of the game. Outplaying and outgaining Charlevoix, they almost scored several times.

The lineup was: Bob Carey and Smith, ends; Loper and Shadko, tackles; Potter and Burke, guards; Peterson, center, quarter, Bill Carey, halfbacks; Martin and Hardy, fullback, Julliffe. Smith substituted for Martin in the third and Koss Case went to end for Smith. Jim Gibbons replaced Burke.

Tuesday afternoon Charlevoix fans saw some surprisingly fine football on the home field when the Rayder Reserves took on the Boyne City Reserves, winning 16 to 0.

With a team composed entirely of freshmen and sophomores, the Reserves trotted out some clever plays in addition to good, steady football.

Behind a line which consistently held Boyne City on defense and which opened holes on offense, the backfield made a habit of first downs and spectacular gains.

Starring combination was Bill Barber and Dale Suomela. Three of the four scores resulted directly from passes, Barber to Suomela. The point was made when Suomela tossed a short one to Haggard.

First score came early in the second quarter when Barber went through center. In the third period, a 30 yard pass to Suomela and a 30 yard run by him netted the second score.

In the final period, Suomela snagged a 30 yard heave from Barber after a Boyne City player had tried to intercept it. Both fell to the ground but Suomela stuck to the ball. Barber carried the ball across on a line buck. A short pass near the final gun accounted for the fourth tally.

On the Reserve team were: Haggard and Suomela, tackles; Kline and Gibbons, guards; Ward and Tucker, center; Fairbanks; quarterback; Barber, halfbacks; Hardy and Cunningham; fullback; Bowman.

News of folks, your neighbors and mine... but did you know that—

Mrs. Ella Usher was home Monday morning, full of smiles, on her recent trip to West Branch where she was visiting for several days. Had the weather on her side, she said, to make it perfect... Folks are surely making the most of this glorious weather. Old Mother Nature doesn't fool when she puts on a show. Come on, all you "color-tour-ers". The country side is really full of eye appeal now!

Round Lake has had plenty of boat traffic during the past week. Boats everywhere and folks hanging off the docks, perch fishing... The Jack Goldmans are expected this week-end from St. Louis. They are getting here just in time to see the North in all its beauty... By the way, did you see that glorious sunset Sunday night? It was one of the breath-taking ones of the year!

"To open the house or not to open the house" has been the $40.00 question facing the John Harshas during the past ten days. But all this was finally settled last week and now Dr. and Mrs. Earl Faber are living in the first floor apartment, Florine Stelter and Georgia Gloster are back in their up-stairs apartments, and the Harshas have returned to Detroit.

Now that the World Series has ended maybe a few ball fans' high blood pressure will subside. It truly has been something to listen to the games... Dorothea Badger, third grade Charlevoix teacher, who was one of the group who went to Traverse to Institute last week, has her own personal moment person nomination to make. Someone helped themselves to her blue, fall coat while she was eating her lunch at Traverse.

Speaking of the Teachers Institute, one of the first grade youngsters here wins the fun-lined drinking cup. The children in the grades had it carefully explained to them that there was no school on Thursday and Friday for the teachers were going to the Institute. One of the youngsters went home and said, "Mother, we don't have to go to school tomorrow and Friday for teacher is going on some kind of a foot"...

But that Virginia Ranger had a hard time keeping her eyes open Monday at classes at MSC. Friday night she arrived home from Lansing at 3:30 a. m., so that she could be here for her folks' wedding anniversary, and were they happy! Saturday night she didn't get more than two winks of sleep. Sunday night she had to ride half the night on the bus in order to get back to school for classes. But, it was worth it, for it was a wonderful anniversary party!

The Bill Mitchells are back in Charlevoix at their Park Ave. home, driving from Miami Beach. They were here in time to attend the Ranger anniversary party and to greet so many of their Charlevoix friends. Estella Hines hails from Mississippi and there is nothing affected about her southern accent. Its sure-enough natural-like and it's fun to hear her talk... Seems funny to see Sarah Sternberg about Main Street during working hours. There's a reason, October is the vacation month for Sarah. She expects to be gone some of the time...

Mr. and Mrs. Forest Wood have left for Nampa, Idaho and expect to be gone a month. They have gone to visit Mrs. Wood's two sisters and brother. During their absence Mrs. Corlett, mother of Mrs. Wood, is staying with Linda Campbell... Sorry to learn of the illness of Ella Fochtman... Marian Partridge has just returned from Marquette where she has been visiting the Robert Ashdons... Said that it seemed to her that half of Charlevoix was in Marquette. She saw several of her friends there that she had not seen here in several weeks.

Mrs. Eva Blanchard left for Charlotte Sunday where she will visit Mrs. Ida Barnes and her two brother... Just had an alarming (Continued on page five)

MORE ROOM--

Pupils Need More Space Around School, Educator Asserts

Two weeks ago, following the meeting of citizens to discuss a proposed new high school building, The Courier addressed an open letter to Dr. Wilfred F. Clapp, head of the Division of School Plant for the State Department of Public Instruction. This letter asked ten questions. Dr. Clapp's answers follow:

The Charlevoix Courier Charlevoix, Michigan Dear Mr. Towne:

I have your letter of September 20, together with the open letter editorial which you are currently running in your publication. I appreciate the spirit of your letter and your desire to help in seeing to it that the public is completely informed. I believe your questions are in general quite fair and I am glad to have this opportunity to try to answer them. I will repeat the questions in order that there may be no misunderstanding.

Q-1. Does a school in a comparatively small community such as ours need a large surrounding area like one in a large city?

I believe that a high school in your community should have an adequate site. I would not state that it would need to be as large as the two sites which I mentioned in Saginaw, but it should be adequate. As I stated at the meeting, I have had the opportunity to meet with many Boards of Education regarding building planning. I have never yet met with a Board which stated that its school site was too large. I have met with many who have regretted that an adequate site was not acquired when the new building was built. I would suggest that one way of determining the size of the site would be to lay out the space to be taken up by the activities which it is desired to have on that site. These would include the usual athletic activities, such as football, baseball, track and tennis, plus space for physical education, parking areas, driveways for off-street delivery of supplies and for delivery of children from busses.

May I quote from a publication of the National Council on School House Construction, entitled "Guide for Planning School Plants." This organization which has recently published this Guide is composed of school building specialists from all of the states of the union and I believe that the Guide represents the best thinking in the field today. I am quoting from page 42:

"For elementary schools, it is suggested that there be provided a minimum site of five acres plus an additional acre for each 100 pupils of ultimate

Boyne Gridders Coming Here This Friday

Tuesday night the Charlevoix Reserves played the Petoskey Reserves to a 0-0 tie.

Friday the Boyne City football team will come here for the second home game and the fourth contest of the present season. As always, Boyne is expected to provide one of the hardest fought games of the year.

Last Friday Charlevoix won from Grayling, 35 to 6, in a lopsided contest on the field here. As long as Coach Ray Kijke kept his first string on the field, Grayling rarely had the ball and made unimpressive gains then.

The starting lineup was: ends, Case and Smith; tackles, Loper and Shadko; guards, Burke and Potter; center, Peterson; quarter, Bill Carey; halfbacks, Dave Hardy and Bob Carey; fullback, Joliffe.

Bob Carey played his best game so far this year, when given the ball, consistently making gains. As in the previous games the line provided a tight wall on defense and opened holes when needed.

Charlevoix received and after five first downs, Joliffe made the first touchdown. Bill Carey kicked the extra point, the first of five successive ones that afternoon. Punts, and a 35 yard end run set up the second touchdown early in the second quarter.

Gaylord received, failed to gain, punted and Carey made a 23 yard end run on the first play. A touchdown soon afterward by Joliffe was called back on a penalty.

Gaylord received in the third quarter. Martin, who had been injured the week before, went in as tailback, and Bob Carey moved to end in place of Case. Line plays brought another score by Joliffe. Another touchdown followed the blocking of a punt by Charlevoix and a pass, Martin to Carey.

With most of the second string playing in the fourth period, Gaylord made two first downs. Then a pass into the end zone accounted for its lone score, the second made against Charlevoix in three years.

Charlevoix received and Dave Hardy returned the ball 30 yards. Martin added 12 yards on an end run, Bill Carey gained 6 yards through the line, then tossed a 20 yard pass to Hardy. Joliffe on an end run made 20 yards and touchdown for the final score.

Kiwanians will have two special meetings on the next two Mondays.

Oct. 13 they will have Ladies Night at the Barnard Grange Hall. A chicken pie supper will be served by the Grange. The program will consist of a color and sound movie on the National Music Camp at Interlochen, and a special comedy skit. The dinner will be at 6:30 p. m.

Oct. 20 will be the Tri-Club dinner at the Hotel Dilworth in Boyne City. Attending will be service clubs of Boyne City, East Jordan and Charlevoix. Dr. Gerald Gibbons acted for the Kiwanis Club in arranging the meeting.

White Elephant Sale to Be Held Friday, Saturday

Twelve months accumulation of good, salable merchandise will be offered Friday and Saturday at the American Legion hall when the Kiwanis Club has its annual White Elephant Sale.

"There's more of it and it's even better than usual, especially the clothing," reports F. R. Bulow, chairman.

The doors will open both mornings at 10 a. m. Proceeds go to carry on the children's work of the club.

Brothers Plan To Open New Sales, Service In City

Charlevoix will be having a new sales and service station by next summer out on US-31. That is the plan of the Parshall Brothers of Crestline, Ohio, who last Friday purchased the Alexander Duszcz property at 1212 State Street. This lot extends clear through to the state highway just south of the Kit Carson Lumber Co.

The brothers will take possession in about 30 days. They plan to make the State street house into a duplex for themselves and construct their new garage and sales room on US-31.

Both veterans of the war, they have operated a Plymouth agency and garage at their Ohio home but wanted to move to Northern Michigan.

Another property transfer last week was the sale of Frank Courcier home at 204 Hurbit to Mr. and Mrs. Herbert M. Strickland of Grand Rapids. They will move here Oct. 14.

Mr. Strickland is a professional decorator.

School Boards Will Meet Here

Members of all school boards in the county are to meet here next Wednesday for the regular session with a representative of the State Department of Public Instruction.

These meetings are called every other year. This will be at 7:30 p. m. at the high school. Members of the rural boards will be the guests at a dinner to be served in the school cafeteria.

Commissioner Leo Close is arranging the program. Transportation, tuition, the new State Aid bill, and local problems will be threshed out.

Cupid Sets New Record In September

September tied with June as the month of weddings this year, County Clerk Fenton R. Bulow has disclosed.

Twenty-five licenses were issued last month as compared to 15 in June, the traditional month of brides.

Mr. Bulow also reports that the 25 licenses set a new record as the largest number issued in one month in the 19 years he has been in office.

Mrs. August Cellner, 50, of Marion township, was killed and her daughter, Mrs. Gerald Lakles, 27, injured in an automobile accident 3 1/2 miles north of town on US-31 about 1:45 p. m., Tuesday.

The accident occurred when the Chevrolet pick-up truck driven by her daughter went out of control on the wet highway as they were picking up speed to pass another car. The truck left the road, turning over and landing about 150 ft. from the highway. Mrs. Cellner was thrown into the windshield. They were enroute home from Petoskey at the time of the crash.

Mrs. Lakles was unconscious when pulled from the wreck and was taken to the Charlevoix Hospital where she was treated for lacerations and bruises. She is expected to leave the hospital today.

Mrs. Cellner, the former Ida Pierce, was born in Marion township on Aug. 1, 1897, and spent her entire life in this community. Her husband, well-known farmer and dairyman, died in March, 1946. She was active in community affairs and was a member of the Marion Center Grange and the Farm Bureau.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Marion Lakles of this city, and Mrs. Irene O'Dell of Mt. Clemens; three sons, Charles of Pontiac, and Kenneth and Franklin of Charlevoix, all World II veterans; a brother, Ler Pierce of Lyons, Ohio, and three grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held at the St. Francis Home at 2 p. m. Friday with Rev. W. D. Wood officiating. Burial will be in the Brookside cemetery.

High School to Get Intelligence Tests

Intelligence tests will be given all high school students within the next week or so, Supt. Roy G. Bennett has announced.

The standard Otis test will be used and will be given by the high school teachers themselves, assisted by Bennett. Results of the tests will be used as a guide in a possible rearrangement of the school program better to fit the needs of the students.

Bass Are Planted In Font Lake On Island

Mrs. Herma C. Zachary and Miss Mills, of Jacksonville, Ill., who have been spending the summer at Bay View, are spending this week with Mrs. Clara Todd and other friends before returning to Illinois.

Q-3 You mentioned both Homer and Concord. How much of their large expense of open land is actually used by the school aside from elementary playground and athletic field?

I cannot answer this question specifically. The Concord school is still in the planning stage and the Homer school has just been completed. I would be willing to predict, however, that all of the space will be used and that it may (continued on page two)

Behave—Or Stay Off

Last Saturday the football-passing high school boys had to be asked once more to stay off the city park—and the city was justified in doing it.

The trouble is not with the football players. Nor is it a matter of tramping around on some grass.

It is case of willful and wanton destruction by the hang-around who gather around. Usually they are slightly smaller boys than the high school group with the pigskin.

To put it bluntly, they never have been taught that destruction of property is wrong. Their parents evidently have never seen fit to develop in their offspring any sense of citizenship or civic morals.

These younger boys, while the football is going on, have themselves a good time by tearing down light wires on the shuffleboard courts, making or breaking park seats, climbing and trying to break lamp posts, and similar playful pranks.

To save the taxpayers' money, it has been necessary to have all football in the park. Just as soon, Supt. A. G. Leitch promises, as the boys will cease wrecking property, or will take care of the vandals among themselves, the team will be lifted and football passing again will be okay in the park.

Dr. Clapp Answers Questions On School

eventually be necessary to expand even these sites somewhat.

Q-4 Of what value except for landscaping is a large neighboring area to a school like ours? (We already have a large athletic field.)

I agree that you already have a good athletic field. However, this is some distance from the present high school, which pretty largely limits its use to practice for athletic contests and to games, with considerable inconvenience in getting to and from the high school and to and from shower and sanitary facilities. The point is that the site should be used by all the children. A complete program of physical and health education is, we believe, an essential part of the educative process, perhaps even more essential than some of the commonly taught academic subjects. Certainly we must develop better health habits and must teach health habits and activity which will carry through the life span of the individual.

There is much more to physical education than the sports commonly played on an intraschool basis. We should have the kind of physical activities which suit the nature and physique of all of the individuals of the school.

We should not minimize the value of good landscaping. The school says something to the children by the very nature of the design of the building and its surroundings. It also says something to the community and to the visitor of the community about that community. We believe that every school building should be set back at least one hundred feet from the street for three reasons:

1. So that the building and surroundings may be made more beautiful.

2. To get away from the noise and dirt of traffic.

3. So that youngsters will not impetuously rush out of the building onto the street at recess or dismissal times.

I should also point out that whenever we try to place a building on a site which is too small this means that undesirable compromises must be made and that the building must be made a compact mass structure of two or more stories and possibly with some basement space utilized. Such a structure is entirely contrary to the present trends in architecture. Present school architectural trends are in the direction of lower stories for both elementary and secondary schools with some of the facilities, such as shop, science rooms, science laboratories, and cafeteria, being located in one story wings. One can readily see that this kind of architecture, which we believe is sound and which makes possible the designing of a school building which is safer and which better serves the educational program, requires a much larger site.

Q-5 What do you estimate a suitable, separate high school building would cost this community? Or how much are similar communities spending for complete new buildings?

I must refuse to give any estimate as I believe this is the function of the architect. Such an estimate can only be prepared on the basis of a specific design. Present building costs are very high, but I cannot predict whether they will go higher or lower in the near future. It would seem, however, that for the sum of money mentioned during the meeting for proposed construction and alterations on the existing site, a considerable portion, if not all of the complete high school, could be built on the new site.

Q-6 Could this district, with an evaluation of $3,742,501, finance an entire new building in five years?

Legally, I presume the building could be financed in five years, inasmuch as the absolute ceiling for county, school district, and township taxes combined is fifty mills, and the legal bonding limit is fifteen percent of the assessed valuation. From a practical standpoint, however, I do not think that it will be possible to obtain the approval of a two-thirds majority of the qualified electors for any such tax rate. Just how much of an increase in the tax rate the electors would approve is problematical, but probably an increase of between ten and fifteen mills for five years for the construction of the first unit of a new high school might be thought to be reasonable. Such a tax would finance the construction of the first unit of the building.

Q-7 Would it be possible and practicable for us to attempt building a separate high school piecemeal and so spread the cost over more years?

I believe that it would be possible and practical to attempt to build a separate high school over a period of years by scheduling the construction of certain units at a time. I must hasten to add, however, that there would be no doubt certain inconveniences which would have to be put up with for awhile.

Q-8 Would it be difficult to operate a high school in two parts? Would the State Department approve a program which had music, shop, gym, and laboratories in one building and classrooms in another, a half mile or so distant?

There would be some difficulty in operating a high school in two parts. The extent of these difficulties would depend upon the care which was used in deciding on what part of the building would be built first, as well as upon the skill used in the formulation of the daily high school program. The State Department would be glad to assist the local administration in designing the program and would, I am sure, approve such a program.

Q-9 Does it cost more to operate two separate buildings than one, each with its own cafeteria, heating plant, gym, shops and janitor staffs?

I believe that the two buildings which you would operate, namely the existing elementary school building and the new high school building, are of sufficient size so that the cost of operation insofar as heating and janitor service would not be materially increased. There would, however, be some duplication of facilities, it is true. This would be true of the cafeteria.

Would it not be possible, however, to design one kitchen adequate to prepare food for both buildings with hot food being transported to the unit which did not have the kitchen. This scheme is used in the Mount Pleasant schools and works satisfactorily, I believe.

Insofar as the shop is concerned, I doubt if there would be much joint use of shop facilities by the elementary school and the high school. The kind of shop facilities provided for high school and community use are hardly adaptable to the kind of shop program which is recommended for elementary school children. Elementary school shop has a heavy emphasis on arts and crafts and the size of the benches, cutting equipment, and materials would be different than would be the facilities for a high school general shop, farm shop, automotive shop, or machine shop.

If a new high school were built on a different location, it would of course be desirable to have a new gymnasium, and of course the present gymnasium, while not considered adequate for high school games is larger than one would ordinarily design for an elementary school playground. It is possible, however, that the existing gymnasium might be remodeled somewhat, to provide needed facilities in connection with the elementary school playground. Until the new gymnasium was constructed the old gymnasium could be used for high school purposes, although this would be rather inconvenient, but perhaps no more inconvenient than the present arrangement by which the pupils have to be transported to the athletic field for outdoor athletics. I would add, incidentally, that expanding the present gymnasium to provide greater seating capacity is rather difficult and would result in undesirable features.

Q-10 If you believe we should start now to accumulate a sinking fund for a new building, what are we to do during the next ten years to relieve the present inefficient overcrowding, and almost total lack of shop, music and agricultural program space?

I believe this question assumes that the district would start a sinking fund and would build the first unit two years from now. The law provides that such a fund may be raised by five-year periods. Frankly, I cannot answer what could be done during the five-year period to provide needed facilities. Perhaps the answer is not to start a sinking fund with construction delayed five years, but rather to bond and begin construction in the near future on the needed facility. I think such construction should not be temporary or opportunistic, but rather that this should be a step in the accomplishment of a sound long-term plan.

I am sure that you and your constituents will understand that the primary purpose of our office is not to be arbitrarily regulative, but rather to be of as much help as possible to your community in the working out of a sound long-term solution to the problem.

Frankly, I hope that the solution will be in terms of my recommendations because I have seen many other communities make the mistake which I think Charlevoix would be making if it should engage in construction on its existing site. These communities have practically without exception later regretted this mistake.

Yours very truly,
Wilfred F. Clapp, Chief,
Division of School Plant

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

How to Tell You're Getting Old

Doc Walters gave me this formula: It's a sure-fire sign you're getting old when you resent other people having a good time.

And the Doc means it hasn't much to do with age. There are old folks in our town who get a big kick out of seeing other people enjoy themselves—seems to keep them young in spirit, with a twinkle in their eyes!

And there are some others who resent the young folks going fishing; who feel that community games and dances are just a waste of time; or who criticize temperate people for enjoying a mellow glass of beer with friends.

They're often well-intentioned folks, too. But from where I sit, the minute we criticize our neighbors for enjoying wholesome pleasures—like a game of horseshoes, a glass of beer, or an afternoon's fishing—it's a sure sign we're growing old (in spirit anyway) no matter what our age is.

Lieberman-Goldstick Nuptials Celebrated

The Georgian room of the Hotel Continental, Kansas City, Mo., was the scene of the marriage of Miss Rosalyn Lieberman, daughter of Mrs. David J. Lieberman of Atchison, Kan., and Clarence Goldstick of this city, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Edward Goldstick at 3 p. m. Sept. 23.

Rabbi Gershon Hadas officiated at the double ring service performed under the traditional canopy at the improvised altar.

Given in marriage by her uncle, Sam Sher of Independence, Mo., the bride chose a gown of candlelight satin. Her finger-tip lace fell from a pearl tiara and she carried an arm bouquet of white roses.

Mrs. Meyer Rozen of Tulsa, Okla., sister of the bride was matron of honor. Her gown was of aqua crepe. Bridesmaids were Mrs. George Shuek and Mrs. Ralph Taylor both of Atchinson. They were gowned in melon crepe. Carol Renee Rozen of Tulsa, niece of the bride was flower girl.

Harry Goldstick of Boston was his brother's best man and the groomsmen and ushers were Mr. Shuek and Mr. Taylor of Atchison and Howard Sher of Kansas City, cousin of the bride.

Immediately following the service a reception was held at the hotel.

The bride is a graduate of the Atchison high school. She was president of the Medical Assistants Society, a member of the Beta Sigma Phi and until her marriage was medical assistant in a doctor's office. The bridegroom graduated from the Charlevoix high school and during World War II served 4 years in the Army, 21 months of which were spent in the South Pacific. He is employed at the N & R Cement Products Co.

After a wedding trip the couple have arrived here to make their home at 201 Burns st.

Treasure Hunt Won In 90 Minutes

Experience and fast thinking paid off at the treasure hunt last Sunday evening when the Ivan Phillips, Herb Campbell and Frank Curtis families won the event in an hour and a half.

Put on by John Knight, assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Henley and Mrs. Knight, it attracted a dozen cars. Like all hunts, it was open to anyone in the community who wished to enter.

The clues were: 1. Inside Charlevoix city limits; 2. wild fowl; 3. charges; 4. man's name, card game; 5. impartial ridges; 6. get your girl; 7. kiss, WMBM; 8. island bridge; 9. native hack; 10. seasoning heirs; 11. game, woo. Answers are given on page six.

Next Sunday the winners of last week's hunt will put on the next one. It starts at 8:30 p. m. at the softball field.

IT HAPPENED ON . . . BEAVER ISLAND

By Mrs. J. C. Henley

The spurt of cold weather has turned our thoughts towards wood piles, oil supplies, chinking up cracks, cleaning stove pipes and how is Junior fixed for winter.

With a spread of catalogues before them, mothers are selecting winter clothing for the family. One may feel a little dizzy after looking and laiking and trying to decide, but it's a lot better than coming home with achey feet and a splitting headache from a crowded downtown section.

Carl Keubler left by plane Monday for Battle Creek upon receiving word of the death of his brother-in-law.

Mr. and Mrs. Roger Carlisle are regular commuters from Indianapolis to Beaver Island. They arrived during the week with their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Chaffin of East Lansing.

Charles Davis and George Gebhard of Indianapolis, are guests at the King Strang Hotel.

Members of the Altar Society of Holy Cross church met at the Parish Hall Wednesday afternoon. Plans for the coming year were discussed. Mrs. Edwin McCann, president presided at the meeting.

Perch fishermen are bringing in nice hauls.

Willie Ricksgers, jogging along in his two wheel cart presents a picturesque sight—like something out of a story book.

Mary Malloy, Bernadette Malloy, Charlotte McDonough, Patricia O'Donnell, Sally and Roland Cull spent their free days in Charlevoix.

Mrs. Mike Cull, Mrs. Vestie McDonough, Mrs. Tess Hiltz and Hugh Connaghan left by plane Friday to attend the funeral of their sister, Mrs. Wesley Roushard of Escanaba.

Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Mark, Birmingham, have been the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Spaulding. The Marks left by plane Friday along with Mrs. Spaulding and her mother, Mrs. C. E. Portt. Mrs. Spaulding and Mrs. Portt have started out on a vacation that will take them to Pontiac, where they will visit Bill and Marge Spaulding, to New York City and Syracuse, N. Y. Returning, Mrs. Spaulding plans on visiting her daughter, Jean in South Bend.

Dan Green has returned from Little Traverse Hospital where he has been under medical care. Mrs. Edwin McCann and son, Michael, were in Charlevoix for a few days.

Patsy Webster was here for a few days to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Webster. Patsy, who is attending school in Petoskey, brought as her guest, Sally Thomas, one of her school mates.

A good many Saturday night balls were postponed due to the Martin's fire, but some of the fire fighters had a sweat bath working close to a blazing house. Cooperation runs high in a small community when there's trouble. Everyone turns out and is willing to help. That's the way it is on the Island.

Jewell Gillespie jumped into one of the windows of the burning house to assist in directing the fire fighters. A trap door under the window was open and Jewell landed in the basement. Jewell said, "I got out much quicker than I went in."

Buster Elm's father rushed to the scene with his bucket. A veteran in fighting fires with bucket brigades, he came prepared.

We are thankful for the Coast Guards. They came to assist in all emergencies on the Island. Chief Van Erke and his boys deserve a word of praise.

St. James Classes Elect Officers

The election of class officers in St. James high school has taken place with the following results:

In the freshman class, Margaret Connaghan was elected president and Sally Cull as secretary-treasurer.

Office for president in the sophomore class fell to Jay McDonough and Mary Margaret Greene was elected secretary-treasurer.

The Junior class chose for their officers Charlotte McDonough as president and Mary Malloy as secretary-treasurer.

The seniors picked Madonna McDonough president and Jack O'Donnell as secretary-treasurer.

Martin Home On Island Destroyed

A fire of undetermined origin started in the Shing Martin home Saturday about 8 p. m.

The fire which was discovered by Shing's son, John, had gained a good start before the alarm was sent out.

All available fire fighting equipment from the Coast Guard and Conservation Department was put into use. By motor, water was pumped from the lake through fire hose. Two steady streams of water poured on the blazing house for two hours. Chemical fire extinguishers, hand pumped, were also used.

The home which had not been used since June was destroyed, but the fire fighters succeeded in keeping the fire from spreading. Since a strong wind was blowing it was feared other homes would become ignited. It is reported no insurance was carried on the home.

Pair of Twins Arrive At Beaver Island

St. James—Beaver Island has a new pair of twins, born Monday morning. And they caused considerable of a flurry.

They are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Martin. When Dr. Russell Palmer left two weeks ago, he wasn't expecting the Martin baby for three weeks. But instead of one it was two; and one full week ahead of schedule.

Monday morning there was a hurry-up call for Mrs. Bridget Sandenburg and Mrs. Elsie O'Donnell. The first baby arrived. A call was put in for Drs. G. B. Saltonstall and L. E. Grate at Charlevoix who flew over in time to deliver the second one. Both boys and Mrs. Martin are doing fine.

Baby Daughter of Gillespies Dies

St. James—Suzanne Marx, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jewell Gillespie died Sunday, September 28.

Burial services were held the next morning at Holy Cross church. The baby was born Sept. 14, and had not been well since birth.

The Boyne City Artificial Breeders Association is progressing. The directors decided to send Curtis Nicely down to school to become the inseminator manager. Nicely left for Michigan State College Oct. 6 and will be back in two weeks. When Nicely returns, the Boyne City ABA will be ready to start operation.

Farmers are asked to join now if they wish to secure services. Quite often some farmers want to wait until the Association is going before they join. This puts a hardship on the other members who are trying to foster a Association.

Fighting Frost

Possibility that upwards of 100 of the Michigan State College designed frost fighters will be manufactured by next spring was announced this week. Fruit and vegetable growers were warned, however, that they may have to wait another year before large-scale production, field testing and proving, will make it possible to place them on the market in large numbers.

In a step toward getting commercial production college officials have named the Detroit Agricultural-Industrial Foundation to be the agent for licensing of manufacture and distribution of the frost fighter. This foundation was set up by the Detroit Board of Commerce.

The college will continue research work to improve the efficiency and design of the frost fighter. Tests will also be conducted to develop the machine for protection of various specific types of crops.

Tests have shown the frost fighter capable of protecting crops from frost and freezing in a limited area when temperatures drop as low as eight degrees below the 32 degree freezing mark.

Farrall points out that if a sufficient number of frost fighters are available this spring they will be tested in the field in various parts of Michigan on different crops and some may be tested in care of the potato digging and storing.

Late blight and field rot are two common causes of potatoes rotting. Although the blight was light over Michigan this year, farmers shouldn't take a chance with the infection. Sometimes potatoes from fields only lightly infected with the late blight rot easily in storage where the dirt and moisture on the potatoes favor the growth of the blight rot. It's always safer, according to the potato specialists, to wait until the vines are killed by frost to start harvesting. Potatoes showing late blight rot should not be put into permanent storage when dug. Place them in pits or temporary storage and sort them carefully two or more times before storing them for the winter. At each sorting, all potatoes showing the characteristic reddish-brown blight spots on the skin should be discarded. Field-frosted or chilled potatoes should be handled much the same as stocks affected with blight. They should be put in temporary storage for two weeks or more and carefully sorted several times. If not sorted, a few bushels of bad potatoes may cause spoilage of thousands of bushels of good potatoes.

Bacot Escapes Hurt In Racing Accident

Silver Jack, the gray gelding owned and raced by Ralph Bacot of Charlevoix, caused a lot of excitement at the VanBuren County Fair at Hartford last Friday.

In the 2:20 pace one wheel of Bacot's sulky broke, throwing him to the ground and scaring the horse into running away. Bacot was dragged 30 feet before he got loose. Then the gelding proceeded to break the sulky to pieces while he was circling the track five times by himself.

In a picture taken on the track and carried in the Kalamazoo Gazette, the horse is dragging two halves of the sulky, but still is holding his pace gait.

Because he finished third and second in the first two heats, Silver Jack was awarded fourth place money by the judges. Bacot had only slight bruises.

Mrs. Robert E. Ross has returned to Chicago after spending the summer at her Chicago Club cottage.

Religion Needed To Control Science, Kiwanians Told

Religion and radar must be more closely connected for the good of the world, it was pointed out to the Kiwanis Club members Monday night by two speakers.

Dr. Earl Martin, professor at Anderson College who is conducting a series of meetings here at the Church of God, spoke on religion. Saying he is a pessimist and sees only disaster ahead, Dr. Martin stated flatly that the world must have not only a religious revival but a religious revolution in men's thinking and acting.

"We're living in a period like that of the Reformation and Re-naisance, when new ideas and new tools developed almost too fast for men to control both them and himself. Today we have fair mastery of the new scientific tools, as exemplified by the atom bomb and radar. But we must learn to guide our lives righteously if our new tools are not to mean our destruction." Only goodness and vision in men's hearts, he said, can give us this moral control.

Ibsen Nordrum, former Charlevoix resident, and now an engineer at the Signal Corps laboratory at Redbank, N. J., spoke on radar. He strongly commended Dr. Martin's remarks and said that those closest to the military and new scientific development felt most strongly the need for such moral control.

Radar, he explained, technically is simply a specialized form of radio. The name was coined from "radio direction and ranging." American radio men first stumbled on it in 1923 and 1924. The British found out about it soon afterward and developed it much faster.

It was a vital factor in winning the Battle of Britain by giving the British early warning of the oncoming Nazi planes. Unlike broadcast radio, it uses an extremely short and extra high frequency wave. This high frequency wave, up in the 100 million times a second, bounces back from objects instead of past them as does radio. When it bounces back it is received on a screen similar to television and reveals what is ahead.

Radar requires only small antennae but more power than any commercial station. Because of the speed of the waves, 186,000 miles a second, the signals have to be short, lasting only millionths of a second.

Chief peace time uses are on ships, especially in fog or strange waters, on planes and particularly when the latter are landing or flying over mountainous country.

Sloan Built Approach Bridge 36 Years Ago

One man here watched the destruction of the old bridge approach with considerable pride, and a little sadness, last week.

He was Robert Sloan, who was in charge of the construction work 36 years ago next month.

The lumber-like men were using a 4200 weight and a power crane to break the reinforced concrete carried on the steel I-beams. And they were having plenty of trouble.

Considering the fact that the approach was built in the days when a two ton truck was a big one and that the bridge has held up all these years with no repairs except resurfacing, Sloan was feeling proud of his work.

Youngs Are Hosts To Realtor Board

Mr. and Mrs. Earl A. Young were hosts to the members of the Antrim-Charlevoix Board of Realtors Sept. 28 at Houston's on Michigan avenue.

Young is president of the two county Board and a director of the State Association of Real Estate Boards.

Varied Program Is Given At Annual Booster Night

Grangers and visitors made up the large crowd which attended the annual Booster Night of the Barnard Grange last Friday night.

The program was opened by community singing, and a prayer by the chaplain, Mrs. Hazel Murray. Acting master Allen Bolhuis read the message of the national master. The lecturer, Mrs. William Parsons, then called on the following:

Mrs. Marie Hilton, reading; L. E. Towe, a talk comparing western with Michigan farming; John Fratrack, jokes; Betty Warner, piano solo; Mr. and Mrs. Myron Wertman, playlet.

John Rosquist and Sam Campbell were given a pile of newspapers, plenty of pins and told to fashion paper dresses for their wives. Rose Ager gave a recitation; William Parsons, a talk on Farm Facts and Fancies; Mrs. T. Demoroukas, recitation; Mrs. Murray, a memorial to departed Grange workers.

Mr. and Mrs. John Fratrack gave a skit; a piano duet was played by Roberta Swanson and Janice Stutzman; Ha McKay gave a recitation; Patricia and Joyce Murray sang; and W. J. McKay led in some stunts.

Final numbers were a linsbad calling contest by three women, and cow calling by three men.

Skating Party Staged In Garage

Something new in parties was staged Sunday by H. O. Krahnke for his daughter, Gail, and some 25 of her friends.

The cement floor of the long storage room at the Auto Electric garage was mopped off, the cars all moved outside, and the youngsters invited for a roller skating party.

The car hoist was raised until it was table height, boards laid on it, and was used for the phonograph which provided music, and as table from which to dispense pop and doughnuts.

Mr. Krahnke and Glenn Rose chaperoned the party and helped pick up those who sat down hard. No serious bruises resulted and the youngsters had a fine time for three hours.

News of folks, your neighbors and mine... but did you know that—

I think that the poet who talked about October's melancholy days must have been looking at the world through dark glasses. Can you see anything melancholy about these days when the world is a symphony of color? Just walk down any of our streets. They look as though Mother Nature had thrown a crimson scarf about her shoulders. Sunday was a busy day for folks going color touring. You know it's twice as much fun to fill up your car, take someone who does not get out often. What a heap of enjoyment it brings! Aili Gustafson, the Home Economics teacher at high school can read, write and speak Finnish as well as English, a rare accomplishment in view of the fact that Finnish is a most difficult language to master. Last summer she had a responsible position in New York City as an interpreter.

Birthday congratulations to Edene Pesenden. Saturday night before she went partying she said to her son, "Let mother give you a good night kiss. This will be the last time she can kiss you while she is still 21." To which she laughingly said, young Tommy gave a sardonic "Hah." Well, it is alright to feel that young anyway, Edene. Just keep up the old spirit... A perfect time to go honeymooning for George and Marguerite Young Currie. Wouldn't it be glorious to drive to Seattle now? And then they will drive to Boston to live. Mr. Currie's parents live in Seattle. Hunters will soon be here en masse. Personal nomination for a peach of an all-around gal, Carrie Sessions.

Mr. and Mrs. Len Carey have just returned from a 1600 mile trip through Canada and Niagara Falls via Detroit. Mr. Carey's sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. George Papineau, of Dearborn accompanied them on the trip. While in Canada they visited at Mt. Forest with Mr. and Mrs. William Reynolds and at Canboro with Mr. Carey's aunt, Miss Jennie Carey. Then came Niagara Falls and Mrs. Carey said this was a realization of a desire of 33 years. They were not disappointed and thoroughly enjoyed every minute of it while they were there.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. King will be leaving next Monday for their Chicago home after their summer in Charlevoix. They have especially enjoyed their October days here and plan to come back early next year. Mr. King said it was 40 years ago last Sunday, way back in '07 that they came to Charlevoix for the first time, having to make the drive down from Petoskey. They really feel like old settlers now. It's needless to say that they caught the Charlevoix spirit years ago.

Necessity is the mother of invention, we are told and Georgia Glover was sure proof last Sunday. Just before church time she had the misfortune to cut her finger. No handy first aid kit about (she had just moved in her apartment) so she had to think fast. There she sat in church with the cut thumb held together with a postage stamp and a one-cent one at that! Monday night his suggestion was given on the program and his prize was announced: a Johnson 5-horse twin outboard which is being shipped to him.

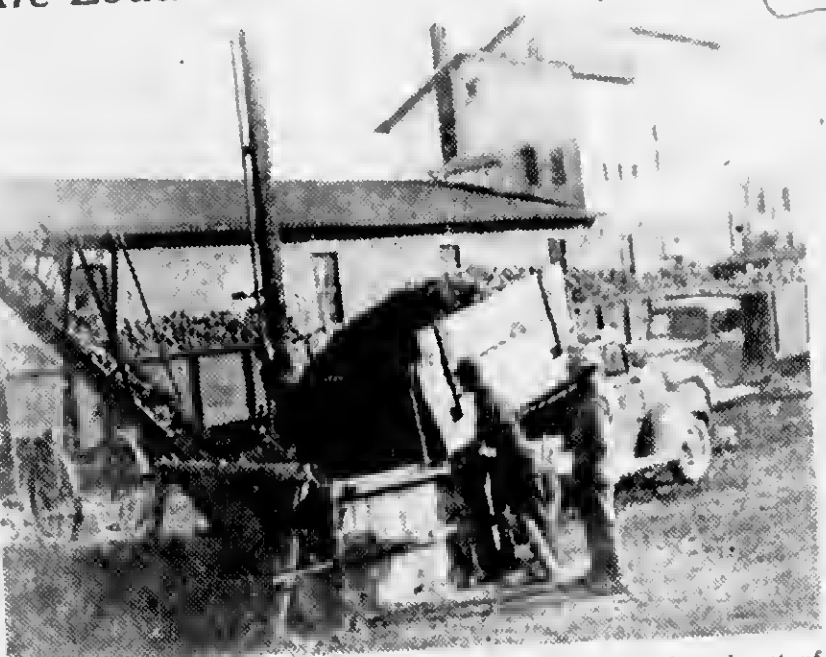

Livestock Is Shipped From Beaver Island
Livestock is coming across the lake these days from Beaver Island. Monday night the North Shore arrived with 36 head of cattle and 22 sheep. They were taken from here to the Tuesday livestock auction at Traverse City. Capt. Jack Lyons of the boat arrived here Saturday from a lengthy lumber and post selling trip through southern Michigan. He left again Wednesday for Detroit.

Shown above are the first sugar beets to be shipped out of Charlevoix in at least 25 years. They were being loaded Friday at the Co-Op siding.

In the foreground are M. Ruhling and Robert Potter with Harry Potter beyond the truck. The beets in the first truck were raised by Dick Potter of Barnard. The second truck belongs to J. Peedles of Atwood.

200 Blood Donors Asked to Register

Volunteer blood donors in Charlevoix county wishing to participate in the local civilian blood donors clinic to be held at the Dilworth Hotel in Boyne City, on Oct. 30 and 31 are asked to register before Oct. 27.

It is possible to care for ten registrations every half hour. The hours the collection center will be open are as follows: Thursday, Oct. 30, 1:00 to 2:30 p. m. and 5:00 to 6:30 p. m. and Friday, Oct. 31, 9:00 to 10:30 a. m. and 1:00 to 2:30 p. m.

It is necessary that Charlevoix county furnish 200 volunteer donors. Men and women between 18 and 50 are urged to register. The blood plasma processed from the blood given at this collection will be returned to the hospitals in this area to be used for the sick and injured as needed. Registration cards may be obtained from the Courier office, Mrs. E. J. Edwards, Mrs. Dean Davenport, Ralph Hamilton and Frances Martin, or you may register by calling any of the individuals named above.

Boat Explosion Leads to Radio Prize

Sometimes a cloud does have a silver lining. Last summer, the Don Conneys had their newly purchased motor boat blow up and burn when gas accumulated in the bilge and motor cover. Conney sent in a suggestion for preventing such serious accidents to the Fishing & Hunting Club of the Air. Monday night his suggestion was given on the program and his prize was announced: a Johnson 5-horse twin outboard which is being shipped to him.

Angus Leitch was on Bridge Street Tuesday afternoon for the first time in more than a week. He has been in the hospital having a bout with some pneumonia bugs. Said he was feeling pretty good although was a bit weak as yet.

Eveline to Vote on Liquor Sale Next Tuesday

The 340 qualified voters of Eveline township will have an opportunity to decide whether or not to allow the sale of liquor by the glass in the township when they vote at a special election on Tuesday.

The township board had earlier denied permission to Emil (Jack) McDermott to build and operate a tavern at Ironton. When he circulated a petition and acquired the proper number of signatures, a special election to decide the issue had to be called.

McDermott, who is requesting permission for the tavern, has lived in Ironton since Sept. 1946, shortly after his discharge from the Army. His wife is the former Yvonne Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Williams. He was formerly a bus driver on the Detroit to Charlevoix run.

Road Program to Be Discussed Thursday

Working on routine matters since their convening Monday, the Board of Supervisors has set Thursday at 1:30 as the time for a special meeting on the road problem.

Then the Board, the Road Commissioners and the school superintendents of the county will meet in the Supervisors' room to try to work out the best program possible for snow removal on township roads.

The school roads were called in because so much of the school bus routes are on township roads and if these are not plowed school transportation will be affected.

50 Folks Take Part In Treasure Hunt

Sunday night was perfect for Treasure Hunt weather and some 50 folks met at the hall park at 8:30 to participate in the chase. The winners proved to be the Lyle Miles, the Norm Annes and the Getch Campfields again.

Staged by the Ivan Phillips, the Herb Campbell and the Frank Curtis families, the clues were very clever and the race proved to be a close one. The clues were: 1—Ten of hearts without the hearts; 2—Michigan color; 3—EAOJOUHILWSEES; 4—Old letters; 5—Don't expect Priscilla over to night; 6—Oscillates; 7—Short Mississippi Big House; 8—Brush her off; 9—Beam clipper; 10—Grm town; 11—Abyss depot; 12—Short verb.

For the benefit of those are chair treasure hunters, the answers will be found elsewhere in the paper.

Council Asks Foundation Bids

Now bids are being asked by the City Council on the concrete foundation for the new diesel generator at the power plant. Monday night two bids were received and opened by the Council. After consultation with Hamilton and Weeber of Grand Rapids it was decided to ask for new bids as the first two were deemed too high.

Pomona Grange Will Elect Officers

The Charlevoix Pomona Grange will meet Friday at 8:30 p. m. in the Peninsula Grange Hall.

Officers for the next two years will be chosen during the business session. Potluck lunch will be served afterwards.

LAST HOME GAME

Unbeaten Rayders Play East Jordan Friday

Friday the undefeated Rayders will play their last home game of the 1947 season when East Jordan comes here.

The two remaining games, Harbor Springs and Pellston, both are away.

Last Friday Boyne City gave the Charlevoix boys their toughest game of the year, holding them to a 19-0 score outplaying them during the final half.

Charlevoix had things pretty much its own way during the first half. The Rayders made four scores, but their 1947 jinx showed up again. A penalty on the scoring play took away the fourth touchdown.

They did noticeably better blocking during the first half than the second. In fact, in the second period they gave plenty of indication of being a tired team.

As his starting lineup, Coach Ray Kipp sent in Bob Carey and Ross Case at end, Arnie Loper and Warren Shadko as tackles; Don Burke and Hiram Pot-

Dow Athletic Cage Champions Will Meet City Team in Hospital Benefit

Keith Carey will again play in his old high school gym here Oct. 28 when the Dow Chemical basketball team comes here.

The game will be a benefit for the new Hospital Building Fund. Opposing the Dow team will be the newly organized Charlevoix Independents, sponsored by the Michigan Cleaners. Built around the same squad which played last year, this year's team include Chick Gallagher, Bill Lusk, Bernie Zeitler, Bernie Ward, Don McGinnis, Bob Bergmann, Emeral Chew and Bob Pearl. They are being coached by Dean Davenport, and had their first practice last Wednesday.

The Dow five this year is a member of the National Basketball League. For years the Midland team has tried to get into the league but has been turned down because officials held the Midland gymnasium was inadequate for league play.

This year the big Elm IMA gym was offered the Dow team as a home floor and the application was accepted. Aside from three pre-season games in the North, the Midland squad will play only league contests.

These three are here Oct. 28; at Gaylord on Oct. 29; and at Petoskey Oct. 30. At the Petoskey date the Elks team will play the game being a benefit for the Winter Carnival. Both the Charlevoix and Gaylord dates were arranged with the help of the Winter Sports Carnival committee.

Ladies Shown Interlochen Film

A color film, "Youth Builds a Symphony", telling the story of the National Music Camp at Interlochen was shown Monday night at the Kiwanis Ladies Night at Barnard.

The chicken supper was served by the Barnard Grange ladies to 72. Chairman Howard Brumm introduced Mrs. Thomas Denaroutkas who gave a humorous reading. Afterward the picture was screened by Officer Joseph Elene of the Coast Guard.

The next meeting of the club will be Monday at the Hotel Dilworth in Boyne City, when the service clubs of Boyne, East Jordan and Charlevoix gather.

Frank Sneath Heads Grange

Frank Sneath was elected the new Master of the Maple Grove Grange at the annual meeting of the order.

The other officers are: Overseer, Paul White; lecturer, Minnie Burke, steward, William Allison; chaplain, L. Sneath; assistant steward, George Smith; treasurer, Otto Kane; secretary, Clara Kane; gate keeper, Gerald Barker; Ceres, Dolores Winnick; Pomona, Winnie Allison; Flora, Pauline Winnick; member of executive board, Lee Sneath.

Coleman Addresses Boyne City C of C

S. E. Coleman last Thursday night addressed the Chamber of Commerce at Boyne City.

He was the principal speaker at the opening of the annual membership drive there.

First Playground Accident At School

The first serious playground mishap at school occurred Friday when Amanda Lovelace, 8-year-old third grader, fell from a slide and fractured her left wrist.

After being treated and having a cast applied at the Charlevoix Hospital, she was dismissed to the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Willis Cross, Jr.

Herman Medsker, who has been a patient at the Charlevoix Hospital for several weeks while recuperating from injuries received when his team ran away, was dismissed to his home in Hayes township last Thursday.

Mystery of the Missing Farms

Yep, the number of farms in America is shrinking (by a quarter-million in the last five years!). What's happened to the missing farms? The land has been taken in by other farms, increasing the average size by twenty acres!

Does this growth mean farming's no longer a family enterprise? Just the opposite! More families own farms today than ever—only with labor-saving equipment they can handle more land, more work.

That's as it should be. The family farm is a fortress of democracy—where our free, American life is secure. Where every member co-operates and shares the work... living together in temperance and tolerance—temperance that prefers a moderate beverage like beer, and tolerance for a taste that may be different from one's own.

From where I sit, our Family Farms (and they're 98% of all farms) are something that this country can be proud of!

Lansing Singer
Gives Fine Concert
Friday Night

Singing to a high school auditorium only partially filled, Norma Lou Gregg Friday night gave her audience an hour and a half of excellent music.

The Lansing soprano, brought here by the Kiwanis Club, lived up to her advance reputation of being a fine singer. Her program included Mozart, Brahms, Faust, folk songs. She handled them all easily.

Clear enunciation and unusually mature voice, good stage presence, clear and full notes even on the high ones—she combined them all. She was especially pleasing and seemed more at home with the light and hitting numbers like Victor Herbert's Italian Street Song.

Her accompanist, Mary Goodell of Lansing, played three piano numbers and showed herself a comparable musician.

Mrs. Johnson Installed
As Head of Auxiliary

At the business meeting which followed, Mrs. Kaminsky gave a detailed report on the American Legion convention held in New York last month.

The 40 members present then enjoyed a social hour and refreshments served at tables decorated with autumn leaves and fruits.

Those who attended from here were Mrs. Johnson, Mrs. Walstad, Mrs. Allard, Mrs. A. T. Bennett, Mrs. Bert Carey, Mrs. W. E. Goss, Mrs. Leo Powers, Mrs. Tom Baet, Mrs. C. H. Sternberg and Mrs. Robert Miller.

Perch Most-Caught

Fish In Michigan

In the twentieth year of the random sampling creel census, 1946, conservation officers interviewed 46,041 fishermen. Institute for fisheries research analysis of the interview records, just completed, found the anglers had been rewarded with 1.3 fish per hour, an 18 per cent improvement over the year before.

In the 1946 census year, perch displaced bluegill as the fish most often caught in Michigan waters. Great Lakes fishing continued to yield a higher catch per hour than inland lakes or streams.

Three plays failed to gain and Carey punted into the stands. Boyne quick kicked on the second play. Bob Carey with effective interference took the ball around end for 30 yards as the quarter ended.

Boyne's Owen Moore was the star of the fourth quarter. Charlevoix, after two incomplete passes and a line buck lost the ball to the Charlevoix 40. There a fumble on an attempted punt lost Boyne the ball. Bill Carey and Jolliffe picked up 17 yards. Hardy went around end to the 19 but a 15 yard penalty was called for clipping.

IT HAPPENED ON BEAVER ISLAND

By Mrs. J. C. Hanley

Dr. Palmer was a very disappointed man when he returned to discover a pair of twins had been born while he was away. During his twenty years on the Island he has never had the experience of bringing twins into the world.

The Martins have named their twin sons Francis Ernest and Daniel Emmet.

A drive through the deslately wooded sections of the Island is breathtaking in the summer, but words to describe the beauty now are hard to find. The riot of colors coupled with autumn sunshine makes one feel "it's great to be alive."

Lillian Gallagher, who went shopping on the mainland, came home a much happier but poorer person, so she says. "We'll be watching for that new fur coat."

Dr. and Mrs. Russell Palmer have returned from their vacation to Canada.

Joe "Howery" Gallagher was in Charlevoix for medical attention this past week. Joe came home with quite a diet to follow. Said Joe, "I'm just too sweet for my own good."

Mrs. Steve Dubell, Charlevoix was on the Island visiting friends for a few days.

From the loads of peaches the North Shore is bringing across, there's a lot of canning going on.

Donald McDonough is working on the North Shore.

Mrs. Mary Bennett and two sons formerly from near Big Rapids, have moved to the Island and are occupying a home on the Point. The boys have entered McKinley school.

The first monthly meeting of the Altar Society was held Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Vernon LaFreniere. Preparations are under way for the Christmas bazaar, which the Altar Society will sponsor. Needles will fly at future meetings to make articles for the fancy work booth.

Mrs. LaFreniere was assisted by Mrs. Edwin McCann and Mrs. Lawrence McDonough.

Conversation will deviate from business at a ladies meeting. At the Altar Society meeting, Winnie McDonough, who has just returned from an extended vacation, told some hair raising and eye poppin' tales about new styles in ladies fashions. What have we done to deserve such treatment from designers!

Rita McCauley, Pontiac, is visiting her mother for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Wright have closed their Island home and are on their way to Miami to spend the winter.

James Carpenter's hand was cut while working in his saw mill Friday. Fourteen stitches were necessary to close up the cut.

Mrs. Rose McCann, Charlevoix came over Saturday to visit her sister, Mrs. Patty Early.

A number of hook and line fishermen are here for the perch season.

Duck season opened Wednesday. Nimrods took to the most likely spot for their kill and some were very successful.

A group made up of Walter Wojan, Donald Cole, Bruce and Buddy McDonough came home with a dozen ducks on the first day. A duck feast took place at McDonough's with every one around the table having a whole roasted duck apiece.

The Catholic Action Cell Group have elected their officers for the coming year. Mary Malloy was elected leader; Joy McDonough, secretary; Charlotte McDonough was re-elected treasurer.

Tech. Sgt. Gene Connaghan is now stationed at Steinburg, Germany. He is in the hospital with a very bad case of blood poisoning.

The village livened up over the week-end with the influx of auto dealers who enjoyed the outing given by K&L and Co., of Petoskey.

October is the month of vacations for those on the Island who can get away.

Leaving Saturday, Vernon and Musette LaFreniere are on their way by motor to Port Huron, across the Blue Water Bridge to Canada and on to Niagara Falls.

Mr. and Mrs. James W. Gallagher left Monday for two weeks on the mainland. They will spend a while in Traverse City where James will exchange cows for cash. The rest of the time will be spent in Grand Rapids where the dentist and the doctor will receive some of the cash from the Gallagher.

Well sho nuf—Pete Rivers and your B. I. reporter were born and bred in practically the same briar patch down in Atlanta, Ga. Pete and his wife departed for the south Monday after being on the Island two months.

The Natural Science class of St. James high school are bringing in all kinds of specimens to study. This past week, Dorothy Lee McCann brought in an eel, the menace of Great Lakes fishermen. Dorothy's father lifted the eel with his catch of fish.

Plans are being completed to initiate the freshmen of St. James high this coming Friday evening at the Parish Hall. The plans are being kept a dark secret.

New Officers Are Installed By W.C.T.U.

Twenty-five members of the W. C. T. U. Friday attended the first meeting of the year at the home of Mrs. Mary Kerr.

The program was in charge of the local ministers' wives assisted by Mrs. Ethel Hamlin. Mrs. A. B. Claypoole led the devotions.

The program, which was divided into three sections devoted to family life, was in charge of Mrs. Gaylord Howell, who spoke on "The Physical Family"; Mrs. W. D. Wood whose subject was "The Ideals of a Christian Family" and Mrs. Hamlin whose topic was "God's Family."

An impressive installation of new officers and a dedication of new members was given by Mrs. Guy Smith. The new officers are president, Mrs. John Funk; vice president, Mrs. Ernest Howe; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Floyd Bartholomew; recording secretary, Mrs. Kerr; treasurer, Mrs. Hamlin.

Dolphin Supernaw Rites Held Friday

Funeral services for Dolphin Supernaw, 89, former resident, were held at St. Mary's church at 10:30 a. m. Friday.

Burial was in the Norwood cemetery. He died at his home in Flint on Wednesday.

Born in Ellensburg Center, N. Y., he came to Michigan as a young man and lived in this community until going to Flint about 20 years ago. He formerly resided near Norwood.

He is survived by his wife, Mary; two sons, Lawrence and L. K. Supernaw of Flint; one sister, Miss Delia Supernaw of Ellensburg Center, N. Y.; a step-brother, John Seymour of Flint; six grandchildren; eight great-grandchildren and one great great grandchild.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Stevens and Infant Son, Charles C. Have Arrived Here from Grand Rapids for an Indefinite Stay with his Parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stevens.

It's nice to take a week off at a resort for a change and rest, but usually the wife gets the change and the resort gets the rest—Sanilac Jeffersonian, Crosswell.

Mrs. Papineau, remained for a longer visit. Young Jill Stovessant is an avid baseball fan. Sunday she really had a thrill seeing Dizzy Trout's Barnstorming team play at Chelabogon. She returned home with Dizzy's autograph as well as George Kell's.

The M. P. Cox family of Traverse City have received word that the body of Weston G. Cox, 2nd Lieut. in the Air Force, and who was killed at Pearl Harbor early in World War II, is being shipped home. The ship containing the first bodies arrived in San Francisco on Saturday. A military funeral will be held in Traverse. The Tom Cox family from here will also attend, as the Lieutenant is Mr. Cox's brother.

Poor Princess Elizabeth. All the women of England are watching with anxious eyes to know whether or not she is going to adopt the long skirt line for her trousseau. Maybe the English women will be doing like many of us, wearing clothes with that crease line showing where the hem used to be.

No doubt many Beaver Islanders will remember Marian B. Rick, one of the editors of the Rushin News, the paper sent to the boys in service during World War II days. The young lady recently became the bride of Charles Skubick of Fraser, Mich. The marriage ceremony was performed at Pontiac in the St. Vincent de Paul church with 200 guests. Edward E. Gallagher of St. James and Detroit was best man. The couple went to the Canadian Falls on their wedding trip.

Mrs. Ella Fochtman has been taken to the Charlevoix Hospital this week where she is resting quite comfortably. Dr. Jack Supernaw declared when he left for Madison after Labor Day that he was coming back in October. He came with friends, had themselves a super time and is now back home again.

It's bitter-sweet time and already several folks have gathered some for winter. A bowl of it surely makes a bright spot in the living room. Have you been watching the northern lights this week? The Jack Goldmans of St. Louis, Mo., are here for a week. With them came the Gal Rosenhals and the foursome are with the Art Rangers. With perfect weather, boats for fishing, plenty of bait and fish biting plus a cabin down on Lake Charlevoix with a friendly fireplace around which their good friends may gather, well—what more could a fellow ask for to make life worth living?

I have an item for the "Is My Face Red Department?"—Looked as though the Shakespeare Club was going to do nothing but study Shakespearean plays for the coming year. True, they will review four of them. But another paragraph (which got omitted from the paper) told of additional topics, such as a Recipe Day, Book Review, An Afternoon on Music, Medical and Surgical Survey, Child Psychology, a Travel Talk besides the annual Christmas party.

Mr. and Mrs. Dillard McClurg and son, Roger, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Erbes and son, Kenneth all of Kent City, arrived Friday to spend the week-end with the Archie Wards. Perch fishing was the order of the week and the party really had perch suppers while here. Things have really been in a turmoil in the C. C. Henderson home of late. Mrs. Henderson has returned home from the hospital after an operation and is still very ill. Now Mr. Henderson is at home ill. Lady Luck is with them, namely Mrs. C. C. Henderson, Jr., their daughter-in-law from Huntington, W. Va., who has taken over for them. Smelled the odor of burning leaves last night. Does that do things to you, too?

The annual Harvest Chicken dinner will be held at the M. E. Church Tuesday, Oct. 21 starting at 5:30 p. m. Tickets $1.50 for adults and $1.00 for children under 12 years.

News of folks, your neighbors and mine... but did you know that—

Mr. and Mrs. George Emery left Friday for St. Petersburg, Fla., to spend the winter. They will visit their daughter and family, the Tom Finneys in Grand Rapids for two weeks. We hear there is plenty of fun in moving, at least that is what Mr. and Mrs. Edmond Bogart say. They recently purchased the Leslie place on Green Street. When the children even show up to give a hand and bring in tasty dishes to eat, well—moving isn't so bad after all. In asking Ed why he wasn't dressing up for such an occasion he good naturedly said, "Somewhere in our moving I've mislaid my good clothes." Anyway, many happy years to the Bogarts in their new home.

It's safe to say that the church pews were not too well filled Sunday. Everyone was out color-touring. Cars were going hubber and yon and picnics were the order of the day. It was too perfect to stay indoors! The Ironton Ferry was doing a land office business towing cars across the South Arm of the Lake.

As Will Carleton wrote in his poem Autumn Days "These are yellow, mellow, ripened days."

Folks are taking advantage of this weather to build and remodel. It's surprising the amount of new homes one sees under construction here. A sentence from Hambeck's "Meet Miss Dow" sums up what some contractors are experiencing: "There is nothing that so harasses an architect giving birth to a house as the presence of prospective owners."

Much more bother, they say, than an expectant father, for he has to take what he gets, but owners keep thinking up bright new improvements.

Word has been received from John Murry of Long Branch, N. Y., who tells of the passing of his wife. The Murrys were well known in Charlevoix, having spent many seasons here in connection with the Colonial Club.

While they were here during the past season Mrs. Murry was not well but her friends did not realize that her condition was so serious. Guests this week in Charlevoix are Mr. and Mrs. Earl E. Osterhage of Chicago. They have been coming to Charlevoix for the past 20 years for vacations, having missed but three summers during that time. Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Osterhage and Mr. and Mrs. Harley Ochs went on a color tour to Indian River and Cheboygan. Mr. Osterhage has taken pictures each summer of spots in and around this section and has a wonderful collection.

Next summer Mrs. Ochs is hoping that he will bring his pictures and they will stage a big party and let Charlevoix folks see how beautiful their country roundabout is, as seen through the eyes of a vacationer.

There are two pairs of glasses along with several car keys, house keys, etc., that have found their way to the Courier office, awaiting the owners. Are you eating meat on Tuesday? And no more three layer cakes for a while we are told. Everyone is so glad to know that little Bobby Marshall who was injured in an accident last week is coming along so splendidly. He seems to be snapping back in an almost miraculous way, although it will need many weeks of rest and quiet before he will be recovered from broken bones and a concussion. His vision has cleared up, too.

It surely pays to read the ads every week in The Courier. One of our readers said the other day, "I find that I save myself a pretty penny or two as a result." All of which reminds us about the business man who doesn't advertise. He is like the fellow who winked at his girl in the dark. He knows what he is doing but nobody else does.

Remember Harold and Hattie Lamb who used to live in Charlevoix? Mr. Lamb is now a teacher in one of the large consolidated schools just outside Big Rapids. The couple were in Charlevoix county this week-end and spent Saturday evening with the Art Weinstaffs. They had a delightful evening talking over old times. When the Lams prepared to leave they found that their car was locked and the keys inside. Then there was another story to tell for a couple of hours.

Guests last Sunday at the L. E. Towse home were Mr. and Mrs. Carl Nelson and daughter, Sylvia, Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Ruffi, Mrs. Cullis and Mary Lee Russell, all from Suttons Bay way. The party enjoyed a fish fry out near

Harbor Grid Game to Be There Friday

The Charlevoix-Harbor game Friday will be broadcast by Arno Wolgast over the Petoskey station. McCabe's and Brown Motors are sponsors.

Intercepted passes, long runs, fumbles and frequent scores made the East Jordan game here Friday a wild one to watch.

Charlevoix won, 55 to 0.

The Rayders made 11 first downs, eight touchdowns, completed four passes, intercepted four, and were penalized six times, five being for offside, a total of 34 yards. Bob Carey kicked extra point six times out of seven tries. Dave Smith kicked the last point.

East Jordan made eight first downs, completed five passes, intercepted two, recovered two fumbles and were not penalized.

In the first quarter Charlevoix's first team made five first downs. Pat Martin scored the one touchdown, and one attempted pass was incomplete.

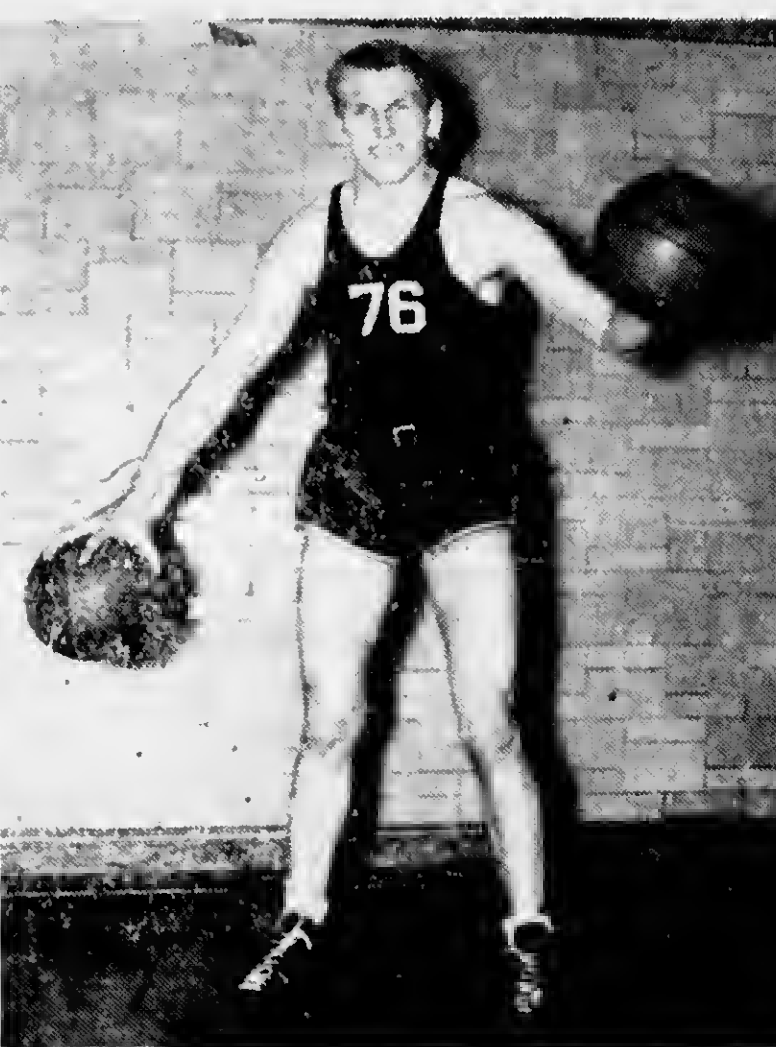

The razzle dazzle came with the second period. A touchdown was scored by Bob Carey on a long pass from the 40 yard line.

East Jordan received, failed to gain, and punted from its 12 yard line. The punt was blocked, Don Burke recovered and scored. East Jordan again received, and had a pass intercepted by Bob Carey.

Brother of Mrs. Ikens Passes In Chicago

Word has been received here of the death of Henry Curtis, 72, brother of Mrs. Floyd Ikens, in Chicago on Sunday.

Born in Chicago Mr. Curtis lived in Charlevoix county for several years as a child.

Besides Mrs. Ikens he is survived by another sister, Mrs. Ida Lovig, of Crystal Lake, Ill., and his step-father, William Cook, of this city.

Funeral services were held in Chicago on Wednesday.

Mrs. Ikens, who had gone to Grand Rapids Sunday to attend the Rebekah state convention, went on to Chicago to the funeral.

Emerald Howe Is Back From Japan

Emerald Howe, until recently a technician in the army in Tokyo, Japan, arrived home last Friday after receiving his discharge in Seattle earlier in the week.

He has been in the service 16 months and overseas for more than a year. He joined his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Sheldon at the home of his grandfather, Lon Hewitt and has already resumed his senior studies at the Charlevoix high school.

Above is the Gordon Clement car, in which he was critically injured Saturday night on US-131 near Life Lake when returning to Charlevoix. He was struck by a heavy dump truck which came out of a side road.

Gordon Clement, Sr., 40, who was injured in an auto-truck collision north of Life Lake on US-131 early Saturday evening, was taken to the University Hospital, Ann Arbor, Sunday evening for treatment of a severe neck injury.

He was first treated at Mercy Hospital, Cadillac, and transferred via ambulance to Ann Arbor after the extent of injuries were determined. He also suffered a fractured nose and lacerations and possible fractured elbow.

The accident occurred at A. Clement, who recently accepted a position with the Baker-built Perfabricated Houses Co., Grand Rapids, was returning home for the week-end. His car, a 1942 Olds, was struck by a two-wheel gravel truck which came out from a side-road, hitting his car on

Supervisors Boost Budget, Keep 9 Mill Rate

Adopting a 1948 budget $9000 larger than last year's the Board of Supervisors adjourned after a six day session Saturday.

The 1947 and 1948 budget figures are:

	1947	1948
Ed. Supervisors	$3500	$3600
Bonds, Ins.	550	900
Circuit Court	1500	2000
Coroners	300	250
Ad. Extension	1950	2250
County Clerk	4600	4300
General Exp.	100	600
Allocation Bd	100	125
Ct. Treasurer	4500	5000
Ct. House	2700	2500
W. Hare	2000	2000
Health Unit	3225	4400
Elections	650	2100
Ironton Ferry	5000	6000
Justice Court	600	800
Probate Court	3700	6500
New Court House	1600	1000
Pros. Attorney	2400	2500
Register of Deeds	4000	6500
School Comm.	2750	2750
Sheriff	7500	7500
Sold. vs. Soldiers	600	500
State Institutions	7500	7500
Veterans Affairs	3200	1000
Whiting Park	750	750
Misc. Approp.	4500	4311
	$87335	$96596

The general advance in costs accounts for most of the smaller increases. A full time secretary was voted for the Judge of Probate's office, representing $1560 of the difference there. Extra supplies and larger use of the photostat machine caused the boost in the Register of Deeds item. This money is paid back to the county, however, as fees.

The resignation of M. A. Lindsay of Boyne City as Veteran Advisor, and the Board's inability to determine what would be done about the office, caused the drop in that item from $3200 to $1000.

The Board set the 1948 county tax rate at 9 mills, the same as this year's.

Whiting Park reported receipts during the year of $416.93. These came from an $835.50 balance, $750 appropriation and $231.43 from the sale of timber. Disbursements of $1634.07 leave a balance of $2552.06. This plus another $750 for 1948 will be used to install better sanitary facilities so the park may be used as a trailer resort.

The Welfare Committee asked for a $39,000 appropriation plus an extra $4,000 for this year. The Board voted the extra $4,000 but did not boost the budget item.

The Charlevoix Abstract company was ordered to pay $5 a month rent for use of court house space and current for its photostat machine. And the Supervisors instructed the Ironton Ferry committee to run the ferry only from April 1 to Dec. 31. The implication is that any road across the ice in the winter is the individual's business and that the county assumes no responsibility for opening, maintaining it, nor for pulling out stuck cars.

Two Senior Scout Groups Formed

Two groups of Senior Scouts were organized last Thursday night when boys and adult leaders met at the City Hall.

The Explorer Scouts will be headed by Vane Smith, the Sea Scouts by Greg Bryan.

George Haggard, Jr., was named secretary; Tom Hamlin and Neil Suomela as guide and assistant guide.

The next meeting will be this Thursday at 7:30. Ron Abfalter is Senior Scout advisor.

Saturday morning handbills telling of Tuesday night's Community Chest meeting were distributed by five of the Senior Scouts: Vane Smith, Bill Blissett, Neil Suomela, Greg Bryan and Bill Shandhan. Helping them were Jim Lewis and Dudley Towse.

Freedman Moving Machinery, Office To New Building

Office equipment, machinery and materials are being moved to the new plant at the airport of the Freedman Aircraft Engineering Corp.

While the new building has been going up, the office has been over the Central Drug Store, the woodworking shop on Lincoln street, the machine shop in the Ingalls building on Bridge street and the blueprinting machine in the basement of the Lathrop.

All these are being moved now to the airport plant. It is complete, except for the dry kiln which will be finished and ready to operate in another week.

Once the moving period is over, expansion gradually will be expanded, according to Gordon Freedman, president.

Smelt, Perch Both Are Biting Now

Coupled with two weeks of unbelievably beautiful weather has been some fine fishing here. Every day, morning, all day and evening, Round Lake has been dotted with boats after perch.

Considerable fishing of late also has been done in Lake Charlevoix just beyond the railroad bridge. Good catches are generally reported, most boats bringing in from six to 15 perch per person.

This week the smelt also started biting good here. Out at Ironton there has been a lineup of smelt fishers every night at the dock by the ferry. Row boats, each with its lantern, have been anchored in the Narrows there.

The tasty little fish also have started here. Don Campbell reports catching 17 in a short time Monday, fishing from the rear of his cruiser where it lay in its slip. He says that the catch was no better than lots of others made in Round Lake.

Divorces Top List Of Cases In Court

In Chancery Court, the case of Mrs. Winifred Briggs against Mr. and Mrs. Harry Turner and C. H. Turner will come up. Mrs. Briggs is asking that her contract to buy the Surf Hotel be voided.

Divorce cases are the most numerous. As listed in the new Court Calendar, six of them are uncontested: Essie V. vs. Richard Kirvan; David A. vs. Nettie Vena; Dennis; Clio vs. Lonnie Adams, Jr.; Bessie Beatrice vs. James Thomas Johnston; Joan vs. Robert Price; Frederick G. vs. Elizabeth L. Bellinger.

Cases where both parties will be represented by attorneys are: Rosina Margaret vs. Paul Leitz; Helen J. vs. Alfred A. Heyning; Thelma vs. Neville Weeks; Samuel vs. Florence Arlick; Goldie Bennett is asking the court to change her divorce decree from Lewis B. Bennett and Lillian McGeorge is asking custody of their children from Harland McGeorge.

Killing The Goose

A sharp warning to Charlevoix was voiced Thursday morning in open meeting at the Board of Supervisors.

Roland White of the West Michigan Tourist Association was answering questions by Board members. One asked him what he knew of high prices being charged here. Balled down, his reply was:

"It is bad. Not all your stores nor all your restaurants are to blame. There are just a few which make a practice of making the customer. But they are doing this whole community a lot of damage and if it continues for another summer, Charlevoix will be really hurt."

"Word of outrageous prices gets around. The fact one place charges $2.50 for a $1.25 value is passed from traveler to traveler."

"The equally true fact that there are half a dozen places which charge fair prices for every one of the others doesn't count. The public accepts them as a matter of course but remembers the times it gets overcharged."

White was asked what could be done about it. He said the only thing he knew was public pressure. But he emphasized again that if the situation is not corrected, everyone will suffer for the sins of the few.

This brings to mind a story told me by one of Charlevoix's most loyal summer citizens.

For years he had made a practice of having all the curtains in his home laundered at one time. The usual price had been from $5 to $8, as I recall. He had to change laundresses. The new one sent a bill for $30.

He pointed out that if he had been here for the first time, and had been charged like that, he never would have come back to Charlevoix.

These are not usual cases. The bulk of our merchants, and our citizens, charge and want to charge only fair prices and to give good service. But a few seemingly will persist in trying to get all they can.

If they hurt only themselves, that would be fine. But they injure the entire community.

It is a difficult thing to combat. But if we want to maintain Charlevoix's economic health, we'd better start licking it.

Eleanor S. Baker, James Coblenz Wed

At a quiet ceremony performed at the Church of God parsonage at 2:30 p. m., Saturday, Miss Eleanor S. Baker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Wagley, became the bride of James Douglas Coblenz, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Coblenz, of Ironton.

Rev. W. D. Wood read the double ring service in the presence of their immediate families and a few friends.

The bride chose a blue afternoon dress styled with a high neckline, bracelet length sleeves and a puffed back and matching accessories for her wedding. Her flowers were white gladioli.

Mrs. Walter Mummert of Petoskey, sister of the bride, was her only attendant. She wore a coral dress with black trim and black accessories and a corsage of cream gladioli.

Mrs. Mummert assisted as best man. Mrs. Wagley selected a blue gown with black accessories and a corsage of pink gladioli for her daughter's wedding and the bridegroom's mother wore a brown gown with matching accessories and a corsage of yellow gladioli.

Immediately after the service a reception was held at the home of the bride's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Erber in Boyne City.

The couple will make their home in Boyne City.

Both are graduates of the Charlevoix high school. The bridegroom served more than three years in the Army, part of which was spent in Europe.

Out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Claude Baker of Petoskey, Mr. and Mrs. William Mathers of Boyne City and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Milward of Ironton.

The Hairs have not yet moved to Charlevoix for the winter.

Clyde Warner Re-elected Head of Pomona Grange

Clyde Warner was re-elected Master of the Charlevoix County Pomona Grange last Friday night at the annual meeting held at the Peninsula Grange.

Other officers also elected for the two year term were: Overseer, Joe Clark, Rock Elm; Steward, Orville Hilton, Barnard; Chaplain, Georgia Murphy, South Arm; Treasurer, Fred Willis, Maple Grove; Assistant Steward, Bert Lunley, Deer Lake; Secretary, Howard Brann, Barnard; Lecturer, Anna Warner, Barnard; Pomona, Mrs. Joe Lee, Peninsula; Flora, Edith LeCroy, Peninsula; Cora, Hattie Murphy, Rock Elm; Lady Assistant Steward, Helen Lunley, Deer Lake; Gatekeeper, Joe Lee, Peninsula; Member Executive Committee, Vern McGhan, Marion Center.

At the same session the Pomona Grange went on record favoring more support of REA financing by Michigan Congressmen. It was pointed out that all REA funds from the government are on a loan basis and payments including interest are repaid to the government all the time, on time. In spite of this record 12 Michigan Congressmen voted against the $25,000,000 increase in the REA loan fund last spring. There are 18,000 farms in Michigan now not serviced by electricity and present REA funds are inadequate to build new lines or extend service.

The REA program is the only means by which most farms can get electric service. A resolution embodying these sentiments was forwarded to Michigan State Grange for further support in the session at Hillsdale late in October.

Following the business meeting the ladies of Peninsula Grange served a lunch. Representatives were present from six of the subordinate Granges in Charlevoix county.

Fly Here for Fishing

Al Wachowski, manager of Ace Realty Co. of Flint, flew to Charlevoix in 1 1/2 hours last Sunday to do some perch fishing. He was accompanied by his fly-friend, Bill Schnelzer, also of Flint. They arrived at Charlevoix Airport 11:00 a. m., hitched a ride to town, found a good row boat and some minnows, and went out in Round Lake. At 3:00 p. m., Al and Bill were back on Bridge St., to hitch a ride out to the Airport. They had a nice mess of perch to take home with them, and they both hope to fly up again soon for some more fish, or perhaps a deer from Beaver Island.

Charlevoix-Antrim AHIA Organized

A group of interested farmers from Charlevoix and Antrim counties met last week and organized the Charlevoix-Antrim Dairy Herd Improvement Association. Lee Cook of Levering is the tester. The following were elected to the Board of Directors: Archie Murphy, East Jordan; Vern McGhan, Charlevoix; Bernie DeYoung, Charlevoix; Ernest Brown, Ironton; Elias Sommerville, Central Lake. This board elected the following for officers: president, Bernie DeYoung; vice president, Vern McGhan; secretary-treasurer, Archie Murphy.

The association started its operations with the Ernest Brown herd in Ironton. They have about a full schedule of herds, but a few more could be worked in. The fees are as follows: membership, $2.00 for a new member and $1.00 for old members. For a ten cow herd or less, the fee will be $5.00 and for each over ten, 15c each.

For the past two years a group of farmers have been continually asking for this association, these farmers believe that by belonging to a DHIA they can do a better job of culling in their dairy herd, a better breeding program, and produce dairy products more efficiently.

Boyer City Artificial Breeders Association to Organize

The proposed Boyer City ABA will officially organize Oct. 23 in the Boyer City Library at 8:30 p. m. George Parsons, extension dairyman from Michigan State College, in charge of the artificial breeding, will be present. He will discuss advantages and disadvantages of artificial breeding and will assist in the organization of this association. Curtis Nicoloy of Boyer City who is to be the inseminator manager and who is now taking the course at Michigan State College will be present.

Annual Conference
Charlevoix County's extension personnel will spend the week of Oct. 27 at Michigan State College at the thirty-fourth annual conference of Michigan Extension Workers.

Attending from the county will be Ed Rebman, county agricultural agent; Emma J. Fero, home demonstration agent; and K. C. Festerling, 4-H club agent.

Farm and home planning will be the featured topic of discussion at the session, although all phases of farm and homemaking will be covered.

Planted Any Rye?
Sure it's getting late—but if you haven't planted any rye this fall, it's still a good bet if the ground isn't frozen. Farm Crops Specialists at MSC say the September planted rye usually does better than that planted in October—but it's not too late. If the crop doesn't progress far enough to harvest a grain crop next year, you can always plow it under for a green manure crop. And here's something to remember—a field in rye this winter and next spring will not lose valuable top-soil with run-off water like a bare field.

*Increases since 1939, from Department of Labor Index for moderate income families in large cities, and from National Housing Agency.

...our costs have gone up, too!

SOME PEOPLE get along under higher prices by using less or doing without. Some have more income to help meet higher costs. All can adjust outgo to income, to a large extent.

But a railroad cannot skimp or do without and still provide good, efficient and safe service—adequate to the needs and desires of the public.

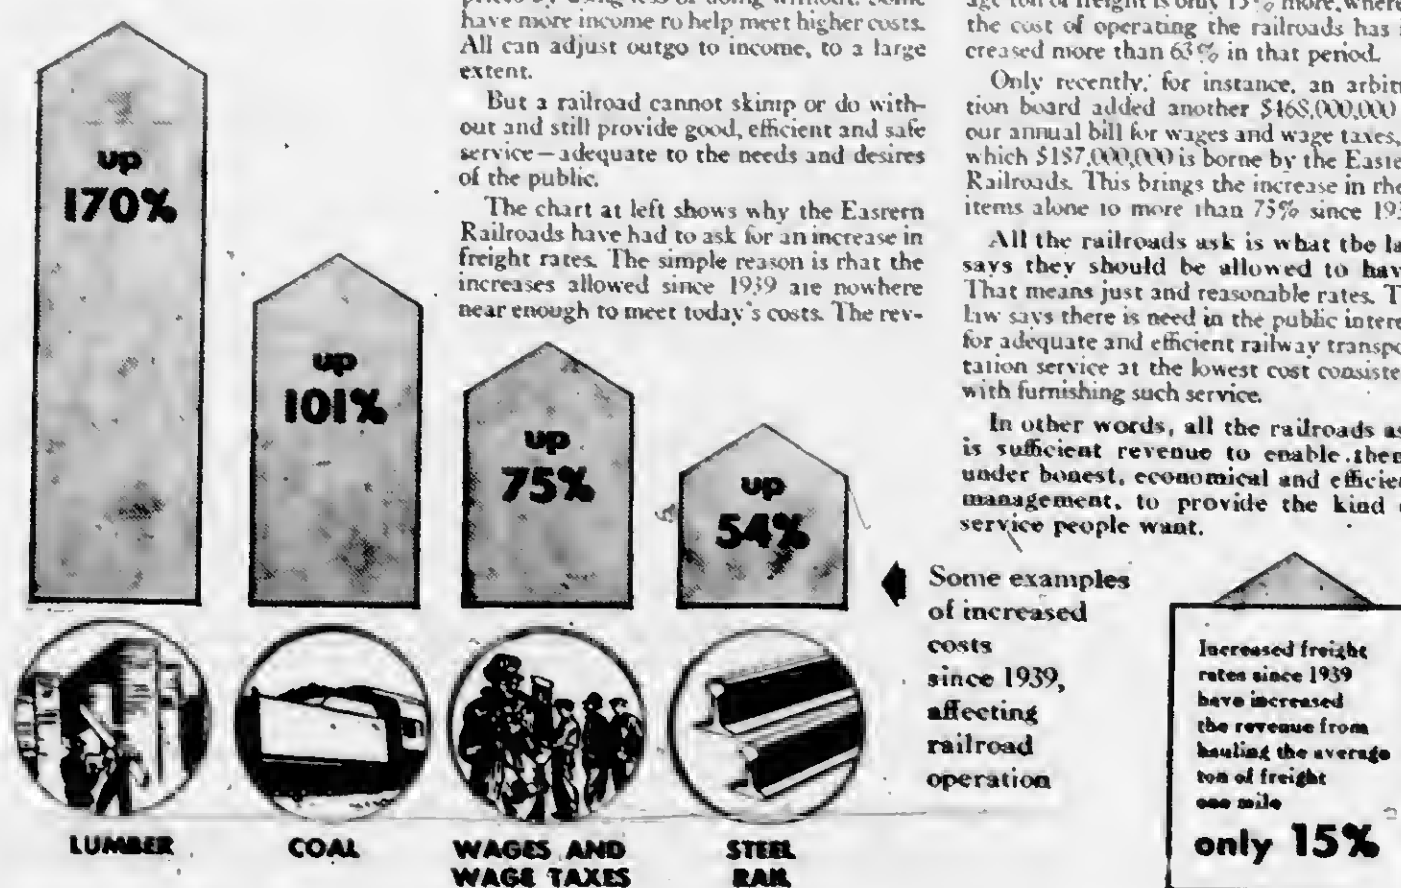

The chart at left shows why the Eastern Railroads have had to ask for an increase in freight rates. The simple reason is that the increases allowed since 1939 are nowhere near enough to meet today's costs. The revenue the railroads get for hauling the average ton of freight is only 15% more, whereas the cost of operating the railroads has increased more than 60% in that period.

Only recently, for instance, an arbitration board added another $468,000,000 to our annual bill for wages and wage taxes, of which $187,000,000 is borne by the Eastern Railroads. This brings the increase in these items alone to more than 75% since 1939.

All the railroads ask is what the law says they should be allowed to have. That means just and reasonable rates. The law says there is need in the public interest for adequate and efficient railway transportation service at the lowest cost consistent with furnishing such service.

In other words, all the railroads ask is sufficient revenue to enable them, under honest, economical and efficient management, to provide the kind of service people want.

IT HAPPENED ON

BEAVER ISLAND

By Mrs. J. C. Hanley

So many are saying this is the nicest October in a long time—but remember reading about flowers starting to bloom all over again last year? October is just naturally a beautiful month.

One thing we Islanders notice over here is the lake. It's such an important factor. This past week the lake was perfect.

Mrs. Arthur Miller accompanied her mother, Mrs. C. E. Webster to Charlevoix last Wednesday. Mrs. Webster continued on to Lansing where she will spend the winter. We will miss Mrs. Webster. She spread a lot of joy and happiness around while she was on the island.

A party made up of Bessie LaFreniere, Donald Cole, Francis O'Donnell, Bruce and Buddy McDonough are away on vacation. There were no definite plans, but last week they were enjoying the bright lights in Chicago.

Down on Sand Bay at Mike Boyle's beach logs are being cut in preparation for a group of cabins which Dr. John Montgomery is planning to build in the spring.

On Back Beach, George Miller has started to clear the land for a log house which will be built for Allen Waters and Lionel Lyle of Chicago.

The Roger Carlisle's home, which is being completed on Back Beach is almost as big as a hotel. Florence Burke is home with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Burke, to rest up after an appendix operation. Florence has been working in Chicago and it was there the operation was performed.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Lockwood are in Angola, Ind., comfortably living in a trailer. Jerry is enrolled in Tri-State and is majoring in electrical engineering.

Winter supplies and Christmas merchandise are arriving daily, the results of Eva and Lloyd's trip to Grand Rapids.

The Christmas catalogues have arrived and the children are neatly making their lists.

The initiation of the freshmen class was postponed until next Friday.

Buster Elms and his father are hard at work putting a new front of the Ellendale Inn. In taking out the old boards that extended to the basement several boxes of canned fruit were discovered. It is believed Mrs. Sophia LaFreniere, now deceased, canned the fruit and in that case, they have been in the basement for the past 23 years. Every jar of fruit was in good condition.

The Tramp, a large fish tug which has just been repaired, came to the Island last week to haul lumber.

Nancy Ann Elms was christened Sunday at Holy Cross church. Eva McDonough and Pat LaFreniere were chosen as godparents.

Correction: It was Ed Green and not Dan Green who was in Little Traverse Hospital recently.

The monthly meeting of the Third Order of St. Francis was held Sunday afternoon in Holy Cross church. A study of the Rule of St. Francis was begun.

The Mary Margaret was chartered Monday to move the belongings of the James Carpenters across the lake. The Carpenters sold their home to Mr. and Mrs. Mark Cross. They will return to Grand Rapids to make their future home.

The Islanders, indeed, were saddened when news of the death of Billy Gallagher was received Sunday morning. Before the first Mass, word had not reached the Island of his death. During Mass the school children recited the rosary for his special intention. As parishioners came out of church a messenger came with the news that Billy had gone.

The Government is charging steel, auto tire makers and technical pictures with conspiracy in restraint of trade. They must have contributed to the wrong campaign fund—Lake County Star, Baldwin.

Billy Gallagher Rites Held Tuesday At Beaver Island

Billy Gallagher, 15 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Gallagher, died Sunday at 8:20 a. m. at Charlevoix Hospital from the results of a duck hunting expedition with his friend, Jack O'Donnell.

The two boys arose at day break Saturday to go hunting at Barney's Lake. The boys spent about an hour out on the water. They were preparing to return home, Jack carrying the guns to the truck while Billy took charge of the oars.

Jack placed Billy's gun in the truck, unloaded his own gun and climbed into the cab, while Billy went to the rear of the truck to unload his gun. The barrel of Billy's gun was facing him and as he reached to drag the gun out, the hammer caught in a crack on the floor of the truck and as he pulled, the gun exploded.

The shot tore into Billy's stomach. He was rushed into town by O'Donnell, and upon advice by Dr. Russell Palmer, taken immediately to Charlevoix Hospital by Joe McPhillips in his plane.

Little hopes were held out when Billy left the Island. However, he never lost consciousness and it was not until 4 a. m. Sunday, that he lapsed into unconsciousness. He received the last sacraments of the church from Father Fabian Keenan.

Billy, the youngest of ten children, is survived by his parents, four sisters and five brothers. Burial services were held Tuesday morning at Holy Cross church.

Surviving Billy besides his parents are: Earl and Leo of Chicago; Norbert of Muskegon; Fr. Victor Gallagher of Grand Rapids; James W. and Mrs. Edwin McCann of St. James; Mrs. Giles McCann of Charlevoix; Mrs. Jack Capens of Michigan City, Ind.; and Mrs. Robert Burhans of Owosso.

Korthase Resigns Island R. E. A. Post

Fred Korthase, who came to the Island in 1940 to have charge of the R. E. A. plant, has resigned his position and is temporarily at his home in Boyne City.

From 1941 to 1945, Fred served with the Army landing forces in the Pacific theater of war. Fred participated in approximately eight landings. Upon receiving his honorable discharge, he returned to the Island and resumed his duties at the power plant.

The Islanders will miss Fred. He was not only a hard worker at his job, but he always found time to do a lot of favors for his friends.

Jewell Gillespie is now in charge of the light plant, having assumed his duties Oct. 15.

Farm Planning Group For Northern Area To Organize Nov. 3

Formal organization of the new Northern Michigan Agricultural Planning Commission will take place Nov. 3 at Gaylord.

The Commission has for its purpose the promotion of agriculture in the 14 northern counties of the Lower Peninsula. It aims to do this by providing a means for forming a united front on legislative and similar matters at the capital, and by coordinating local movements for the good of the entire area.

The Commission got its start last February when farm leaders discussed the idea. Since then five further meetings have been held. On Sept. 30 a delegation went to Lansing to confer with MSC, Board of Agriculture and other state officials.

As a result of these meetings, a formal organization will be set up Nov. 3. To get started, each county will send a committee of three to Gaylord. These will be the president of the county Farm Bureau, the chairman of the women's activities, and a third selected by those two. The County Agents also are being invited to attend as advisors to the delegations.

At Gaylord these 42 delegates will pass on the plan of organization, draft a program of activities, and elect officers. Among other activities proposed is a study of rural phone service to determine if it feasibly can be improved.

Dec. 8 has been set as a tentative date for a meeting of the Commission with the Representatives, Senators and Congressmen to discuss the legislative program and to tell them what is wanted.

It is not only unlucky to have 13 to dinner, it is also too expensive.—Lowell Ledger.

Visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Grupa, Sr., were their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Pat Blink of Grand Rapids and Marnie, Mich., with their baby daughter, Carol Therese. A long Wednesday to Monday week-end was spent sightseeing, bird and rabbit hunting, perch fishing and visiting.

Billie Hair is working for Burnett Brothers in the potato harvest.

Rayders Win From East Jordan

which made possible a 40 yard run by Dick Jolliffe who scored the fourth touchdown. East Jordan, shortly before the half ended, retaliated by intercepting a Charlevoix pass but no score resulted.

Pat Martin scored the next Charlevoix touchdown. Bob Carey missed the only extra point of the seven he attempted. Shortly afterward Martin intercepted an East Jordan pass, fumbled and East Jordan recovered. Another pass was snatched by Dick Jolliffe who scored on the play. The entire second team was sent in near the end of the period.

The fourth quarter started with Peterson intercepting a pass and scoring. East Jordan recovered a fumble and after losing the ball on downs, intercepted a pass, again failing to gain. Charlevoix made four first downs and Smith scored. The game ended on the second play after the kick to East Jordan.

This Friday the Rayders go to Harbor Springs for what is expected will be the toughest game of the season. The other will be the final contest with Pelston there the following week.

On the second team were Bob Shumacher and Ray Williams, ends; Bob Clarke and Jim Gibbons, tackles; Phil Martin, Jack Roberts, Herbert Boss, guards; Dick Donaldson, center; Cliff Lageman, Don Coney, Dave Smith and Jim Harvey, backfield.

Mr. McSaubie ... Mr. and Mrs. Jack Grupa, Sr., of State Street returned last week from a two weeks business and pleasure trip east. Mr. Grupa visited eastern furniture and floor covering markets. A pleasant interlude was a week's visit with Mrs. Grupa's mother, Mrs. Anna Marshak, a sister and brother-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. C. W. Stephany and other relatives and friends in Erie, Pa. Mr. and Mrs. Bert Beaudoin are back from a two weeks trip east. Going by way of Detroit they went on to Boston and Gloucester, Mass., to visit Mr.

Beaudoin's sister, Mrs. Phil Beaudoin. On their trip through the Mohawk Trail Mrs. Beaudoin said the sight was breath-taking. Everyone was out on the drive through this section with traffic really thick. "We rode bumper to bumper all the way," Mrs. Ray Faulkner sure gave her friends a real start about two weeks ago when she staged what the doctor termed a black-out, all of her own. She has remained at home, kept very quiet, and is now up and able to do some of her own work again. Her many friends are hoping that she will be back in circulation soon ...

Who knows but that we may have a young naval architect in our midst? Little Glenroy Ikens, Jr., has a hobby and that is drawing boats and wanting to read books on boats ... It must have been a beautiful sight for those who attended Grand Chapter of the Eastern Star last week in Grand Rapids. The grand officers' dresses this year were of pastel shades, all trimmed in gold sequins. Alice Bellinger, retiring Grand Adah, wore a light blue shade. Charlevoix was well represented from our local chapter.

News of folks, your neighbors and mine... but did you know that—

Well, "the rains came" this week-end causing some of the leaves to fall so that when we walk to town now, we no longer "see red." ... Was sitting in our living room Sunday evening when methought I heard a tapping on the windowpane. Looking up, I must have registered surprise. There, standing in our big picture window was a skeleton. I blinked my eyes a couple of times and looked again, and there stood two of them. Then, plop, up came another. Running out of doors to investigate, I discovered they were the three children of the Joe Arvillas dressed in skeleton suits. Yes, sir, Hallowe'en is in the air!

Learned a new way to fix candied sweet potatoes that you might like to try out at your home on the range. Peel cold, boiled sweet potatoes and cut into serving pieces. Place in shallow baking dish and sprinkle with salt and very lightly with cinnamon. Pour over them the following sweet dressing: 1/2 cup brown sugar, 3/4 cup crushed pineapple and 1/4 cup water. Bring to a boil and pour over the sweet potatoes. Bake in a moderate oven 375 degrees until most of the moisture is gone.

The dog has been a real epidemic of dog around town of late. Out at the Clair Websters they are having a real epidemic in seeing that the seven puppies there are given proper care. At the Gordon Bartlett's there are ten. And so it goes. Have you heard the robins singing lately? Yes, sir, there are many robins about. Couldn't blame them for wanting to stick around this glorious weather. Several folks from Charlevoix have found their way to Ann Arbor to see some of the big games. Saturday's game with Minnesota must have been a thriller and Michigan still retains the little brown jug for another year. By the way, did you ever see that little brown jug? It's anything but little. It occupies a prominent place in the Athletic office at Michigan. It's a huge water jug that Michigan accidentally left on Minnesota's field many years ago and it has become a coveted treasure ever since.

The women of the Baptist church have been doing things to their kitchen and wouldn't be surprised if they would be staging a "Come Into My Kitchen" party to let everyone see what improvements have been made. New paint, new lights, a new sink and linoleum can work wonders. Everyone has been most generous (even the men) in helping the women make this transformation. The lakes are full of boats and the streets are getting full of hunters on their way to the north country.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Olsen have purchased the J. M. Foster house on Nettleton street and will make their home here, coming from Chicago. The Olsens have spent several summers here and like it so much they decided to make their home permanently in Charlevoix. For the past year the couple have been abroad visiting relatives in Norway, Denmark and Sweden. While in Norway Mr. Olsen enjoyed a happy reunion with his three brothers. It is the first time the four brothers have been together in 47 years. While abroad they also visited Mrs. Olsen's parents.

Elmer Gifford said a whole worldful when he spoke these words: "You are not in trouble, trouble is in you." The Don Bellingers of Ypsilanti spent the week-end with their parents. They came with Jack Foster who drove up from Detroit to be with his parents and the gal friend. The John Knights have rented the Harry Foster home on Clinton street, recently purchased by the Bell family.

Several Charlevoix folks have received cards from the William Heerings who are on vacation and have got down to Florida on their trip. Surely if anyone deserves a vacation it is Mrs. Heering who has spent long, long hours over the stove during the hot summer days preparing delicious meals for folks so that they could sit on the front porch and enjoy beautiful Charlevoix.

Mrs. Fred Boelio of Denver, Colo., the former Clara Price, and her sister, Mrs. Walter Alexander of Northport, visited a few days last week with Mrs. Frances Olmstead. For a couple of years, young Gerald Mehls, son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Dundas, takes first prize. With two hall trees as his foun-

Traffic Lights Are Not Needed Here, State Says

Charlevoix will get no traffic control lights as far as the State Highway Department is concerned. This word came to Supt. A. G. Leitch Monday in a letter from H. L. Frier, district traffic engineer at Cadillac, who relayed on the decision of the Lansing office.

Last August the department made a survey of Charlevoix traffic on US-31 and 86. This was made after citizens here protested against the fast driving on these routes. The city's request was for traffic blinker or other type of lights at intersections on these streets.

The survey, Lansing says, did not reveal enough traffic to justify lights. After giving this decision, Frier continues:

"A letter which I have received from Lansing on this subject states that in the opinion of that office, the proper enforcement of the recently revised speed control zones and the organization of safety patrols at school crossings will reduce the traffic hazards along US-31 through Charlevoix to a minimum."

He goes on to say that the new speed signs will be installed shortly.

Editors of State To Have Summer Outing Here In June

Charlevoix will be host to the annual summer meeting of the Michigan Press Association next June.

Gene Alleman, Association manager, sent this message last Friday:

"We're coming to Charlevoix in 1948. The Board action was unanimous."

The invitation to meet here next summer was extended last June at Traverse City. As is customary, the Executive Board made its decision at the October meeting.

Headquarters will be at the Belvedere Hotel. The event primarily is a summer outing for the editors and their wives. Consequently, plans are being made to give the city's guests plenty of boat rides, fishing and similar Charlevoix entertainment.

City Saves $2000 On New Foundation

The City of Charlevoix saved its $2000 by advertising a second time for bids on putting in the concrete foundation for the new generator unit at the power plant. When first advertised, two bids were submitted: Hodgkiss and Duma of Petoskey, $8,250; and Sam Tokoly of Boyne City, $7,944.85. Both Supt. A. G. Leitch and Hamilton & Weeber of Grand Rapids, consulting engineers, considered the offers too high. Consequently a call for another bid was advertised.

Tokoly again submitted $7944.85 and H. W. Lamb of Holland put in a bid for an even $6000, which was accepted. His firm now is at work at the power plant. The fact that Lamb has an experienced crew of concrete foundation men here, as well as mixing and handling equipment in connection with the new bridge job, accounts for much of the saving to the city.

At Florist Show
The Northern Michigan Florist Association held their regular fall florist school at the Park Place Hotel last Wednesday and Thursday. Those from Charlevoix who attended were Mr. and Mrs. Albert Edwards, Mr. and Mrs. William P. Edwards and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Novotny.

Goes to SPEB Session
Dr. D. C. Nettleton represented Charlevoix Saturday at Lansing when the SPEBSQSA there gave a quartet jamboree and delegates from all Michigan chapters met.

Drouillard Sells Cafe
N. G. Drouillard has sold the Sunnyside Cafe at Boyne City. Contrary to reports, the family plans to continue to live there.

Dona and Mona McFarland, students at Marywood Academy, Grand Rapids, spent the long week-end with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Franklin McFarland, Bellaire.

PELLSTON NEXT

Harbor Game Proves Wild One

The final game of the football season will be Friday when the Rayders go to Pellston to face the team which earlier in the season beat Harbor Springs.

Charlevoix's championship football team retained that place by the narrowest of margins last Friday when it met the Harbor Springs Rams.

The latter were out to take the Class C leadership away from Charlevoix and played the hardest and toughest football that the Rayders have met this year. Both teams literally played themselves out, going mostly on nerve for the final minutes.

Breaks, good and bad, were about evenly divided. Both sides made a few serious blunders and both profited.

High point of the game regrettably caused bad feelings. It came at the end of the first half. Bill Carey had passed 18 yards to Bob Carey who snagged the ball in the middle of a cluster of Harbor players. With only six inches to go for a touchdown, Harbor called an extra time out and the ball was moved ahead three inches.

In the final seconds of the half, Dick Joliffe charged, through tackle and four feet across the line where he slowed down. The referee did not blow his whistle. Harbor players tackled Joliffe who patently thought the play was over. The ball flew wide and was recovered by Harbor a couple of feet in front of the goal line.

Charles Bailey of Petoskey, the referee, called the ball "Harbor" and waved the teams off the field. Harbor ran off, but the Rayders clustered around Captain Carey.

BOYS ON BAY

New Camp Plans Expansion

Plans for a much larger camp development on Pine Point have been made by the new owners, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Mowrey and Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur L. Gunnerson.

Announcement of it came first in the form of clever small gray paper tepees, received through the mail. The tepees were an announcement of twins, brother and sister camps on the peninsula.

When he was here last weekend, Gunnerson went into more detail. As originally announced, the girls camp will be in the former R. E. Olds lodge on the west side. Here 40 girls will be taken care of next summer in an eight weeks session starting June 24.

On the east side of the peninsula facing Oyster Bay a boys' camp will be started. Unlike the girls' division, which will be operated on a sorority dormitory plan, the boys' camp will be housed in cabins.

Foundation for the first two units are now being poured about opposite the Kohler and Fairbanks cottages. Until more housing can be built, Gunnerson says, the boys' camp necessarily will be small in numbers.

The big lodge has been repainted, a new roof laid, beds received, water pipes installed, dead trees cut and work started on clearing the baseball field.

Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Patterson of Cass City are here now at the camp and will remain all winter as caretakers. They are the parents of Mrs. Mowrey.

NEW QUARTERS

Junior Bureau Fixing Club Room

Junior Farm Bureau members will be having a new club room and meeting place before long. The Williams Brothers of Iron- ton have donated space in the basement of their new garage-service station. There the Junior Bureau members are partitioning off a space 15 by 42 feet.

Meetings are every Tuesday night. At the last one, after considerable work was done on the partition, cake and cookies were served.

Members and officers are: Don Crandall, president; Jane Clark, vice-president; Joan Lumley, secretary-treasurer; Cleo Lumley, publicity chairman; Jean Russell, Esther Penfold, Betty Sattiff, Ray Williams and Anna Brock. Bob Crandall is counselor.

On Oct. 21 the officers attended a district meeting at Gaylord. Saturday seven plan to go to Lansing for the state convention of the Junior Farm Bureau. They are Don and Bob Crandall, Cleo and Joan Lumley, Esther Penfold, Jean Russell and Ray Williams.

On Nov. 6 the Charlevoix chapter plans to go to Cheboygan to help organize a group there.

New Food Lockers Plant In Operation

Charlevoix now has a frozen food locker plant in operation. After delays caused by materials, the North Poultry Farm plant is operating with 276 lockers in place. In addition, there is a commercial storage room, 12 by 18 feet for use by markets, food stores and for bulky food packages.

The new locker plant is equipped to cut and process all meats and other foods. It also will smoke and cure meats and plans to make sausage on order.

Bell Rates to Stay Same for Awhile
Michigan Bell telephone rates will stay at the same level they now are for at least five or six months.

Application of the Bell company for an advance faces a long delay. The Michigan Public Service Commission has ordered an outside audit and appraisal of the Bell assets and operations to determine if the increase is necessary.

A possible anti-rural implication was seen in the Commission's suggestion that "Each exchange must bear its own weight." This would mean lower rates in the big centers and could make telephone service impossible in high in thinly settled areas and small communities, the Bell company pointed out.

At Realtor Meeting
Mr. and Mrs. Earl A. Young attended the meeting of the Charlevoix-Antrim Association of Real Estate Boards last Friday in Bellaire.

Civic Groups Asked to State Sums Needed

All health and welfare organizations here which want to raise funds or have funds raised for their support during the coming year should have a representative at the City Hall Monday at 8 p. m.

At that time the new Community Chest directors will meet to receive requests and if possible to work out the goal for the fund drive to be made soon.

Friday night the newly elected directors met there. Robert Bridge was chosen chairman of the interim committee elected at the first public meeting. Gordon Freedman is secretary-treasurer. The other members are Mrs. Walter Bergeon, Mrs. Kit Carson, George Haggard, Capt. Hubert Padlock, Dr. Robert McClintock, Dr. Gerald Gibbons, L. E. Towse.

The program as made Friday calls for requests to be made Monday if possible. When all health and welfare groups have presented their cases, the directors will set up a 1948 Chest budget, showing what each cause will receive.

Two general rules were adopted Friday by the directors. First, in order to be included in the Fund drive, the organization or cause must directly benefit this community, or have a legitimate reason for asking its support. Second, the Fund should cover the Charlevoix School District since folks living outside the city limits want to support such things as the cancer fund and hospital.

VFW Will Have Barbecue Party Saturday Night

A barbecue and party for all VFW members will be held Saturday to mark the end of the organization's membership drive.

It will start at 7 p. m. and be in the VFW Hall. Members are to bring their wives, or if unmarried, a partner for the evening. Wives have been requested to bring a passing dish. The Post is supplying barbecued beef, hams and coffee.

There will be dancing afterward, with a caller for the square dances.

The whole party, according to Comm. Howard Griffin, is planned purely as a good time affair.

Mrs. Julia Cole Rites Held Wednesday

Mrs. Julia Cole, 71, widow of Garrett Cole, pioneer lumberman of northern Michigan, died Monday at the Charlevoix hospital where she had been a patient for several days.

She had gone to Chicago on Oct. 5 to spend the winter with her daughters and was flown home last week when she became ill shortly after her arrival.

Born in Big Rapids on June 12, 1874, Julia A. Seaman was married to Mr. Cole in Sept. 1892. They lived in lumbering centers throughout the state and were at Bellaire for several years before going to Beaver Island about 35 years ago. He operated a lumber and shingle mill there until his death in Jan. 1942. Since then Mrs. Cole has spent the summer months on Beaver Island and the winters in Charlevoix and Chicago.

She was a member of the Methodist church.

Surviving are four daughters, Mrs. Caroline Jensen of Lombard, Ill.; Mrs. Mattie Ludeke and Mrs. Garnet Green of Chicago; and Mrs. Marguerite Stevens of Detroit; and one son, Jesse of Detroit; four brothers, Ralph of Saginaw, Fred of Alden, Edward of East Jordan and Oren of Barabron; and four grandchildren.

Funeral services were held at the See Funeral Home at 2 p. m. Wednesday with Rev. W. D. Wood officiating. Burial was in the Brookside cemetery.

Jonas Greenebaum Passes In Chicago

A summer resident of Charlevoix for 18 years, Jonas Greenebaum of Chicago, died Saturday at his home there, 521 Stratford Place.

A Chicago resident for 65 years, 50 years ago he founded the J. Greenebaum Tanning Co. of which he still was president. He established the Jonas Greenebaum Endowment at the University of Chicago for tanning research, had served as director of the Tanners Council of America. He belonged to the Masonic Order.

The Greenebaum home here was at 429 Michigan avenue.

Surviving are Mrs. Greenebaum, two daughters and two sons. Funeral services Tuesday in Chicago and burial was in Rosehill cemetery.

Alaskan Pictures To Be Shown by Club

"Alaska Adventure," a sound and color movie lasting an hour and a half, will be shown at the next meeting of the Rod and Gun Club, at the I. O. O. F. hall Nov. 6 at 8 p. m.

Each member is to bring a guest, president Bonnie Nieker- son has announced.

The pictures were taken by Phil Rich, Midland newspaper publisher, who has made three trips to Alaska. On each he has hunted Alaskan bear and other game, fished, and taken thousands of feet of colored movies. This film is composed of the best of all these.

The narration is by Rich himself.

Reserves Hand Petoskey 31-6 Defeat Tuesday

Charlevoix's Reserves Tuesday afternoon took a heavy revenge for the 0-0 tie earlier this fall when they played the Petoskey Reserves here and beat them 31-6.

During the second half Coach Norman Gallagher sent in the entire second Reserve squad. Against this opposition, Petoskey took the ball down to the one yard line. Gallagher sent his regulars back in. They held Petoskey for four downs. A penalty was called on the last one, however, and on the fifth play Petoskey lobbed over a pass for the score.

The team was composed of George Haggard and Dale Samuels, ends; Jerry Gibbons and Tom Hamlin, tackles; Gregory Bryan and Ed Klein, guards; Charles Fairbanks, center; Bill Barber, quarter; Ron Cunningham, Don Hardy and Jim Joliffe, backs.

Joliffe did much of the ground gaining behind Cunningham's blocking. Hamlin, Gibbons and Bryan were outstanding on defense. During the entire game, Petoskey made only three gains through the Charlevoix line.

This season, the Reserves have won two games from Boyne City and one from Petoskey, tying the first contest.

Meek, Gatti Trial Will Be Later

Judge Ward I. Waller of Cheboygan, opened the regular October term of Circuit Court Monday.

M. M. Meek and O. Gatti, proprietors of the Colonial Club, arraigned on a charge of permitting gambling equipment on the premises had a plea of not guilty entered. A trial will be held at a later date.

Vendelin Farulak was sentenced to one to three years in Southern Michigan prison for non-support. Joe Genia, who was charged with driving away an automobile, was placed on two years probation, ordered to pay restitution to the owner of the car, the amount to be determined by officers and to pay $50 costs.

Leon Moran of Cedar Springs, who asked to have his driver's license restored, was not allowed to enter a petition at this time.

Dow Teams Prove Too Much, Too Fast

Facing what amounted to three professional teams, the Charlevoix Independents Tuesday night went to defeat pluckily fighting all too strong odds.

The game was the Hospital Benefit squad at the high school gym here. Final score was 61 to 25.

The Charlevoix boys were wearing their new blue and gold uniforms with "Michigan Cleaners" on the shirts.

Taller, faster and more experienced, the Dow players had control of the ball most of the time, blocked Charlevoix shots repeatedly, and sank baskets easily when they did have the ball.

Western Union Has New Hour

The week-day hours of 8 a. m. to 12 noon and 1:25-5:25 p. m. will remain the same during the winter months.

Possibility of organizing a turkey processing and marketing cooperative here is being investigated as a result of the meeting Monday afternoon of 35 turkey growers.

Held at the Marion Center hall it attracted turkey raisers from Petoskey, Bellaire and points between. Responsible for calling the meeting were Arlo Wickerman, Richard Potter and Rowley Williams. Fred Willis presided.

It was explained at the meeting that a processing cooperative would mean a higher grade for birds produced, would handle the birds more economically. On the marketing side such an organization would permit the use of an accepted name and would tend to sell the birds for more than the unorganized growers could get.

A. D. Wilson, Jr., district manager of the Land O' Lakes Creamery, Inc., from Detroit explained how other similar poultry cooperatives market through his organization and what their experience has been. He offered the marketing facilities of Land O' Lakes to any organization formed here.

dition, plus some old clothes from the attic he has created two Hallowe'en characters, a man and woman in his room at school. Also he has decorated the room in Hallowe'en colors that gives it a real atmosphere. Mary Cooper's room will have to see him leave next week with his parents, owners of Gray Gables, for the winter months in Florida.

The Orville Indians are back home again after a glorious vacation in Pontiac at their daughter's home. Then of course they had to go to Detroit and do the town. Also they visited in Saginaw before they arrived home.

Can you imagine that Hallowe'en is hard upon our heels and here we are running around without coats and hats and feel that we should hike to the woods to see if the spring flowers are in bloom.

Pat and Esther Hawley left Saturday for a week's trip, planning to go to Washington and Arlington via Niagara Falls. While they are gone the Charles Belingers are staying at their home and being baby sitters, and loving it. 'Tis a small world. Mrs. Herbert Strickland, who has just moved here from Grand Rapids and purchased the Courier, is a niece of Nina Hancock, one of the famous Clipper girls of Charlevoix. The two had editorials from New York and have really made good in a small town. Both unmarried, the town was now settled down to set itself up as a committee to find husbands for the two editors.

Have you noticed the formations of geese flying over town southward?

Imagine in a big institution like the University Hospital at Ann Arbor that two Charlevoix folks should find that they have adjoining rooms, namely Gordon Clement and Billie Schwab. Billie, by the way, who recently underwent a serious operation for an abscess behind his eye, now has a chance. He is causing his doctor and nurses much anxiety at present though, for he runs up enormously high temperatures and they cannot find the cause.

Mr. Clement, who suffered a broken neck in a recent automobile accident is strapped to a board. He spends two hours on his face and then is turned for two hours on his back. Traction has been put on his head to relieve the pressure. Mrs. Clement is with him.

President Samuel A. Stevens of Grinnell College recently said, "What the United Nations needs is another Lincoln with a sense of humor as he had. Have you ever heard of a joke being told at a United Nations assembly? Truly a touch of humor can help relieve a load of tension. . . . Mr. and Mrs. Archie Livingston played hookey for a few days and left Friday to go to Pontiac and Rockford and spend some time with their children in the two places. . . . Our hats off to the Girl Scouts who decorated several of the windows about town, for Girl Scout week. Especially attractive is the window of the Levinson store. . . . Miss Alice W. Chew of Bay City spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. K. Chew. . . .

Mr. and Mrs. John Mol have received word that their son, Jack, who has been in Korea for some time, has arrived in Seattle and will be home in a couple of weeks. Was that ever a welcome letter! . . . Mr. and Mrs. John May and children of Charlevoix and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Wycoff and children of Eaton Rapids were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Rande Wycoff. The Wycoffs are getting things in readiness so that they can leave Charlevoix by Nov. 10 for St. Petersburg, Fla.

Evelyn Hayward, who has summered at Sequanola, is leaving Wednesday with her sister, Mrs. Blanche Whitney. The women will go to Lockport, N. Y., then to Chicago for the holidays and Mrs. Hayward will spend the remainder of the winter at Sioux City, Ia. Saturday night Mildred Ochs had a farewell party for her and invited 12 friends in for a few hands of bridge. Mrs. Hayward won high score and Mabel Goddard won the consolation.

. . . Mrs. Lance Neff is now at home from the hospital, having undergone major surgery recently. . . . Bernie Zettler really caught himself a prize this week-end, a steinhead that weighed six pounds when dressed. The remarkable thing about it was that he caught it with his hands, he threw it or not, in the trees in Lock's Creek. And did the family have a real fish dinner.

Gary Given Party On First Birthday

Gary Powers celebrated his first birthday anniversary on Thursday with a party given by his mother, Mrs. Gilbert Powers. Little friends, accompanied by their mothers, enjoyed refreshments served at a table centered with a lighted birthday cake and decorated with flowers. The room was also decorated in a Hallowe'en motif.

Those present were Mrs. Raymond Nowland Jr., and children, Don and Linda. Mrs. Robert Pearl and son, Mike. Mrs. Buster Zettler and son, Butch, Mrs. Robert Heise and daughter, Paula, and his grandmother, Mrs. Harry Powers.

Smith-Ostrum Nuptials

Celebrated Saturday

Baskets of autumn flowers, tapers and palms decorated the Tower Hotel for the wedding of Isabelle Mae Smith, daughter of Mrs. Eva Smith of this city and Melvin Smith of Berkley, and Frank Ostrum of Grand Rapids at 2 p. m. Saturday.

Rev. Jackson E. Turner read the single ring service in the presence of 40 guests.

Preceding the service Miss Ione Mosier sang "I Love You Truly" accompanied by William Hannan on the electric guitar.

The bride selected an aqua suit, fiesta wine accessories and a three strand string of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom, for her wedding. Her corsage was of yellow roses.

Mrs. Mayo Roff of Bridgeman was her only attendant. She wore a tan gabardine suit, black accessories and a corsage of red roses.

Mr. Roff assisted the bridegroom as best man and Lester Smith, brother of the bride and Albert Smith seated the guests.

Mrs. Smith chose a black dress with rose and blue green accents, black accessories and a corsage of red roses for her daughter's wedding.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held. The refreshment table was centered with a four-tiered wedding cake and decorated with fall flowers and tapers.

After a wedding trip through the Upper Peninsula, the couple will make their home in Grand Rapids. For traveling the bride wore a gray suit and matching accessories.

Out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Verne Enders, Mr. and Mrs. Bud Enders and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Nelson of Benton Harbor; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lockman of Bridgeham; Mr. and Mrs. John Lindemiller and Ray Cronell of Grand Rapids; Mrs. Harry Lense and Mrs. Ollie Scripture of Traverse City.

Mrs. Cline Honored

By Episcopal Guild

Refreshments included a birthday cake.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Foster and grandson, Carlton, spent the week end in Kalamazoo with their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Foster.

Hayes Hallowe'en Party Being Planned

Folks out in Hayes Township have been invited to a neighborhood community party Friday night at the Hayes Town Hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Struthers will be the hosts. They have planned the affair and have sent out the written invitations to their neighbors.

In keeping with Hallowe'en, there will be cider, doughnuts, games, and similar entertainment. The party starts at 8 p. m.

Girl Scout News

Brownie Scout Troop No. 3 met in the park and enjoyed stories written by members. They also made plans for a Hallowe'en party to be held on Wednesday.

The Girl Scouts of Charlevoix opened National Girl Scout week by attending their churches in a body on Sunday. Seventy-six Scouts and Brownies and ten leaders and co-leaders attended the Church of God and six girls and two leaders attended St. Mary's church.

A letter from a Brownie Troop in France was read to the Girl Scouts of Troop No. 1 at their regular meeting on Wednesday. The French children wrote to the local scouts to thank them for French ship bags sent abroad last year.

Dues were discussed; it was decided to sell Girl Scout cookies and to work on badges instead of forming patrols. Mrs. James Krulik taught the girls a new song and a group was delegated to take the flags to the Church of God for the Sunday services.

Outdoor Writers Visit Charlevoix

Members of the Outdoor Writers Association of Michigan visited Charlevoix Saturday and made a short Lake Michigan cruise.

The trip was aboard the Conservation Department's Patrol No. 1 with Capt. Charles Allers as host.

The Writers were holding one of their regular meetings at Boyne City. Friday was devoted to bird hunting, steelheading and the trip on the Patrol boat.

Those making the trip were Frank Wells of the Saginaw Valley Sportsman; Rep. Elton Eaton, Plymouth; Sen. M. H. DeFoe, Charlotte; Republican, Tribune; Bert Stoll, Booth Newspapers; Walter Kittinger, Outdoors in Michigan; C. A. Paquin, Harry Ruhl and Clifford Ketchum of the Conservation Department; Lida Kramer of Hubbard Lake, and John Olson of Boyne City.

At the Saturday night dinner in Boyne City representatives of the Treasury Department explained that the Federal Government does not wish to license nor regulate purely sporting arms, but is anxious to find and make safe all souvenir mines, grenades and other possibly dangerous trophies. He particularly warned against tracer and incendiary bullets, which will corrode through the case and often start fires.

Gee! A telephone!

Not so many years ago, a telephone was still a curiosity. Few people had them. There was only a limited number of other telephones you could call.

But through the years, as more and more telephones have been installed, you've been able to reach more and more people... your telephone has been able to run more and more errands for you. Now, with still greater numbers of telephones being added, to take care of people waiting for service, its value is growing every day.

Boysie City Artificial Breeders Association

Thirty-eight interested farmers met last Thursday evening, at the Boysie City Library, and organized their own Breeders Association. The name chosen was, "Boysie City Artificial Breeders Association", with headquarters at Boysie City. The arena to be served by this association will be that north of Charlevoix and east of Ironton and East Jordan, complete to Chandler and Hudson townships.

The Board of Directors are: For a three year term, Harry Smith, RFD 3, Charlevoix; Cadet DeNise, Boysie Falls; Mr. Hurd, Boysie City. For a two year term Clayton Healey, RFD 2, East Jordan; Carl Stevens, Wallon Lake; For a one year term, Pete Wemnick, RFD 3, Charlevoix; and Robert Reidel, Boysie City.

Forty-two farmers have joined this association. They pledged 226 Holsteins, and 124 Guernseys. The association needs 74 more Holsteins signed up before they can start their operations. Any farmer who is interested in improving his dairy herd may join this association.

Septic Tanks

A new Septic Tank bulletin is off the press. One copy has been received by the County Extension Office and more are on their way. This new bulletin gives the answers to many questions asked about proper installation of a sewage disposal system.

Apple Pie Queen to Be Chosen

For Northern Michigan The Queen of Northern Michigan Apple Pie Bakers will be chosen at the 12th Annual Northern Michigan Potato and Apple Show, to be held at Bellaire Nov. 10 and 11.

Apple pie has long been a favorite of Northern Michigan people because of the exceptional quality of the apples grown in that area of the state. To give proper recognition of the apple industry in that area and determine the best Pie Baker, the contest is a fitting addition to the Show. The Queen of the contest will be determined wholly upon the pie submitted. It will be scored on the basis of general appearance, texture of crust, texture of filling, and flavor.

There are two sections in the contest, one for girls under 21 years of age and the other for women 21 years and over. The Queen of the contest can be either a Junior or Senior lady as baker of the highest scoring pie, regardless of age of contestant.

Contestants are eligible to compete in the contests whether they live in town or country. Just as long as they live in the Potato and Apple Show area embracing the northern 31 counties of the lower peninsula.

Some very useful prizes will be given for the seven high contestants, including an electric mixer for the Queen. The three high Juniors will be awarded a make-up case, vanity set, or a string of pearls and the three high Senior ladies, a set of pastel dishes, electric toaster, or electric clock.

Complete rules of the contest can be secured from the County Agricultural Agent in the respective counties of the Show area.

Mrs. Kovar Flies On Visit to Prague

Mrs. Thomas Kovar is over in Prague, Czechoslovakia, now.

Her first trip to see her relatives in Europe since 1914, the two trips across were dramatically different. In 1914 it took two and a half weeks by ship. This time she took a plane direct from LaGuardia Field, arriving 19 hours later.

Mrs. Kovar left Charlevoix Sept. 29 for Detroit where she visited with her daughters and sons-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Sumnerman, Mr. and Mrs. John McConaughy, Mary Cooper and Stella Maris Kovar. From Detroit she went to Chicago, where she boarded a plane for New York. While abroad Mrs. Kovar plans to spend some time in Vienna and Budapest before returning.

On her trip to Chicago she was accompanied by Mrs. McConaughy, Mrs. Cooper and Miss Kovar. While there they visited her brother in Custer Park, Ill.

Patience, Peace Urged As U. S. Role

Picking a fight with Russia is the worst sort of folly for this country, Prof. Edward Profit of Michigan State College told members of three service clubs Oct. 20 at Boysie City.

Neither of the world's only two great powers today can wage a successful war against the other he pointed out. Russia hasn't the sea power, but has the military might. Our land strength is pitiable, but we do have the bulk of the naval power.

Furthermore, an ideology like Communism can be fought successfully only by ideas, not by force. If this country wants to triumph over Communism it must do three things.

It must not lose its head and play into Russia's hand by being exasperated into fighting.

It must learn to get along with Russia even though this takes patience.

Lastly, it must live democratically and lose no chance to preach the gospel of democratic freedom as strongly as Russia preaches communism.

If the mass of Russian people could know what our system could give, Communism would be killed. Sometime there will be chance to get the message across. If we are ready, then we can win over Marxism and dictatorship with ideas and without war.

Twenty-seven Kiwanians attended the event, the first of its kind since before the war.

Thieves Kill Cow; Take One Quarter

Ellsworth—Levi Donaldson, local farmer living three miles north of town, reported Monday that cattle thieves had butchered one of his cows while in the pasture, taking one hind quarter of beef and leaving the rest.

The cow had been missing about two weeks. Antrim county Sheriff Howard E. Tanner is investigating.

Action Sought On Juvenile Problems

Juveniles and juvenile problems will be the topic discussed at a special meeting at the Boysie City high school gym at 7:30 p. m., Thursday, Oct. 30.

Representatives of school and church groups, PTA members, teachers as well as doctors, nurses and others in the community who deal directly with the youth of the county are invited.

The county-wide organization meeting being called at this time is to discuss problems of home and family living for adolescents of the district. Dr. John Cowan, director of Venereal Disease Control of the state of Michigan, will lead the discussion.

"Everyone talks about juvenile delinquency," said Dr. A. F. Litzenberger, head of the local Health Unit, who has called the meeting, "but no one takes the initiative in doing something about it and that is why this meeting has been called. We hope that all persons in the community interested in our youth will respond."

With lemons at $1.25 per dozen we are learning to get along without them, but we are wondering who put that squeeze on the lemon market. Certainly the growers didn't get all that extra money.—Cassopolis Vigilant.

IT HAPPENED ON . . .

BEAVER ISLAND

By Mrs. J. C. Hanley

This week most of the islanders who have been vacationing returned home to get down to business. It won't be long before deer season, and from all indications, there are a lot of hunters preparing for the chase on Beaver Island.

A few bow and arrow hunters were here last week. The bucks were no where to be seen, and this, they say, is due to the warm weather, so no luck. The hunters turned fishermen and had plenty of luck. There is a diversity for the sportsmen on the island.

Mrs. Frank Elms, mother of Buster Elms and Mr. and Mrs. John Mitchell all of Hot Springs, Ark., were here for five days. Mrs. Elms was the guest of her son while the Mitchell's were the guests of Lawrence and Winnie McDonough.

H. W. Brockway, Hastings, Tom Mengus, Eaton Rapids; Pappy Adams, Kalamazoo, were here for the perch season. According to Pat LaFreniere, they are part of the original perch fishing gang who have come to the island for the past 14 years.

Staff Sgt. Lawrence Malloy has arrived in the States and is waiting for reassignment at Camp Stoneman, Calif. Lawrence has been stationed in Japan.

Father Fabian took a short vacation while Father Victor Gallagher and Father Bernard Schied were on the island.

Mrs. Grace Cole and son, Donald, are in Charlevoix to be with Mrs. Julia Cole, who is ill in Charlevoix Hospital.

Buddy McDonough's vacation ended in a wheel chair at Little Traverse Hospital. Buddy and his friends were spending their last night on the mainland in a tourist cabin. The boys, in a playful mood, were wrestling around, when the bed collapsed and right on Buddy's little toe. It was laughed off as a joke at first, but the next day, it was no laughing matter. Upon examination by a doctor, the verdict was, broken toe, hospital for two or three days and surgery.

When Musette and Vernon LaFreniere unloaded their car after their trip, the big question was, how in the world did they ever get all that stuff in one car?

James McCann and Earl Boyle returned Friday from Charlevoix where they were attending the Board of Supervisor's meeting.

The Sisters received a new black Chevrolet on Friday's boat. Now, they can forget about car trouble for awhile.

Besides the Martin twins, there is another set of twins on the island. They are the Napont twins, a boy and a girl, who were not born on the island but were brought here soon after birth.

Grandma Nanaglaw has them in her care as the mother died soon after the babies were born.

Mrs. Ella Summerville was on the mainland for several days, returning to the island Saturday.

Raymond Lewis returned home Saturday after a visit in Detroit. Raymond deserved a good vacation. He stood in the lake practically every day last summer feeding logs to Gus' mill.

It was hard to recognize your own child after the stores got in a supply of paraffin false teeth. Every child in the neighborhood looked like Mortimer Snerd or worse.

A fence doesn't faze our village cows—no siree. They have learned to jump and over they go. Guess those nice rasy apples in Bernadine Joseph's yard was an incentive to achieve this latest accomplishment.

Carolyn Miller's eleventh birthday was celebrated Saturday afternoon at the home of her grandmother, Mrs. Arthur Miller, from 2 until 5 p. m.

Ten classmates were invited for the occasion. Games were played with prizes awarded the winners.

Refreshments were served during the afternoon. The table, which was centered with the birthday cake, was attractive with party favors. Pink and silver was the color scheme.

The invited guests were: Grace Marie McCann, Marjorie Martin, Eleanor Gallagher, Ellen Nacherman, Margaret Ann LaFreniere, Audrey Gatliff, Kay McDonough, Grace Gatliff, Mary Catherine Hanley, Rosalie Bennett. Mrs. George Miller assisted in entertaining.

Harbor Game Proves Hard, Wild Contest

Couch Ray Kipke hurried to the officials, called attention to the fact a touchdown legally was made when Jolliffe crossed the line; that the whistle was late, that the tackling of the ball carrier was wrong and that the ball was dead when fumbled. Bailey reversed his decision and called the Harbor team back on the field for the attempt at point.

Coach Paul Derrickson of Harbor protested the action, both before the play was resumed and at much length on the field at the end of the time out. However, the officials ruled that the original decision was wrong and that the touchdown was good.

The game was a long one, taking almost 2½ hours. Fumbles were frequent. Harbor Springs led off with one at the start, and Charlevoix did the same on its next play. In the third quarter Jolliffe fumbled on the ten yard line. Martin again lost the ball in the fourth.

Charlevoix's weakest point was its tackling and defense play. All through the third period the Rams ripped through the Charlevoix line like paper. Only when the Rams resorted to passing or trick plays was the red and white able to stop them.

Charlevoix scored in the first quarter. Two Carey passes, drives by Jolliffe and Martin put the ball on the two yard line where Bill Carey carried it across. The second score was the one which caused all the ruckus at the end of the half.

Harbor's touchdown came in the final period. It had completed a pass, made 5 yards through tackle and then Bill Carey intercepted. Pat Martin made 8 through guard. Bill Carey picked up 6 and Martin fumbled on the 28 yard line. On the second play Ayres of Harbor outran the Charlevoix team, going 62 yards to score. Kick was low.

With three minutes left to play Charlevoix received. Jolliffe and Martin made a first down when a holding penalty set the ball back 15. Bill Carey went 12 yards on the third down. Instead of punting out of danger, Charlevoix elected to try for a first down. Harbor broke through, nailed Martin 8 yards behind his line of scrimmage.

A run and a pass put the ball on the 20 yard line. Potter and Smith broke through to nail the runner for a 10-yard loss. A Harbor pass was completed but the runner with a clear field ahead of him fell down on the 20 yard line as the game ended.

On defense, Burke, Potter, Roberts looked the best of the line at stopping runners.

The starting line-up was, ends, Bob Carey and Case; tackles, Gibbons and Shadko; guards, Burke and Potter; center, Peterson; quarter, Bill Carey; half, Gibbons and Hardy; full, and Smith went in for Case at back, Dick Jolliffe. Roberts at end in the second period.

News of folks, your neighbors and mine... but did you know that—

Hollyhocks are in bloom. Mrs. James Wilson picked three quarts of strawberries the other day, not the everbearing kind, either. Vi Baker has green raspberries on her bushes and says that on other good week of this weather and she will have ripe ones. Why does one want to go to Florida so soon although many are doing it. The Don Wycoffs left Saturday for their winter sojourn in St. Petersburg. Wasn't it a sight to see all the kiddies in the primary grades with their teachers, and headed by the band, as they marched down from school Friday to see the free show at the Kiwanis Club. Kiddies in costumes and others in costumes, grinning their heads off and calling "Hello, mother" as they spotted their parents on the sidewalks, grinning back equally as hard. Speaking of Halloween, I guess leaving the Courier office late, the editor forgot and left his key in the doorway and went partying. Returning late he stopped at the office and there was the key just where he had left it. Nothing was in any way. Guess it was truly the acid test for kids about town on such a night. Charlevoix can well be proud of its youngsters. They are a pretty swell lot.

Mr. and Mrs. John R. Struthers left Saturday for Ontario, Cal., where they will spend the winter with their daughter and family. Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Bartlett, Rev. and Mrs. Ansley B. Claypoole returned last week from a vacation during which time they were in Detroit, Wyandotte, Ypsilanti and Ann Arbor. It's wonderful weather to go places and see things. Thursday night will be the Senior play, "Murder Mansion." Was certainly sorry to learn of the illness of Louis Sawaby. He is at the T. B. Sanitarium in Gaylord. Think it would make him a mighty happy Indian boy if Charlevoix folks would send him a greeting card, or just a line to cheer him up. It's no fun lying in bed for weeks on end. The Tom Coxes and the Bob Wests will be among the rosters at the Michigan-Indiana game at Ann Arbor Saturday. Wasn't the Michigan-Indiana game exciting last Saturday? Was all worn out listening to the radio version of it. The teams were pretty equally matched and Michigan won that victory the hard way.

Community Chest Plan is Described

The Kiwanis resumed their meetings at Shady Corner on Monday evening following Mr. and Mrs. William Heering's return from their southern trip. Mr. Heering gave a talk on the trip through the Smoky Mountains and Florida where they saw the damage done by the recent hurricanes.

Gordon Freedman, of the local Community Chest committee gave a report on the drive about to begin. He stressed the need for such a drive and stated that it would become a permanent fund to raise funds for all organizations with the exception of the Red Cross, March of Dimes and Michigan Tuberculosis Society, which have their own highly-organized drives.

Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Brown returned last week from a 1700 mile motor trip around Lake Huron and through part of the Upper Peninsula.

They took with them a resolution asking the Michigan State Grange to support the Rural Electric Association by informing our Congressmen about the needs of the R. E. A. The resolution was adopted by a unanimous vote.

Mr. and Mrs. Warner installed the officers of Maple Grove Grange Tuesday evening. Also at that time they made a report of the convention.

Gas Tank Explodes

The explosion Monday noon heard downtown was caused by a tank belonging to the Coast Guard station. It had been taken to the Charlevoix Gas & Appliance Co., and was standing on the loading platform when it blew up due to lack of a proper safety valve.

Mail Bids Are Asked

Bids on flying the mail to Beaver Island this winter are now being asked by the Post Office. The contract is from Jan. 1 to April 1.

Rayders Are Northern Champions for Third Straight Year With Season's Record of 193 Points to Opponents' 18

Scoring 193 points to their opponents' 18 in the seven games this season, Charlevoix's Red Rayders are the unquestioned champion football team of northwestern Michigan and one of the top Class C teams in the state.

If Coach Ray Kipke had not made a practice of sending in the second team for the last half in most of the games, the total score would have been much larger.

The scores and opponents were:

35	Grayling	6
19	Bozette City	0
55	East Jordan	0
12	Harbor Springs	6
33	Pellston	6
193		18

The final game last Friday was at Pellston. A rough and tumble contest from the start, it reached a point in the third quarter where the referee sent a Pellston player from the field.

Charlevoix scored two more touchdowns than the score shows, but both were voided by offside penalties on the scoring play.

Four of the Charlevoix scores came on end runs and one on a Bill to Bob Carey pass. Bob kicked two extra points, missed two. Dick Jolliffe made the fifth one on a line play. Statistics of the game were:

Charlevoix	Pellston
144	Yds thru line	75
197	End runs	90
6	Comp. passes	1
2	Att. passes	5
12	First downs	5

The Reserve team, coached by Leonard Burns and Norman Gallagher, made a comparable record. The four games resulted in a 0-0 tie and a 31-6 victory over Petoskey; 19-0 and 25-0 wins from Boyne City.

Celebrating the close of the championship football season will be the dinner now being planned by the Knights of Pythias for the players. It will be sometime this month.

Ending their high school grid careers this year are Don Burke, Bill and Bob Carey, Jim Clark, Dick Donaldson, Jim Gibbons, Dave Hardy, Cliff Lagerman, Phil Martin, Jack Roberts, Bob Shanahan and Dave Smith.

Remodeling has been started at Smith's Housefurnishings.

First change has been the ripping out of the old knee-high display shelf at the front. Flooring has been laid in place of it at the same floor level.

Newly built at the store are movable plywood partitions about four feet high which can be used to set off two sections of the floor on one side. In these 9 by 12 areas a room-like display of furniture will be arranged.

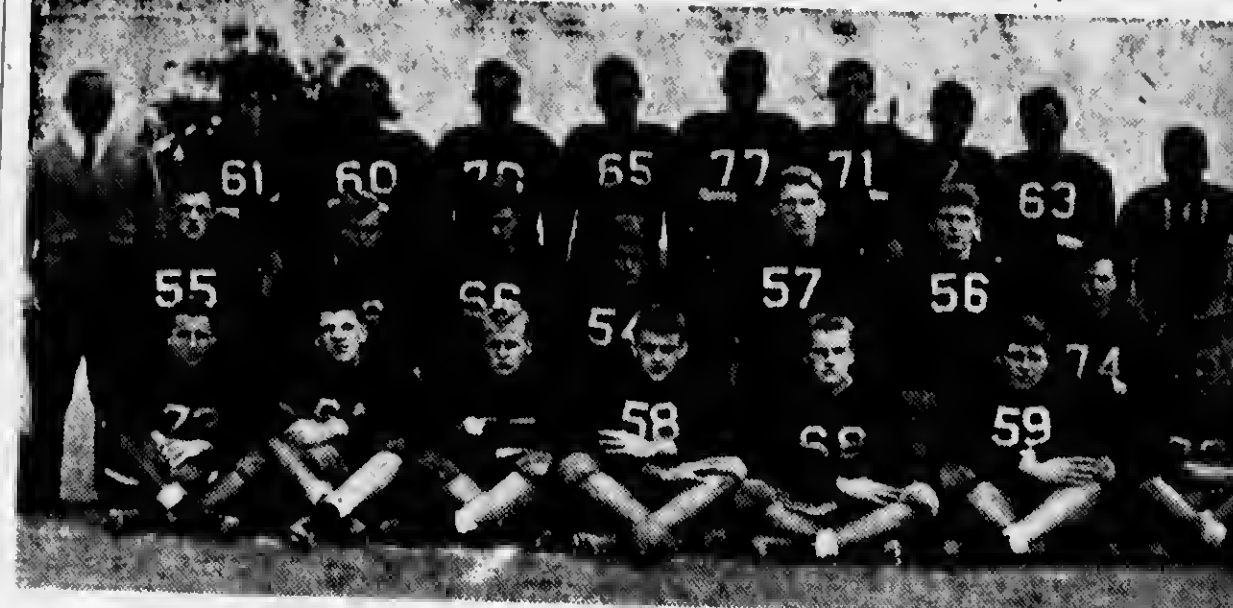

Lyle Miles, now employed at Smith's, has been helping do the remodeling and building.

Fire Destroys Potter Home

Fire, in the most destructive farm blaze herabouts in some time, completely destroyed the farm home of Mr. and Mrs. Dick Potter just south of Barnard Friday night.

Nothing was saved from the modern, ten room home.

According to Mr. Potter, the current on the REA line serving them had gone off at 4:30 p. m. When it stayed off, the family decided to come to Charlevoix to the home of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Heere for supper. They left the house at 6:45.

An hour later Lawrence Boss at his home a mile away saw a blaze at the Potter place and sent in the alarm. At about the same time Earl Bradford saw the fire and started at once for the scene.

Neighbors at once rushed there. The Charlevoix fire department sent its pumper truck. When they arrived, the entire house was solid flames, and it was impossible to save a single thing inside.

Lost were every bit of clothing of the whole family except what they were wearing, all the furniture and new kitchen equipment.

The volunteers and the department however, aided by a wind in the right direction, were able to save all the other buildings, including nearby turkey coops housing more than 2000 turkeys about ready for the market.

The loss, estimated at more than $12,000, was only partly covered by insurance.

Wednesday night the entire Barnard community held a shower for the Potters at the Reformed church there.

Clement, Schwab Improving Slowly

Reports on the two Charlevoix men hospitalized at the University Hospital, Ann Arbor shows both are doing OK.

The condition of Gordon Clement, who was admitted for treatment of a fractured neck as a result of an auto-truck collision on Oct. 18, remains satisfactory. Mrs. Clement is still with him.

Bill Schwab, who was admitted on Oct. 20 for head surgery, is much improved, according to word received from Mrs. Schwab who has been with him since his admittance. He has been allowed in the wheel chair for brief periods since Saturday.

Their addresses are: Gordon Clement, Rm. 5607, 5th floor West, and William Schwab, Rm. 5605, 5th floor West, University Hospital, Ann Arbor.

Among those from the District Health office No. 3 who left Tuesday to attend the four-day meeting were Dr. A. F. Littenberger, director of District No. 3, Mrs. Marian Rice, county nurse; Robert T. Coleman, sanitarian, Mrs. Frank Rassel, office clerk; Mrs. Littenberger and Mrs. Coleman accompanied their husbands.

Rev. W. D. Wood of the Church of God has announced that the $1200 missionary drive to raise funds for Rev. and Mrs. Charles Struthers, who are at Kingston, Jamaica, has been completed and the amount raised.

Rev. Struthers, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Struthers, and Mrs. Struthers, the former Florence Palmer, daughter of Mrs. John Funk and the late William Palmer, are sponsored by the local church while in the field. The amount to be raised in the drive is set by the missionary board of the church and is added to the funds given from other sources to keep the couple in the field.

Gatti, Meek Pay Fines, Cost of $600

In a surprise move, Tuesday morning Marsh Meek and O. Gatti came before Judge W. I. Waller in Circuit Court and entered a plea of guilty to possession of gambling equipment.

Wednesday morning Judge Waller sentenced Meek to pay $200 fine and $200 costs; Gatti to a $100 fine and $100 costs. The equipment taken in the Aug. 30 raid remains confiscated and still pending is the liquor license hearing before the state commission.

The original charge against the men was permitting gambling. The court accepted the lesser plea.

More Men Needed On Scout Committee

As soon as a full adult troop committee is formed and functioning Boy Scouting will be started again in Charlevoix.

This was the decision reached Friday night at the meeting of fathers of Scout age boys in the City Hall. With Gordon Freedman presiding, the meeting named three men and assigned them the duty of lining up ten men to serve as a permanent Troop Committee. The three are Ted Foster, DeWitt Peters and L. H. Barker.

All five of last year's committee have been asked to reappoint themselves again for 1948. In addition, five others will be asked. Any man in the community who has had experience as a Scout leader and is willing to serve is asked to notify any of the three committees.

Seniors Present Comedy Tonight

Sensational and funny describes the mystery comedy, "Murder Mansion" to be presented by the Senior class of the high school gymnasium at 8:15 p. m. Thursday.

Things really happen when young Carlotta Cramer (Joy Van Zant) through the death of her uncle, inherits a lonely old mansion off the Maine coast and goes to look it over. Accompanied by her colored maid, Aphelia (Shirley Sauri) and her Aunt Minnie Spaulding (Gladys Coney) she arrives at the mansion early one fall evening, and is subjected to a set of mysterious and baffling incidents before locating the housekeeper, Mary Marley (Dorothy Young).

Mary Marley adds to their fears when she tells them the uncle did not die of natural causes but was the victim of murder, and that his spirit returns every evening about midnight.

Because of all these things the newly acquired house has become known as "Murder Mansion." Carlotta is about to leave when Inspector Hicks (Bob Shanahan) intercepts them and asks them to stay. Shortly thereafter he disappears, the victim of foul play.

Palmer Keen (John Erickson) the hero, comes to the aid of the lady in distress. Assisting in the unraveling of the mystery are Mary Ann Glados as Madame Ravoli, a medium who is in touch with the departed; Bill Carey as Albert Jackson, who arrives in an unexpected manner; Bob Carey as Dr. Lionel Hamilton, head of a nearby sanitarium and Jackie Louise as Flora Manning who also comes to pay a visit.

East Jordan Will Have Turkey Shoot

Deer hunters and other outdoor enthusiasts will get a chance to try out their guns next Sunday at the East Jordan Rifle Range recently acquired by the East Jordan Sportsmen's Club.

The occasion is the revival of the annual turkey shoot sponsored by the club commencing at 10 a. m. The courses will include a moving live sized deer target for deer rifles and stationary and bobbing targets for rifles, 22s and 22s available at the range.

Coffee and doughnuts will be available at the range. The ladies and families of all are most cordially invited to attend and participate.

The range is 1 1/2 miles north of East Jordan on the Boyne City road, directional arrows will be posted so no one can miss.

Couple Are Giving Religious Course

Rev. and Mrs. Paul Whalen of Anderson, Ind., are at the Church of God this week where they are giving a special course in Religious Education.

Close Armistice Day. The Court House, City Hall and both banks will be closed Tuesday, Armistice Day.

Community Fund Drive Has $3750 Goal for District

Citizens of the Charlevoix community next week will be asked to raise $3750 for the Community Chest.

The campaign will be launched formally next week with a kick-off breakfast for the drive workers. Tuesday has been tentatively at the date.

The sum of $3750 was set Monday night by the directors after considering all appeals which were brought before them.

Comprising the total are six items:

Hospital	$1000
Boy Scouts	400
Girl Scouts	440
School nurse	850
Cancer fund	600
Emergency fund	460
	$3750

No cash drive has been made for operating costs by the hospital in some time. Every year, there has been a deficit. This has been made up by the three associations of summer residents.

This year they served notice on the hospital board that further help would be reduced or stopped unless the community itself was willing to shoulder some of the burden, since it received the major benefit. It is in order to continue to obtain this extra help—and to meet increased costs—that the $1000 item was put in.

It was emphasized that this money is for current operating costs and not to go for the new building fund.

The Senior Trails Council of Boy Scouts asked for $850. There has been a growing feeling that the boys here have not received the benefits from Scouting that they should. Much of the fault for this, the directors admitted, was the inability to obtain local leadership. But until the Scout organization became more active here, they voted to hold the contribution to $400.

The Girl Scouts, on the other hand, now have 130 enrolled and many more applications if leaders can be obtained. Figures were submitted showing an active and useful program. The amount asked was $440 and that was approved.

The school nurse, Dr. A. F. Littenberger of the District Health Department pointed out that for another $850 her full time services could be obtained by the extra half day she would serve the entire area included in the Charlevoix School District as a health consultant. There is a fair possibility, he stated, that this money might come from a Federal grant after the first of the year. In that case the $850 would not be needed and the sum could be left on hand to reduce the need a year from now.

This year the cancer drive here netted $900. The directors felt that $800 would represent the maximum which this community justly could be asked to contribute.

The emergency fund is kept on hand. During the year, if a wholly justified appeal is made for funds by some other health or welfare cause, this can be used. Having the money on hand will save the bother and work of another drive.

The directors stress two points. Except for such organizations as the Red Cross, TB and polio which refuse to join in all known causes which directly serve the community are included.

Second, when a person gives to the Community Chest, he has made his recognized health and welfare contribution for the year. Subsequent requests from other sources, can be referred to the Chest help from the emergency fund. Thus the repeated calls which have been a nuisance will be avoided.

Call Sent to Rev. Dykstra. Rev. Ellsworth Dykstra, pastor of the Barnard Reformed church, has received a call from the Central Reformed church of Oskaloosa, Iowa. We will announce his decision later this month.

Square Biscuits, Yet!

I see by a neighboring paper, that the round biscuit is on the way out. Yes, sir, home-management specialists have found that the square biscuit lends itself to assembly-line production and easy storage better than those customary ovals.
Well, we're all for progress, but that's one new idea we just don't cotton to. A round biscuit, spread neatly amidstships with snappy country cheese, looks like a biscuit! And accompanied by a mellow glass of beer, it's a combination that you can't improve on!

So at the risk of being called old-fashioned, I'm voting for round biscuits, that fit a hungry man's mouth like no square imitation ever will... and for American beer served in the good old-fashioned way, in tall, cool mugs or ordinary glasses, with frosty sides and bubbles winking at the brim!

Think I'll step out to the kitchen now!

IT HAPPENED ON

BEAVER ISLAND

By Mrs. J. C. Hanley

Tuesday evening at five o'clock the members of the Blessed Virgin's Sodality assembled at Uncle Tom's cabin on Sand Bay for an evening of fun. The Dominican Sisters had weiners and marshmallows galore which were roasted by the fireplace. After the cats, games were played followed by square and modern dancing.

From the looks of things around town the morning after Halloween one would think a tornado had hit the Island and placed our buildings in freak places. A fish shanty was on top of Archie's Algoma cabin; a Chick Sales cabin stood in front of the Post Office; another was on the deck of the North Shore! any number of them were turned over; a large row boat was across the side walk in front of the Shillolagh. The old timers say it isn't any thing like it used to be. To hear them relate tales of past Halloween tricks, this year was mild in comparison.

You have heard of writer's cramps? Well, there are a lot of us suffered from scraper's cramps after spending hours with a razor blade scraping soap off windows.

John Ricksgers went around the day before Halloween giving pumpkins which were grown in his garden to his friends. Halloween night, the pumpkins were grinning from porches and windows, much to the children's delight.

Florence Burke and Lila Lee

Mrs. Emerald Gallagher and daughter, Kathleen, have gone to Detroit to spend awhile before going east to make their home.

Those from the Island who attended the funeral of Mrs. Julia Cole were Archie LaFreniere, Burt McDonough, Earl Boyle, James Gallagher, Bessie LaFreniere and Carl Keubler. These friends of Mrs. Cole acted as pallbearers.

A number of Michigan students will be sitting and writing on Beaver Island in the future. The White Swan came to the Island Wednesday and left Friday with 85,000 feet of hardwood. The lumber is being delivered to the State Prison at Ionia where the prisoners will convert it into desks and chairs for Michigan schools.

A party was held Thursday evening at the Parish Hall under the auspices of the Altar Society. The committee in charge was Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd McDonough, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Connaghan, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Cull.

A balloon, which was released at Lake Forest College, Ill., at the kick-off between Lake Forest College vs. Illinois Wesleyan Oct. 25, landed on Beaver Island at Sucker Point. Carl Keubler, down at the North end checking the traps set for coyotes, noticed the orange colored balloon caught near the beach. The balloon was tagged and on one side it read: "Ten persons living greatest distance from Lake Forest will receive 108 page pictured appointment book free." We wonder if Carl will be one of the winners. Joan Spalding came up from South Bend to spend a few days with her parents.

Mrs. Glenn Forbes, Mrs. Marguerite Cole Stephens, Detroit, flew to the Island during the week. Jerry Seaman, pilot and Bruce McArthur, co-pilot from Pellston ferried them across. All except McArthur are relatives of the deceased Mrs. Julia Cole.

Last week the science class was convinced that hydrogen burns. Instead of testing the hydrogen that had been collected in the test tubes, a flame was applied to the outlet of the jar in which he hydrogen was being released. The explosion which resulted, though a calm one as chemistry goes, sent shivers down the backs of the members of the class.

In the past week the students of St. James grade school received their six week's report cards. The following are on the honor roll: Margaret Ellen McDonough, Jeanne Van Erkle, Grace Marie McCann, Kay McDonough, Carolyn Miller and Mary Catherine Hanley.

From the high school: Mary Malloy, Joy McDonough, Lillian Greene, Dorothy McCann, Madonna McDonough and Mary LaFreniere.

The Ganic Club will meet Thursday evening at the King Strang Hotel to elect officers for the coming year.

HARVEST DANCE—Monday, Nov. 10, St. Mary's School Hall. Door prizes, lunch, special drawing.

Ellsworth P. T. A., To Present Comedy

Ellsworth—Members of Banks township PTA will present a 3-act comedy, "Grandpa's Twin Sister" Thursday and Friday nights at Community hall.

The cast, directed by Mrs. John Bos, includes Henry Ruis, Bernard Best, Basil Cummins, Hollis M. Fickle, Mrs. Lambert Marcus, Mrs. Marvin Elzinga, Mrs. Lynn Carpenter, Mrs. Grant A. Hastings and Mrs. John DeYoung.

Beverly June Fisher, Melvin Plum Wed

At a quiet ceremony performed at 9 p. m. Thursday at the Congregational manse, Miss Beverly Fisher, daughter of Capt. and Mrs. William Fisher, became the bride of Melvin Plum, son of Mrs. Helen Plum.

Rev. Jackson E. Turner read the service in the presence of their immediate families.

The bride chose a cocoa brown dress, brown accessories and a corsage of white flowers for her wedding. Her attendant, Mrs. Leroy Plum, sister-in-law of the bridegroom, wore a yellow plaid wool dress, matching accessories and a corsage of white pompons.

Mr. Plum was his brother's best man.

Mrs. Fisher selected a rose crepe dress and black accessories and the bridegroom's mother wore a black suit and matching accessories.

Immediately after the ceremony a reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Plum.

After a wedding trip to South Haven where they will visit the bride's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Fisher, the couple will make their home in West Huron ave.

Both are graduates of the Charlevoix high school. During World War II, the bridegroom served for four years in the Navy aboard a minesweeper.

Among the guests was Mrs. Alfred M. Anderson of Traverse City, sister of the bride.

News of folks, your neighbors and mine... but did you know that—

Do you realize that Christmas is just six, short and mighty busy weeks away? . . . Dorothea Badger might be one who can say that there must be good fairies looking out for her welfare. While at the Teachers Institute more than a month ago at Traverse, someone helped herself to her coat. Last week she received word that the coat had been found and it has now been delivered to her. She had truly thought that it was gone forever, and it came back in perfect condition.

Congratulations to the cast of the Senior play who did such a swell job Thursday night. Their play "Murder Mansion" really went over with a bang as well as being a financial success. . . . This is American Education week and if you did not get to Open House at school Monday night, certainly the teachers would be most happy if you did not let the week go by without visiting school. They enjoy and want to know the parents of their students, and you should know them. "The Schools are Yours" is the Battle Cry of this year's American Education Week.

Mildred Ochs has been called to Detroit by the serious illness of her sister . . . Orchids to the Senior Gals' Scout troop. This week the girls went to the hospital and spent the evening making Q-tips for the new babies at the hospital. Also they have volunteered to sell cokes at the Independent basketball games, the proceeds to go to the hospital. . . . Last Sunday at the Armstrong-Powell wedding the family dog came in for his share of the festivities. He was decorated with an appropriate ribbon and shared in the refreshments and merriment.

Dr. R. S. McClintock has an article appearing in the November Michigan Medical Journal. Young Bill Cowdrey has spent a most painful week. He had the misfortune to dislocate his elbow while on the school ground last week. . . . The youngsters in the kindergarten are realists and want to know whether these fairy tales can really be true. Recently their teacher had been reading Jack and the Beanstalk to them. A few days later the children found some beans on the school grounds. Mrs. McRae had to plant them and they are going to watch the results. The result is a pretty pot of greenery in their room, but a long way from the beanstalk that Jack found outside his window. . . . Many men have left for fields still farther north to do deer hunting.

Everett D. Graw of Lansing and Artie and James Roberts of Mt. Pleasant visited Mrs. Bertha Roberts over the weekend. Mr. and Mrs. Earl A. Young left last week for San Francisco to attend a National Realtors Convention. They made the trip by airplane. They expect to be gone about two weeks.

The Roy Bennetts went to Kingsley to the home of Mrs. John Wall Sunday to attend Open House. On their return they were accompanied by Mrs. Martell Tuntland and son, David, of Street, Ill., and Mrs. Bennett's sister, Miss Sue Nickerson of Guatemala City, Guatemala. Miss Nickerson has spent six years there and speaks Spanish like a native. Her work is fascinating for she is Director of the Health Service there. On a two months vacation, Miss Nickerson will spend one month with her relatives and the second month in Texas before returning to her work. . . . In spite of the weather Sunday night 28 folks got out for the Treasure Hunt. The Walt Bergens and the Dean Davenport were the week's winners.

With thousands at Ann Arbor Saturday afternoon to be walking out of the stadium in the confusion of so many folks wanting to get to the same place, to bump into Bill and Bob Carey and Chuck Fairbanks. The boys got a big thrill out of seeing the Michigan-Indiana game. They had come with the Ron Fairbanks and Kay Fitch. . . . The Baptist Bible School officers and teachers went to East Jordan Tuesday evening and held their monthly meeting with their Superintendent and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Walton.

Mrs. A. W. Goddard is living at Mrs. Jardine's home at 316 Mason these days. . . . E. C. Nordstrom will arrive in Charlevoix Thursday to relieve M. E. Wakefield who will have two weeks vacation from his duties as Western Union manager. . . . Guess old man Winter has caught up with us at last. . . . What fun the mail men must have with two Jean Pearls and two Robert Pearls in town. . . . Looks like more wedding bells will be ringing soon.

Does Lamprey Have Built-in Radar Steering?

Whether lampreys eels steer by a sort of natural, built-in radar system is being debated these days by boatmen and fishermen around Lake Charlevoix.

Credit for propounding the theory probably goes to John Olson of Boyne City. . . . Basis for the suggestion is the behaviour noticed this summer by fishermen out in boats. When the propeller was going, the lampreys appeared attracted to the rear of the craft. They would fasten themselves to the stern and hang on.

It got to be quite a sport among the steelhead anglers to take along a frog spear and snag the eels when they fastened to the boat. The trick was to spear them just behind the head. The skull is so thick a spear has no effect.

Various facts all point to the idea that the lamprey is attracted by vibration.

They will not go to nor attach themselves to a standing boat or other floating object. They will swim to an outboard motor. Cases have been reported where a dozen could be counted following an outboard just north of the railroad bridge at this end of the lake. When the motor stops, they swim away.

Young Adult Group Plans Program of Civic Service

The Young Adult group of the Congregational church met Wednesday evening for another get-together with Mr. and Mrs. Pat Hawley, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Duerr and Mr. and Mrs. William Supernaw in charge of the meeting.

Officers were elected, they being Dr. Earl H. Faber, chairman, and Charles Duerr, vice-chairman. Those who will serve on the program and refreshment committee for Nov. are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Weststaff, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Cox and Mr. and Mrs. Versal Seymour.

The group plans to further the welfare of the community by connecting and working with other organizations who have similar projects. The evening's program consisted of reports by members on community projects such as Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Kiwanis, Board of Commerce, Children's Summer recreational project, the hospital, care of underprivileged children. Dr. Gerald Gibbons was guest speaker and gave a detailed report on the Community Chest.

Refreshments were served and the remainder of the evening was spent in square dancing.

Big Base for New Generator Poured

The last barrow of concrete Monday night was dumped into the form for the base of the new generator at the power plant.

Altogether, the foundation took 150 yards of material. Tying it together into a solid mass required 6600 pound of tool steel reinforcement bars, bought as government surplus and much harder than ordinary reinforcing.

The foundation is 32 feet 4 inches, by 14 feet, and 9 feet, 7 inches high. It rests on a deep foundation of piles driven deep when the building was put up. Imbedded in it are the big steel hold-down bolts for the new generator unit.

Pouring of the concrete started Monday and was kept up without a break until the last batch was in place.

One extra item of cost came up at the Council Monday night. The original floor projected a little too close on two sides. At the west end of the new foundation there was an old concrete wall dating from steam engine days which was in the way. The city paid the Lamb Co. $1064 for breaking out the floor, cutting the reinforcing rods and for ripping out the wall.

Basketball Teams To Face Kalkaska, New York Pros

Rated as the best team in Northern Michigan, the Michigan Cleaners of Charlevoix will be meeting three fast basketball outfits this week.

Thursday night Kalkaska will send two teams here for a double header at the school gym at 8 p. m. Kalkaska won 15 straight games last year and are said to be stronger this year. Last season Charlevoix lost to them on their own court by one point.

Then next Wednesday the Cleaners again will meet the Komeidy Kings of New York, the strong Negro team which played here last year. At that time the Charlevoix boys were able to hold the pros fairly close, the only northern Michigan team to do this.

With the Kings will be Circus Eddie Hamman, the clown who put on an intermission act last year. Jesse Gerrett will referee.

Last Friday night the two Charlevoix teams took twin games from Grayling. Playing against the Keg 'O Nails squad, the Cleaners led 23-15 at the half, 35-24 at the third quarter and won 51-32. The Cleaners used a fast breaking offense to good advantage. Although the passing was spotty at times, they outmaneuvered the Keggers under the basket.

Bill Lusk scored 19 points, Bernie Ward and Don Meggison 10 each, Chick Gallagher 8 and Johnny Swanson 4. Swanson turned his ankle slightly but came back in the final quarter. In the preliminary game, the Charlevoix Merchants scored a 25-15 victory over the Grayling Legion team. The game was close up to the last quarter when the Charlevoix boys dropped four quick baskets. Scorers were B. Zeiler, B. F. Smith, G. D. Zeiler, 5.

Catches Fox, Finds Collar On Neck

Someone around here at one time had some captive red fox.

Aaron Brock caught one in a steel trap. Finding the fox at night, he shot, it before he discovered that it was wearing a collar. Made of heavy webbing and with a name plate which cannot be read, the collar was so tight he could not get his fingers under it.

This happened Nov. 2 on the Brock farm. According to the Brock's, a few days later Art Steel near Barnard was trailing a fox. It would run a ways and then lie down. Finally he got close enough to shoot it. Around its neck was a similar tight collar.

If You Win a Pig—Be There; It's Safer

Emerald LaBlance is going to attend all future Catholic Men's parties when there is a pig to be awarded.

He didn't Monday—and gave his family a bad scare. The Men's Club gave the first of what it hopes will be monthly events. The music for dancing was furnished by Mrs. Marian Oleksy and Stewart Henner. Joe Foster was the caller for square dancing. There were hams, cakes and other prizes. Finally the big event of the evening came.

A pig, wearing a green ribbon, was to be given away. Emerald LaBlance was the winner. But he was at home, sleeping. So a delegation of thoughtful and kind-hearted men decided they should take the pig to Emerald, possibly even putting it in bed with him.

They got in the house and were part way to the bedroom when the pig started squealing. The racket scared the LaBlance youngsters awfully. So it is that after this, Emerald says he'll take no more chances on a pig—or he'll be there himself.

Howard Brumm To Head Kiwanis

Howard Brumm was elected the new president of the Kiwanis Club Monday night.

Vice-presidents are Gordon Freedman and Capt. Hubert Paddock.

Mrs. Harry Stewart read a story on racial tolerance.

Mrs. Charles Duerr is home after an emergency appendix operation performed last Wednesday.

New Business Section Asked For South Hill

Possibility of a new commercial development on Bridge street was outlined before the City Council Monday night.

The development would be from Antrim and Belvedere south to Upright. Floyd Supp, representing the Belle Taylor estate, presented a petition to the Council asking that the section in question be changed from Residential 1F to Commercial 1 in the city zoning ordinance.

As stated by Mr. Supp, H. H. Foles wants to buy the Taylor property at Upright and Bridge. There he would put up a new building and move his store from the Birknarth building downtown to the south hill. Such a store is barred now but would be permitted under Commercial 1. Supp also said that other retail businesses would move there if the change were made.

He presented petitions favoring the change which were signed by all but three of the property owners in the blocks.

Robert Weststaff also presented a request for a zoning change. The Weststaff cleaning plant has been at Antrim and Grant for many years, he pointed out. They would like to modernize the structure but under the zoning law they dare not make the investment. He asked that their lot be declared commercial.

The Council set Dec. 8 as the date for a public hearing on both requests.

Couple Injured As Car Goes Wrong

Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Hines were admitted to the Charlevoix Hospital late Saturday evening for injuries received in an accident near Manacoma while enroute to Charlevoix from Grand Rapids.

Mr. Hines is being treated for a back injury and multiple bruises and minor lacerations. The accident occurred a few miles north of Manacoma when the car went out of control because of a broken steering wheel. Mr. Hines had been in Grand Rapids last week with Mr. Hines who has been employed there since July. They were enroute here to make preparations for moving to Grand Rapids to make their home when the accident occurred.

Call Us On That First Buck

The Courier wants to get a picture of the first deer killed in the Charlevoix area. Just as soon as any of you hunters get your buck, call The Courier office or 142-J. The first one reported will be the one whose picture we use. Thanks.

Community Chest Drive to Start Later In Month

Deer hunting has caused a postponement of the drive for Community Chest funds.

Unable to get the solicitation launched before the annual trek began, the committee of the Fund decided to postpone the solicitation until after the hunters return from their camps. This likely will be in about two weeks.

The organization for the drive is well along. Mrs. Walter Bergeson, chairman of the solicitation committee, has named four area captains: Mrs. Gordon Freedman, north side; Mrs. Charles Hamlin, valley; Miss Anne Hines, south side; Bill Meyer, business district. These have lined up the solicitors who make the house-to-house canvass.

The drive will be formally started with a kick-off luncheon. The chief purpose and aim of a Community Chest is to save work, cost, bother, duplication and trouble.

Instead of Charlevoix having separate charity drives for each of eight or ten worthy causes, a single unified campaign is made once each year, covering all.

One extra item, it was decided, will be included in the total sought. Experience in other communities has shown that during the year a few unexpected appeals from entirely justified worthy causes are almost certain to be made.

Instead of having to turn these down, or go to the public for more and usually small sums, it is better to have a few hundred dollars in the Community Chest account. This can be used only on a vote of the directors. Further, any unused balance is turned over to the next year's drive so there is no mounting balance left to accumulate.

Only four organizations will not be included in the Chest drive. First are the churches. (Continued on page 10)

Eight Residents At State Meeting

Eight Charlevoix residents are at East Lansing attending the annual convention of the Michigan State Farm Bureau.

Those representing this county are Mr. and Mrs. George Block, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mascho, Mr. and Mrs. Clare McGhan, Mrs. Oakley Saunders and Don Crandall.

Potluck, Shower Held A capacity crowd packed the Barnard Grange hall Saturday night for the potluck supper and the shower for the Dick Potter family. Many things, useful to the Potters after their disastrous fire, were presented. Plans had been made to play cards but there was not enough room for tables. Instead there was dancing.

Parents See What Children Learn, Do at School Here

The many persons who attended Open House at the Charlevoix Public Schools Monday realized that here was one school that was putting plenty of stress in its primary grades on reading, writing and arithmetic minus the hickory stick.

All the rooms were decorated with examples of student work. One saw many turkeys, pilgrims, baskets of fruit, as well as perfect papers in arithmetic and spelling. Pupils' books and examples of handwriting could be found at pupils' desks throughout the school, along with scrap books of work in all subjects.

In evidence was much teaching of good citizenship. Flags and stories of American history were displayed as well as posters on cleanliness. In one room was a large paper bib. On it was the picture of a cow and printed on it were the words: "I am like an old cow. I like to chew. In social studies I get U. Needless to say the boy or girl who has to wear the bib for a morning never repeats the offense of chewing gum.

Interesting projects could be found in the rooms. In the first grade there was a student mural of Little Black Sambo. In connection with it the children had (Continued on page four)

Davenport, Bergensons Win Treasure Hunt

Last Sunday's Treasure Hunt was won by the Dean Davenport and the Walter Bergensons.

The hunt was put on by the Lou Wallaces, Bob Cases and Perry Smiths, winners of the previous hunt. The clues were as follows:

Fellow cats: Valuable timber, Frolicuous foliage. The weighty nut was sick. Old style weapon. Roses are red, violets blue, if you get this, you'll smell too. Cold Tool: Carlson's men; Lincoln: State gamblers; Sealed pistol: Jack hammer; Tease measure: Forbid a fenced in garden.

The answers appear on page four.

Beaver Island Will Hold Annual Hunter's Dinner Monday

The Beaver Island Game Club held a successful get-together Thursday evening at the King Strang Hotel.

With Archie LaFreniere, Jr., acting as chairman, the affair started off with a dinner followed by a business meeting.

The same officers were re-elected for the coming year: James McCann, president; Fred Spalding, secretary; Larry Cull, treasurer.

After the election, plans were discussed for the upcoming hunting season. Since both the North Shore and the Mary Margaret are booked solid for eight days, a large crowd of hunters is anticipated.

In former years, a prize of $25.00 was awarded the hunter who bagged the largest buck. This year, a silver cup will be the prize with the hunter's name and weight of buck to be inscribed on the trophy. The Game Club will retain the cup and each year the winner's name will be inscribed. A request will be sent to the Conservation Department to legalize deer shooting for the archers who come to the island.

An occasion looked forward to each year is the Game Club's treat to the hunters—a Beaver Island dinner and the Hunter's Ball. This year, it will be fresh fried lake trout with all the trimmings. The dinner, which will be held at the Parish Hall Monday, will start at 5 p. m. Following, a talk will be given on conservation and movies will be shown dealing with conservation.

Climaxing the evening will be the ball, with hunters gyving their partners in several rounds of square dancing and stepping it off in the modern manner.

Window Shows 4-H Activities

Showing the variety of 4-H activities, the window at Wood Brothers here, has an exhibit prepared by the club members.

Six activities are portrayed—Handcraft, clothing, crops, dairy, canning and archery. The canning is shown by actual cans of fruit and vegetables put up by five girls, Patricia and Joyce Murray, Patricia Jablinski, Joyce Fiedler and Betty Warner.

Also shown is the set of kitchen dishes won by Betty Warner for her work in Food Preparation. Her winning of them was announced at the Spring Achievement Day but the set just arrived.

A Letter to Our Summer Citizens

We folks here in Charlevoix wish you could have been back with us during October. It's true that Charlevoix is beautiful in the summer. Yet except for the boats on the lake, this October has surpassed even last summer for beauty.

The weather has been the chief factor. It was a four week Indian Summer of the balmy kind. At the end, the night air occasionally got a little nippy. But some days were almost too warm for comfort. Day after day the sky was a clear, unclouded blue.

Then too, the trees have been colorful. Not even the humbled are flower fields of California could compare in sheer color and pattern with the big rolling hills along Lake Charlevoix. The streets here in town have been aisles of yellow splashed with reds.

The steelhead have been biting. They started in at the Boyne City and East Jordan ends but gradually worked this way. The perch flotilla was out on Round Lake daily for three weeks and at late the smelt have been biting right off the docks by the park. Catches almost consistently have been good.

Several new houses have been started around town, most of them the year-around type.

Michigan Bell has been laying conduit for the new cable in both the north and south ends of town and a crew has swamped a right-of-way along the new road grade out northwest.

Work on the bridge is being pushed. The cofferdam on the north side of the channel is completed, the sand dredged out. 180 steel I-beams which will anchor the concrete foundation are firmly in place, and concrete pouring is well started.

The old foundation on the south side is mostly gone and a power shovel is digging away at the ground where the south side cofferdam will be driven. This dirt was hauled out on Park avenue and dumped over the bank to widen the street at the end of Clinton.

The boats have been disappearing one by one from the Round Lake slips and reappearing out on the storage ways at Ray Hamilton's. Beach parties and fish fries were popular. The church suppers and other social events have started.

I thought you folks might be interested in what has been happening and how the town looks. And to know that we wish you could have been back to share that October weather with us.

Yours,
LARRY TOWE.

Moore Is Improving Corner Station

Major improvements are being made at the Walt Moore's corner DN Service Station. A new floor has been laid in the showroom, which will be re-decorated. New fluorescent lights have been installed in the lamp shop and new ceiling put in the rest of the garage. He also plans to repaint the outside.

This week's nomination for the Anant Order of Deacons is: The fellow who tries to hold unreserved seats in a desirable location for friends who are not present—Livingston County Press Howell.

Bob Pischner Wins Grid Recognition

Another former Charlevoix boy is winning recognition as a football star. Bob Pischner of Two Rivers, Wis., son of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Pischner.

He is also the grandson of Mrs. M. J. McCann and a nephew of Mrs. Earl Miller of Charlevoix. Bob, a member of the Purple Raiders of Two Rivers and a sensational halfback, is regarded as one of Wisconsin's all-time high school grid greats.

Born in Charlevoix, Bob later moved to Beaver Island with his parents. His mother, a member of the McCann family, is a native of the island. The McCanns came over from Ireland with the Gallaghers, the Macanleys and the Doulevys, all prominently mentioned by authors in "Child of the Sea," "The Big Paw" and "The Drums."

Bishop to Preside At Confirmation

The Rt. Rev. Lewis Bliss Whittemore, Bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of western Michigan, will be here Sunday for confirmation of candidates from Christ Episcopal church.

The Bishop also will preach at the afternoon service. Because of his full schedule, the service will be at 3 p. m. instead of the usual 5:00.

Sutton Family Holds Reunion

A family reunion was held at the home of Mrs. Emma Sutton on Sunday. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. Archie Sutton, Mr. and Mrs. John Sutton and children, Nancy, Billy, Susan, all of Muskegon; Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Sutton and son, Floyd of East Jordan; and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Trimble, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hammond, Lois Alford and Shirley Sauri of Charlevoix.

Mr. Mrs. Jancha Will Revisit Native Land

"We've always dreamed of returning to our old country for a visit but now that we're about to start we can hardly believe it's true," said Mrs. Stanley Jancha of Newwood township, as she and Mr. Jancha completed their preparations for a trip to Czechoslovakia last week.

They will leave the Pellston airport late this week for New York where they will visit until time to take off from LaGuardia Field for the 19-hour flight to Paris early next week.

They will spend two weeks with relatives in Paris before going on to Prague. The trip, which will be made in a few days via plane, took several weeks when Mr. Jancha came here in 1912 and Mrs. Jancha in 1920. This is their first visit to their homeland.

In Prague, which is Mr. Jancha's native city, they will visit his brother, who is a lawyer and his family and a sister whose husband died in a concentration camp during the war. They will then go to Mrs. Jancha's former home at Hluk, Moravia, where her brother still lives.

The length of their visit will depend on conditions there and how they like post-war life there but at present they plan to stay at least a year. Allowed to carry only 60 pounds of luggage each, they have sent many boxes of their clothing as well as blankets and other warm items they may need while there. They have also sent clothing for their relatives as well as Christmas gifts for everyone.

They are also taking letters and gifts to the relatives of other Bohemian families who live here, in Detroit and Chicago. They will also try to visit the people for whom they have letters. Based on their last visit with Mrs. Harkey Ochs' nephew, Fred Bratneyer and his wife, who are at the American Embassy in Prague.

Half Million Order Of Plastic Holder Designed By Reed

With an initial order for a half million, a new plastic device designed by J. K. Reed is expected to have a nation wide sale.

It is called a Vis-A-Pac. Made of one molded piece of plastic, it will hold a package of cigarettes clipped firmly to the inside visor of a car. By its design, the cigarettes are held in easy reach of the driver, cannot rattle out.

A national chain has contracted for the first half million and a Detroit firm will make them. Two tobacco companies, Reed says, have agreed to furnish dummy packages for display purposes. The Vis-A-Pac will be on the market in about a month.

Prissy's Got a Man! (Maybe)

Yesterday Sis Martin, our libration, found an article cut from their file copy of the Clarion. When she compared it with another copy that I gave her she found it was my column on "How to Keep a Husband Happy."

Nothing unusual about that. Except the last person seen reading the paper was Prissy Hoskins (our town's proverbial Old Maid).

Well, if Prissy has finally put a man, more power to her. And more tolerance to both of them... because that's what my column was about: Tolerance of a husband's taste for old hats, old pipes, old friends, and mellow beer. And tolerance on the husband's part of a wife's tastes and habits.

From where I sit, nobody bridges Prissy taking that clipping from the Clarion. But I'd like to hint that if she'd just subscribe, she'd get my thoughts on tolerance firsthand. And in return I'll treat her to a glass of beer.

CHILD HEALTH

Moves Constantly

Forward in Michigan

Medical care also has its problems of supply and demand. Insofar as this problem relates to child health, the medical profession of Michigan has financed an extensive study which evaluates child health services in relation to needs. It is through such investigations as this, voluntarily initiated and paid for, that the medical doctors of Michigan are continually obtaining factual data on which to act for the greater good of the greater number. Child health is but one of the innumerable fronts on which your doctor of medicine is moving in cooperation with all other health workers in Michigan.

Open House Attracts Parents to School

made a movie of the story, which is to be shown to the parents later in the week.

Another interesting project was that of discovering one's home town, Charlevoix. The children had spent several mornings in the fall in hikes about town. They had drawn a long wall mural of the south shore of Round Lake showing the boat houses, the nets, the homes on the hill. Then each child had found some spot he thought might be of interest to a tourist, had drawn a picture of it and written a short story about it.

In another grade the children had made an air view map of Charlevoix. Here was also an arithmetic mountain.

In the high school a most interesting spot was the manual training room with its tables, chests of drawers, mechanical drawing charts. New curtains, made by the girls in Sewing in the Home Ec room were on display as well as many cans of fruit and vegetables.

Then for many folks, it was their annual pilgrimage to the old Hi room to see where they used to sit. Throughout all the rooms were the teachers ready and willing to interview all parents who wished to see them.

At 8:30 everyone met in the high school gymnasium and listened to three selections by the band. S. E. Coleman acted as master of ceremonies. Following that a movie on Vocational Rehabilitation was shown by Rogers B. Moon of Traverse City.

Mrs. Walter Bergeson, member of the Citizens Affairs Committee, gave a report of what had happened during the past year in connection with the movie situation. It was decided that the committee be instructed to buy a movie projector and provide proper entertainment for the school children at a nominal fee on a non-profit basis.

Supt. Roy Bennett gave a short talk on the hot lunch situation, stating that in view of the high cost of food, that it might be necessary to raise the price of the lunches from 15 to 20 cents per meal.

The concluding feature of the evening was refreshments served in the cafeteria, consisting of sandwiches and coffee.

What Makes Hair Raise

Each human hair has a root deep in the skin surrounded by tiny muscles and nerves. When cold, fear or anger stimulates them, the muscles are caused to contract and literally make the hair stand on end. Modern hair has become rather slow to react in this regard, but prehistoric man meeting his foe probably looked much more fearful. The hair stood erect similar to the way it reacts with many animals. The average person has about 120,000 hairs, despite the fact that he will lose from 50 to 100 hairs daily. While hair on the head may last four years, the eyelashes seldom will survive more than five months.

Alma Powell Weds William Armstrong

Mrs. John Powell's home at Atwood was the scene of a wedding ceremony at 2 p. m. Sunday afternoon when her daughter, Alma Jane, was married to William Armstrong, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Armstrong of Charlevoix.

The double ring service was read by Rev. Ansley B. Claypool of the First Baptist church, in the presence of the immediate families.

The bride wore a street length dress of white wool flannel with black accessories. Her corsage was white carnations and pink baby mums. Miss Donna Armstrong, sister of the groom and the bride's only attendant, wore aqua gabardine with black accessories. Her corsage was bronze and yellow mums.

John Powell, brother of the bride, acted as best man.

Mrs. Armstrong is a graduate of Ellsworth High school and was valedictorian of her class. Mr. Armstrong served for 18 months with the 20th Air Force.

The couple will make their home in Charlevoix.

Lime Preserved Eggs
Lime water has many uses around the home. It is easily made by mixing one quart of water (previously boiled and cooled) with five tea-spoons of hydrated lime. This lime water often is used for preserving eggs for a period of several months. The lime water is poured over the clean, fresh eggs, which have been packed into an earthenware jar, until all eggs are submerged at least two inches below the surface of the water.

Sgt. Crain Describes War Dead Parade

Sgt. Robert Crain, son of Mrs. Hazel Crain, was a member of the Division band of the 82nd Airborne Division stationed at Fort Bragg, N. C., which went to New York City recently to march in a parade held there when the first ship load of war dead was returned from Europe. In a letter to his mother he has written of the trip. "Three of us took off for New York and spent some time visiting one of the boys' aunt before we got started looking the town over. None of it thrilled me as I had thought it would. After a late show we went to the station to catch a train back to camp. "Sunday was the big day. After a sack lunch we started the parade at 12:15. The parade was in slow cadence and about five miles long. We went down 23rd St. to Fifth Avenue and up Fifth to Central Park at 76th St. At the Park they held a ceremony with Governor Dewey, Mayor O'Dwyer, Secretary of War Royal and others making speeches. It was quite an experience. "The next day we packed up and left for the south to find that it had been raining for a week while we had enjoyed fine Indian summer weather."

Generosity Counts As Much as Gifts, Refugee Says

Mrs. C. V. Miles recently received a letter from a young man who was brought to the United States more than five years ago, that might well cause some of us of this country to ask ourselves how we measure up to the selfishness of a child. The letter read: "It is so nice of you to send my aunt packages. With the bad times they are having over there, receiving help from others is wonderful, not only because of the material things, but the knowledge that there are people in other parts of the world who are interested in their welfare. "I, too, used to send packages, in fact I still do. I once knew some people who lived in a concentration camp in southern France. (At any rate, they tried to live.) I was living in France then myself, and was a little better off for there was bread at my table. "We, too, had very little compared to normal times, but during those days we ate like kings, for we received food from Switzerland. Then I would make up a package which contained nothing more than a few slices of bread which I had saved during the week. When my package arrived the receivers made a feast over those few dry and stale slices. These folks, now, thank God, are safe in England and in good health. They still remember me after 5 years for I was only 11 years at that time. The deed is never an outstanding factor but the thought behind it. Therefore, I would like to say in answer to a statement you made in your letter, 'it seems so little when we would like to send so much', that you have sent no little amount but a ton of supplies just by letting them know that you are concerned."

Clyde Warner New Pomona Grange Head

Last Friday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Sneathen installed the officers of Charlevoix County Pomona Grange at the Maple Grove Grange Hall.

The officers are: Master, Clyde Warner; Overseer, Joe Clarke; Lecturer, Anna Warner; Steward, Orville Hilton; Assistant Steward, Bert Lumley; Chaplain, Georgia Murphy; Treasurer, Fred Willis; Secretary, Howard Brumm; Gatekeeper, Joe Lou; Ceres, Hattie Murphy; Pomona, Fay Leu; Flora, Edith LaCroix; Lady Assistant Steward, Helen Lumley; Member Executive Committee, LeVern McGhan.

Charlevoix County Pomona Grange sponsored a resolution which was adopted by Michigan State Grange in the recent Hillsdale session. It was concerned with the 18,000 farms in Michigan still not serviced with electricity. Existing rural electric administration funds are inadequate to extend lines and service. It pointed out that 12 Michigan Congressmen last spring voted against the increase of $25,000,000 for the R. E. A. loan fund. Further it revealed that R. E. A. appropriations to projects are not gifts, but are repaid to the government with interest when due. The R. E. A. program is the only means by which most farms can get electricity.

Seniors Give Comedy, Specialty Acts

There were chills and laughs aplenty when seniors of Charlevoix high school presented the three-act comedy "Murder Mansion" to a large and appreciative audience at the gymnasium last Thursday night.

Screams in the darkness, half a dozen murders with disappearing corpses, mysterious off-stage noises, all turned out to be the play-acting of a troupe of stranded actors trying to frighten heiress, Joy Van Zant. Bob Shanahan stopped the show with his characterization of a fake detective. Specialty numbers between acts were songs by Dorothy Young and Shirley Sauri, and selections by the "Sour Note Five" composed of Bob Shanahan, Nick Hamilton, Jim Gibbons, Tom Bleha and Bruce Shanahan.

Mrs. Aili Gustafson directed the production, with assistance of the following committees: programs, Janet Bulow, Phyllis Trimble, Nick Hamilton, Bill Petersen; stage properties, Pat Hamlin, Joan Brumm, Jack Roberts, Dave Hardy, Jim Ilavsky; sound and lighting effects, Nick Hamilton; ticket sales, Betty Evers, Donna Sternberg, Gust Smith and the entire senior class. Margaret Roussin was prompter. Dolores Winnick delivered a speech of welcome before the first curtain rose.

Ushers were Arletta Provost, Patsy Davis, Phyllis Trimble, Janet Bulow, Marvel Hair, Dolores Winnick.

The drill team of the Martha Rebekah lodge No. 2 of Jackson will be in Charlevoix on Saturday to initiate a class for the Charlevoix Rebekah lodge No. 293.

The visitors will include the Noble Grand of the lodge, Helen Rice; vice grand, Thelma Stimer and captain of the drill team, Clara Miller. Officers of the staff are Noble grand, Sophia Bratschi; vice grand, Clara Ferris; chaplain, Grace Decker; past noble grand, Addie Blake; queen, Gustadson; Angel, Helen Rice and pianist, Gladys Allen. The above are part of the 34 men and women on the team.

The local lodge will entertain the visitors and members at a potluck supper at the IOOF hall at 6:30 p. m. Saturday evening. The initiation ceremony will follow at 8 p. m.

Mrs. Wesley Howard is Noble Grand of the Charlevoix Rebekah lodge.

Block Heads New Farm Plan Group

George Block of Charlevoix was elected chairman of the 14 county Northern Michigan Agricultural Planning Committee at the formal organization meeting Nov. 3 at Gaylord.

Plans also were made for a Northern Michigan legislative meeting there Dec. 8. At that time the legislative program of agriculture for both state and nation will be discussed.

Expected to attend the meeting will be the legislators, senators and Congressmen for the area. Also invited have been Commissioner Figy, Dean E. L. Anthony of M.S.C., H. W. Lokler, and Stanley Powell, legislative representative of the national and state Farm Bureaus, E. A. Wanner, district extension supervisor, and Milton Grinnel, of the Michigan Farmer.

The Women's Fellowship Group of the Barnard Reformed church met at the church last Wednesday. They packed Christmas boxes for the people of Japan with each box containing articles of clothing, Christmas candy and other items.

On Nov. 12 the same group met at the home of Mrs. Skeel for devotions and then returned to the church for their business session.

To Breed Arabians

Screams in the darkness, half a dozen murders with disappearing corpses, mysterious off-stage noises, all turned out to be the play-acting of a troupe of stranded actors trying to frighten heiress, Joy Van Zant. Bob Shanahan stopped the show with his characterization of a fake detective. Specialty numbers between acts were songs by Dorothy Young and Shirley Sauri, and selections by the "Sour Note Five" composed of Bob Shanahan, Nick Hamilton, Jim Gibbons, Tom Bleha and Bruce Shanahan.

Mrs. Aili Gustafson directed the production, with assistance of the following committees: programs, Janet Bulow, Phyllis Trimble, Nick Hamilton, Bill Petersen; stage properties, Pat Hamlin, Joan Brumm, Jack Roberts, Dave Hardy, Jim Ilavsky; sound and lighting effects, Nick Hamilton; ticket sales, Betty Evers, Donna Sternberg, Gust Smith and the entire senior class. Margaret Roussin was prompter. Dolores Winnick delivered a speech of welcome before the first curtain rose.

Ushers were Arletta Provost, Patsy Davis, Phyllis Trimble, Janet Bulow, Marvel Hair, Dolores Winnick.

Mgr. Michigan Press Ass'n.
Today's unchecked inflation, fed by a record full employment in the United States and widespread shortages in Europe, is upsetting a lot of well-made plans.

For the 1946-47 fiscal year, the state treasury is called upon by the voters' constitutional mandate of 1940 to divert 44.7 per cent of the sales tax proceeds of the preceding year (1945-46) to local governments including the public schools.

What did the state collect in this preceding year? Approximately $116,000,000. This was thought to be a bonanza at the time.

What did the state collect during the past fiscal year ending June 30, 1947? Approximately $156,000,000 — just $40,000,000 more than the year before. And what is the prospect for the current 1947-48 year which will end next June 30, 1948? At the present rate of price inflation and prosperity spending, Budget Director John A. Perkins estimates the tax flood may reach the high peak of $180,000,000 — another $40,000,000 more than the year before.

Here's where the catch comes into the picture. It has state officials puzzled.

When prices are continually climbing, the state will always be dollars ahead in the division of funds based upon the previous year's collection. But when the tax revenue starts to dip—and it is bound to do so eventually, probably with a bang—the state will have the responsibility of paying funds to local governments at a greater rate than current tax collections.

State Treasurer D. Hale Blake thinks that the only prudent thing for the state of Michigan to do is to earmark 44.7 per cent of each month's tax collection, as it is received by the state. This amount would be tagged monthly and held in reserve until ready for disbursement to local governments, as required by the constitutional amendment.

The current surplus in the treasury thus becomes a mere bookkeeping surplus and somewhat of an illusion in view of the future disbursements to be made.
But it already has prompted a headline, "Inflation turns deficit into surplus for state," that is quite in reverse of the state's true financial situation.

Whether new taxes are to be levied in 1948, they are likely to be required by 1940, according to most state officials at Lansing.
There is some argument about whether it would be desirable, politically, to do so in 1948, which is a state and national election year. Legislators are loath to impose new taxes at the eve of their own elections. And it won't help Governor Sigler any, either, in the judgement of many legislators.

The possibility of new taxes in 1948 has caused a number of vulnerable industrial interests to prepare for a legislative showdown. If a way can be found to postpone the necessity of such levies, the legislature will probably jump at it.

Repeal of the constitutional tax diversion amendment is to come before Michigan voters at the November election, 1948. The Michigan Public Expenditure Survey recently made a sample poll of voters to find their thinking. The Survey reports that incomplete returns show 63 per cent—nearly two-thirds—favor such repeal.

There is one observation that could be made about the Survey poll, however. It is being taken at luncheon club luncheons which are attended by business men.
We have a strong hunch that many voters—especially those who read only headlines and do not get into the details—will be reluctant to vote against Santa Claus. It is nice to get more money from Lansing, as it is from Washington. This money is like a gift.

It isn't "our" money. This tax illusion still prevails and will probably continue to do so as long as human nature remains what it is.

Dollar, Not Game, Aim In Ontario

Bear and moose hunting in Ontario as it is now conducted by at least some of the camps there is little more than a racket and a good sightseeing trip, reports Don Coney who returned recently.

There are bear and moose there apiently, he says. The trouble is the system. Ontario law requires a licensed guide for every two outside hunters. The guide takes the hunters over trails which always seem to bring them back to the camp at meal time.
Every time a new party comes,
they are taken over the same routes. The game naturally moves out.

The guides refuse to pack back in where the game is; they will go on a plane trip to lakes ten to 15 miles away which cost from $125-up, plus extra guide fees, Coney says. But they will not pack in there.

The get-up, as he found it, seemed designed to get the hunter's dollar and keep the game.

Coney was in the area north and east of Iron Bridge.

First Concrete Is Poured In Foundation Of New Bridge

First permanent concrete on the new bridge here was poured
Nov. 3 and after continuous work lasting until late Tuesday the last of 850 cubic yards was shot into the north cofferdam.

Known as the seal block, the concrete forms a solid chunk, eight feet thick and 40 by 70 feet. It completely fills the bottom of the cofferdam formed by the steel piling and will both hold the water from flooding up from the bottom and the sides from caving in when the water is pumped out.

Before this can be done, however, the massive wooden framework that was assembled east of the temporary bridge was lowered into the cofferdam. Then a second similar frame was built above it and both wedged tightly into place by divers. These will serve to keep the top of the steel piling from being crushed in when the water is pumped out.

Once they are in place and the cofferdam empty, wooden forms will be built above the seal slab and another five foot thick concrete chunk poured on it. These two together, resting on a sand base and with the 180 steel piles imbedded in them will form the foundation for the northern half of the bridge. Carrying the bridge itself will be concrete and steel piers resting on the thick concrete foundations.

The 850 cubic yards of concrete of the seal slab were poured by an ingenious device known as a tremie pipe. It consisted of a square steel pipe with a funnel at the top. Freshly mixed concrete was dumped into the funnel a yard at a time by a dipper swung from one crane. The end of the tremie pipe extended down to the bottom of the cofferdam.

There the concrete slowly oozed out from the pipe and spread, being leveled partly by the pressure of the 35 feet of water above it.

One would never realize what a transition the lowly Christmas card has gone through until he looks at the collection that Hilda Alexander has made of them. Today's card is a far cry from the first ones that more nearly resembled an old fashioned valentine . . . Sadie Faulkner said she never realized what far corners the Courier reached until she began getting "Sorry you are ill" cards from both coasts.

Argentine may have its Eve Perron but it has nothing on Charlevoix, for there is an Eve Perron living here as well . . . The Clarence Odmark family is house hunting for the Harry Ladd family have written from Adrian that they are returning to Charlevoix by December 1st . . . For a gal who is a swell egg, we nominate Marjorie Coleman.

Just a few days from now all the world will be turning their thoughts to the marriage of Princess Elizabeth. It is interesting to learn what some of the wedding presents are for the Princess, a mink coat from Canada, food from Australia, a wedding ring from Wales, for it has been a tradition that wedding rings made from gold of the Welsh mines are the best and royal families have had Welsh rings. Then everyone is agog as to whether the Duke and Duchess of Windsor will be present, for, as yet, they have received no invitation. So it goes, even in families of royalty. Ho, hum!

A new book that should certainly be a gem to read is Louise Yim's "The White Hills of Korea." With Korea so much in the limelight in the role she is playing in connection with the atomic bomb, it behooves one to read a book that will give a true picture of the history and hopes of Korea.

With so many weddings in Charlevoix the last few weeks, it has frightened us for fear that the type might accidentally get piled on some wedding story. Not far from here in Canada an editor recently did just that on a wedding and auction sale story. The readers discovered the following story: "Billie Smith and Texie Brownhill were disposed of at public auction at my barn one mile west with a beautiful cluster of roses on her breast before a background of farm implements too numerous to mention in the presence of 70 guests, including two milk cows, six mules and a bob sled. Rev. Thomas Baker tied the nuptial knot with 300 yards of hay wire and the bridal couple left on one

John Deere gang plow for an extended trip with tennis to suit the purchasers. They will be at home to their friends with one good buggy and a few kitchen utensils after ten months from date of sale to responsible parties and some 50 chickens."

No, the name on the back of Dal Henry's bright yellow wool shirt is not Buckingham Palace but Rockingham Hunters. Seems as though a group of men about town have got themselves these shirts for hunting, but Dal is the only one so far, who has worn his shirt and proclaimed to the populace that he spends his hunting time, virtually in a rocking chair, and lets the deer go by . . .

Word from the L. E. Bruce of the Chateau, now in Detroit states that each issue of The Courier makes them all the more anxious to become permanent members of Charlevoix, and that they will miss their good friends in Charlevoix this winter.

Community Chest Drive Postponed

(Continued from page one) which naturally should depend on their own membership for support. The others are the Red Cross, polio and TB, which prefer to have their own drive.

From the donor's standpoint the Community Chest has two advantages. By far the largest one is the saving in trouble. Instead of having to dig down every few weeks when another cause decides to stage a campaign, one solicitation once during the year takes care of it all.

A second one is protection. Occasionally there are organizations and individuals who make a living from soliciting funds for what appear to be charitable purposes. When such an appeal comes, it can be turned over to the Community Chest. If it is worthy, money can be given it from the emergency balance. If it is not, it will get nothing. The individual, when asked to donate, properly can say "No, I've given to the Chest. See it."

Under the plan as adopted here any person can contribute to all the charities represented—or to any one alone. Space will be provided on the contribution cards showing the donor's name, the amount, and what sum if any is to go to any particular cause. At the end of the drive, amounts so indicated will be credited directly to those purposes.

Looking for New Plane
Researchers, looking for an ideal design for the plane to travel over 1,000 miles per hour, lean to swept-back wings and eventually craft resembling schoolroom paper airplanes.

Keys Battle Frost
Infrared heat rays from an oil-burning heater developed at Michigan State college may prevent loss of millions of dollars annually on fruit and truck farms. The rays warm plants directly without warming the air. The experimental model was built at a cost of $250. Engineers believe burners large enough to protect an acre can be produced for half that cost, or less.

The Tow-Line

News of folks, your neighbors and mine... but did you know that—

Some of the fellows about town really look like glamour boys in their hunting togs. They are some mighty good looking outfits.

Little Teri, small daughter of the Gordon Freedmans, surprised her folks last week by breaking out with the measles. Guess she brought them back from Cincinnati with her. Now that she is well and out in circulation Teri is now breaking out in print.

At least one Charlevoix gal has proved that the men folks haven't the corner on all the deer. Beatrice Russell shot a 6-point buck Saturday morning weighing 180 pounds over at Pigeon River. It was her first hunting experience. Herb Campbell spent a few uncomfortable moments Tuesday morning when he discovered that he had locked his keys inside his car parked near the store. It was a lucky thing for him that his "deer" at home had an extra set and was able to come to his rescue. With eggs having dropped a few pennies per dozen, one feels that he can have an egg and a breakfast at least once-in-a-while.

Bob Bridge just received word from his son, Gene, in Italy that Don Brown, another Charlevoix boy, is at the same camp with him in Trieste. Well, Merry Christmas boys and girls, and wishing for us on Christmas Day. Of much interest to the kindergarten children have been the two turtles, Mollie and Bontle, in their aquarium.

One woman who will truly count her blessings on Thanksgiving Day is Mrs. Albert Taylor. Last week she went over to Little Traverse hospital where she underwent a check-up and medical treatment for a few days with the thought of an operation in the offing. Imagine her happiness Friday when she was dismissed and told that no operation was necessary. Mr. and Mrs. Lane Neff have returned from Detroit where they were called by the sudden death of Mrs. Neff's sister, Mrs. Minnie MacLeod. Mrs. MacLeod was well known here, having spent many summers with Mrs. Neff.

Personal nomination for a happy woman in Charlevoix, Mrs. Warren Wilcox. For two long years she has waited and looked for a new car. Wednesday her wish was granted and now she is spotting a good looking new Pontiac DeLuxe number with all the trimmings. Mrs. Basil Kennedy and two children of Traverse City are spending their hunting vacation here with her mother. Tough luck, Dick Jolliffe, was admitted to the Charlevoix hospital Monday night after accidentally shooting his left foot with a shot gun. "Twice a lucky" of town for the bullet did not hit any bones. Dick is a good runner and we want nothing to happen to those feet. Word has been received that Old Mr. Stork beat Santa and dropped in at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John (Jack) W. Stewart and left a 6-point son, John Arthur last Saturday. His grandma, Mrs. Rene Hamilton, is making plans to visit the young man on Thanksgiving and get her first peep at him.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Jones of Grosse Pointe are visiting at the Gordon Neff home while Mr. Jones and Mr. Neff are deer hunting. Several lads and dads are hunting together. Don Coney and his son returned Sunday from Lake County and young Don brought home his kill, a five point buck. Mrs. Harry Turner flew to Detroit to be with her grandchild while Harry went hunting. Vi Ranger received word from her husband on Beaver Island Monday morning that he had got his buck. All of which proves that at least one Rocking Chair Hunter took time out to leave his cozy seat by the fire and bag a deer. Happy hunting to the rest of the crowd.

Rayders Open Cage Season At Gaylord

With the first basketball game of the season to be at Grayling and set for Nov. 28, Coach Kipke has his players hard at work and has already cut the original 42 men who reported for practice down to 37.

By the end of this week he plans to have the number cut to about 28, with the line-ups for his first and second teams in mind.

The first team will be built around such seasoned players as Bob Carey, center; Bill Carey and Pat Martin, guards and Dave Hardy and Cliff Lagerman, forwards. All five saw action on the first team last year.

From the second team of 1946-47, are Warren Shadko, guard; Ross Case and Dick Donaldson, forwards, as well as Dave Smith, Alvin Bennett, Bill Barber, Tom Hamlin, Don Ecklund who will seek berths with the first stringers this year.

Sugar Beet Growers Average Seven Tons to Acre

Sugar beet growers in this area have averaged about seven tons to the acre, a better production than that made this year by beet farmers in such traditional sugar sections as Isabella county.

Seven hundred acres were planted in Charlevoix and Antrim counties, according to L. E. McGhan, representative of the Isabella sugar company. Due to a labor shortage and the early snow 75 acres still remain to be harvested. The beets in about half of the 75, however, have been lifted.

As soon as the snow melts enough, special crews will be pushed here from Mt. Pleasant to complete harvesting the beets still in the field. The bulk of these are in the Central Lake, Ellsworth and Atwood neighborhoods.

Altogether 50 cars of beets have been shipped from Charlevoix. Another 75 cars have gone from Ellsworth, Central Lake and Alden. McGhan expects that most of the farmers who raised beets this year will contract again next year.

Tryon Appeal Set For Nov. 26

Third round in William Tryon's legal fight for freedom after the slaying of his wife last December will be held here Nov. 26.

Judge Karl K. Liebrand of Bay City then will hear the defense motion for a new trial. Representing Tryon instead of Roman Glochowski and Guy Conkle, Jr. will be Judge Leon W. Miller and John Hicks. C. M. Bice will represent the state.

As in most similar cases, the defense will assert that some evidence admitted by Judge Liebrand in the original Circuit Court trial should have been barred, and some which was excluded should have been given the jury.

Accused of Forgery; Held in Jail Here
William Haddix, 31 of Boyne City was bound over to Circuit Court Friday by Justice Horace R. Fowler on a forgery charge. Haddix allegedly forged the name of his father, Jess Haddix, in endorsing a check for $38.03 from the State Bureau of Social Aid for aid to dependent children last June.

He is being held in the Charlevoix county jail on $2500 bond.

Turkey Growers Preparing 20,000 Birds for Markets

Turkey growers in this vicinity are busy this week processing close to 20,000 birds for the Thanksgiving market.

Arlo Wickersham who has the largest flock, is processing all 2,600 turkeys for markets in Detroit and Chicago. El Brock will have about 2,500 with Frank Bird slaughtering about the same number. Dick Potter and sons will have about 1800 ready for shipment late this week; Rowley Williams will market from 1200 to 1300 with Rudy Korth placing the entire flock of 1200 with dealers.

Several growers with less than a thousand birds will be sending theirs to market for the Thanksgiving season. Among them are Aaron Brock with 700; J. Brock with from 600 to 700; Ed Potter with 700; Sandy Matchett with 600 for the present market and another 600 for the Christmas market; Eldon Jones, Bob Russell, Franklin Celler, Albert Carlson, Ole Neilson all have flocks ranging from 300 to 500 birds.

112 Miles

Phone Cables Reach City Limits

The new long distance telephone cables which have been laid from Big Rapids this fall reached Stover Creek at the south city limits Tuesday afternoon.

The ponderous cable train had put the two phone cables three and four feet underground for all these 112 miles. It consisted of five 23-ton caterpillars, a rock roofer, a cable plover and a couple of reel trailers. First came a cat pulling the 15 ton roofer whose steel blade rammed and sliced a channel 52 inches below the surface. Next came the other four cats pulling the big cable plover and its trailers.

For most of the way the cats sat still with treaders locked while the plover was slowly dragged up hills or through swamps at the end of heavy steel cables operating on power winches, from the rear cat.

The new cables will be carrying long distance calls from Charlevoix next summer although the new dial system will not be installed and working until 1950.

Mr., Mrs. Waffle Wed 50 Years

Mr. and Mrs. John Waffle, old time residents of this community, will observe their fiftieth wedding anniversary on Monday, Nov. 24.

Old friends and neighbors as well as relatives have received invitations to a dinner to be held at St. Mary's school hall to celebrate the event. Earlier in the day the couple will attend a High Mass for their anniversary at St. Mary's church.

Mr. and Mrs. Waffle were married at Atwood on Nov. 24, 1897, and lived near Atwood in Norwood township until moving to Charlevoix in 1932.

Mr. Waffle, who is now 90, was born at Central Lake on Jan. 24, 1867, and until recent years worked as a lumberjack, a carpenter, mason and farmer. He has spent little time at home this last week for he loves to hunt and has been deer hunting.

Mrs. Waffle, the former Maryne Seymour, was born at Ellenville, N. Y., on April 5, 1878, and came to Atwood with her parents at the age of one year.

The couple still enjoy good health and although they have no special hobbies the general work which comes from living in their own home keeps them busy.

They have two sons, Elmer, who lives at Elmer, and Medford, who resides on Elk I. Charlevoix. They also have seven grandchildren.

New System Will Make Car Plates Easier to Get

When the new 1948 auto licenses go on sale Dec. 1, things are going to be different than heretofore.

No longer will it be necessary to fill out a triple form with a lot of numbers and data. Nor will there be the lengthy waits in line at the rush end of the season.

For the state is instituting a new system. At Lansing automatic machines will fill out your application form from the records there. This prepared form will come to you in the mail before Dec. 1. It shows what your car is and how much the new license will be.

To get the new plates, this prepared form, your car title, and required cash can be taken to the branch office of the Secretary of State in the Court House.

Methodist Group Observe Birthday

The Methodist Young Adult group, organized one year ago this month, will hold the first annual birthday party Sunday at 8:00 p. m. in the church parlors. There will be a birthday cake honoring the occasion. Election of officers for the coming year will be held at this time.

Bobby Leaves Hospital

Little Bobby Marshall, who was so seriously hurt several weeks ago in an automobile accident, is now at home from the hospital. The cast has been removed from his leg. It will be necessary for him to remain quietly in bed for at least two weeks more due to his head injury.

Farm Bureau Roll Call Will Be Started Dec. 3

Annual Roll Call for members of the Charlevoix County Farm Bureau will be launched with a kick-off meeting of all solicitors and officers the night of Dec. 3.

Charles Mascho was named head of the Roll Call committee Tuesday night when the directors met at the Parkside here. George Block, who was asked to be relieved of the responsibility because of his election as State Farm Bureau director.

The County Board will meet Tuesday night at the Mascho home.

Mrs. Madara Jones Rites Thursday

Funeral services for Mrs. Madara Jones, 85, widow of Charles T. Jones, who died Tuesday at the Charlevoix Hospital, will be held at the See Funeral Home at 2 p. m. Thursday.

Rev. Gaylord Howell will officiate. Burial will be in the Brookside cemetery. Mrs. Jones had been in failing health for the last 18 months and a patient at the hospital for a week.

Born in Erie county, N. Y., on Dec. 19, 1861, Madara Schoonover was married to Mr. Jones April 10, 1883. They came to Montmorency county and lived there until 1906 when they moved to Boyne City. In 1925 they came to farm in Marion township and about six years ago moved to Charlevoix. Mr. Jones died in April, 1932.

Mrs. Jones was a member of the O. E. S. and the Methodist church.

She is survived by a daughter, Mildred of this city; a son, Omer C., of Chicago and one grandson.

New Garbage Disposal Plan Is Outlined

The garbage problem facing Charlevoix was forcibly brought out Monday before the Kiwanis Club by William Coleman, district sanitarian.

"Charlevoix is sitting on top of a keg of dynamite right now with its uncontrolled dumping of garbage at its open municipal dump," he declared.

Coleman told of Potosky's experience where dogs have died of typhus contracted from the rats at the dump. He pointed out that rats, flies and mosquitoes thrive in open dumps and that sooner or later sickness and trouble will come from them.

Charlevoix now is faced with two additional dump problems, he continued. The present plot is nearly filled up and before long a new site will have to be found. Second, the present haphazard disposal of garbage is no asset to a resort city which prides itself on its cleanliness and beauty. He cited back yard burning and burying, roadside dumping and similar practices.

Coleman did more, however, than merely list present faults. He suggested a possible solution. It is municipal and complete collection of garbage and rubbish which is disposed of by a system called the sanitary land fill. To illustrate how this works, he had a new film produced by the U. S. Public Health Service. Garbage and rubbish is collected by the city, hauled to a selected site and there buried in a trench dug by power equipment. The rubbish is covered by dirt from a second trench which will be filled in turn.

Informal discussion after the program showed the consensus agreed that Charlevoix must do something soon and something drastic about the garbage disposal problem.

The present system was conceded to be unsatisfactory, because of its excessive cost, because the majority of householders would not use it, and because this resulted in private disposal and the open dump.

The answer, it was agreed, would be universal collection of all rubbish by the city. Two major problems must be solved to bring this about.

First is finances. No further financial loads can be put on the city treasury. An additional public service must pay its own way which would mean a new and special levy if that is legal. It is estimated that the equipment needed would cost between 10 and 12 thousand and annual operating costs might run to $6000. One Kiwanis member remarked that Charlevoix citizens likely were paying, close to these sums now for partial service and they would be money ahead to pay for municipal collection.

Second major problem is a site for a dump, which must have deep soil free from rocks, be accessible and yet not close to residential areas.

Citizenship Official To Be Here Friday

Residents who are not now citizens but who wish to get more information or help on immigration or naturalization matters will have an opportunity Friday morning.

An inspector of the Immigration service will be at the Court House then to help anyone who applies.

Capt. Paddock New Veteran Counselor

Capt. Hubert Paddock is the new Veteran Counselor for Charlevoix.

Succeeding G. M. Lindsay of Boyne City, he was appointed by the Veterans Committee and the Board of Supervisors. Captain Paddock, who took office Monday, says he will try to make the office of real value to veterans by giving or getting accurate, useful information for them when needed.

He is at the City Hall Tuesdays and Fridays from 10 to 12 a. m. and 1 to 4 p. m.

Shirley Clement visited her father and mother last week at Ann Arbor for three days and reports that Gordon is better. He can move his right hand considerably, speak better and recognizes visitors much more quickly. His legs still are paralyzed.

Many Get Bucks Early on Opening Morning; Hunting Proves Better Than 1946

Union Thank Service Will Be Next Wednesday

The traditional Union Thanksgiving Service will be held here next Wednesday at 8 p. m. in the Congregational church.

Rev. W. D. Wood will preach the sermon. The other ministers will take part in the service. The offering will be turned over to the Community Chest.

Five Charlevoix Gridders Win Places On All-Conference

Coach Ray Kipke's Rayders placed five men on the Northern Michigan Class C All-Conference team chosen by coaches, managers, and officials at East Jordan Monday.

Bill Carey and Pat Martin won berths in the backfield while Bob Carey, end, Don Burke, guard and Warren Shadko, tackle won places for Charlevoix in the line.

Bill Jolliffe, fast moving back, won a place on the second team, while Arnold Laper received honorable mention as a guard.

Komedy Kings Game Postponed Until Thursday Night

Due to a mixup in their schedule the famed Komedy Kings who were slated to appear here Wednesday will meet the Michigan Cleaners basketball team Thursday at 8 p. m. in the school gym.

The notes of the one day postponement came through too late for last week's paper. The Kings are the New York Negro team of college stars who put on an excellent show here last winter.

The Charlevoix boys took a double header last week from Kalamazoo. The Merchants team won 12 and 9 in a preliminary marked by tight guarding and missed baskets. The Cleaners squad in the second game won 31 and 33.

The next big visiting basketball attraction will be Nov. 27 Thanksgiving night, when the Cleaners will meet the Sioux Travelers, an all-Indian pro team. During the holidays the Michigan All-Stars will be brought here. Bob Chappius, the University All-American half back, is a member of the All-Stars and may be on the team when it comes here. The exact date has not yet been set.

Meeting to Discuss Junior C. of C. For Charlevoix

A meeting to discuss and possibly to organize a Junior Chamber of Commerce here will be held Monday at 8 p. m. in the City Hall.

Sponsoring the session will be Dr. Frank W. Henderson of Mt. Pleasant, vice-president of the Michigan organization. With him will be a small delegation from the Mt. Pleasant chapter.

Dr. Henderson explains the JCC is open to men between 21 and 36, that it aims to encourage civic activity on their part, that it is not in competition with nor duplicates any of the work of the Chamber of Commerce. In this regard it more nearly resembles a service club than a Chamber of Commerce.

The meeting is open to any man of the community within those ages.

Library Observes Book Week

"Books for the World of Tomorrow" has been selected as the theme of the twenty-eighth annual Book Week being observed. This year's poster depicts the many generations of American children who have been privileged to inherit an ever increasing wealth of books written, designed and published solely for them.

Arrangements have been made for all school children to visit the library during Book Week. All children are most welcome to the Junior Library at any time.

Bucks around Charlevoix were highly obliging when deer season opened at daybreak Saturday morning.

By 9:30 half a dozen reports had come to The Courier office of early kills made. Unlike 1946, all the early hunt hunters were local ones. After the first few hours of shooting the deer all headed for the deep swamps and the kill slowed down.

First report was George Willis. He killed his 16-point buck at 7:30 at the south end of Susan Lake on the edge of Strathmore place. It weighed 115 lbs. and the first kill of the season in that day. He and Mr. Willis were hunting together.

Just a minute before word in reporting was Dale Miller of 302 Antrim. While on his way to a 5 point buck on his 11th place at G. M. S. Ltd.

Feet of both these men and their bucks were taken over to an unhappy mistake in the picture proved good enough for an engraver to make a printing plate which could be used in The Courier.

Other men who killed their bucks early were:

Don Swinton shot a 6-point, 150 pounder at 7:30 on the Emil Chvatal place. He was hunting alone.

Stanley Lord of Norwood who shot a 7-pointer south of that village at 7:02 a. m.

John K. Reed who got a 6-point buck at daybreak near Ironton.

A. M. Allard, Louis Steel and Hubert Skeel shot a 6 and a 12 point buck right after daybreak between Atwood and Norwood.

Herb Moore and James Whitley at 8:30 killed an 8-point buck near Norwood Lake. A whooper, it dressed 185 pounds.

Last week's list of deer hunters who scored other than possibly greater field on the many names.

Among these were: Karl Finner, Les Bala, George Haggard and J. M. Lester, who went to the Elberta place at Beaver Island.

Louis Walker, Harry Jones and Joe Brandt who are at Escanaba.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer F. Hart and Mr. and Mrs. Bud Hart who hunted near Atwood.

Mr. and Mrs. Bud Hart, and Mr. and Mrs. Irving, who are at Friday for three days at the near the Pigeon River.

As is customary in 24 Christian Science churches a special Thanksgiving service will be held on Thanksgiving Day in Charlevoix at 10:30 a. m. at 205 Clinton.

Folks here were burned up over an article on Our Town I reprinted from a city paper. Made us sound like a bunch of "hicks" who whit-tled sticks and wore chin whiskers. (Last person I saw with chin whiskers was passing through on his way east.)

So I ran an editorial on how we spoke of city "lickers"—as over-dressed wiseacres, only interested in making money, and spending it in night clubs.

Fact is, if we got to know each other we'd probably find we're not much different, underneath. City folks work hard; like to come home at night to their families; and relax with a moderate glass of beer, like we do.

From where I sit, it doesn't matter if you live in an apartment house or on a farm—work in an office or a cornfield—the American tradition of quiet home life, temperate habits, and neighborliness is common to all of us.

Army-trained men get more out of college says E. R. Silvers, Dean of Men, Rutgers University

This long-experienced educator advises young men to take advantage of the training opportunities in the Army and Air Force before entering college. Here's what his new book, Son of Tomorrow, says:

Recent high school graduates are handicapped

"The tempo of scholastic life has quickened and most of our recent high school graduates find the pace too fast for them... They become followers, with little opportunity of developing the qualities of leadership which a college should give."

Army experience enables student to go ahead faster

"The average seventeen and eighteen-year-old now planning to attend college would get much more out of college and contribute much more to it, if he first gave himself a chance to broaden his experience by going into service for at least eighteen months."

DO YOU KNOW WHAT THESE SYMBOLS STAND FOR?

Rexall

The detectable turkey, symbol of Thanksgiving Day, has a purely American origin. The first New England settlers fasted on wild turkey to celebrate their rich harvest and survival. When President Lincoln proclaimed the first national Thanksgiving Day 242 years later, tradition had inseparably linked the bird to the day.

The Rexall symbol—displayed over more than 10,000 independent pharmacies from coast to coast—is linked to a long-standing reputation for dependable drug service. Whenever you find it, you will be sure of reliable drug products, manufactured under Rexall's rigid system of laboratory control. You'll also find excellent pharmacist skill in compounding these drugs.

Women Told of Civic Work They Can Do

Monday afternoon the members of the Shakespeare Club were hostesses to the Dickens Club at the City Hall Club Room.

In the absence of Mrs. Harry Foster, president, Mrs. George Haggard, vice-president presided and welcomed the guest club, Mrs. Harry Craig responded after the program.

Following this two reels of movies were shown. Ralph Hamilton was operator for the films.

Mrs. E. J. Edwards spoke on "Civic Topics." She dwelt on men's clubs, their purposes, how they helped to shape public opinion.

She then showed women's clubs can put programs to work for the betterment of their communities. Speaking of Charlevoix she suggested many such goals: restaurant inspection, a municipal garbage disposal system, revival of the Hospital Auxiliary, taking flowers to the hospital patients.

Other projects were teaching children the law on bicycling, the correcting of the black eye Charlevoix received at the Western Michigan Tourist Association meeting when it was labeled as a town of high prices, better promotion of the Venetian Night, the dog situation, better movies, parking meters and the public rest room.

Tea and cookies were served by the hostess club.

Ever See a Cut
Without a Tail?

No, we didn't say eat, we said cut. In this case, a cut of sirloin steak. Such steaks are often sold with a long, stringy tail. But in the Kroger Beef Cutting Method, this tail is trimmed down before the steak is weighed and priced. Just another example of the money-saving service you get in Kroger stores.

So You Haven't Any Pep?

A True Hospital Story

So you're tired all the time? Hate to get up?
Maybe all you need is more pure, rich milk.

You can take a hospital's word for it.

Two years ago the Miami Valley Hospital in Dayton had a real problem. The staff was tired and work was slipping. Sure, they had odds and ends to nibble on between meals but the pep still was lacking.

The hospital cleaned out the odds and ends and put in milk. Just plain, pure milk and nothing else.

Now two years later and after a lot of careful clinical research, the hospital reports:

- Staff members began drinking milk.
- They began getting the habit; why, the stuff was really good.
- Work improved.
- They weren't so tired.
- Milk drinking is up 17%; everybody reports feeling better.

IT HAPPENED ON . . . BEAVER ISLAND

By Mrs. J. C. Hanley

The Island is all agog with excitement. Since last Monday, hunters have been arriving by boat and plane. The village has been alive with busy outfits, men and women, and what a picture they make against the blanket of snow that fell during the week. Hunting season is the gayest of all the seasons on the island. Relaxed men, away from city life, forget their cares and fully enjoy being with their friends.

There's something about a hunter that is grand-grand—that is, they look so super-duper in those stunning outfits. The hunters become gayer every season. The Rocking Chair Hunters' outfits had us all gawking.

The depot is not the only place where you see red caps—no, not by a long shot. Beaver from the air must look as tho it has the moose with so many red caps dotting the island.

It's amazing how many women are interested in hunting. Many of the hunters brought along their wives (maybe to have a hot meal on the table) but from the looks of their outfits, they are going right out to help the old deer get his deer.

It is estimated there are around 275 out-of-town hunters on the island.

Eight planes are parked at the air port with more yet to come.

The inquiring reporter's report first buck killed the opening day was by Chief VanErgle, Time—just about day break. Eight bucks were killed the first day.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Cuddington, Grand Rapids are the guests of Lloyd and Eva McDonough.

Mei and Frank Gallagher have as their guests, Bill Wilkie and his two sons from Wall Lake.

Thomas Walsh, Grand Rapids, director of Civil Aeronautics for the State of Michigan, has purchased the Polky's home and is here for the deer season.

Chet Ridge and party, Grand Rapids, are occupying one of the McDonough cabins.

Mr. and Mrs. Rex Orr and family, Three Rivers, are here for two weeks. The Orrs have been coming up for deer season for seven years. Only once have they gone home without plenty of venison.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Peterson, Lansing, are here for the season. They have a cottage down at the south end of the island.

A party from Niles occupying Willie Rickser's farm home are: Mr. and Mrs. Stanton Thorpe, Mr. and Mrs. Don Fout, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Freeman and Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Baker.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Johnson, Ludington, are staying at the home of Mrs. Agnes O'Donnell.

A regular delegation is on the island from South Haven. Dave Olson and his father, Olaf Olson are occupying their cottage south of the airport. Others include: Berlie Nifenegar, Don Babo, Harry Fritz, Bob Katner, Mr. and Mrs. Soergel and son, Mr. and Mrs. Windman.

Mrs. Fred Spalding returned Thursday from six weeks spent in New York. One of the big thrills of her trip was a tour through the ocean liner, Queen Mary.

Lawrence Malloy has been honorably discharged and is now back on the island.

Arthur Miller, Sr., left during the week for Detroit.

Buck of the month club announce winners!

Lee Cuddington, Vernon LaFreniere and Erwin Belfy made up a threesome the opening day of deer season. Belfy was planted in a spot while the other two went further into the woods.

Along came a big buck within close range of Belfy and two shots from his rusty, pardon, I mean trusty shootin' iron blasted at the critter. Scared and deeply hurt, the poor deer flashed out of sight.

Determined to have venison for Sunday dinner, the three began to track down the animal. At long last their quest ended. To their utter amazement, the coyotes had beat them to the draw, they had eaten the entire carcass leaving only the head. "Oh, shucks," the three were quoted as saying. The trio are now in line for the booby prize offered by the Buck of the Month Club, their names to be inscribed on an empty nail keg to be retained and used for kindling wood in case of need.

Take a look at that cab, all one piece. Not a rivet or bolt. There's a 2 1/2" greater visibility — and even more with those new rear-corner windows!

You ought to get a look at that new frame. It's REALLY built!

This beats any truck I've ever seen! Why, it's built to do ANY job!

That's how we build that "breathable" air — "breathable" air — "breathable" air — draws in fresh air that's heated in cold weather, and forces out used air.

Have you seen that new Chevrolet truck, Mac? It's the truck with Advance Design!

The cab's specially mounted... on rubber! It practically eliminates road-shock and vibration!

I took a look under the hood and, boy, it's still got that valve-in-head engine! It does more work on less gas than any other engine of its size!

News of folks, your neighbors and mine... but did you know that—

Looks like it is going to be a White Thanksgiving in Charlevoix... Lots of comings and goings this week-end for the holiday... Cheboygan has just completed a project that Charlevoix can dream about for the future. It is a new well-lighted athletic field. There are 64 individual lights of 1500 watts each, making it the best lighted field in the north. The eight 60 foot poles were installed and the lights were connected at no cost by the Michigan Public Service Company. For a three hour period is costs $12.50 to operate the lights on the field.

Quite a common occurrence to see deer on cars about town, sometimes two of them... "We are on our way," called Elsie Souder Monday afternoon, as she and her husband waved goodbye. They will go to their winter home in Harlingen, Texas... Floy Edson has sold her home which houses her gift shop to folks from Harbor Beach, on the East side of state. She is looking for a new shop location... Florine Stetter and Georgia Glosier were among those who saw the Michigan-Ohio State game at Ann Arbor Saturday. The women will remain in Detroit for the holiday week... Dr. and Mrs. G. B. Saltonstall also attended the Michigan game...

M. K. Chew was in the Courier office Monday to change his address to Petoskey for the winter months. Then he added: "The Courier is like whiskey." This was a new one to us and we asked why. "Because it improves with age," he added... Certainly would like a set of the new Swiss stamps to be issued Dec. 1. They display Alpine flowers. Wonder if any Garden Club members are collectors of flower stamps... The Henry Hammonds left Tuesday morning for somewhere in Florida. They don't exactly know where they are going.

Mrs. Grace Gettleson expects to spend the holiday season with her son, Jack, and his wife in Cleveland, Ohio... Happened to tune in on the radio the other day and discovered I was listening to Dr. Louis Mann, one of our celebrated summer visitors.

Phoebe Ross can truly take a wide sweeping bow for she rated a real story in the magazine, Michigan Restaurateur. The major part of the article described the Ross tearoom and the vegetable garden in the adjoining lot where guests could even watch their vegetables being picked fresh for their meal. Then followed a description of a truly mouth watering meal for nine women from Detroit with their comment: "Why can't we have a tea room like this in Detroit?"

Just another reason why one can be glad he lives in Charlevoix! Here's to Phoebe.

Alfred! No school Thursday and Friday... Prize remark of the week was from little Garyn Bice, examining her sister's birthday presents after her party. "What's this," she asked picking up some bath salts. When told that it made the bath water all bubbly she was quiet for a moment, then looked up at them and quietly said, "I'm awfully dirty."

The Art Ranger family left Tuesday for St. Louis, Mo., to spend Thanksgiving with the Goldman families. This has been a dream of the families for some years and now it is going to be realized...

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Dodd and son, Eddie of Centerline and Mrs. Dodd's sister, Miss Virginia Frederick of Detroit visited last week-end with Mr. Dodd's mother, Mrs. Harry Elzinga at Birch Wood Ranch. They also visited other relatives in Eastport and Ironton... Mr. and Mrs. Nat Burney of Grosse Pointe Park spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Horace Fowler... Clifford Short bagged himself a 200 pound buck at Burgess this week.

More baby news. From Mrs. Louis Shapton of Detroit we receive word that a baby girl was born to Mr. and Mrs. Harold Schroeder at Traverse City on Nov. 23. Mrs. Schroeder was formerly Miss Evelyn Shapton. There have been many comments by letter from summer visitors on the editorial written a few weeks ago to them by the editor. As Jay Lewis wrote in his letter: "Your interest in us who have left Charlevoix only temporarily and because of outside duties in letting us know of the natural and civic developments as you have, is indeed gratifying."

Chest Drive Will Combine Many Funds

When the Community Chest solicitor comes around next week, many persons will wonder what amount to give.

The answer is easy. Recall what you gave last year to the various individual drives, add the sums. The answer is the amount for the Community Chest. And you have to give only once instead of five or six times.

One man figured up: he gave $25 to the USO-Buy Scout fund, $5 for cancer, and if there had been drives then he would have added $10 each for the hospital and health nurse. He plans to give $50 this year.

The health nurse is a new program here. Working as a combined school and public health nurse, Mrs. Dean Davenport serves both the public and the St. Mary's schools. In addition she travels the entire school district visiting families, expectant mothers and any others in need of health work or counsel.

School funds are not sufficient, and the $850 item in the Chest budget will assure her services during the rest of the year.

No individual solicitation is planned this year in the rural areas of the School District due to the late start but if the $3750 goal is to be reached voluntary subscriptions from folks in the country must be made.

The Community Chest drive for the Charlevoix area will be formally launched next Tuesday at a luncheon at the Parkside.

Set for 1 p. m., the meeting is for all workers, team captains, and committee members. Plans for the drive will be discussed and material distributed.

Mrs. Walter Bergeon, chairman of the solicitation committee, says that the plan is to complete the campaign in the four days remaining of this week.

The goal sought is $3750 which will take care of all local health and welfare causes for the community during 1948 except Red Cross, TB and polio which choose not to participate in a Community Chest.

Junior C. of C. To Be Organized At Dec. 4 Meeting

First step in organizing a Junior Chamber of Commerce here was taken Monday night when a group meeting at the City Hall named Junior Supernaw as temporary president and set Dec. 4 at the City Hall for a second meeting.

Dr. Frank W. Henderson of Mt. Pleasant was here and explained the purposes of the JCC. Non-political, it aims to give younger men an opportunity to do civic work, learn leadership and co-operate with other similar groups for the community good.

Church of God Praised for Gifts

A letter from the Field Secretary of the Church of God World Service and sent to the Charlevoix Church of God of which Rev. W. D. Wood is pastor tells that Charlevoix folks truly gave of their money.

The letter stated that "if all other congregations had done as well as Charlevoix did, considerably more than $1,000,000 would have come in for the local church gave on a 1½ million level."

Many in foreign lands, members of pioneer congregations, students of colleges and others will be recipients of the Church money gifts.

Higher Rates Are Likely In City

Higher electric rates are in prospect for Charlevoix, the City Council indicated Monday.

Od has doubled in cost, labor has gone up 40% but the electric rates have stayed the same. The Council likely will take action in December so the new rates will take effect Jan. 1.

A request was received from the H. J. Heinz Co. for a railway siding to their pickling plant.

Unusual, Half-Albino Buck Bagged by Elmer Lyon Near Jordan River

"A little herd of six came walking along and there was this buck. I don't know if there were any other bucks or not. All I could see was this one."

Thus Elmer G. Lyon described the unusual deer he shot Monday at 3 p. m. between East Jordan and Alba. It is the right hand buck in the above picture.

Along each front shoulder there is a wide white strip. Another white strip ranges along the face at each side of the nose. The belly white is much wider than usual and there is white on the hind quarters.

There is one other difference. Both deer had 8 point horns, weighed about the same. But the left hand one shot by Elmer Lyon on Saturday morning near the head of the Jordan River has legs which almost six inches longer.

Albino ancestry likely accounts for the unusual white streaks, it is suggested.

University Inspector Praises Many Things in Charlevoix High School

How the Charlevoix High School is rated by the University of Michigan is shown by a letter received by Supt. Roy G. Bennett.

It is from Prof. Fred S. Dunham of the School of Education of the University, who made the required inspection visit here for the State Department of Public Instruction. His letter says:

Dear Mr. Bennett: On October 16 it was my very great pleasure to pay a visit to Charlevoix High School on behalf of the Bureau of Cooperation.

It would require too long a letter to mention all of the features of the school which impress me as commendable.

1. This is the first time in my many visits to high schools that I have found the practice of holding a coffee hour at the close of the day. It has many advantages over the usual formal faculty meeting and may be responsible in part for the exceptionally high morale among the teachers.

2. The salary schedule rewards both educational and professional experience and is a great improvement over the schedule of 1944. The present schedule makes it possible to employ outstanding teachers.

3. The schedule of studies is well balanced and sequential except for Latin, in which a major is not provided.

4. The formidable list of extra-class services is evidence that extra-curricular activities are not neglected and that they make a substantial contribution to the school spirit.

5. Pupil reactions in classes and their contributions are somewhat better than in the majority of schools. However, I believe they could be greatly improved if the pupils could bring in more reports on topics calling for information from other sources than their textbooks. The procedure would serve to meet individual differences, add to the general interest of the subject, utilize the library to a greater extent and prepare the pupils for future leadership.

6. I shall not comment on the plant itself further than to say that the building is clean and clear from litter. The elementary school impresses me as a fitting environment for the younger children.

7. Finally, it is a tribute to the pride of the community that the pupils are fittingly dressed and good mannered.

Rev. Donald Evans, minister of Christian Education for Congregationalists of Michigan spoke Friday night at the Charlevoix church to members of the Cheboygan Association of Congregational church. He told of modern trends in Christian education and advised teachers how to make use of the new materials.

Work Started on Cofferdam at South Side

Pushing the work as fast as possible, the Lamb-Lentke crews are sinking the cofferdam on the south side of the channel at the new bridge and completing the second pouring of concrete in the north one.

Friday the driving of guide piles was started on the south side. Next job is to drive anchor piles and connect the outside bracing which will hold the cofferdam sides in place. When this is done, then the work of driving the 50 foot steel will start.

On the north side the huge and heavy timber frame is wedged in the cofferdam and the water pumped out. An electric pump running continuously keeps the water out of the pit. Men have cleaned the rough surface from the top of the 8 foot concrete plug poured underwater two weeks ago. Steel plates have been welded to the tops of the 180 steel piles projecting above this concrete slab and forms are in place for pouring the next solid 5 foot slab. Rising from this will be the four piers which will carry the bridge.

Contrary to current story, the new bridge actually will be 6 inches lower than the old swing span. It will have exactly the same clearance as the old; 16 feet, 10½ inches at standard low water or two feet less at present levels.

The highway grade on the north side will follow closely that of the present street but will be wider.

The channel itself also will be wider than it was before, 18 feet by exact. With the cofferdams in place this does not look possible. But the bridge piers at the north side will be set back 9 feet, 6 inches from the cofferdam to provide the extra width.

United Nations Topic Of Rev. Turner

Rev. Jackson Turner was the speaker Monday night at the Thanksgiving meeting of the Kiwanis Club.

His topic was the United Nations. He cited the example of the early Pilgrims who asked in for the Thanksgiving feast their potential enemies, the Indians, and thereby made friends of the wilderness. He maintained that the wise policy for this country is to do the same.

Rev. Turner outlined the main structure of the UN and told of its work and many goals.

Cleaners Give Pros Tough Battle, Lead First Half

After leading a high-powered pro team from New York for the whole first half last Thursday, the Michigan Cleaners squad lost to the Comedy Kings 39 to 23.

The basketball fans at the high school gym saw top quality ball played. Neither team was able to hit the hoop consistently during the first half and the cleaners led 10 and 6.

Picking up momentum in the third quarter, the colored stars started to roll, collecting 33 points to the Charlevoix 15. Included in the King's lineup were Billy Copeland and Phelps, both All-Americans and formerly with the Harlem Globe-Trotters. Phelps' deceptive ball handling in the final quarter was the high spot of the game and the best seen here in years.

The Cleaners showed that they combine gameness and ability, enough ability to give any professional team which comes up here a battle.

Top scorers for Charlevoix were Danny Gallagher with 12 and Don Meggison with 9.

Clob Asked to Help

Further to decorate the town, the Garden Club has been asked to sponsor home decorations throughout the city and to judge them sometime before Christmas.

Monday, Dec. 8, likely will be the time outside and impartial judges will be brought in to judge the store windows of Charlevoix. Three ribbons will be awarded to the winners, based on originality and general excellence.

Monday also will open the first of two weeks of Window Displays. All necessary to enter and compete is to go to Charlevoix and look at the windows. The plan will work thus:

Articles In Windows

In the window of each operating store will be one article not stocked there but in another store. This in a store window there could be a boy's stocking cap. When it is spotted, the person goes into the store, identifies himself and the article. The merchant gives him a printed card, which he fills out with the contestant's name. Available will be lists of the stores to be visited.

The first persons to assemble a complete set of the cards from the stores will receive prizes made up of merchandise from the stores.

The value of the prizes, the exact dates and all other details will be decided Wednesday night when the Board of Commerce meets at the City Hall at 7:30. All business places in town are asked to have representatives present at this meeting of the Board to help in working out the details and arrangements.

Carey Will Play

Donald Carey of Charlevoix, a freshman at Alma College, is expected to start on the basketball squad when he is eligible next semester.

A Glaring Fault Needs Correcting

On the whole the Charlevoix zoning ordinance is a good thing. While it sometimes curbs some individuals plans, still if Charlevoix is to remain The Beautiful a unified plan of this kind is a necessity.

But Monday night a glaring fault in the ordinance showed up, one which should have immediate correction.

The Parcel Brothers, Donald and Howell, came before the Council and made a routine request for a permit to build their new garage and service station south of Kili Carson's lumber yard.

The Council was agreeable until it developed that one of the requirements of the Commercial II zone is a total of 25 feet of space at the sides of the building.

The 25 foot requirement is an outright absurdity when it comes to commercial property. It likely is wise if residences are to be built on commercially zoned land, but when fireproof business buildings are planned, the owners should have the right to use their land as best fits their needs.

The Council can serve Charlevoix well by immediately changing this provision.

We're Losing a Good Man

The news that Rev. Ellsworth Dykstra is leaving in January for Iowa is not pleasant.

During his years here, Rev. Dykstra has become a force for good in this community and has made it a better place for all of us.

Congratulations to Oskaloosa on obtaining the Dykstras. But here in Charlevoix we're sorry to see you folks go.

Maytag Company Sets Washer Production Record

When the 54-year-old Maytag Company of Newton, Iowa, produced its five millionth washer recently, the occasion was marked by a special ceremony. Iowa Governor Robert D. Blue and leaders in business, industrial, labor and civic organizations gathered to celebrate the event which set a new record in washer production history.

Tom Smith, head of the research division, which developed the modern Maytag, is shown upper left, autographing the one-piece aluminum tub which has had a large share in building Maytag popularity. Assembly workers are shown below lowering the tub into its enameled steel jacket. At right, Miss Rosanne Morgan, 1947 Maytag Queen, is christening the machine with a bottle of milk. Looking on, nearest the camera from left, are: W. L. Sparks, secretary of the Maytag Company who has been with the firm forty-nine years; Letha Trent, Miss Morgan's predecessor as Maytag Queen; Roy Bradt, Maytag vice-president in charge of sales and advertising and president of The American Washer and Ironer Association; Verne R. Martin, Maytag sales manager; Fred Maytag II, Iowa State Senator and third generation president of the washer company, and Iowa Governor Blue.

The Maytag Company made its first washer in 1907 and its millionth machine in 1927. Between the four millionth Maytag in 1941 and the five millionth machine, Maytag took three years time out from peacetime production to engage in war work. The five millionth washer is being retained by Maytag as a souvenir.

Lawrence Jensen put his bees into winter quarters last Friday.

Quite a number of hunters have been in this neighborhood since the deer season opened. Haven't heard of any of them having been successful.

Mr. Haliday shot at a buck but unfortunately he had made a mistake in his shells and had fine shot instead of buck shot so he only frightened the deer.

Lawrence Jensen and Jesse Lawton were called over to Boyne City Friday to help a bee keeper put his bees away for the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. George DeKam and daughter of Kalanizoo arrived at the home of Mrs. DeKam's aunt and uncle-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Jensen last week for the deer hunting season. Mr. DeKam was lucky enough to bag his buck the second day out.

Harry Parker Rites

Are Held Tuesday

Harry A. Parker, 41, of Petoskey, owner of Parker Motor Freight, was killed in an auto accident on U.S. 31, 3 miles south of town near the George Black farm at an early hour Monday morning.

The car was coming north when it failed to negotiate the turn, left the highway and rolled over several times. Although the accident happened sometime after midnight, according to Coroner Dr. F. F. McMillan, the body was not discovered until about 3 a. m. when Clarence Murray stopped to investigate and found the body in the wrecked car. Deputy Tom Coblentz investigated for the Sheriff's office.

The body was taken to the See Funeral home and later removed to the Petoskey Funeral Home, Petoskey, where services were held at 2:30 p. m. Tuesday. Burial was in the Maplelawn cemetery, Boyne City.

Mr. Parker, a native of Boyne City, was the son of John Parker, well-known Charlevoix county supervisor. He had resided in Petoskey for a number of years where he owned and managed the Parker Motor Freight Co.

Besides his father he is survived by his wife, a son and two sisters.

IT HAPPENED ON . . . BEAVER ISLAND

By Mrs. J. C. Hanley

The majority of the hunters have departed. The weather has not been too desirable for hunting and not as many deer were killed this year as were last year. Deer or no deer, the hunters enjoyed being on the island.

The Hunter's dinner was a big success. 205 pounds of lake trout sizzled in the frying pan and every bit of it eaten by the 300 guests. Mrs. Elizabeth Gallagher, Mrs. Mary Bennett and Mrs. Irene LaFreniere were responsible for cooking and serving the dinner. They were assisted by a group of high school girls. Thoughts are turning from hunting to Thanksgiving Day and the approaching marriage of Eleanor Herrington and Norman Gallagher. That's a big order for one day.

Carl Keubler has learned that he was one of the winners at Lake Forest College, Ill. Down near Iron Ore Bay, Carl found one of the balloons that was sent off from Lake Forest, remember? Quite a bit of excitement has resulted on the college campus over the balloon landing on the island. It was released Oct. 25th and Carl found it Oct. 25th.

Fred Korthase is back on the island for a visit. He is staying at Bonnie Gallagher's where the hatch string always hangs on the outside for him.

Charlotte and Bob McDonough have moved into town and are occupying the Emerald Gallagher home. Charlotte and Bob have had as their guest, Mary Margaret Martin, who managed a vacation away from her work in Chicago to come up for the hunting season.

Mr. and Mrs. Tonsey, who spent six months on the island, have returned to their home in Toledo. Mrs. Tonsey will be sporting a Beaver Island red fox around her shoulders this winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Leonard are moving to their Fox Lake home for the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. John Kessner, Three Rivers, are occupying one of the McDonough cabins.

Mr. and Mrs. John Paul Jones, Grand Rapids, have been the guests of Thomas Walsh during the past week.

Rose Greene, Grand Rapids, has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Greene.

Herbert Lees, Steve Domovic, Bill Hnatik, Detroit, came up for the hunting season. They were the guests of Martha and George Miller.

Mrs. Bob Burke and son, Douglas, are in Port Chester, N. Y., visiting relatives.

Tuesday evening, Fred Spalding's birthday was celebrated at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Russell Palmer.

The evening started off musically with Mrs. Palmer and Mr. Spalding playing several selections. Janet and Eleanor Gallagher, Kay McDonough, Grace McCann, Marie McCann, and Rosemary McDonough, pupils of Mrs. Palmer's, also entertained. Jack Johnson, a visitor, brought along his movie machine and showed several interesting shorts.

About 20 guests were present. Mr. Spalding was the recipient of many cards and gifts from his friends.

Refreshments were served and dancing enjoyed during the evening.

About 25 friends of Mary Margaret and Teddy Wojan gathered at their home Saturday evening to help Teddy celebrate his 23rd birthday.

The monthly meeting of the Third Order of St. Francis was held Sunday afternoon at Holy Cross church.

Heart Attack Fatal To Deer Hunter

A heart attack was fatal to Lorenzo Sparks of Three Rivers, who had come up for the hunting season to Beaver Island.

Mr. Sparks, who was being entertained by a group of friends from Three Rivers in honor of his sixty-eighth birthday on Wednesday evening became suddenly ill during the celebration. At first it was thought the excitement was too much, but his condition became worse during the night. Death came to Mr. Sparks Thursday morning.

By plane, his body was taken to Charlevoix to the See Funeral Home. He was taken to Three Rivers for burial.

Mrs. Brady Gives Party for Daughter

Mrs. Homer Brady entertained with a party at her home Thursday evening honoring her daughter, Billie's eighteenth birthday anniversary. The eleven little guests attended the theatre and then dined at the Brady home for birthday cake and ice cream.

The Tow Line

News of folks, your neighbors and mine... but did you know that—

Mona McFarland was a happy gal the other day when she found that her 10c ticket she had bought at Marywood Academy had won her a big doll, one of the most beautiful she had ever seen. Needless to say the doll will occupy an important place in her room.

Don't do away with your November copy of Better Homes and Gardens until you have read the article: "How to Stop Hate-mongers in Your Community." It is a must article to read. Mr. and Mrs. Rex Morrissey have moved their new trailer home to the yard of Fred Tyler on Alice Street where they will be located for the winter months. Mr. Morrissey is an assistant engineer on the new bridge project.

Gladys Anne Coney had open house at her home last Wednesday night. It was reunion time for college students who had returned home, as well as seniors who gathered at the Coney home. Mrs. Coney hovered busily over the stove making venison-burgers for the hungry mob.

Bert Crandall is now at the Belvedere Hotel in Southern Pines, N. C., and says that it is warm and sunny there. If you plan to use papers on the Christmas tree be sure and let it stand a day or so before stringing it for the tree. It will have time to toughen and will not break so easily when the needles go through the center. The William Blakeman Lampes who summer at Sequanota and winter in St. Louis plan to have a breath of Lake Charlevoix in their St. Louis home for Christmas. The caretaker at Sequanota is sending a big bale of Christmas greens to them to decorate their home. The Lampes plan to have 21 of their family home for an old-fashioned Christmas reunion. The Thomas Olsens will have a wonderful memory this Christmas of what happened last year for they were in Norway, back to their old home town with their friends and relatives. And what merry dancing there was around the Christmas tree and how they sang Christmas carols.

The Ray Hamiltons left Tuesday morning for Rochester where Mrs. Hamilton will go through the Mayo clinic. Mrs. C. R. Munyon is leaving next Tuesday for Long Beach, Calif., to spend the winter with her daughter, Mrs. George Johnston. Charlevoix said goodbye to the William DeJongs this week, for they have sold their farm to Armin Backlund of Paxton, Ill. The Backlunds have four children, 3 boys are in school. The DeJongs are moving to a farm which they purchased at Dorris, Mich. Mr. DeJong has been unable to work quite a bit this summer because of ill health and neighbors came to his rescue. These kindnesses the DeJongs will never forget. Friday night the neighbors had a farewell party for them at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mascho and gave the couple a beautiful table lamp for a farewell gift.

The Ted Foster family left Monday for "somewhere in Arizona" where they expect to be during the winter months. Isn't Bridge Street looking festive? Now, if the snow doesn't melt away too fast, the setting will be perfect. Tuesday morning it seemed like spring thaw was on. Made one feel that the spring house cleaning to be done by time the summer visitors would begin to arrive. Surely a round of events now on until Jan. 1.

Mr. and Mrs. Jordan Hillenbrand and their daughter, Joan, William Hillenbrand and Helen Hillenbrand, all of Hubbell, Mich., were holiday week-end guests of the Leslie Balls on Clinton St. On Saturday night Donna Ball gave a party at the Wayside honoring her cousin. Ten guests were invited for the occasion. The Harry Bingham's spent Thanksgiving in Gobles, Mich., at the home of Mr. Bingham's mother, Mrs. Mable Parks. Birthdays (Continued on page 12)

Fund Drive for Community Chest Gets Under Way

The raising of $3750 for Charlevoix's first Community Chest is under way, solicitation having started Tuesday.

The money will go toward health and welfare activities which directly benefit Charlevoix. As far as the Community Chest is concerned, it is the only charitable drive which will be made this year except for Red Cross and similar agencies which insist on having their own campaigns.

Every item on the $3750 budget was carefully studied before being adopted.

One thousand goes to defray the operating cost of the Charlevoix Hospital. No funds have been raised for this purpose for more than a decade, the deficit being made up each year by the summer residents. Last fall they served notice that unless Charlevoix was willing to contribute at least $1000, the $3000 they have been subscribing would be dropped. Thus, for $1000 raised locally, the Hospital receives an additional $3000.

In past years about $1300 has been raised annually for Boy Scout work. Due to lack of leadership lately, the Scout program has not been too active. Seeking to fit the amount to the service, the Budget Committee allotted only $400 for Boy Scouts.

The Girl Scouts, on the other hand, have been increasingly active and have 130 girls enrolled now in the work. The leaders submitted a detailed budget showing what the money is used for. They asked for $440 and that is included.

Directly benefitting everyone in the community is the work of the public health nurse, who divides her time between the schools and public. In both places her work is aimed at prevention—stopping illness or health trouble before it gets started. Epidemics, chronic sources of illness—by stopping these all are served. The school pays part of her salary, but if her work is to continue the year around $850 more is needed. That sum is included in the Community Chest.

At the kick-off luncheon Tuesday for all workers, Chest President Robert Bridge emphasized the point that by giving to this one fund, Charlevoix residents can combine their contributions and save better. If other organizations solicit, the individual can refer their workers to the Community Chest and thus save cash and bother.

Bridge also suggested as a rule for giving the total of what was given last year, or one day's pay.

Contributions to the Community Chest are deductible for income tax purposes.

Argonne Now Serving Dinners

Once more the Argonne is serving dinners.

When the new owners took possession in the fall, they started on the job, among others, of remodeling the kitchen. This has been completed. A new hardwood floor is laid, new deep freeze, stove and other equipment installed. Until this was done, they announced, they would serve only sandwiches. Now that is completed, dinners will be added.

The small dining room also has been fixed up and in it private parties and banquets will be taken care of. For the time being at least, dinners will be served only on advance reservation.

The Argonne, according to William Matzinger, who with Paul and Charles Filatrault are the owners, is going to make a specialty of kosher style, corned beef sandwiches.

Shown above is the window in the Earl A. Young building which has the display of prizes to be awarded in the Christmas Window Treasure Hunt. The prizes range from $5 bills to baskets of groceries, from a string of pearls to $5 credit cards.

Charlevoix CoOp Votes to Retire $6,000 of Stock

The Charlevoix Co-Operative Co. held its annual meeting of common stockholders at the school lunch room Monday evening with more than 150 present.

The purpose of the meeting was to report on the operation of the Co-Op during the last year and to elect three new directors in place of those whose terms expired.

At the business meeting at which the president of the board, L. E. McGhan, presided, a report was given on the business which showed a slight increase over 1946. Approximately $6,000 was returned to stockholders to retire stock issued up to and including 1944.

Mr. McGhan and Eldon Jones were reelected to the board of directors for a two year term and Peter Winnick was elected to succeed John Hyck.

Arlo Wickersham talked on the marketing of poultry and the advantages and possibilities of a co-operatively owned dressing plant for turkey growers in this community.

Rev. Jackson Turner gave an interesting and enlightening talk on the United Nations. A social hour and refreshments followed the business session. Winners of the door prizes were Mrs. John L. Boss, Leonard Bable, Mark Saunders and Gloria Ostrum.

Walt Moore Named Hudson Dealer Here

To be known as the Charlevoix Hudson Sales and Service, the Hudson Motor Car Co., this week is announcing the appointment of Walter Moore's company as its dealer here.

At the same time Moore drove into Charlevoix with one of the new 1948 models, arriving Monday night.

The car is on display at the newly remodeled sales room at the D.N. garage. It is a four door sedan, black and gray. The entire car is low, headroom inside resulting from recessed floors. The doors also have recesses on the inside to give extra knee room.

Anyone Beat This: 15 Points, 210 Pounds?

The largest buck the editor recalls hearing about this fall is that shot last week by Gordon Moeller near Marquette.

It weighed 210 pounds and had a 15 point rack. Moeller has bagged top size bucks two years in a row now. His 1946 deer, also shot near Marquette, weighed 215 pounds.

Changed Address? License Application May Be At Office

Because the state is not sending the new license application forms out by first class mail, there is some confusion resulting here.

Persons who have not changed their addresses are receiving the ready prepared application forms from Lansing all right. But those who have moved are not. Under postal rules, nothing but first class mail can be forwarded. So many applications are piling up at the postoffice.

F. R. Bulow, manager of the branch office of the Secretary of State here, has taken these sticky applications to his office in the Court House. If titles and the required money are sent to him there, he will forward the plates and return the title.

In applying for plates this year, Bulow says that the prepared application and title book are to be brought to his office. All commercial vehicles have to be reweighed this year.

Adult Group Plans Christmas Party

Gaylord Howell and Dean Davenport. Christine McGhan and Eileen Edwards are the refreshment committee.

Serves on Jury

Robert Bridge left for Grand Rapids Tuesday where he is serving on the traverse jury of the Federal Court there. A traverse jury, he says, evidently corresponds to a circuit court trial jury.

Will Monty Dies Dec. 1

Mary Flander of Route 3, Charlevoix, received word Monday that her brother-in-law, Will Monty of Flint had died suddenly there that day. He had been a resident here and at Barnard before going to Flint.

Charles Faculak and Sons have just purchased a new International Combine for use next summer.

It is a motor driven machine. They also hope to get delivery on a new International M tractor and a new International baler by spring.

Santa Will Distribute Candy on Visit; Special Contest Is Planned for Youngsters

Big doings for all are planned here in Charlevoix for the next three weeks before Christmas.

Santa will be here to meet the youngsters and distribute free candy this Saturday from 2 to 6 p. m. He will be brought into town on the city fire truck and will meet all comers at the City Park where the Girl and Boy Scouts will act as his assistants in distributing the sacks of candy.

Monday evening will be Window Night when a committee of men from outside Charlevoix will judge the windows of business places and will award ribbons for the best three.

Monday also will open the two weeks of the Window Treasure Hunt announced last week. It will be a persons over 16, and each week will be considered as a separate contest to give those from the country and neighboring communities a better chance at the $250 worth of prizes.

First prize for each week will be choice of four of the articles donated by the cooperating merchants. After that each person turning in correct answers will be given his choice of one article until the prizes are all gone. Those finishing first this will be given an earlier choice.

So as not to leave out the youngsters, a guessing contest for those under 16 will be held with three $3 cash prizes. In the window of Belding, Plymouth and Earl A. Young real estate offices will be placed bottles containing beans, pennies or similar things.

Blank cards will be available at each office. On these the youngster can fill in his name, address, and his guess on the number in each bottle. Thus, the boy or girl can have one guess on each bottle. However, he can win only one prize, even though he guesses right on two.

Prizes for both the adult and youngster contests will be awarded Saturday night, Dec. 20, at 8 p. m., in the city park. The detailed instructions for the Window Treasure Hunt and the list of cooperating stores will be found on page six.

In charge of the Guessing Contest is Frank Ochs, who is making all arrangements for it. The Window Hunt, decorating of the Earl A. Young store window where the gifts are displayed, collecting the prizes and all other arrangements have been done by Tom Cox, Mrs. Polly Haggard and Walter Bergson.

The entire Christmas program is being sponsored by the Board of Commerce. It has arranged with the city for decorations in the City Park, use of the fire truck, Window Night judges, and placing of two Christmas welcoming signs at the edge of town. These later were contributed by Cy Powers.

Rod & Gun Club To Have Annual Venison Supper

Members of the Rod & Gun Club Thursday night will be holding their annual Venison Supper at the IOOF club rooms.

The venison is supplied by those members who were lucky and brought back their buck. Principal speaker will be Arthur Eagle, conservation officer of Gaylord.

The Rod & Gun club has just awarded the prizes for the largest fish-it announced last summer. The competition was for the largest fish of various kinds caught in Michigan and reported here.

Clare Staley landed a five-pound German Brown and won a Pflueger trout reel.

Mrs. Harrison Trimble's pound and two ounce brook trout topped that class and won for her a reel and harness.

Largest steel head was a 5-pound, 4 ounce one caught by Bernie Ward, Jr. The prize was a 100 yard trolling line and leader.

Charles Bergmann caught the largest small mouth bass, 4 pounds and 10 ounces and won a landing net and trolling bait.

The Club plans to repeat the contest next summer but to start it earlier so that more of the summer folks will enter it.

The Governor's Right

On a lot of things he has said and done I have felt Gov. Kim Sigler has been wrong. But last week he surely hit the nail on the head.

He said the states all would be a lot better off if they quit looking to Washington for handouts and began paying their own way.

Not only is that sound politics, but it is good morals. We Americans have got into the bad habit of wanting the other guy to support us. We'd better start thinking the opposite way.

There's A Lot of Life

During our year in Charlevoix we frequently have heard some citizen bemoaning the fact we have a dead town here, a town that is on the skids, a place wholly lacking in vitality.

Charlevoix isn't alone in this. I've never lived in a town yet where you couldn't hear exactly the same wail from a few.

Just how dead Charlevoix is was shown last week. It was suggested that some sort of Christmas promotion would be a good thing. Three folks decided to do something instead of just sitting around and talking.

So Mrs. Polly Haggard, Walter Bergeon and Tom Coxie started interviewing merchants. The response was unanimously in favor. Last Wednesday the Board of Commerce directors met and worked out a large-scale plan. By Saturday more than $350 in prizes had been collected, candy purchased for free distribution, money obtained to do a bang-up job, city decorations arranged.

The bulk of the work on the Window Hunt was done by the three—Coxie, Bergeon and Haggard. And to them should go the credit.

It seems to me that three conclusions safely can be drawn:

1. Any town which will get behind a sizeable program like this so unanimously is anything but dead or dying.

2. When a young businessman in the community, as is Mr. Coxie of the House of Jewels, can play the vital role he did in this, there certainly is no deep opposition to young workers as has been averred.

3. We live in a mighty good town.

A fourth conclusion might just as justly be drawn. It is that hard work is needed to put over any civic program and it is the unselfish, civic-minded citizen who keeps a town alive and moving forward.

Man Powered Lift Bridge of 71 years Ago Recalled by Former Resident William Gillard of Watervliet, who was born in Charlevoix 79 years ago and who left here when he was eight years old, has written the following letter to The Courier after a recent visit here: "While in northern Michigan recently I had the pleasure of visiting Charlevoix where I was born when the place was a bustling lumber town; when Round Lake was dotted with sail and tug boats, logs and log booms and when Nichols' saw mill was on the north bank of Round Lake.

"At that time there were three business places, all on the east side of State St., Carpenter and Bartholomew, Crouter's Drug Store and Fox and Butters Grocery. The only business place on the west side of the street was my father's blacksmith shop.

"The residential district was the low ground south of the river to the south hill. The high ground on either side of the river was covered with a thick undergrowth.

"I can remember when the old Fountain City steamer began coming on excursion trips from Chicago. The old hotel was then the St. Cloud Hotel and was operated by Sam McLeod.

"The bridge was then a wooden structure just wide enough for a team. It was divided in the middle and hoisted by means of a winch operated by a man on each side of the river. When the whistle of the Minnie Warren, the Commodore Nutt or the Hulton would sound we'd all watch for the bridge to go up.

"From an Indian settlement north of town we'd see the Indians bringing their bundles of fancy baskets decorated with sweet grass and stained porcupine quills and their small birch bark boxes filled with maple sugar for barter.

"There was a shingle mill on a wharf where workmen would model the white pine bolts into shingles for the Chicago market.

"I remember when the wild pigeons nested in the forest around town and were slaughtered by the thousands by Indians and white men.

"There were many fish, big ones not minnows, anywhere, anytime. I could tell you many fish stories, but you wouldn't believe them.

"I can remember when the passageway between Round Lake and Lake Charlevoix was just a crooked stream and there was no railroad. The only means of transportation was sailing vessels, ox team or shank's horses and when we wanted a ferry we jumped in a boat and started paddling. The harbor was visited by all kinds of sailing craft from small hookers to four-masted ore vessels which occasionally put in.

"I left Charlevoix when I was eight years old on the schooner, Hercules, manned by Tim Smith, an early lake Captain."

Prices In 1920 Were High Too

That prices have gone up and we have inflation there is no question. But there was a time after the last war when they were almost as high.

Harry Craig has an old price list dated May 6, 1920 which shows how high costs were then:

Flour, bbl.	18.80	1920	10.47
Oats, bu.	1.25	1920	1.38
Beans	4.80	1920	7.29
Middlings	71.00	1920	78.00

Makes Good As Model
Former Charlevoix residents have been known to turn up in about any profession or work. One of the latest to make good in an unusual profession is Cleo Golt, 20, who is now with the Saxt Holtworth Model Service Agency in New York. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cook, Ferry ave.

Army Wife Does Not Like Germany

Mrs. M. J. McCarthy has received an interesting letter from her grand-daughter, Mrs. C. B. McLean, the former Cecelia Cole, who recently joined her husband S/Sgt. McLean in Germany. She writes that she does not like the life there. When she arrived and took possession of her house she was given two maids to do the housework for her. She said she didn't know what to do with them for she didn't have enough work for two girls. She also said life there is very unsettled and there is always talk of another war. If there is one, she feels that it will be born in the tumult of post-war Germany.

She is now hoping for a speedy return to this country.

Parsel Brothers to Build New Garage

Construction will be started this winter on the new garage and filling station planned by the Parsel Brothers who recently moved here from Ohio. Before coming they bought the Drocz property at 1220 State Street. The new building will be on the east end of this, facing on US-31. It will consist of a concrete block building, 30 by 72, with the long side facing the highway. The two brothers, Donald and Howell, are both veterans, both married and both have their home in the State Street residence which they have made into a two family duplex. They are brothers-in-law of Earl Beach, former bandmaster here. The late Mrs. Beach was their sister.

City Questioned On Parking Meters

Charlevoix's parking meter system is receiving favorable fame among other small towns in Michigan. Inquiries keep coming to the city officials asking for details. Chief interest appears to be in the fact that Charlevoix uses the meters primarily to provide more parking space for shoppers, rather than as a revenue raising means.

U-M Acquires Lumbering Records

ANN ARBOR—Almost two and one half tons of business records covering the exciting period of Michigan's lumbering boom have just been received by the University of Michigan. Dr. F. Clever Bald, assistant director of the Michigan Historical Collections where the records are filed, and Secretary Mrs. John Kennedy are shown looking over one of the scores of huge books with a part of the collection piled in the background. The records are of the business interests of Louis Sands, a leading industrialist and lumberman in Manistee who died in 1938. Covering a period from 1863 to 1938, the records report the activities in logging camps and lumbering mills in the Manistee area. Also included are records of a cooper shop in which barrels and kegs were made, a saw works with a capacity of 2,200 barrels daily, a bank and a lumbering railroad. The railroad hauled logs from Starvation Lake to Sharon in Kalkaska County.

County to Get Less Snow Removal Cash

Snow removal money from the state is being spread a lot thinner this year than last. Under the state law of 1937, $200,000 is divided each year among the counties with 60 or more inches of snow the previous winter. In 1947 only 38 qualified. This year there are 62. Charlevoix's share is $2,929.06.

She showed a few articles she had brought.

The Charlevoixes delighted the audience with a group of their songs. University Magazine Praises Prof. Swinton

In every issue of The Michigan Alumnus, magazine published by the Alumni Association of the University of Michigan, there is a feature called "Classroom Profile." It gives a brief sketch of some noted member of the University faculty. Roy S. Swinton was chosen for the Nov. 29 issue. The Profile lists his titles: BCE '10 and MSE '20; Associate Professor of Engineering Mechanics. It also tells how he taught in the University of the Philippines, was inspector at the construction of the Lincoln Memorial and in 1915 returned to Ann Arbor as instructor in the Engineering Mechanics department. In 1940 he, Mrs. Swinton and their daughter, Barbara, went to the Philippines on a visit and were caught by the war. Interned in Santo Tomas, Prof. Swinton taught regular engineering classes there. After the war he returned to the University.

Drive Chairman Asks Help From Folks In District

Letter to the Rural Members of the Charlevoix Community

Dear Friend:

As you may have read, this is the week of the drive to raise funds for our Charlevoix Community Chest. Here in town there will be house-to-house solicitation. Unfortunately it is not feasible for us to make a personal call on each of you. Yet, you share with us a deep interest in the programs for which these funds will be used, namely the hospital, the school and community nurse, the Boy and Girl Scouts, and the Cancer Fund. Each of these is too vital and necessary a part of our life to be ignored by any of us.

Will you not consider this letter a personal call, and mail or bring your contribution either to me or to Bob Bridge?

Thank you.

Catherine C. Bergeon, Campaign Chairman.

Dickens Club Plans Yule Party

Eighteen members of the Dickens Club met Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Archie Livingston. Mrs. Bert Hueston, a new member of the club was welcomed.

The lesson for the afternoon was on International Relations and was ably handled by Mrs. Roy Bennett who spoke on the Marshall plan, Russia, the UN and the marriage and divorce situation in the U. S.

The next meeting of the club will be held Dec. 15 at the home of Mrs. Earl A. Young. This will be the annual Christmas party and will be an evening affair.

Resume Reading Given for Club

Mrs. Gordon Freedman was hostess to the members of the Shakespeare Club Monday afternoon at which time 16 were present.

Mrs. Joe Arvilla had the program for the afternoon and gave a clear cut resume of the play "Merry Wives of Windsor." This was followed by a reading of "The Strange Case of Mr. Crawford" by Mrs. Harry Stewart, which was a presentation of the Negro problem.

Plans were made for the annual Christmas party which will be held at the home of Mrs. Harold Miller.

Two Marriages Performed Here

David J. Kelly of Charlevoix and Naomi Mansfield of Ferndale were married on Nov. 25 at 5 p. m. Sam Kelly and Vera Ann Kelly, brother and sister-in-law of the groom were the attendants. They are making their home at 206 Mason street.

TAX POLICY

In the long run, our National tax policy must take notice of certain facts.

First of all, the present crushing burden of taxation is a direct threat to new investment and the growth of small business. This is particularly true of "venture" enterprises, where considerable risk is involved. A man won't take a chance when he must absorb the whole loss if the project fails—and will be able to keep only a small part of the profit if it succeeds.

Secondly, the cry that substantial tax reduction will benefit the rich more than the poor, is the worst kind of pandering to ignorance. The tax rates in the so-called upper brackets have become confiscatory. They have largely destroyed the rewards for effort and ability. They have thus taken away much of the impetus for achievement—the kind of achievement that built this country, created jobs, and gave it the highest standard of living on earth.

Third, there will be no real cut in the cost of government until a decline in Federal revenues makes it unavoidable. So long as the money flows in the bureaucracy will waste it and ask for more. That is one of the most compelling arguments for tax reduction.

IN MEMORIAM

In sad but loving memory of our dear husband, father and grandfather, Roland Idaho Farmer, Sr., who passed away on his sixty-fifth birthday, December 2, 1946.

He would not want the ones he loves
To grieve for him today
We must not say that he is dead
For he is just away
Away upon a journey
Toward that is bright and fair,
And though we all miss him here
We know he's happy there.

And memories of him will bring
New comfort every day
As we recall he is not dead
For he is just away.

Shortest Distance

In school we learned that "a straight line is the shortest distance between two points." Kroger's method of distribution reduces the distance (and the cost) between the farm and the fire-side. The farmer gets more for what he produces and the homemaker pays less for what she buys. Everybody benefits.

The Victorian drape skirt of satin and lace ended in a train. Her fingertip veil was held with a gardenia on either side. She carried a white prayer book topped with an arrangement of white pompoms and a white ransary. Her only jewelry was a live strand string of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom.

Cows Do Well On One Feeding

Feeding cows once a day saves a lot of work and produces just as much milk according to a three year experiment just completed by General Mills at its farm near Detroit.

Begun in 1944, the test was run on a herd of 50 dairy cows. The same amount of feed was given at the one feeding as at the two former feedings. And the same quantity and grade of milk was produced. Because of the saving in labor and time, the once a day system now is standard practice at the farm.

The cows are not fed in the morning. In the afternoon, the first step is weighing the silage, 2 pounds for each 100 pounds of live weight. Grain concentrates is fed right on top of the silage. As high as 20 pounds is given to some cows.

While the cows are eating this, the afternoon milking is done. When that is completed, a 24-hour supply of hay is given each cow.

Gas and the Tractor
It is dangerous to fill the gas tank on the tractor when the motor is hot or running. Spilled gasoline may ignite, causing a serious fire and possible injury to the attendant.

IT HAPPENED ON . . .

BEAVER ISLAND

By Mrs. J. C. Hanley

Wedding bells on Thanksgiving Day had the village in a stir of activity from early morn until late in the evening.

Through darkness of early morning, lights from the windows of the homes in the village indicated all were up preparing for Mass. It wasn't too long before cars filled to capacity began heading towards Holy Cross church.

Earlier than usual, a plane arrived from Charlevoix with Father Victor Gallagher and Margaret Lynch as passengers. Both came to participate in the Harrington-Gallagher wedding.

Bob Lindsey, Grand Rapids, landed his plane at the airport early Thanksgiving morning. A stranger, he came to the island out of curiosity. When it was discovered he brought along his camera, with all equipment for taking indoor pictures, he was asked to take pictures of the wedding.

Jack Johnson was outside of church with his movie camera getting shots of Eleanor and Norman receiving good wishes from their friends.

Joe McPhillips flew to the Island late Thanksgiving Day to pick up a passenger. Due to weather conditions he was forced to remain over night, but then, it was a good time to be stranded with the wedding reception in full swing.

Some stunning outfits appeared Thanksgiving Day. To mention a few: Theresa Gallagher was as pretty as any catalogue model in her brown and green outfit. Lillian Gallagher nearly knocked your eyes out in the fur coat she went shopping for this fall. Eva McDonough's plum colored coat trimmed in Persian lamb is a honey. Ethel McCann's white wool short coat really does something for the lady. Mary Margaret Wojan's light brown Mouton coat is so soft and flattering.

With all the dressed up ladies, none had that "new look" you hear so much about. The newest look on the island is being well padded from head to toe and not in spots.

Giles McCann came over to be with his family during the holidays. Giles, Dorothy and their two sons returned to Charlevoix Saturday.

Catherine and Jimmie Martin visited their sister and brother-in-law, Charlotte and Bob McDonough.

Edna Mae McCann, Detroit, spent the holiday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Belfy and her son, Verle.

Joan Spalding has returned home from South Bend and will remain on the island to recuperate from a bad case of home sickness.

Bill and Marge Spalding and daughter, Karen, arrived Thanksgiving Day to spend the week-end with Bill's parents.

Roger Carlisle, Indianapolis, is back on the island for a week or so.

Up until this writing, there have been 42 deer killed on the island this season. Only one islander has been lucky and he was one of the Schmidt boys.

The White Swan, which was loaded Wednesday and Thursday with 55,000 ft. of Wojan's hardwood, made two attempts to cross the lake, but Lake Michigan has been on a rampage, and the Swan came back to rest at LaFrenoy's dock Sunday morning. The Swan was gone.

Fredman Ramsey, who is lumbering on the island, spent Thanksgiving Day with his family in Charlevoix. Daddy McDonough was the guest of the Ramseys for the day.

Rings for Mourning

It was customary about the 15th century to bequeath a ring to all close friends and relatives of deceased persons. These were called mourning rings. They were usually of wrought gold or silver with a design of black enamel. In the place where a precious stone usually is set or occasionally in a band around the ring, a minute braid of the hair of the deceased was placed. These rings would be worn during the entire period of mourning, the length depending upon the relationship.

Home Repair Kit

A suggested simple kit for home repairs includes: Small cans of paint, varnish, enamel and shellac, selected for matching purposes; turpentine; a three-inch paint brush; a one-inch paint brush for small work; caulking compound; patching plaster; cement; plastic wood; glue or other suitable adhesive; shellac in stick form for filling small cracks; putty; putty knife; razor blade and holder; sandpaper; steel wool; wall cleaner; metal polish; art gum; screwdrivers, large and small; hammer, and wrench. Many more items can be added, but those listed will be particularly useful.

Rice Now Grown in Chile

It was not until 1930 that rice was cultivated in Chile—now production amounts to 1.6 million metric hundred pounds.

"Shake hands with our best mechanic, Mister Jones!"

Don't take us literally. We wouldn't expect or ask anyone to grasp that greasy palm—not until it had a washing.

But we do mean that our mechanics merit praise for every repair job they do on any make of car. Car missing? Knocking? Shimmying? Misbehaving otherwise? Let our mechanics get going on it—and you'll be pleased with the results.

I want to protect farm income, I'm interested in better marketing. I want a square deal on taxes and all legislation dealing with farm business. What the legislature does on such matters is important to me—and to you.

FARM BUREAU IS THE LEGISLATIVE VOICE OF 48,000 MICHIGAN FARMERS

Here are a few of the bills important to you that the Michigan Farm Bureau helped enact in the 1947 legislature:

- Authorization to use unexpended township funds for highway purposes.
- Increase gasoline tax to aid county roads. Vetoed. For us, this remains unfinished business.
- $151,000 appropriation for horticultural research by Michigan State College.
- $100,000 appropriation for general marketing research by Michigan State College.
- Resubmit sales tax diversion amendment on the 1948 ballot.

LET'S LOOK AT THE RECORD

Michigan farmers must be organized to deal with problems before the legislature. In the 1947 session the Farm Bureau made this record:

- Bills favored by Farm Bureau.....
- Bills favored by Farm Bureau and passed by legislature.....
- Bills opposed by Farm Bureau.....
- Bills opposed by Farm Bureau and not passed by legislature.....

Speak for yourself through your own farm organization... the Michigan Farm Bureau. Join the Farm Bureau. Take an active part. Continue your membership. More than 48,000 members in 56 County Farm Bureaus in Michigan. More than 1,000,000 members in 45 states. Family membership is $10 per year.

NOTE BY THE EDITOR: Newspapers of Michigan are asked to explain the need for saving food here at home. The "Mirror" for the next two weeks will try to emphasize two things: (1) Western Europe is faced with shortages of food this winter; (2) Our present foreign policy, whereby we would aid Western Europe as a way of defending Western Europe and ourselves against Communism, is bi-partisan. Like it or not, we are confronted with the necessity of making a momentous decision. The risks are great.

"Opposition in Michigan rural areas to the European lending program and the food-saving program is very strong," writes a newspaper editor who specializes in agriculture and who is recognized as a leader in his field. "Farmers see the real purpose of the food-saving program as an effort to cut prices. They feel that prices are not too high when compared to other costs."

This editor's frank comment is of timely interest. Recently at Washington Congress received a historic message from the President. It concerned the so-called "Marshall Plan" whereby 140,000,000 Americans would give a helping hand of dollars and food-stuffs to Western Europe's 270,000,000.

With the President's message to Congress, the people of the Nation began a great popular debate. As Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg said Nov. 3 at Ann Arbor, "Foreign policy is a legitimate subject of frank debate by our citizens. Foreign policy belongs to the people."

It is not the intention, nor policy, of this column of news interpretation to offer our personal judgment, to attempt to arrive at any omniscient conclusion. We do believe that several observations should be offered at this time, factual premises upon which we may intelligently discuss the issues of the hour.

First, the need of food for Western Europe. We believe it to be an honest statement of fact to say that Western Europe faces a general grain shortage in the third post-war winter.

Reports from impartial, unbiased newspaper correspondents, Congressional investigating committees and Presidential fact-finding groups all substantiate these shortages. Basic cause of the grain shortage was the 1947 weather, ranging from floods to drought. Supplementing cause was the black market, nourished by government food rationing whereby growers may profit by withholding grain for higher prices.

Better Phone Service On NMAPC Program

Telephone service in Northern Michigan is one of the subjects of interest to farmers that is being investigated by the new Northern Michigan Agricultural Planning Committee.

The chief goal is to obtain better farm coverage. Part of this is working out some satisfactory solution to the problem being posed now by the private phone companies which are seeking to dissolve.

One new development is being studied. That is the possibility of using some power lines, such as those of the REA, as telephone wires. New post-war devices give promise in this. Already the Tri-County company at Alpena has agreed with the NMAPC group to test the new devices.

Island Has Poorest Year In Decade Of Deer Hunting

A report on this year's deer kill on Beaver Island shows it to be the poorest season in the ten years the Island has been open for hunting with only 44 bucks killed by 280 hunters, according to figures compiled by Karl Kuebler, state conservation officer on the Island.

This is the largest number of hunters since the Island was reopened to hunters in 1938 and the smallest percentage of deer killed in relation to the number of hunters. Last year's kill was 75 bucks for 278 hunters.

The best hunting season reported, which rates among the highest reported in any Michigan county, was in '41 when 78 bucks were shot by 132 hunters.

Since then, however, the number of hunters has more than doubled and although the kill has remained between 60 to 70 until this year, the figures indicate that the herd may be decreasing.

The present herd was started in 1927 when a summer resident, R. W. Bundy, purchased and liberated three bucks and ten does to replace the native deer population on the Island which had been exterminated many years before. In 1928 four more does were added to the herd.

By agreement between Mr. Bundy and the Conservation Department, the Island was closed to hunting while the herd was becoming established. In 1938 the agreement expired and the deer were sufficiently plentiful to stand hunting.

St. James township, which occupies 9 square miles at the north end of the Island, is closed to form a refuge and prevent hunting with high-powered rifles in the populated area of the Island. Pease township's 51 square miles of woodland is open territory for hunters.

The Island's deer population is not replenished by migration from outside areas because it is isolated by open water. Although the white-tails are multiplying in other parts of the state, the Beaver herd is apparently becoming depleted, Kuebler says.

It's highly important to us to keep our customers' food bills down because, after all, that's what keeps them coming back to A&P. And we believe that the best way to do it is not by marking a few items down one or two days a week and other items up the rest of the week, but by featuring low prices on items, day after day. That's always been A&P's policy . . . a policy we're able to follow, even in the face of today's soaring food costs, because we cut operating expenses and put it to the home and pass our savings on to you. Come in and get your share today!

CHRISTMAS SHOPPING EDITION

Buy Lines

By Mrs. Ed.
The other day I met a Charlevoix woman who said, "All my life I have lived here but this year we are going to do something different. All the family are going down town and we are going to spend the whole day doing all the stores. Yes, we are even going to eat lunch in a restaurant, just as if we were doing it in a big city."

That was an idea. "Well, why not try it on Christmas shopping and who knows what a fellow might find—if he but took time to look?"

It took a whole day too, I discovered, but it was a lark! Passing the door of the bank I thought, "Why, there is a Christmas idea right here." I had read in The Courier that the Charlevoix State Savings Bank had just paid out $3500 in Christmas Savings to folks about town. What wouldn't I give for a chunk of that $3500 now. Sure, a good Christmas present—start a Christmas fund for a member of the family in either of our banks.

William's Cigar Store always fascinates me for I can lose myself in the magazine that can be found here. I had just heard that the Atlantic Monthly had broken its age-old custom and had come out with a new cover. The hunt was on. There were magazines galore. Magazines, that was it. Who wouldn't appreciate a subscription to a favorite. What armchair traveler could give his friends, for example by giving Holiday for a Christmas present. And for the homemaker there were plenty of others. Seventeen for the teen-ager.

The Betsy-Jo Shop windows held my attention for several minutes before I entered the store. "What have we for youngsters?" Mrs. Howard Griffin asked. In a corner of the store I found that 50c could purchase a (Continued on page two)

Gaylord Here Friday; Rayders Beat Petoskey

Charlevoix won their third game of the year by defeating Petoskey, 37-14 in the first home game of the season on Friday.

In a vain attempt to break the Rayders winning streak the visitors were the first to score and at the end of the first period led Charlevoix 4 to 2. In the opening second of the second period Pat Martin broke through to score and tie up the game 4 and 4. The Rayders scored five more points before the half ended to make the score 9 and 6.

Petoskey's defense which held Bob Carey scoreless in the first two periods was soon broken as the second half started and the Rayders scored 15 points in the third period while Petoskey made only 3. In the last quarter the Kipmen scored another 13 points for the final score of 37 to 14.

Bill Carey led the scoring with 12 points while Bob Carey was next with 8 and Pat Martin with 5. B. Beckley led Petoskey with 5 points. The Little Rayders trounced Petoskey Reserves 43-19. Don Hardy scored 11 points and G. Fairbanks, 9. Friend scored 6 for the Petoskey second stringers.

Charlevoix meets Gaylord on the home floor Friday night. The Gaylord aggregation defeated Grayling 28-22 last week.

Deer Shiners Depleting Herd

An increasing responsibility toward enforcement of conservation laws rests with the individual sportsman, members of the Charlevoix Rod and Gun club were told Thursday by Al Eagle, Gaylord district supervisor for the Michigan Department of Conservation.

Eagle and Ed Starback of Boyne City, county game warden, were guests at the Rod and Gun club's annual venison dinner at the L. O. O. F. hall attended by more than 100 club members and guests.

Shining deer has become a real problem in this area, Eagle reported. In one case, a violator was arrested after he had shined and shot twelve deer, picking up one and leaving eleven others wounded in the woods.

Community Chest Short of Goal

Charlevoix is falling down badly on the Community Chest Drive. Started a week ago, only about half of the $3750 needed has been collected according to Robert Bridge, Chest chairman.

Several factors make it hard to give at this time, he says, but nevertheless the money must be raised for the good of our community.

It is not necessary to pay the pledge at this time. It is sufficient to fill out the card and mark on it when it will be paid.

Secondly, the sum contributed can be earmarked for any one or more than one of the various causes represented by the Chest. One item, frequently misunderstood is the $1000 for the Hospital. For years this community has had extraordinary good fortune. No non-private hospital in the country operates without a deficit and for more than a decade our summer residents have footed the bill. Last year they served notice that unless Charlevoix folks helped stand part of this cost, all the help would be withdrawn. Boiled down, this means the community must raise $1000 through the Chest, or make up a $4000 deficit by itself.

Council Approves Zone Change; Hears Building Proposal

Store buildings can now be put up along Bridge street between Antrim and Lincoln.

Monday night, there being no objections entered, the City Council approved the change in the Zoning Ordinance which made the lots facing Bridge street over from Residential to Commercial II. It also approved the same change on the lot where Art Dry Cleaner plant is.

Pete McFarland appeared before the Council with a proposition to provide the yachtmens with needed sanitary facilities. He asked permission to put a 20 foot addition on the back of his present building. On the ground floor would be toilet-washroom-shower facilities for men and women. On the second would be a glassed-in extension of his dining room.

He asked for a long-term lease of the ground and in return agreed to maintain the washrooms for the yachtmens who would be charged a fee of 50 cents a day for their use. He said the boatmen themselves first suggested the plan.

The Council instructed City Attorney Norman Ance to check into the legal aspects.

W. L. Hansen asked permission to lease land at the airport on which to build a one-plane hangar. He is to submit specifications at the next meeting. Alderman W. E. Goss suggested the City at once should adopt a master plan for the airport to guide all such construction. The suggestion was not followed up.

Rev. Wood to Preach Sunday At Ironton

Rev. W. D. Wood, pastor of the Church of God, will give the sermon Sunday morning at the Ironton Congregational church.

Grade Pupils to Give Annual Yule Pageant

The annual Christmas pageant, "Unto the Least of These", the story of the Christ Child's visit to an English village, will be presented by the Elementary school pupils at the high school gymnasium at 8 p. m. Dec. 18.

The production will be under the direction of C. A. Odum and Mrs. Bertha Shetterly.

The scene of the story is the public square of an old English village where the townspeople are gathering on Christmas eve to welcome their King and Queen and to sing carols.

The cast of characters for the pageant will include: Beggar Boy, Tom Fessenden; Angel, Patsy Itatigan; Jan, Gordon Mol; Master of Ceremonies, Marcus White; Rich Man, Jerry Paul; Court Singers, Elaine Poole, Cynthia Smith, Kay Ikens, Marion Warner, Lester Brown, Warren Buchfinck, Henry Pontius and John Darlington.

Kipke Describes Changes at Annual Football Banquet

Coach Ray Kipke and 23 of his Junior and Senior football players were guests of the Knights of Pythias at the annual football banquet given at the K of P hall Monday evening.

Also included among the guests were H. E. Bingham, S. E. Coleman, Leonard Burns and Norman Gallagher as well as three cheerleaders, Sally King, Nancy Kipke and B. J. Cunningham.

E. J. Edwards, as toastmaster, introduced Coach Kipke who gave an interesting talk on his 20 years in Charlevoix, bringing out the change in sporting trends during the last decade. He cited many rule changes as well as the general attitude toward high school sports and told of the added benefits given players today as compared to those offered teams when he started his coaching career.

Governor Writes To Mrs. Burns On Her 93rd Birthday

Wednesday was a red-letter day in the life of Aunt Kate Burns, as she is so well known to many in Charlevoix.

It was her birthday and friends and neighbors came to call and help her enjoy the day and eat birthday cake. But the big thrill of the day was the letter she received from Governor Kim Sigler which read: "It has come to my attention that on the 9th of December you will be 93 years of age. I should like to join with your family and many friends in extending my best wishes for this and many another happy and memorable birthday." Signed Kim Sigler.

"Did you notice that it was dictated from the St. Lawrence Hospital?" we were asked when Mrs. Burns added: "I may be 93 years old but guess I am in better condition than he is at present."

Junior Farm Bureau Plans 1948 Program

Junior Farm Bureau leaders from four counties met Tuesday night at the Wayside for a dinner and to make plans for 1948.

Ben Hennink, state director of the Junior Farm Bureau, and Verland McLeod, vice-president, were here and led discussion. Goals were set and plans made for a recreational leaders training school in January at Gaylord.

Plenty of Chance Still Left in Hunt

"Most fun I've had in a long while," is a common comment on the Window Treasure Hunt being sponsored by Charlevoix merchants with close to $100 in total prizes being offered now.

But there still are plenty of chances to win prizes, despite a seeming widespread belief to the contrary. Examination by members of the committee of the first 30 cards turned in to The Courier office showed errors in more than half. Of the remaining correct ones, a few are disqualified because they were compiled in part or in whole by youngsters under 16.

In order to give everyone in the entire trading area a better chance at winning a prize, the Treasure Hunt rules will be slightly changed for the second week.

Sometime between 4:30 and 5:30 p. m. Saturday afternoon cooperating merchants will change the clue in their windows.

Next week's Hunt will start at 6 p. m. Saturday.

Cards of a different color will be available at all the stores at that time.

The Hunt will close Saturday, Dec. 20, at 5 p. m. when all second cards must be turned in to The Courier. First week cards must be in by 5 p. m. this Saturday.

The committee will then sort all the correct ones for the week. These cards will be mixed up and that night at 8 p. m. in the City Park the winners for the second week will be chosen by drawing the cards. Thus everyone will have an equal chance to win, regardless when they complete the card.

Merchants have been instructed by the committee not to initial any card presented by a youngster of 16 or under. The adult whose name appears must present the card in person.

Also to give all contestants a better chance, no one can win prizes in both week's contests. All winners will be announced and prizes awarded on Dec. 20.

Bowlers Switch Dates To Friday Nights

Charlevoix bowlers will do their stuff Dec. 26 and Jan. 2. Because of Christmas and New Years, the regular Thursday session will be held Friday of these two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Molet have gone to Elkhart, Ind., to spend several weeks with relatives.

Garden Club Will Hold Decoration Contest for Homes

Charlevoix homes which are decorated for Christmas by Dec. 21 will automatically be entered in the revived Yule decoration contest once more sponsored by the Garden Club.

Plans were worked out last week by the members. The decorations can be indoors, but showing through windows, outside on the lawn, or atop the house. Judging will be based on effectiveness of the display in making use of natural setting, effectiveness in telling a Christmas story or creating a Christmas impression, and originality.

Judging will be done by three persons to be picked by a committee of the Garden Club. These three are not to know who the other judges are. Each will drive over the entire city, and rate each decorated place as 10, 9, 8, and so on. The judges are not members of the Club. Business places are barred, the contest being for homes only.

Leaders Organize; Scouting to Start

The Boy Scout Sponsoring committee met Thursday night at the City Hall with Leland Barker, Gordon Freedman, Larry Ecklund, O. Suomela, Art Ranger, Lee Mason, Herbert Campbell, Roy Bennett, Dewitt Peters present.

Absent members were Harley Ochs, Mike Hamlin and William Heering.

Leland Barker was elected chairman and Dewitt Peters, secretary, treasurer and publicity; Advancement chairman, O. Suomela. Art Ranger, Lee Mason and Herbert Campbell are in charge of activities. Larry Ecklund, quartermaster. Gordon Freedman is a liaison officer between the Kiwanis Club, sponsoring the Boy Scouts and the committee.

The Boy Scout Committee voted unanimously to appoint Joe Strayer as Scoutmaster and Stan Haecher, Assistant Scoutmaster. Both of these men have had considerable scouting experience in their home city of Cincinnati.

Immediately after the holidays the first scout meeting will be held.

Mrs. Mabel Martini, chief operator at the local traffic office of the Michigan Bell Telephone Co., is spending this week in Traverse City where she is at a chief operators' meeting.

Erber, Dutcher Will Not Accept Office Again

Charlevoix will be having a new mayor and at least one new member of the Council after the April election.

The terms of Mayor Karl Erber, and Aldermen Kenneth McFadden, Harold Dutcher and W. E. Goss all expire this year.

Monday night Mayor Erber and Alderman Dutcher both flatly stated they would not under any consideration be candidates again or accept the nomination even if others filed for them.

Alderman McFadden of the First Ward said friends were circulating petitions for him and indicated that he would be a candidate.

Alderman Goss of the Third said he wasn't sure whether he would be a candidate or not.

Two other city officials' terms also expire, Clerk Ray Hamilton and Treasurer Nelle Hammond. Hamilton is out of town but there is no question both will be opposed for the two offices.

Only one contender for the Council vacancies has announced himself so far, William Heering of Shady Corner plans to run against McFadden in the First.

Nominating petitions for all candidates must be in the City Clerk's office by 4 p. m. Dec. 29. The petitions are available there. To qualify a candidate, the petition must have at least one and not more than four percent of the last vote cast in the precinct for Secretary of State.

Following filing of the petition, the candidate must indicate he will run before his name can go on the primary ballot for the election on Feb. 16.

Jess Feuleless Drowns In East

Jess Feuleless, 56, former resident and deep-sea fisherman now living in Gloucester, Mass., was killed in a fishing accident early Sunday morning, according to word received by relatives here.

Details of the accident were lacking but it is believed he was washed overboard from his fishing boat while enroute to fishing grounds to lift nets early Sunday. Another wave washed his body back on the craft but first aid efforts failed to revive him.

Born in Cadillac, Mr. Feuleless resided here for ten years while operating a cigar store. He left here about 1916 for the East to become a commercial fisherman. He had planned to retire this year when the season closed.

box of plastic circus animals, or a clever balloon affair. And speaking of plastics there were some of the cleverest plastic baskets in all colors that mother would love to use for her breads on the table.

At Campbell's Shoe Shop I found Santa Claus in human form of Vi Ranger and Marion Bridge buying warm stockings for children who are going to be made happy at Christmas time through the Goldman Fund. Don had just got in an exceptionally large stock of Roman Striped in three lengths. It would warm the cockles of any girl's heart to find a couple pairs of the new winter shades of hose on the tree for her Christmas morning.

M. A. Levinson really knows his wools. A peep into one of those boxes disclosed a beautiful Cannon blanket. He has them in all pastel shades. Can't you just imagine yourself waking up some cold morning and then snuggling down for just forty more winks with such a warm friend.

I have been learning the 14 different ways that one can tie a scarf. The counter in Polly Kay Shop filled with scarves took my eye at once. There were pure silk scarves, as well as plaids, paisleys and wools. Lovely imported ones, you had your choice for $3.95. And for the gal who is suit-minded there were smart looking ascots for $1.95. What a bedlam this store is going to be next Saturday when Santa Claus comes to visit at Polly-Kays.

In Fales Department Store I found the answer to many a housewife's prayer these days when it is hard to find space to hang up the family wash.

There were these new lunch cloths, look like plastic. They were in beautiful colors, flowered ones, with wide plain pastel clothborders. He has them from lunch cloth to full table size. Only have to wipe them off after the meal. And best of all there were attractive looking tea aprons to match.

Ever hear of a conversation bench? Well Smith Housefurnishings have them. Better Homes and Gardens have nothing on Charlevoix. The conversation bench is the last word for the gal who likes to stage her telephone call sitting down. The bench has an attractive upholstered back to it, and an arm for the telephone.

We have been hearing a lot about "Go hunting with your boy this year. Then you won't have to go hunting for him." Up in this country one is deer hunting with bow and arrow. What better start than to give your small son an archery set, like they have at Bill Bellinger's.

"Oh, to be a bride again", I thought as I went into Bellinger's Jewelry Store and stood gazing at a chest of Holmes and Edwards silver. The pattern was "Lovely Lady." Could just see that silver on a snowy white cloth.

It was Mildred Webster who mentioned the fact that she always likes to have cookies or bits of fruit cake wrapped in cellophane paper on the Christmas tree. Then during Christ-she would give them a bit from the tree. When I opened the door of Furber's Bakery there was the answer to her idea. The bakery has already started on Christmas things and they are making cookies for trees in the shape of holly wreaths, crescents, stars. They are all gaily trimmed with colored sugar in blue, red and green.

For a true product of Charlevoix there is nothing lovelier than the maps Irene Young drew of this section and of the Traverse section. One of these maps just makes a room. They range in price from $3.50 to $5.00.

With such a wealth of things as one finds in Abbey's Store, I really didn't know where to begin. Then I discovered some of those Ripon Loafer Socks. They are gay colored socks with soft leather sole that you wear around the house. These hot socks should go like hot cakes for they are but $2.95. A perfect Christmas gift for men or women.

A dash out to the House of Jewels was well rewarded for me when I walked into the gift shop of the store and found many gifts with a Merry Christmas from China, Italy, Mexico, U. (Continued on page three)

Charlevoix Stores Offer Wide Variety Of Fine Gifts At Christmas Season

S. A. It was the collection of gifts from China that I was most attracted to, for here were imported Chinese brass articles, figurines that any flower lover would thoroughly enjoy owning. Cloisonne pieces that would grace any coffee table.

Back on Bridge Street I found another thing that is typically Charlevoix — Christmas cards made by Bill Ochs. Ten cents apiece, the cards are scenes of Bridge street, the depot, an air view of the harbor and another of the piers. Another excellent way of letting folks know that we live in Charlevoix the Beautiful. With Old Man Winter suddenly having descended upon us, the outing pajamas in Bergeon's look most inviting. They range in price from $4.50 to $4.95. Then there were others of knit and of broadcloth.

Staley's Hardware was full of new electrical gifts, a nice set for something electric for the missus. I couldn't get my eye off a coffee percolator. The price was $17.25 but what a gift!

Trying to pick out one article to talk about in a ten cent store is hard; for Dahlquist's is a store that really goes to town during the Christmas season. Some snackmasters—trays in the shape of an artist's palette to hold cup, saucer, sandwiches, etc.—looked like a wonderful gift. The set comes in a box for $2.19.

The cosmetic counter in Schroeder & Hovey's always has a "come hither" look to me. Helena Rubinstein has come forth with an idea that surely takes. In a plastic case are four lipstick tubes. For blonds, red heads, brunettes, and silver gray, there are different tubes. If the blond is wearing aqua the evening she goes out she uses the shade for aqua.

Any gal would be proud to own such an accessory and all for $3.50.

Have you seen the last word in an end table radio that Wood Bros. have in their window? Here in a small compact time oak number is a radio. (Gifts out too) a victrola and place to hold the records. A Westinghouse number, it sells for $139.50.

With the number of boys in town who already own bikes, Charlevoix is surely bike conscious and last year I know of several boys who worked doing odd jobs so that they could get a bike. That new Schwinn number in Brown's window would truly thrill a boy or girl. They cost $44.95. And did you know that one could almost put an equal amount in accessories for the bike? "Guess we have every accessory, but a coon tail," said Laura Courier.

McCabe's Store has a real collection of magnalite baking pans, roasters, teakettles and what have you from $5.95 to $14.95. These heavy cooking pans never lose their polish. Food holds its flavor and cooks in half the time in them as in the old pans. Any housewife would enjoy a couple of those on her Christmas tree.

A hike up to the Charlevoix found Floy Edson mighty busy. Books, books, everything from a cookbook to those beautiful $1.00 American annuals of Christmas Literature and Art.

Up at Cunningham's, beside all the radios and appliances, I saw what looked like an ideal gift for the farm man. It is one of those Tote-Lites. They give a wonderful lot of light by using small fluorescent tubes. Last summer four of them were used to light up the Queen's Barge on Venetian Night and remember how wonderful the Ockrant boat looked then.

Coming back down Bridge street I walked to the rear of the Post Office building and there was a door over which was the sign "Charlevoix Carpet and Furniture Co." Going down I found the new establishment as well as Mr. Grupa. If you would like to warm up your floors for winter, this store has just the thing, rayon nap felt rugs in expensive carpeting patterns. These rugs would be much warmer than linoleum, heaps, and about as easy to keep clean. A 9x12 rug ranges in price from $10.00 to $18.00.

Are you knitting? If so, you might enjoy making Argyle socks. At the Yarn Shop one can buy what is necessary to make a pair of Argyle socks for $1.85. That would truly be a wonderful gift for your knitting friends or relatives.

Glenn Pemberton's little shop is so full of stock that there is hardly room to get into it. But man alive, what a wealth of records he has! And there with albums or records what should my eye fall upon but an electric blanket. "Wouldn't that feel good on these cold wintry nights?"

If you want another gift that is truly Charlevoix go over to Bob Miles Studio and buy one of those clever colored pictures of the pier, mounted on blond wood. Sent one of them to my sister recently and she said, "You don't know what a difference that picture makes in my room. And the picture is so realistic that I feel that I can almost hear those waves."

What an inviting spot the Gas Appliance office looked with its appliances, all made Christmasy with the red bows and ribbons of cellophane. And it looked as though there was a turkey done to a brown in the oven. One of those new gas ranges would be more than a welcome gift. The price range is from $162.50 to $299.50.

Coming back toward the office I thought of all of the beauty parlors in town. If you think mother or sis needs a new permanent, why not put some money in their stocking with a little note saying it is for a brand new permanent for a brand new year but to the same old gal!

Then think of what the one word FOOD means to people of Europe. All our food shops in town have specials such as minis, jars of preserves in special boxes, fruit cakes, nuts, dates and special fruits. Even a pound of butter hanging on one's Christmas tree would look pretty good these days. More than a welcome gift would be a box of special foods.

And as tired as though I had done a day's shopping in a big city, I came back to The Courier office and there was Santa peeking through the Courier. Sure enough, there's another thing that is truly a Charlevoix product, The Courier, and a gift that comes 52 times a year with all the news of home.

Suzanne Miles and Patsy Davis represented the local Baptist Youth Fellowship at the Annual Convention of Michigan Baptist Youth, held during the Thanksgiving recess in the First Baptist church of Battle Creek. The feature of the meeting Sunday night in Charlevoix was the report of these delegates.

The women of the Baptist church, in appreciation of the many who had helped in the remodeling and beautifying of their church kitchen, gave a testimonial turkey dinner with all the trimmings Tuesday night. Some 100 sat down to the dinner and enjoyed the first meal prepared and served from the attractive kitchen. Following the dinner there was an informal program of short speeches, spiced with jokes. The women have spent several hundred dollars on the kitchen and are justly proud of their attainments.

Louis McKenzie assisted the bridegroom as best man.

Mrs. Glados selected a pink and black afternoon dress and black accessories for her daughter's wedding.

Mr. Mrs. Lee Piazza

Wed Wednesday

The Congregational parsonage was the scene of the marriage of Lois Brown and Lee Piazza at 4 p. m. Wednesday.

Rev. Jackson E. Turner read the simple service in the presence of the bride's immediate family. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Schantz of this city, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Victor Piazza of St. James, Mo.

The bride selected a brown crepe afternoon dress, fashioned with a flame hood, brown accessories and a corsage of green carnations for her wedding.

Her sister, Mrs. Arthur Crain of Traverse City, as her only attendant, wore a champagne crepe dress, brown accessories and a corsage of white pumpkins.

Ornuta Bergen served as best man.

The bride's mother chose a blue crepe dress, black accessories and a corsage of bronze pumpkins for her daughter's wedding.

Following the service a wedding dinner was held at the Argonne for the bridal party and their family. Friends gathered later in the evening to offer their congratulations and best wishes.

After a brief wedding trip the couple will make their home here.

Shortest Distance

In school we learned that "a straight line is the shortest distance between two points." Kroger's method of distribution reduces the distance (and the cost) between the farm and the fireside. The farmer gets more for what he produces and the homemaker pays less for what she buys. Everybody benefits.

MSC Plans Service For Urban Areas

To provide programs and information services in gardening and other types of agriculture to people in cities and surrounding areas, a "Rural committee has been organized at Michigan State College.

Dr. C. P. Loomis, Sociologist at Michigan State College, reports that there are more non-farm residents than there are farmers in Michigan rural areas. Approximately 400,000 farmers and 900, 000 non-farming residents live outside urban areas in the state.
In addition, there are vast numbers of city people who garden, raise vegetables, grow flowers, and are concerned with problems of home ground and community improvement.

Fringe areas around metropolitan centers have become important parts of many agricultural communities. They bring problems of schools, sanitation, fire protection, and other public services. They are also a source of much farm labor in some sections.
The Urban committee expects to prepare leaflets, radio scripts, and newspaper articles containing information useful to the backyard gardener and the fringe area resident. The cooperation of local groups and other agencies will be asked in getting information to the people.

MSC staff members who make up the committee include: Jack Rose, horticulture, chairman, C.
P. Loomis, sociology; B. D. Kuhn, extension supervisor; J. M. Moore, poultry department; Arthur Bell, agricultural engineering; Carl Gerlach, landscape architecture;

James Tyson, soils; and George
Parsons, dairy.

Winter Fire Hazards

Fred Roth, farm safety specialist at Michigan State College, says that the chances for a fire loss from stoves or furnaces increases with cold weather. Each winter brings a toll of carbon monoxide casualties. This is deadly gas, being colorless and odorless, gives no warning.

The specialist suggests a systematic check-up of your heating equipment before a fire or injury occurs. Check the chimney
... all joints should be tight. A spark arrester will protect combustible roofs. See that all stoves or furnace pipes are in good condition and a safe distance from combustible walls, ceilings, curtains, or papers. Use a metal floor cover under wood or coal stoves.
Use metal containers for ashes.
Don't take a chance on gasoline or kerosene to start a fire.

Be sure that the damper in a stove or furnace pipe is never closed enough to force gases out into the room. It is better to regulate "draw" with a check draft.
When firing, guard against completely putting out the flames by adding coal to one side of the fire pot. Provide some ventilation in the room when you retire at night.

Rat Control

Rats cannot be eliminated if they have places to hide. Piles of rubbish, stacks of lumber or other material and wooden floors close to the ground are favorite hiding places for rats. Many farms have several such hiding places close to granaries or other food supplies. Such a combination is a perfect "Rat Hotel". Be sure to remove rat shelters, especially those near buildings.

Milk House Bulletin

Proper cooling and holding of milk until it reaches the consumer is important in producing quality milk. An efficient milk house makes this easy to do. A Michigan State College extension bulletin shows plans of houses conveniently located and arranged to permit the production of high quality milk with a minimum of time and labor.

The bulletin discusses in detail such subjects as care of milk, location of the milk house, and cooling tanks. A number of plans for the construction of milk cooling tanks are included.

To get a copy of this bulletin, see your County Agricultural Agent or write directly to the bulletin office, Department of Public Relations, Michigan State College, East Lansing, Michigan.

Evidence Favored Tryon, Court Told

Judge Karl K. Leibbrand of Bay
City, will render a decision in 30 days on the defense motion for a new trial in the case of William L. Tryon of Boyne City, who is serving a life sentence for the murder of his wife, Opal, on Dec. 2, 1946.

John H. Hicks of Detroit and Florida, and Leon W. Miller of Potoskey, presented the motion to Judge Leibbrand in Circuit Court here on Nov. 28. They contended that the verdict handed down at the time of the trial last April was contrary to the great weight of evidence. A main point in their argument was that Tryon could not have wounded himself in his attempt to commit suicide with the shotgun as alleged at the trial. No new evidence was entered by the defense attorneys.

Charlevoix county prosecutor,
C. M. Bice, represented the state at the hearing.

Charlevoix Township, City, Pay Almost Third of Total Direct Taxes In County

Charlevoix township and city pay almost one-third of the total cost of running the entire county.

This is disclosed in the report of the Apportionment Committee submitted to the October session of the Board of Supervisors. Cause of the unusual situation of an area with only one-fifth of the total population paying 33 percent of the operating cost of government is caused by the equalized valuation, the basis on which the taxes are levied—and collected.

Townships Having 180 Miles of Road Plowed

Almost 180 miles of township roads are being plowed this winter by the County Road Commission under the new arrangement with the township boards.

Faced with no money to keep the many miles of township roads open, the Commission early last fall gave notice that the townships themselves would have to foot the bill if the roads were to be kept free of snow.

In October, during the session of the Board of Supervisors a plan was worked out. The township boards were to decide how many miles they could afford to have plowed, and to decide which miles were most essential. Then the County Road Commission was to plow these roads and bill the townships for the extra cost of this work.

Under the accounting system set up and operated by Ralph Hamilton for the Commission, this cost is determined accurately.

Since that meeting, 13 of the township boards have made arrangements with the Commission and county men and equipment plowed those roads during last week's storm. Only two townships are having no roads plowed. These are Charlevoix, which has almost no township road; and Peaine, whose township roads are largely on the south end of Beaver Island where there are no homes.

The county is paying for plowing the 122 miles of highway in the county system and is under contract with the state to keep the 64.69 miles of state and federal routes open.

The townships and the mileage for each are:

Bay 10
Boyne Valley 16.8
Chandler 16.3
Evangeline 5.3

Eveline	10.5
Hayes	18
Hudson	18.25
Marion	14.15
McLure	13.65
Norwood	6.5
St. James	1.5
South Arm	23.3
Wilson	27.4
Total	179.75

This time it's Hudson

the car they said was years away!

This is your day! Set the time; see this style-setting beauty with clean, graceful lines; see a new kind of automobile!

THE NEW HUDSON is only five feet high, and with the lowest center of gravity you've ever known, but with more inside head room than any other car built today.

It has the roomiest seats ever built into any American-made automobile. It is a car you step down into when entering, not up on—yet it maintains road clearance!

All of this is made possible by a basic new development in design—Hudson's all steel Monobilt body-and-frame, the only motor-car construction that completely encircles you, even outside the rear wheels, with a rigid box-steel foundation frame. You ride within this frame, and every unit of Hudson's new Monobilt body-and-frame is welded into one solid structure that provides unusual rigidity and stability.

The Hudson dealers listed here are ready with information about Hudson's all-new, Super-Six engine—the most powerful six built today—and Hudson's masterful Super-Eight. They will tell you about Hudson's exclusive Drive-Master—no clutch pushing, no gear shifting in forward speeds.

See Hudson's gorgeously upholstered interiors. Examine all of Hudson's new beauty, comfort and convenience features, including a new type of low-pressure, Super-Cushion tire.

Get a good look at this new kind of car. It's something to see—the nearest Hudson dealer will show it to you now!

"THE OLD RELIABLE"

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

"Terrible, Terrible, Terrible!"

Ben Ryder is back! After twenty years in Capital City, Ben has retired and come to enjoy life in the family house on Maple Street.

First thing Ben does is write us complaining how Our Town has changed. "Why, there's no mud in the streets to sink up to your ankles in!" he says. "No pistol feuding in the town square! No moonshine liquor or Saturday night brawls! Nothing to do but settle for a temperate glass of beer in a law-abiding tavern!"

"Terrible, terrible, terrible," Ben says, "how a town can get run down in twenty years!" And then Ben takes his tongue out of his cheek and tells us how proud he is of the orderly, law-abiding atmosphere he finds here.

And from where I sit, you can point to that growing preference for a moderate, wholesome glass of beer as one reason folks in Our Town are so temperate, and neighborly and well-behaved.

News of folks, your neighbors and mine... but did you know that—

Didn't the kiddies have a wonderful time Saturday afternoon when Santa Claus came to town on the fire truck. Before he departed Santa went up to the hospital and visited the kiddies there. Also another big little gal was not forgotten—Frances Martin and she was pleased as punch.

Friends of Dorothy Griffin who was well known in Charlevoix will be interested to know that she is now Mrs. Robert Crawford. The wedding took place in Dayton, Ohio, where the couple will live.

Oh gee, oh gosh, no more of Mrs. Colin McKenzie's home-made cottage cheese, for a while. The Missus and Colin left last week to go to Hayward, Calif., to visit their son. Can't you imagine the fun these two will have? The George Plimms of Newberry are accompanying them. Then there was the young bride in Charlevoix who works in a beauty parlor who last week was asked to get a gallon of vinegar. Imagine her surprise when she was about to walk into the store to discover that instead of the empty jug that she had a pair of dirty mop-water. Oh, love is surely graaand!

Orchids to Ann Iligman for the clever yarn dolls she made for the church bazaar last week. They sold quicker than one could get them wrapped up. The dolls were some of the most unusual ones seen. The girls of the Senior Class staged a bake sale Saturday afternoon and the last we heard they had made $37.00. The seniors are hoping to take a boat trip this summer and here's to success in their venture.

Folks have been enjoying themselves going about town and seeing the store windows. Doesn't Charlevoix look like Christmas?

Mrs. Florence Jacobs is another woman about town who is thinking of turning her footsteps south toward Florida for the winter. Wonder if the Joseph Block, Jr. of Chicago, who died recently was a relative of some of our summer residents?

Wouldn't it be a thrill to discover a small box in your Christmas stocking containing an ignition key for a new car? Remember when East Jordan had a crackerjack of a football team back in 1902 and challenged any team in the State at the beginning of the 1903 season.

Instead of the old fashioned pot-luck like we have in Charlevoix now and then, the folks down in Gas City, Ind., call them "carry-in dinners."

We do not think of Charlevoix as having assembly lines but they had one when the Girl Scouts packed 1700 sacks of candy for the big show Saturday afternoon when Santa came to town. Under the supervision of Mrs. Robert Richards, Mrs. H. O. Krahnke, Mrs. Jim Krulik, Mrs. Irene Seymour, Mrs. Hazel Reed, Mrs. Emil Pischner the girls really worked. They put into 1700 sacks 300 lbs. of hard candy, 200 pounds of candy kisses and 200 pounds of peanuts. Troops One and Two were responsible for the work.

A lot of credit for success of the event also goes to the city police. The whole force was on hand, helped handle traffic and escorted the fire truck and Santa around town in style.

When Rev. Ansley B. Claypool, pastor of the Baptist church preached from the Phrophecy of Naltum last Sunday night, he had preached from every book of the Bible at least once. He has been preaching for 45 years. The prevailing book is John, says the Pastor, who has kept a record of all his sermons.

Grade Pupils Will Present Christmas Pageant Thursday Night at School

Dancers in the Christmas pageant, "Unto the Least of These", rehearsed for their roles as court entertainers in the play to be presented at the high school gym at 8 p. m. Thursday evening. The pageant, under the direction of C. A. Olinick assisted by Mrs. Bertha Shetterly, is being given by the pupils of the Elementary School.

Rayders Defeat Gaylord, 36 - 32

In the most closely contested basketball game this year, Charlevoix barely nosed out Gaylord to win 36-32 on the local court Friday night.

Although the Rayders led at the end of each quarter, Gaylord was ahead as the game went into the closing minutes and only three baskets made in rapid succession by Dave Hardy saved the game for the Charlevoix team. Charlevoix led 7-3 at the end of the first period and 16-11 at the half. They were leading at the end of the third period by only three points, 25-22 when the last period started and Gaylord took the lead. Gaylord, who has given Charlevoix some of their toughest games in the last two years, made a valiant attempt to beat the northern Michigan champs.

Dave Hardy tossed a basket to make the score 32-31 and another to make it 34-31. Quay got a free shot for the Blue and Gold making the score 34-32. Dave Hardy dropped another basket as the gun went off.

Bill Carey led the scoring for the Rayders with 15 points and Dave Hardy was next with 11. Quay was high point man for Charlevoix with 14 points.

The Little Rayders won their game with the Gaylord Reserves the narrow margin of 47-43. J. Bowman made 16 points and C. Fairbanks 12.

Charlevoix's next game is at Pellston on Friday.

Barnard Grange Gets $92 Prize

Last fall the Barnard Grange decided to prepare exhibits to show at the Charlevoix County Fair.

These entailed considerable work by members but they finally were ready and shown. Last week at the meeting a check for $92 in Fair prizes was received by the Grange for its treasury.

Rev. Dykstra Will Preach At Ironton

Rev. E. C. Dykstra, pastor of the Barnard Christian Reformed church will occupy the pulpit at the Ironton church Sunday at 10 a. m.

As he is leaving soon, this will be his farewell sermon to the Ironton group. This will also be the last meeting to be held this winter as the church will be closed for a few months.

Barnard Grange Postpones Party

The Christmas party planned for Friday by the Barnard Grange has been postponed until further notice.

The change in plans was made when word of Glenn Cummings' death was received.

The Charlevoix fire department was called out Saturday afternoon to extinguish a blaze in a storm shed at the Joe Smith home on Antrim St. The fire started from live coals left in a box of ashes. Damage was slight.

It sure looked as though someone had lost his upper.

There they lay, in plain sight, on the front window ledge at the post office Thursday morning when Percy Duranek opened up. It was when he stooped over to pick them up that he got the shock.

Some fiendishly clever youngster had used a face full of pink bubble gum, had molded a pretty good imitation of a dental plate. For teeth he had stuck in a row of white navy beans. And then left his creation in the post office window.

Garden Club Needs More Homes In Yule Contest

More home decorations are needed if the Garden Club's contest is to be a success, according to Mrs. Don Swinton.

Revising what was an annual event before the war, the Garden Club again is sponsoring a contest for the best Christmas decorations on homes.

Judging will be done this Sunday and Monday nights by three persons. None will know who the others are but each will turn in his rating of the homes about the city. On the basis of these, the winners will be picked and announced in next week's Courier.

Beryl Frank to Be Homecoming Queen At Senior Dance

The Senior Class is completing plans this week for a Holiday Homecoming dance to be held at the high school gym on Friday evening, Dec. 26.

A feature of the event will be the crowning of the Homecoming Queen, Beryl Frank, who was elected by the student body of the Charlevoix high school. In her court will be Dorothy Young, Gladys Coney, Pat McKenney, Dona Sternberg, Deloras Winnick, Betty Evers, Shirley Sauri and Joan Stevens.

The Senior class, sponsored by S. E. Coleman, has extended an invitation to everyone to attend this one o'g holiday dance.

Heavy Yule Rush Still to Come

The Christmas rush at the Post Office, according to Postmaster J. M. Foster, is not at full strength yet.

After a brief spurt Monday, business dropped back to about double the usual volume. Monday saw a deluge of Christmas cards which left the cancelling machine and dispatching desk three hours behind at closing time. Gift packages also came in heavy but the clerks managed to keep these cleaned up right to train time. A big rush is expected the rest of this week.

Everything except strictly local packages should be on their way by Saturday noon in order to be delivered by Christmas. Patrons can help keep the lobby less congested by avoiding the rush hours, 1 to 5 p. m.

Mt. McSaubia Winter Sports Center Started By New JCC

Shown above inspecting the top half of the Mt. McSaubia toboggan slide are five JCC members: Dick Edwards, Joe Abbey, Hayward Lesley, Robert Weststaff and Thomas Cox.

Revival of Mt. McSaubia as a winter sports center is being undertaken by the newly formed Junior Chamber of Commerce.

This was picked as the first project of the group. Sunday 17 members went to the big hill to inspect the site and decide what should be done. Four things, it was decided, should be set as goals this winter:

1. A toboggan slide and possibly a power tow on the west side.

2. A sliding place for youngsters with sleds.

3. Opening of the former WPA log cabin as a shelter house for snow sport fans.

4. Development of one or more ski runs if this can be done.

Approval for the whole program will be asked of the City Council at its next session but meanwhile C. E. Belling, chairman of the park committee, has said for the JCC to go ahead.

Robert Weststaff was named chairman of the committee on the toboggan slide. His group has arranged with Lawrence Swanson to use his bulldozer to the mountain Thursday if the weather permits. There the three-quarter mile run on the west side will be smoothed, widened and safety ridges thrown up at each side. The plan is to make two toboggan slides.

The committee also is seeking information on power-tows and if the equipment can be found, the hope is to install an engine driven rope lift on the mountain.

It was decided that the east slope offered the best place for sleds and as soon as there is enough snow a track will be laid out. Steps also will be fixed up if possible.

The Council will be asked for permission to use the log cabin as a warming station and to serve coffee and sandwiches.

The skiers present a problem. The former ski run, the JCC members felt, is too steep for any but the most expert. The need is for the beginner and the less adept. To meet this need, the JCC will try this winter to lay out several easy ski runs.

The JCC will meet Dec. 23 at 8 p. m. in the City Hall.

W. S. C. S. Officers Are Installed

New officers of the Woman's Society of Christian Service were installed Sunday morning at the Methodist church service.

Rev. Gaylord Howell called the 12 officers and department, all workers to the altar. He then spoke briefly of the work of the organization and gave the charge to the new officers.

Mrs. Mary Bird is the incoming president.

Mrs. H. B. Jacobs plans to leave Thursday for Orange Lake, Fla., where she will spend the winter months.

County Fair to Be Held On December 29

Remember the big County Fair in the High School Gymnasium back in 1940? Folks are still talking about it.

On Saturday, Dec. 27, another such Fair or Carnival is to be staged in the Gym. Already 18 booths have been promised and more are to come. The Fair is to be a Hospital Benefit.

A post-Christmas town party, it will be an occasion when all the gang home for Christmas can get together with all the townspeople.

If there is any other organization who wishes to get in on the fun of the Fair, contact Bob Miles, Charles Duerr, Dean Davenport, Sally Bergeon, Ralph Hamilton, Bill Supernaw, Bob Fochtman or Mrs. James Belling.

Scouts to Go On Hike: Klondike Derby May Be Held

Scouting in Charlevoix promises soon to be a highly active affair.

An overnight camping expedition is planned for Friday near Burt Lake on which Scouts and several of the Troop and Senior Scout Committees expect to go.

The first official meeting of the newly formed Senior Scouts will be Jan. 7. This session has not been held before as the committee wishes to be completely organized and ready with the new leaders before starting the program for the boys.

A possible activity for both the Scouts and Seniors after the holidays is a Klondike Derby. For this the boys construct Alaskan sledges which they will pull around a previously marked course. At certain spots they must stop and perform some feat, such as which is judged by adults. In other places the Derby has proved an attraction for both boys and grownups.

These ideas and others were gained last Thursday when the Charlevoix committee members and leaders attended a round table meeting of the Scenic Trails Council at Boyne City. The Scout troop there served a venison dinner in the school cafeteria. Afterward the men met for an evening of discussion and planning.

Attending from here were Scout Master Joseph Strayer; Assistants Stanley Hasher, Uno Suomela, Herb Campbell and Dewitt Peters; Committeemen Larry Ecklund and Art Ranger. Also at Boyne City were Capt. Hubert Paddock, Dr. Fred Young and Gordon L. Freedman of the Senior Scout Committee.

Boy Recovers From Accidental Shooting

Paul Johnson, 13-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Johnson, was admitted to the Charlevoix Hospital Sunday for treatment of a wound received when he was accidentally shot by a bullet from a .22 rifle.

The accident occurred while he and his brother Newell were rabbit hunting. The small calibre bullet which is lodged in the flesh under his arm was removed Wednesday.

$400 in Treasure Hunt Prizes to be Awarded Saturday

There still are opportunities galore to win a prize in the merchant's Window Treasure Hunt.

Half the prizes on display in the Earl A. Young window will be awarded for this second week. All cards, which are available at any cooperating store, must be turned in by Saturday at 5 p. m.

For this second week, a different system will be used. All correct cards will be sorted out, then these will be thoroughly shuffled. Saturday night at 8:30 p. m. in the City Park the cards will be drawn from a box and the prizes awarded in the order of drawing.

All prizes will be given out at that time. This includes those for both weeks and the three $3 prizes for the youngsters' guessing contest.

The program, while primarily planned for the high school is open to all the public. No admission will be charged.

Courier Will Be Issued Day Early

During the next two weeks, The Courier will come out a day early.

With Christmas and New Years both falling on Thursday, it seemed better to get the paper out a day ahead so it can be delivered to subscribers on Wednesday instead of Friday.

For this reason all correspondents and advertisers, and those with news are asked to get their material in a day earlier for both weeks.

What We Do In the Winter

One thing which is the sad lot of most Charlevoix folks is to be asked during the summer:

"But what do you find to do in the winter? It must be awfully dull and quiet."

It speaks well for the self-control of folks here that so far no cases of mayhem or violent assault have been recorded on such occasions.

To the folks who wonder what goes on here in the winter, I would suggest looking at the "Coming Events" column of last week and this. Sixteen and 20 events listed for each of the weeks. This is in addition to another eight in the Farm

Calendar of especial interest to the farm folks.

Friday I was talking to a young businessman. He was listing his engagements for the week. Every night was taken and on two nights he was supposed to go to two things. He was not an exception by any means; most of us have similar schedules. In fact I know of one family where the son and heir almost considers it a major event like a birthday or Christmas when his folks both are home for an evening.

I'm sorry to have to puncture a bubble of mischief, but the fact is, Summer Citizens, if you want to see Charlevoix at its doingest, come on up in the winter. You'll be surprised at what a lot of fun and good times are here then.

Hampton Says—Winter In North Equals Summer

Expounding on the beauties of Charlevoix in winter is a letter from Charles H. Hampton down in Dayton, Ohio. He writes: Dear Folks:

This isn't strictly a business letter. It's sort of a Christmas letter to let you both know how very much I enjoy the Courier and the manner in which you edit it. It's tops, and the best published since, well, shall we say since I was the Printers Devil and it was under the ownership of my Dad?

That was a long time ago, but my memories of Charlevoix have remained constant through the passing years, and today as always for me it is the garden spot of the nation—be it summertime or wintertime. (Gad! Why don't the summer visitors who flock there during the months of July and August take a flyer there during the winter? Winter in Charlevoix isn't winter in Chicago, St. Louis, Detroit, Cincinnati or Dayton! Not by a jugful. Winter can be beautiful and it's all of that in Charlevoix, thanks to the lack of slop, mud, slush, sleet and rain. Most of those who Oh and Ah at the beauty of Charlevoix in summertime would get a pleasant surprise at Charlevoix in its winter garb.

Craft Corner As Outlet for Home Products Is Suggested to Women of Charlevoix

Dear Mr. Towe: Would you print this message? To the Women of Charlevoix: How would you like a Craft Corner in Charlevoix?

And say—you are right, there is "lots of life in Charlevoix". More so than any other Michigan town north of Grand Rapids. Those who bewail that it is a "dead town" are dead themselves. Otherwise they would be up and doing like my good friend Polly Haggard, Walter Bergeon, Bob Bridge and a lot more that have the town at heart and are doing something about keeping it not only the most beautiful spot in the country, but also the liveliest. More power to all such.

Very best wishes to you and for the continued growth and prosperity of Charlevoix—the Beautiful and the good old Courier.

Cordially yours,
Charles H. Hampton,

REMEMBER!
That Xmas Necktie

IT HAPPENED ON . . . BEAVER ISLAND

By Mrs. J. C. Hanley

(Dec. 11 Letter)
The Christmas spirit officially became a reality Saturday morning on a holiday air. Their decorations of red and green crepe paper and gaily decorated Christmas trees jerked one up to the fact that the 25th is close at hand.

Decorating for Christmas does not present a problem on Beaver. With so many beautiful evergreens all over the island, every family may have a choice tree just for the effort of cutting and hauling.

Many beautiful Christmas decorations are being fashioned with prince's pine, a feathery evergreen that grows close to the ground and found only in certain spots on the island.

The Lloyd McDonough family have had an early visit from Santa Claus. This week a two-tone green Chevrolet sedan came across for them.

The North Shore is now docking in Charlevoix and making three trips a week to the island.

Mrs. Mary Bennett and Mrs. Tim Leonard were in Charlevoix for a few days last week.

Mrs. Marcella Bestman, Detroit, has been visiting her mother, Mrs. Agnes O'Donnell for the past three weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Vest McDonough have moved to the village for the winter months.

The Altar Society of Holy Cross church met at the home of Mrs. Roland McCann Thursday evening. Mrs. Lester Connaghan and Mrs. Bid Sondenburg acted as co-hostesses. Final plans were discussed for the Christmas bazar, which was set for Dec. 14. Many pieces of hand work are in the finishing up stage.

Oh, Mr. Jiggs, you should have been there! Burt McDonough, Lawrence Malloy, Archie LaFreniere, Chief "Brownie" Van Erle, Johnny Andy Gallagher, Dan Green, Bernard and Frank O'Donnell held their annual corned beef and cabbage dinner down at the Head Thursday evening. Lawrence Malloy, who annually prepares the corned beef, acted as chief cook and master of ceremonies.

Practically every one in the U. S. A. has been trying to solve the riddle of Miss Hush. Now, here's another contest, a bit different because not a single prize is offered—who is the Canine Queen of Beaver Island? One definite count has been made. Elsie O'Donnell canned 600 quarts? Who can top this?

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Capens and two children, Michigan City, Ind., are visiting Mr. and Mrs. James H. Gallagher.

Archie LaFreniere, Sr., left Wednesday to visit on the mainland until after the Christmas holidays. He plans on a visit in South Haven and then on to Ann Arbor and Detroit to be with his son and daughter during the holidays.

Inspectors were over during the week testing island cattle. The White Swan returned for two more loads of Wojan's lumber.

Tuesday evening, the Association of Commerce and the Game Club held a joint meeting at the Shillelagh. The members assembled for a get-together dinner before taking up the business at hand.

A group from the Game Club left Wednesday for Garden Island to hunt coyotes. They will camp on the island for a few days while the chase is on.

Bruce McDonough killed a coyote near the Coast Guard lookout tower last Thursday morning. That's getting too close to be healthy.

The island's good friend and neighbor, George Stephenson, has left for his winter home in South Bend, Ind.

Al Dubuison of South Haven has been coming to the island since deer hunting started ten years ago. When here this year he spent a week with Mr. and Mrs. Gus Mielke. But no buck.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Emery of Owosso spent a week at their home here. He has submitted a bid for flying the mail again this year.

Harry Fritz, W. Stone and son of South Haven, and Willard Pisehner spent a few days at the Pisehner camp on Garden Island. They report plenty of coyotes and rabbits over there.

Dave Olsen of South Haven is another island enthusiast. He has bought a plane so he can spend more week-ends here. He with his father and brothers were here for the hunting season again this year. At South Haven they are building contractors.

Island Sodality Sells Yule Cards

The members of the Holy Cross Sodality has formed two committees: the Eucharistic Committee and Our Lady's Committee.

The Eucharistic Committee chose Walter McCauley as chairman and Jack O'Donnell as secretary. Mary Malloy was elected chairman and Margaret Ricksgers secretary of Our Lady's Committee.

The Sodality has completed the campaign to get Catholic cards sold on the island for the Christmas Holiday, and has undertaken a Catholic magazine subscription drive.

Beaver Island School Activities
The Saint James School children held their second General Assembly on Dec. 3. The primary room initiated the program with two little Thanksgiving songs. The first graders then exhibited their skill in reading. The second grade boys opposed the girls in a subtraction race. The girls won.

The upper grade room was represented by the sixth grade in a heated contest in European geography. The fifth and sixth graders struggled for the championship in long division. Once more the girls triumphed.

The high school contributed a panel on Communism in which Mary LaFreniere, Mary Malloy, Madonna McDonough and Jay McDonough led discussions with Jack O'Donnell as chairman. The shorthand class gave special joy to the little tots when they wrote their names and stories for them.

The program was concluded with two Irish songs by the combined junior and senior high school Glee Club.

Report cards came out during the past week. In high school, the following girls attained the honor roll: Mary LaFreniere, Mary Malloy, Joy McDonough and Dorothy McCann. In the upper grade room seven merited to be placed on the honor roll. They were Grace Marie McCann, Mary Catherine Hanley, Margaret Ann LaFreniere, Carolyn Miller, Kay McDonough, Margaret Ellen McDonough, and Rosemary Nackerman. Among those in the primary room to achieve this distinction were: Rosemary McDonough, Noreen Cross, Rosalie Bennett and Billy Bennett. Noreen Cross and Rosalie Bennett merited a special honor of outstanding scholastic work.

Christmas is rush time for Long Distance too

Every year on Christmas Day, Long Distance lines are like crowded highways. And Long Distance calls, like cars, are "bumper to bumper." Some calls, caught in the rush, may be delayed for hours.

But if you'd like to call someone—and don't mind the possibility of a delay—we'll do our very best to get your call through.

Better yet—why not call the day before or after Christmas when the lines are not so crowded?

Best wishes for a Merry Christmas.

Bids On Island Air Mail Will Be Announced Within Next Week

Bids will be awarded some time within the next week for the nation's shortest airmail route between Charlevoix and St. James, Beaver Island.

Bids for the route closed Nov. 26 in the office of the Second Assistant Postmaster General in Washington, D. C.

When ice closes Lake Michigan and harbors in the area, the plane takes over the 35 mile air route, serving the 500 residents of the Beavers during the winter months. Until then the mailboat North Shore, stationed at the island, and the passenger boat, Mary Margaret, of Charlevoix will continue to carry freight and passengers. Shortly after Jan. 1, however, it will become necessary for the plane to begin operation, making the required three trips weekly, weather permitting, and more when the need arises. The mail service will be continued until navigation can be opened in the Spring.

Getting mail and supplies to Beaver Island in the winter has always been a problem and old timers tell many stories of the hazardous trips across the ice. Years ago dog teams made the trip across the 20 mile straits between the mainland at Cross Village and Beaver Island. Other times men with teams of horses made the crossing, taking 8 to 17 hours to make the trip. For many years, the late Joe Left, of Beaver Island, was awarded the contract and carried the mail. Sometimes storms blew up, forcing the men to take refuge for days at Hog Island or Ile Aux Galets, better known as-Skillagalee. If a horse fell through the ice, a rope was tied about his neck to choke him until his body filled with air and floated to the surface.

The first airmail service was instituted in 1926, when an exceptionally hard winter with shifting ice floes made the crossing impossible and the island was cut off for several weeks. Even the telephone cable to the mainland was broken.

It was about this time that a plane was sent from Selfridge Field to fly the late Dr. R. B. Armstrong to the island to treat a man seriously injured in a logging accident.

On April 5, 1926, the first mail flight was made from Charlevoix by Joe Donnellan, a Chicago pilot. Legend has it that when the first mail plane winged toward a landing on the ice in St. James harbor, Jackie, a 22-year old horse who for ten years had carried the mail on ice crossings, was hitched to a cutter and driven out to meet the plane. As the flying monster approached the aged animal and the thunder of its motor filled his ears, the faithful old horse suffered a heart attack and dropped dead.

Since the late 1920s, regular winter mail service has been maintained under government contract. Although the advertisement for bids does not specify that Charlevoix shall be the mainland terminus, the flight has been operated from here except during the winter of 1943-44 when it was flown from out of Pellston.

When the plane takes over the mail run it becomes the islanders' only contact with the mainland. It carries freight and passengers as well as mail and to the people on the isolated island in Northern Lake Michigan it becomes the mailman, taxi service, bread, grocery and beer truck, ambulance and another pair of wings for the stork. Although Dr. Russell E. Palmer has been the island's resident physician for 23 years, employed by the Michigan State Health Dept., occasional emergencies necessitate mercy flights to bring patients to hospitals in Charlevoix and Petoskey.

In contrast to the $30 one-way fare charged in 1926 the rate is now about $7.

Bergmann Family Bags Eight Bucks Here and in Ontonagon County

Pictured above are five of the eight bucks shot this fall by members of the Fred Bergmann family. While hunting in the Ontonagon district Shod, Big and Gimp each filled his license. Also included in the hunting party was Mr. Bergmann and four other sons.

On their return home the boys continued to hunt and George, Shene, Bud and Bill all got their bucks in Charlevoix county. The eighth member of the family, Ted, who lives at Cheboygan and who did not accompany the family to the Upper Peninsula, bagged his deer in Cheboygan county.

Mr. Bergmann, father of this gang of nimrods, who taught the boys to hunt, failed to fill his license for the first time in several years.

Why do people say:
"He's MY Doctor?"

People are quite possessive about their doctors, and for a very deep-rooted American reason. People are brought up to be individualists in this country—they know that it means something vital to be an individual "with certain inalienable rights." Their health is a very personal thing to them, and they want the mental satisfaction and peace of mind that comes from the individual choice of their medical doctors. There is both dignity and importance vested in the inalienable right to select one's doctor with a free will—and to refer to him as "my doctor." It is too much of a priceless right to be tampered with by any impersonal socializing, don't you think?

Alice Boss, Abel Van Stedum Married In Double Ring Service At Barnard

Miss Alice Rose Boss, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Boss, Sr., of this city, became the bride of Abel Van Stedum, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Van Stedum of Ellsworth at the Barnard Reformed church at 8 p. m. Friday.

Rev. E. C. Dykstra read the double ring service in the presence of 100 guests.

Donald Boss of Holland, brother of the bride, sang "God Gave Me You" and "O Promise Me" accompanied at the piano by Mrs. John L. Boss, who also played the traditional wedding marches.

The bride chose a white gown fashioned with a satin bodice, a marquisette yoke and long sleeves. Her full marquisette skirt ended in a train. She carried a white Bible topped with gardenias and white streamers. The Bible was a gift of the bridegroom.

Miss Betty Potter, as maid of honor, wore a yellow taffeta gown. Miss Rita Boss, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid and wore an aqua taffeta gown.

Fred Van Stedum of Ellsworth assisted his brother as best man and Gerald Boss and J. Jr. Boss, brothers of the bride, were ushers.

Mrs. Boss selected a green crepe dress for her daughter's wedding. The bridegroom's mother wore a lavender print jersey dress.

A reception for 80 guests was held in the church parlors. A wedding cake topped with a miniature bridal couple graced the refreshment table.

The couple will make their home at Ellsworth after a brief honeymoon. They plan to take a longer wedding trip to southern Michigan later this month.

The bride is a graduate of the Charlevoix high school. The bridegroom graduated from the Ellsworth high school and served 18 months in the Merchant Marine.

Out of town guests were Miss Alice Boss, Mrs. John Huitting and John Wynsma of Grand Rapids; Donald Boss of Holland and Mr. and Mrs. Garrit DeBoer of Rockford.

IT HAPPENED ON

BEAVER ISLAND

By Mrs. J. C. Hanley

Although Beaver Island does not have a gay, white way with brilliantly lighted displays, the Christmas spirit is felt in a good old fashioned way.

The village stores have in their windows, gaily lighted Christmas trees and within, green and red crepe paper streamers run criss-cross or twisted in artistic arrangements.

Groups equipped with bushel baskets have been going to the woods to gather evergreens which are being fashioned into wreaths, to be decorations and other items. Wreaths that would rival those made by professionals are being made with prince's pine, found only in certain spots on the Island. This evergreen is choice since it is decorative and hard to find.

Eva McDonough used aluminum paint on her prince's pine and mixed it with silvered squaw vine and the red calyx of the wild rose. The effect is lovely.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Rieckers returned home Friday after being away for several months.

Jack Connaghan arrived Friday to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Connaghan. Jack is employed in Detroit.

Carl Left, who has been sailing, is home with his family. Icy pavements and the cold blasts from out of the north was too much for Frank Elms, Buster's father. He suddenly decided to leave on Friday's boat for Arkansas, his home base.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Spalding, who spent several days in Traverse City and Charlevoix, returned home during the week.

Martha and George Miller and their two children, Carolyn and Billy, left Wednesday for their home in Detroit. The Millers will return in the spring.

Coast Guardsman Sid Katalak, who has been stationed on the Island for 14 months, left on Friday's boat for Connecticut where he will attend school in the interest of his Coast Guard career.

The White Swan will make steady trips to the Island to remove as much of Wojan's lumber as possible before the lake ices up.

The coyote hunt on Garden Island was just a hunt. Although abundance of tracks were reported, no coyotes were found in two days of steady hunting. Carl Keubler lost his dogs there and remained to find them. Buddy and Bruce McDonough were taken over by the Coast Guard to help.

St. James Program Will Be Monday

On Monday at 7:00 the children of Saint James school will entertain with their annual Christmas program under the direction of their parents and teachers.

The primary room will contribute a playlet called "Billy and the Toy Fairies." All the children in the first four grades will participate. They will also sing "Santa Claus Land" and "Santa Claus Is Coming to Town."

The girls of the fifth, sixth, seventh, and eighth grades will present an operetta entitled "The Holy Night." Those carrying the major roles are: Phyllis Wojan, Margaret Ellen McDonough Rosemary Nackerman, Eleanor Gallagher and Cathy McCann.

Members of the sophomore and junior class will play "The Gift of the Stranger", with the following cast of characters: Dorothy McCann, Patricia O'Donnell, Mary LaFreniere, Joy McDonough, Charlotte McDonough and Mary Malloy.

The arrival of Santa will be heralded by the entire student body with the hearty rendering of "Here Comes Santa Claus." Then will follow the distribution of gifts and candy to all the children of the Island.

Beaver Island Party In Chicago Jan. 24

Big doings are being planned for Beaver Island folks and friends at Chicago next month.

The Island club there will stage its annual party Jan. 24.

A letter from Miss Sophia Boyle gives early details:

"Our Beaver Island club is coming along fine. We sincerely hope to have another successful party this year. The date for the dance and reunion has been set for Saturday night, Jan. 24."

"We think the club should be a success after we get started. None of us here in Chicago will benefit by the Recreation Center, so we welcome all possible help from former and present Beaver Islanders. Editor's note: the project of the Chicago Club is to promote the building of a recreation center on the Island."

"Everyone has been very helpful so far. The upper and lower town boards on the Island have bought two lots for us, many have become members of the club and we have had representatives from Beaver Island, Charlevoix, Grand Rapids and Detroit for our party held last May 10."

America's first stretch of concrete highway was laid at Bellefontaine, Ohio, in 1893.

Christmas Bazaar Held At Island

The pre-holiday affair of importance, the Christmas bazaar, was held Sunday afternoon in the Parish Hall. For two months preparations have been under way.

Through the ingenuity of the school children and the Dominican Nuns, the hall underwent a complete transformation. Decorated evergreen trees were used generously. The booths had branches of long needle pine bordering the framework on a background of white. On the walls between the windows were large red candles with silver flame.

In the fancy work booth practically every article was hand made.

The fish pond, offering surprises for the children was kept busy until every article was sold.

Proceeds from the bazaar will be used toward improvements for the Hall and equipping the kitchen with running water, hot water heater and gas or electric stove.

Salt in Hot Weather
Extra amounts of salt taken during hot weather replace the amounts lost from the body in perspiration and reduce the chance of heat exhaustion. Excessive amounts of cold water increase exhaustion and will be more apt to bring about heat strokes.

Girl Scout News

The Girl Scouts of Troop 11 sanded candy and peanuts for Santa Claus at their regular meeting at the city hall on Friday after school. On Saturday when Sandra made his visit to Charlevoix the Scouts helped keep the little children in line.

Karen Smith, scribe.
Girl Scout troop No. 1 met at the City Hall. The group discussed a party but decided not to have one at present. They also decided to get busy on Christmas gifts and voted to have a special meeting to work on them. Some of the girls prepared the material for the gifts while the others played games.

On Friday the troop joined all other Scouts at the City Hall to sack candy and peanuts for Santa Claus and on Saturday helped Santa when he distributed the candy.

Barbara Bice, scribe.
Troop No. 4 met at the City Hall Monday after school. We held our regular business meeting, then finished our mother's Christmas gifts. We also made plans and drew names for our Christmas party next Monday. We closed the meeting with the Girl Scout promise.

Janet Todd, scribe.
Brownie Troop 7 held their regular meeting Dec. 15. Because it was their last meeting before the holidays, their leaders served Christmas cookies.

Susie Duerr, scribe.
Brownie Scout Troop 111 met at the City Hall Wednesday. Chief of Police Heise spoke to the group on the rules for riding bikes. Mrs. Gebeau helped the girls with their crocheting and others worked on the scrapbooks.

Ecklunds Install New Gas Furnace

The newest thing in no-work heating has been installed by Mr. and Mrs. Larry Ecklund at their Clinton street home.

It is an automatic gas heater which replaces the former hand fired coal furnace. Looking much like and about the size of a small refrigerator, the furnace takes up one corner of the basement. Included in the unit are the burner, safety controls and blower. Among the safety devices is one which shuts off the gas line if the pilot light goes out.

The furnace, gas tank and installation all were supplied by the Charlevoix Gas & Appliance Co.

Charlevoix Track Men Now Own Six Trotters, Pacers; Most In Many Years

Charlevoix could hold a harness race meeting anytime now because for the first time in many years there are six harness race horses in various stables about town.

The veteran horse owners, Jess and Edgar Smith, have two new horses which they purchased at the Standard Breed Horse Sale at Jackson earlier this fall. One is Son-Jay, a six-year-old pacer and the other, Nifty Worthy, a four-year-old trotter. The Smith brothers are well-known in racing circles for Jess has been in the game for 32 years and Ed has been racing even longer.

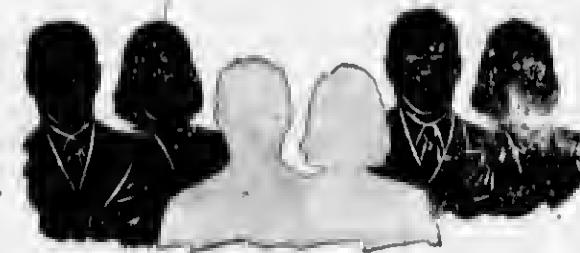

Ralph Baeot, who has been racing for 21 years, has two white racers, who are said to be the only two white horses belonging to one stable in the state. They are Silver Jack, 8 year old and Billy Brewer, 11 years old. Both are trotters.

A newcomer to the racing field as compared to these veterans is Joe Duplessis, who has raced for foal in January. She has been trained to either pace or trot. The Smith brothers and Duplessis sold horses they had formerly raced before purchasing the present ones.

The Illinois state park system now comprises more than 27,000 acres.

"adequate and efficient railway transportation service for the nation"

FROM THE OFFICIAL REPORT of the Interstate Commerce Commission on awarding a temporary freight rate increase of 10%, we quote:

"The law requires us to give due consideration, among other factors, to the need of revenue sufficient to enable the carriers under honest, economic, and efficient management to provide adequate and efficient railway transportation service for the nation..."

A moment's thought should convince any fair-minded person that keeping the American railroads healthy is to everybody's advantage.

Every family, every businessman, even the Nation itself is in danger when this artery of American life is weakened.

And that threat is real, and it is now. For with increases in the cost of railroad operation piling up one atop another, how can the railroads' multimillion dollar program for desperately needed new equipment be continued? How can improvements in roadbeds, yards, stations, rolling stock, which took a merciless beating in the war years of peak traffic, be carried through?

They can't... UNLESS—
Unless the railroads are granted freight rates adequate to meet the wage and materials cost increases, and at the same time keep hundreds of American industries busy with new machinery and equipment orders.

Government requires that the railroads maintain a high standard of efficiency because You demand it, Industry depends on it, and the Nation must have it.

We are asking a permanent freight rate increase of the absolute minimum to meet our need—which is in every sense your need.

Our request should be granted.

Under the supervision of Mrs. Harley Ochs and Mrs. Clarence Woods, games were played. Then Mrs. E. B. Bowman read two Christmas essays by Van Dyke. The Charlevoixes sang a group of Christmas songs. Teaching Prevents Accidents, Club Told

The best way to prevent accidents is to teach drivers how not to have them, Trooper Don Downer told the Kiwanis Club Monday night.

During the 54 months of war, Michigan lost 7766 in battle. In the same time just before the war, autos killed 8319.

Few drivers, Trooper Downer pointed out, have had any formal training in driving. Most learn from another person, acquiring good and bad habits in the process.

The remedy, he says, is to train the oncoming generation how to drive. The best system found so far is high school classes taught by a specially trained instructor and using a car with dual controls.

The next meeting will have a special Christmas program.

News of folks, your neighbors and mine... but did you know that—

Mrs. Ella Usher is in Tecumseh to spend the holidays and incidentally to see the new baby daughter who arrived about ten days ago to the David Dicks. Mrs. Gertrude Dick has been there for the past two weeks. Seems wonderful to see all the college students again.

Word has been received that Mrs. Eugene Westheimer of Cincinnati, who was a summer resident here for many, many years, died recently. She had been in poor health for some time. A recent copy of the Greensboro Daily News carried an excellent picture of E. J. Madill of the Department of State's Division of Protective Service. He is the son of Mrs. Josephine Madill of Charlevoix. The picture showed him in conference with Mrs. Hazel Moore, mother of Lt. Harley H. Moore who had been shot down in a plane behind Communist lines in China, recently. The mother was confident her son was still alive for he was a friend of the Chinese, spoke Mandarin, and was able to get along with them.

For the past few weeks one of the most popular spots in town has been the Post Office. The other day at the window there were so many packages all I could see was Bill Supernaw's head and shoulders. Our hats off to the mail men these days.

Remember back when Harry Oldham and a bunch of boys in Charlevoix put an old organ on a truck and went about town during the holiday season serenading the folks. Wonder if it was the organ in the hall in the City Hall? Understand Charles Marshall puts on quite a concert every once in a while when he gets started. There is music in the air these clear evenings with loud speakers giving out Christmas carols.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob White and son, Paul have been visiting in Florida. On their return they stopped at Fort Benning to get their son, Bob, who has a furlough and wanted to spend it in Charlevoix. The Whites left Illinois some weeks ago, after visiting friends and relatives in Grand Haven and Chicago. Florine Stelter left Monday for Houston, Texas, to be with her daughter, Jane Preston and her family. It will be the first time that Mrs. Stelter has seen her new grandson down in Texas. Little Judy Stokan, daughter of Jack Stokan is a one-gal-rooster for Charlevoix. Recently the family returned from California. Said the young lady, "We wanted to get back to Charlevoix. We were sick down there. California is colder than it is here. We didn't like it."

After reading The Courier down in Florida, Dr. Bill Mitchell sent a hurry-up letter to Ron Fair. (Continued on page two)

All Stars to Meet Cleaners Dec. 30

The Beasley All Stars of Traverse City will be here Dec. 30 to meet the Michigan Cleaners basketball team.

It promises to be quite a game, according to Cy Powers. Last year the All Stars won the Independent Team championship. The team is composed of outstanding former college players.

The Cleaners have considerable of a record this year, having won from Grayling, Kalkaska, Petoskey, Elk, Onaway and Rogers City. Their only defeat has been against Ildian River.

Girls Will Learn To Handle Rifles

The girls soon will be learning how to handle a rifle as well as the boys.

Sunday the first group of girls will meet at the Auto Electric Service garage to begin target shooting on the Junior Rifle Club's indoor range. Louis Bourlissau, Jr., will direct the girls as well as the boys.

Last Sunday William Barker was high, shooting a 51 score. Charles Krahne with a 42 and John Cross, Jr., with 31 were next.

Goods Needed for White Elephant Sale

White Elephant sale will be the part of the Garden Club in the Hospital Benefit Fair to be held Saturday at the school gym.

More goods are needed, according to Mrs. Lillian Swinton. A phone call to 616 will bring a car which will pick up all contributions.

Work Starts on Toboggan Slide At Mt. McSaubia

A half mile toboggan run that will be one of the most thrilling in the North is rapidly developing out at Mt. McSaubia.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce has taken the development of the big hill as a winter center for its first project. And the initial part is the toboggan run.

Starting at the crest of the dune, it will head straight down the west-side for the lake, take a couple of roller coaster swoops over low ridges and then swing south on a naturally banked curve to parallel the shore.

When it is in good shape, members of the JCC expect the local run may be close to three quarters of a mile long.

Thursday the committee, headed by Bob Weststaff, had Stub Swanson and his bulldozer at the mountain. A foot deep trough was plowed the entire length of the run, smoothing the course and ironing out the worst bumps.

The dirt piled up at the sides will provide a safety feature for the run. The JCC members plan to have a work session there this week to put the finishing touches on the course.

Kipke Presents 23 Letters to Members Of Football Team

Coach Ray Kipke presented 23 letters to members of his Northern Michigan Class C championship football team at a special pep meeting held in the gym Thursday.

The following, who will not be returning for another year's play received awards: Don Burke, Bob Carey, Bill Carey, Robert Clarke, Dick Donaldson, Jim Gibbons, Dave Hardy, Jim Harvey, Cliff Lagerman, Phil Martin, William Peterson, Jack Roberts, Robert Shannah, Dave Smith and Ray Williams.

Eight letter players who will be returning next year are: Herbert Boss, Ross Case, Don Coney, Arnold Loper, Pat Martin, Hiram Potter, Warren Shadko and Dick Jolliffe.

Kiwanis Presents "Flowers for Living"

"Flowers for Living" was the theme of the Kiwanis Club program Monday night.

The flowers, which were represented by colored Charlevoix pictures, went to Rev. W. D. Wood and to Rev. E. C. Dykstra. Both were in appreciation of devotion to the needs of the community and a record of civic service. In Rev. Dykstra's case, the gift also was a farewell present.

Rev. Gaylord Howell was in charge of the program. Quartet numbers were sung by Rev. Wood, C. M. Bice, Clarence Odmark and Dean Davenport. A Christmas talk was given by Rev. Dykstra.

Santa Visits Many Places Recently

Santa Claus has been making the rounds in Charlevoix this week.

That mysterious gentleman paid a visit to the children at St. Mary's school Friday and on Saturday evening stopped in at several places on the north side to see what the youngsters, and grown-ups too, would like him to bring on Christmas Eve.

With that big pack he carries we're sure he'll have something for everyone.

Possible South Arm, Charlevoix Channel Improvements Are Checked By Inspector

Investigation of possible future improvements by the United States Government here and at East Jordan were made last Tuesday and Wednesday.

Federal engineer who looked over the situation was Peter P. Troglia of the Corps of Engineers at Milwaukee.

East Jordan had asked that a pier or breakwater be built at the end of the South Arm to prevent the harmful wave washing now damaging the highway fill there. Representing the neighboring city were John Porter and Hollis Drew.

One of the first questions Troglia asked was for detailed information on the craft using Lake Charlevoix. East Jordan was

Beryl Frank Will Be Crowned As Homecoming Queen

Beryl Frank will be crowned queen of the Christmas Homecoming dance to be held at the high school gym Friday evening.

William Peterson, senior class president, will crown Miss Frank, who will be escorted to the party by Cliff Lagerman.

Music for the dance will be furnished by the Harry Oldham orchestra of Petoskey, in the gym which will be transformed into Christmas wonderland for the occasion.

Other first week winners in order were: Mrs. Chick Gallagher, Eileen and Bettie Withers, Helen Phillips, Mildred Webster, Leone Courier, Mrs. Walter Scott, Mrs. Mabel Russell, Mrs. Lester Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Weststaff, Mrs. Lawrence Skippergosh, Richard Webster, Myrtle M. Carroll, Katherine R. Genia, Mrs. Rachel Genia, Millie Withers, Robert Livingston, Clifford Lagermann, Dr. Earl H. Fisher, Delora Richardson, Florence Mueller, Mrs. E. C. Card, Frances Fochtman, Bettie Morrissey, Mrs. Fred Tyler, Robert Russell, Betty Hosler, Thelma Thorp, Jackie Louiselle.

Cards for the second week were sorted according to those that were all correct and those with one error: Drawing for the first prize was made from the correct ones. One boy, called to the truck which served as a platform, shuffled the cards and another drew them out at random.

Mrs. Marguerite Powell won first. Others in order drawn were:

Mrs. Charles Levinson, Mrs. Percy Butler, Lillian M. Anthony, Mrs. John Nordrum, Edna Wabanimkee, Edna Mae Miller, Beth Genie, C. R. Powell, Mary K. Washegish, Sally Swinton, Mary Louise Novotny, Mrs. Robert Kelley, Mrs. A. J. Mitchell, Wallace John, Archie Washegishik, Opal H. Ingalls, Hilda Nettleton, Esther Livingston, Mrs. Pauline Russell, Mrs. Helen Agner, Eleanor and Bill Ratigan, Hubert E. Olach, William Blissett, Bill Carey, Allice Moore.

Several folks donated their evening Saturday to the windup of the Hunt. Thomas Cox supplied his station wagon to carry Glenn Pemberton's public address system. Drew Young brought his truck for a platform. Robert Fochtman, president of the Board of Commerce, did the announcing; Ann Higman, Marjorie Webster, Charles Marshall and Homer Brady were at the City Hall looking after prizes.

Several of the winners were not present at the City Park when their names were read. The remaining prizes are being held at The Courier office where the winners may come for them.

The starting line-up had Lagerman and Case as forwards, Bob Carey, center and Martin and Bill Carey, guards.

The next game will be played here on Jan. 9 when the Rayders meet Harbor Springs for the first time this season.

Rock Elm Grange Plans Card Parties

Regular semi-monthly card parties during the next three months are being planned by the Rock Elm Grange.

These will be open to the public and held to provide a good social time.

The first will be Jan. 10. Later dates will be Jan. 20, Feb. 14 and 28, March 13 and 27.

At the Rock Elm Grange Christmas party, home made candy, popcorn balls and apples were supplied to all. The program included recitations and later sandwiches, cake, jello and coffee were served.

Kroger Employees Get Yule Gifts

Cash Christmas gifts totalling $16,000 are being distributed this week to Kroger company employees in the Western Michigan area.

The Grand Rapids Branch employees are among the 20,000 stores, warehouses, office, and manufacturing plant personnel located in 18 midwestern and southern states who will participate in the firm's Christmas gift plan.

stumped on that until they came here to Joseph Howard, port captain and harbormaster.

From his carefully kept records, Captain Howard gave the name, size and number of passengers of every craft which had entered Lake Charlevoix in 1945, '46 and '47. Troglia commented before leaving that it was the first time in all his experience that he had been able to get such complete and correct data at a Great Lakes port.

While he was here he also checked over the Pine Lake Channel, at Captain Howard's request, with a view to straightening it and to building an extension on the north pier at the entrance. He said he would recommend both.

62 Win Prizes In Christmas Treasure Hunt

Sixty two persons won prizes in the first annual Christmas Window Treasure Hunt sponsored by the Board of Commerce here.

The awards were made Saturday night in the City Park after two weeks of window looking by several hundred of the community. Regarded as a success by the sponsors, a similar event for next year is already being talked.

The lottery feature of the second week instead of the first-card-wins of the first week was liked. More easily identified items also were suggested.

Three boys won the guessing contest for those under 16. David Glassford estimated 450 cranberries in the jar at the Belding Real Estate office. There were 457. Nelson Napont put down 345 pennies in the jar at Earl A. Young's office. There were 331. Greg Bryan guessed 2075 beans for the glass at Plymouth Real Estate; 2059 was correct. Each of the boys received $3.

Of the cards turned in for the first week, the first 11 each had one or more errors. Lily A. Novotny's was the first correct one and she received her choice of four articles offered.

Other first week winners in order were: Mrs. Chick Gallagher, Eileen and Bettie Withers, Helen Phillips, Mildred Webster, Leone Courier, Mrs. Walter Scott, Mrs. Mabel Russell, Mrs. Lester Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Weststaff, Mrs. Lawrence Skippergosh, Richard Webster, Myrtle M. Carroll, Katherine R. Genia, Mrs. Rachel Genia, Millie Withers, Robert Livingston, Clifford Lagermann, Dr. Earl H. Fisher, Delora Richardson, Florence Mueller, Mrs. E. C. Card, Frances Fochtman, Bettie Morrissey, Mrs. Fred Tyler, Robert Russell, Betty Hosler, Thelma Thorp, Jackie Louiselle.

Cards for the second week were sorted according to those that were all correct and those with one error: Drawing for the first prize was made from the correct ones. One boy, called to the truck which served as a platform, shuffled the cards and another drew them out at random.

Mrs. Marguerite Powell won first. Others in order drawn were:

Mrs. Charles Levinson, Mrs. Percy Butler, Lillian M. Anthony, Mrs. John Nordrum, Edna Wabanimkee, Edna Mae Miller, Beth Genie, C. R. Powell, Mary K. Washegish, Sally Swinton, Mary Louise Novotny, Mrs. Robert Kelley, Mrs. A. J. Mitchell, Wallace John, Archie Washegishik, Opal H. Ingalls, Hilda Nettleton, Esther Livingston, Mrs. Pauline Russell, Mrs. Helen Agner, Eleanor and Bill Ratigan, Hubert E. Olach, William Blissett, Bill Carey, Allice Moore.

Several folks donated their evening Saturday to the windup of the Hunt. Thomas Cox supplied his station wagon to carry Glenn Pemberton's public address system. Drew Young brought his truck for a platform. Robert Fochtman, president of the Board of Commerce, did the announcing; Ann Higman, Marjorie Webster, Charles Marshall and Homer Brady were at the City Hall looking after prizes.

Several of the winners were not present at the City Park when their names were read. The remaining prizes are being held at The Courier office where the winners may come for them.

The starting line-up had Lagerman and Case as forwards, Bob Carey, center and Martin and Bill Carey, guards.

The next game will be played here on Jan. 9 when the Rayders meet Harbor Springs for the first time this season.

Party Honors Miss Cooper's 30 Years at Telephone Board

Miss Hilda Cooper, who has completed 30 years as an operator for the Michigan Bell Telephone Co., was honored guest at the annual Christmas party Monday night.

Middle row: Violet Fisher, Addie Glossenger with 21 years service, Mabel Martini, chief operator with 29 years service, Luella Cunningham, Miss Cooper.

Front row: Peggy McGhan, Ruth White, Lillian Henley. Also present but not in picture were Georgia Bruhl and Phyllis Allison.

Miss Hilda Cooper, whose voice has become synonymous with night telephone service in Charlevoix, has completed 30 years as an operator with the Michigan Bell Telephone company.

In March 1948, she will have served 29 years as night operator in the local office.

Miss Cooper, quiet and unassuming as always, had little to say about those 30 years that bridged a gap from one World War through a second one. She went to work for the company in April 1917, when this country entered World War I.

"Have things changed in those thirty years? I'll say they have," she said in answer to our question. "When I went to work in the old office, known as the Crouter building where the bakery is now, I was hired by Mr. O. A. Solomon. He was not only in charge of maintenance but hired all the operators and ran the office. The chief operator, who at that time was Mrs. Frances Olmstead, merely instructed the operators, checked and sent in tickets and kept the office in running order."

"And in those days we really worked! We not only put in long hours but we had to walk the length of the board every time a number came in. Now things are changed and we are assigned to a board where we can handle any number without moving."

"The wages? We worked for $20 a month then. We were paid twice a month and that check was for the whole month whether it had 28 or 31 days. We worked six days a week too. When I started working nights almost 29 years ago, I worked from 10 p. m. until 7 a. m. and when I worked on Sunday I had to start at 9 p. m."

"Of course there were no radios in those days and during World War I everyone called Western."

Courier Classified Can Sell Even 1831 Model Ford

A Courier Classified will sell even an 1831 Ford.

Robert Clark of 210 E. Huron is witness to this.

Last week he advertised his Model A. The Courier classified described a truly remarkably old but well preserved vehicle:

FOR SALE—1831 Model A in good shape.

The ad appeared on Thursday. Friday he sold the car. He said the extra 100 years didn't seem to affect the sale any.

Permanent Yule Tree Planted In East Park by City

Charlevoix will have a permanent Christmas tree in the City Park from now on.

A 25 foot spruce was hauled there Monday and set out near the lighted one which served this year. The tree came from the cemetery where it was in the way of a new grave. Instead of cutting it, City Supt. Angus Leitch had the street department men dig it up, load it on a skid and haul it to the park where it now is planted.

At the Council meeting Monday night the Aldermen voted to remove the swimming facilities from Round Lake next summer, and to discourage swimming there.

They also decided to investigate the advisability of changing the 25 foot side lot requirements of Commercial II. Unless some strong argument is found against the change, the provision likely will be altered.

Mayor Karl Erber and Alderman Kenneth McFadden were absent.

Black Market Flourishes, Clothing Scarce In Czechoslovakia, Mrs. Kovar Reports

Czechoslovakia, like women's dresses, has a new look according to Mrs. Tom Kovar who returned to Charlevoix Dec. 15 after a flying visit to her former homeland.

The visit literally was a flying one. She took planes from Chicago to New York to Praha and then back to Detroit.

The new look is due to new buildings, put up since she last visited there in 1913. The cities are filled with new stores, factories, apartments, homes, a large portion of which follow modern, functional design. In the small places, too, the country seemed pretty much rebuilt since she saw it last.

War damage was slight and has been almost completely repaired.

As far as she could see, Russia or Communism has little part in Czechoslovakian life today. Edward Benes heads the government which is running itself and all national affairs.

Everything there is rationed, and the black market flourishes.

Asked in what lines, Mrs. Kovar smiled wryly and used one word: "Everything."

"This fall food was sufficient for all. There wasn't the abundance we have here but neither was there great scarcity. Clothing and shoes however were another story. There simply was none to be had, even with ration stamps.

The farms of the country, and of all Central Europe, had a terrible summer. Drought destroyed most of the crops, and things look more or less good. Most farmers kept only one cow, hay got so scarce," she explains.

Two new crops are grown now. They are tobacco, such as is raised here, and red peppers. Otherwise farming is much along the same lines as in her girlhood.

Mrs. Kovar went to Praha, or Prague, and from there to Knezub in her native Moravia where she visited her four sisters. The trip across, she says, is uneventful, especially over the Atlantic where there is nothing to see but sky and water.

Fair is Forecast For Big Benefit Saturday Night

"Fair" and plenty of it is the prediction of Forecaster Bill Supernaw, chairman of the Hospital Benefit Fair, which will be held at the High School gymnasium this Saturday night, starting at 7:30 p. m.

"It will be a most stupendous and colossal Fair. The event will be unequalled in its appeal both to young and old, in its variety of entertainment and in its importance to the community and all the surrounding area."

"Every conceivable form of entertainment will be crammed into the Benefit Fair. Veterans organizations, church clubs, fraternal groups, women's clubs, and even individuals will have booths purveying the finest of entertainment, recreation, education and profitable opportunities for every person."

"There will be a Hall of Horrors, movies, fortune telling, Fish Pond, basketball toss, and sundry other booths which offer valuable awards to the skillful or lucky. All in all, it will be an unsurpassed conglomeration of Carnival, all assembled under one roof."

"No admission will be charged. A fine radio and an electric oven will be given away. Fair is predicted but fun will reign all evening at the gym in this mammoth event to please the whole family."

Churches To Hold Christmas Eve Services Tonight

Four churches will hold Christmas Eve services tonight.

The Congregational service will start at 11 p. m. and will include carols, a candle lighting and music by the Charlevoixes.

The Church of God's Sunday school program will be at 8 p. m.

St. Mary's Catholic church will hold the traditional Midnight Mass. Before it a vested choir of boys will carol.

At Christ Episcopal a choral Holy Communion service will start at 8 p. m.

Board Secretary's Work Rates High

When it comes to tourist promotion, Charlevoix is exceptionally fortunate in the opinion of the West Michigan Tourist & Resort Association.

S. E. Coleman is the reason. In a letter to The Courier, Edward Drier, publicity director of the Association, writes thus:

"You have one man up there worth his weight in gold to the community — and that man is Stewart Coleman. I don't know of any man in the West Michigan region who does a better job for his community than does Stewart."

Charlevoix Scouts Only Ones On Trip

Charlevoix sent the only group of Boy Scouts in Northern Michigan to the overnight camp last Friday and Saturday near Brant.

Going from here were Greg Bryan, Bradford Foster, Vane Smith, Bill Blissett, Walt Telford, and Scoutmaster Joe Strayford. Also at the camp was Pop Warner of Traverse City, Council director. The boys left Friday afternoon, made camp, hiked and returned Saturday. Greg Bryan was the cook.

Richard Dennis, Sr., has gone to Detroit to spend the holidays with relatives.

Coming Events

Dec. 29—Junior Chamber of Commerce meets at City Hall, 8 p. m.

Dec. 31—Pilgrim circle Christmas party at home of Mrs. Fred Bergmann, Lewis St.

Dec. 31—The Margaret Parker circle will meet with Mrs. Lena Swanson, Norwood Road.

Jan. 6—2:30 p. m. Garden Club meeting. Hostess Mrs. Robert Bridge. "Plastics and Synthetics" by Mrs. Emma Smith.

Dr. Grate took pictures and made movies of the occasion.

Mrs. George Haggard went to Detroit last week and returned with Mr. Haggard on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Miller plan to leave Wednesday for Whitefish Bay, Wis., to spend the winter months with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Edward S. Radle.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Gravin left last week for California where they will spend several weeks with relatives.

Suppose by this time the Ray Faulkners are in Palo Alto, Calif., and have seen their young grandson, baby Jim Faulkner, as well as his parents, the Raymond Faulkners. It's going to be a happy Christmas for that family.

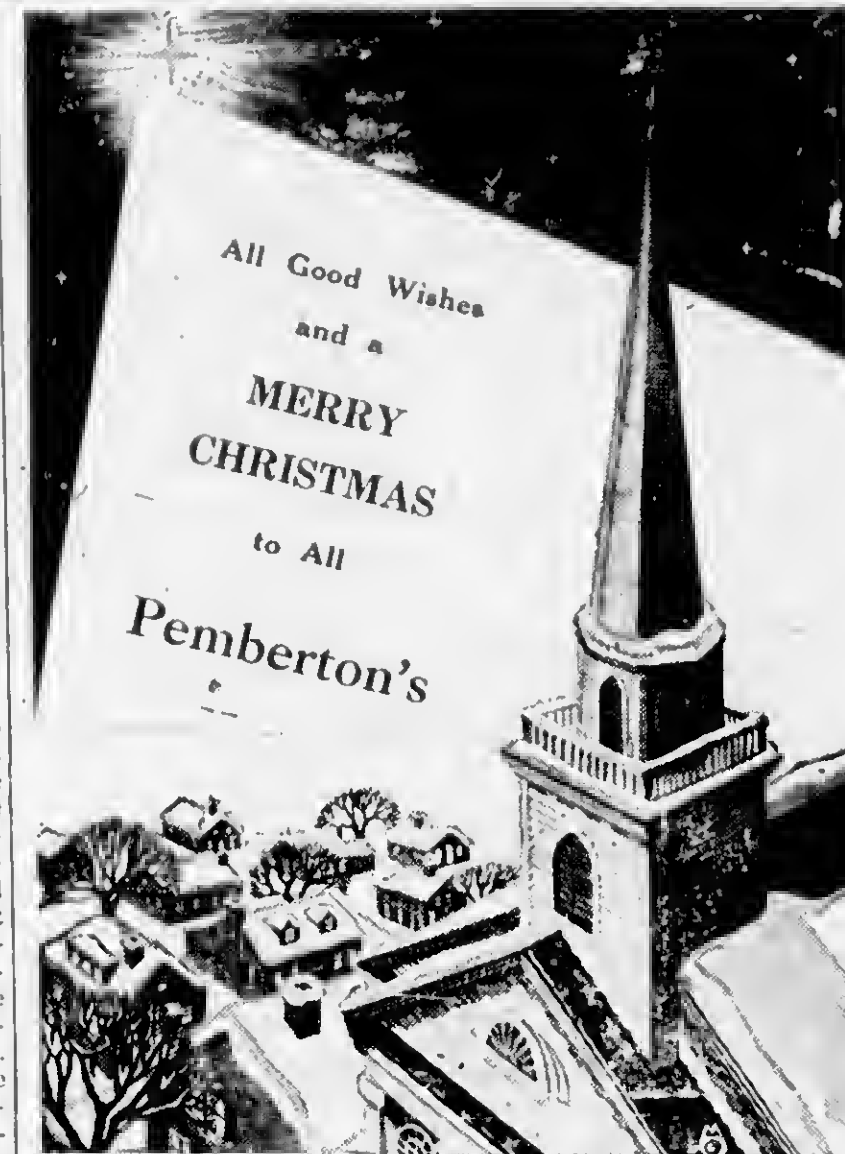

Mrs. Floyd Supp is at home again after being in Cadillac for the past month due to the illness and death of her father. Last week was one round of Christmas parties. The "Hello girls" of the Bell Telephone office had their annual party, and what a tree. Then there was the Eastern Star party, the American Legion, the Congregators, different church circles, club parties. Oh, what a whirl!

It was Mrs. Robert Taylor who so beautifully expressed what many folks thought when she wrote the following item to the Courier: "I would like to mention a window display that appeals to me very much. I would call it Eloquence Sans Words. It is the arrangement in the Fairbanks Bakery window which displays the old English Bible, the oil lamp and spectacles, all resting on a white linen table cloth. Such realism! I felt that the reader had paused and just stepped out of the room for a moment. Only an artist with an abiding feeling for the very real could convey such an impression. Then, too, it was for me a page out of my book of childhood memories for such a scene was frequently in view on visits to my grandmother's house."

A clever Christmas greeting came from the Will Hamptons in Ann Arbor. It was based on a story Mr. Hampton said was told him 30 years ago by Mrs. John C. New, a summer resident. "An old Negro scrub woman who did odd jobs for Mrs. New had more than her share of sickness, death and bad luck of all kinds, but was always singing about her work. One day Mrs. New said: 'Auntie, I don't see how you can be so cheerful with all your trouble I would think that you would be worried to death.' Auntie looked up and replied: 'Missus New, what's the use of worry'n? Things come up what I kin help. I helps 'em. Things come up what I can't help. I CAN'T help 'em! So what's the use of worry'n?'" With this thought in mind Mr. Hampton wrote a poem incorporating the idea that if we could but learn that same lesson that we would have health and contentment. And he spoke a mouthful, too!

Mr. and Mrs. Meyer Levinson and daughter, Sybil are leaving this week for California where they will be for the next two months. They expect to be around Los Angeles and Hollywood. Wonder how many folks have stopped and looked at the miniature stove with its cooking utensils as displayed in the Cornelius Geiken window? Looks like something from a child's play house of the days of "remember back when." And those Mort Wood products displayed are something interesting, too.

Well, Merry Christmas, everyone!

Inside of Cofferdam Is Wild Maze Of Timber, Steel, Pipe, Forms for Piers

What to an outsider looked like a hopelessly crazy maze of steel rods, heavy timbers, lumber and pipe last Friday and Saturday was partly filled with concrete.

In other words, the first concrete of the north pier of the new bridge was poured then. The 13 feet thick foundation slabs were already in place and hard.

The maze was the reinforcing the forms and the bracing inside the big cofferdam below the surface of the channel. What's more is was a steam heated place.

On top of the timber frame and about at river level heavy tarpaulins were stretched to keep out the snow and cold and keep in the heat produced by a dozen lines of steam pipe along both sides of the cofferdam.

Setting about six feet from the front and back steel walls are the forms into which the 382 cubic yards of concrete were poured. The pier is not solid. Its end walls are 11 1/2 and 12 1/2 feet thick, with 4 foot side walls. Inside there are eight cells or hollow places which will be completely enclosed in the finished pier.

After the concrete poured last week has hardened, new braces will be put in between it and the cofferdam walls. Then the bottom framework, which is just above the top of the new concrete, will be taken out and more forms constructed which will carry the pier up another 8 feet higher in the air.

Final step in the process will be to brace the cofferdam at the top, take out the top timber frame, construct the third and uppermost form, and fill it with concrete.

Making such a foundation would not be so difficult a job if it were not that several thousand tons of pressure all the time are trying to cave in or capsize the cofferdam. The heavy steel sides would collapse like cardboard if massive timbers were not holding them in place. Due to the unequal pressure exerted by the earth on the shore side, the entire cofferdam wants to tip over into the channel. Steel rods, anchored to piles driven far back in the bank hold against this.

Wednesday saw the first of the exposed steel framework placed. It consisted of a couple of pillars carrying a heavy I-beam. Called the north anchorage column, it will help carry the north span when it lifts. The top of the beam will be just below the level of the roadway.

Thursday morning a Leudike tug left here with a barge for Frankfort and more steel.

Board Will Tell Story of Charlevoix

Summer visitors to Charlevoix County, both past and potential, will be reminded of this vacation spot of the North during the next few days and weeks.

The Board of Commerce is busy these days on two major winter jobs, besides local ones such as promotion of the Window Treasure Hunt. The two jobs are: Mailing out 2800 cards to summer visitors who registered here or at the Ironton Ferry.

Preparation of Charlevoix displays to be used at winter shows and conventions.

Two thousand Christmas greeting cards are for Charlevoix County and went to folks who registered at Ironton Ferry during the summer. The Board of Commerce is seeing to it that they get addressed and in the mails.

Another 800 have been sent out by Capt. Joseph Howard to boat owners who visited the harbor during the summer.

The Charlevoix displays will consist of pictures, both in color and black and white, of Charlevoix scenes and literature about the area. Six different displays are being assembled and will be shown at such events as the Chicago Tribune Show, Feb. 27 to March 5, the Cleveland Sportsman Show, and the Michigan Press Association convention, Jan. 23-24.

Window displays will be exhibited at Grand Rapids, Detroit, Lansing, Chicago, Cleveland, St. Louis and Cincinnati.

S. E. Coleman, secretary of the Board, on Dec. 16 attended the meeting of the West Michigan Tourist & Resort Association in Traverse City.

George Whitley, an office employee of the Theisen-Clemens Oil Co., on Ferry ave., recently won a salesman contest staged by the company.

The prize for the contest was a trip to Tulsa, Okla., to visit the oil refineries there.

Mr. Whitley left Dec. 13 and joined the other winners in southern Michigan for the trip. He returned home Saturday.

Maurice Foster returned to Chicago Thursday after spending several days with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Foster. He was accompanied by his sister-in-law, Donna Oudekirk and daughter who will make an indefinite visit with them in Chicago.

Once again the joyous spell of Christmas is cast over us, as we hurry about with gifts for those we love. That warm glow we get from giving at this holy season cannot be duplicated at any other time of the year. It is our sincere wish that a full measure of happiness may be yours, this Christmas of 1947.

IT HAPPENED ON . . . BEAVER ISLAND

By Mrs. J. C. Hanley

On Beaver Island, as in many other places Christmas Day will be ushered in with Midnight Mass. But, unlike other places, practically every person on the island, including children, will leave their homes, either walking on sleighs or in cars, to be present at the Mass. Somehow, starting out to church in the darkness of the night brings one closer to Bethlehem.

Christmas season brings joy in many ways. To a lot of island families, it means the return of the sailors who have been away since early spring. James, Francis and Bernard McCafferty, Patsy D. Gallagher, Buddy Left and Charles McCauley are home. Bob Malloy, who is a student at Michigan State, Lansing, is home for the holidays.

A drop in temperature and practically no wind means ice in the harbor. The ice happened Thursday night. On the East side of the harbor, the ice stretches out quite a distance. Down by Gus' mill, the ice is solid enough for skating.

When Ed Joseph returns from sailing, he will find his three children decked out in lovely snow suits, all the work of Mrs. Ed.

The parents of the children on Beaver Island wish to thank the Charlevoix Board of Commerce for the 150 sacks of candy they sent across for Santa to distribute.

Fluence Burke and Lila Lee Connaghan, who are employed in Chicago, have arrived to visit their parents for the holidays.

Jewell Gillespie has the huge evergreen tree near the light plant strung with vari-colored lights.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Gallagher, Charlevoix, flew to the island to attend the funeral of Ann McDonald.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Wojan were in Charlevoix and Petoskey during the week Christmas shopping.

Many of us could not get away to shop on the mainland, so we catalogued. The results of this method of shopping is keeping our Post Master, Frank Nackerman, plenty busy, sorting boxes and bundles and some of us busy wondering if the things we ordered will arrive before the 25th.

Three weeks ago, Richard O'Donnell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank O'Donnell, was injured while leading one of their horses to the stable. The horse stepped on Richard's foot breaking and splintering several bones. He was hurt when he fell and the horse stepped on his leg. He was taken to Charlevoix for X-rays and a cast on his leg and foot. He will return to Charlevoix soon for more X-rays and possibly the removal of the cast.

Mrs. Arthur Miller left on Wednesday's boat for Detroit to spend the holidays with her family.

Mrs. Carrie Sonderogger, also left on Wednesday's boat. Her destination is New York, where she will spend the winter months.

Mrs. Bob McDonough is in Petoskey visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Martin.

Jack and May Copen's vacation suddenly came to an end last Monday. Jack, who is Chief Jack Copen of the U. S. Coast Guards, received orders to report to the station in St. Joseph immediately. The Copens have two children who were visiting on the island also.

Saturday afternoon, Lester Connaghan's fish boat sank as it lay anchored in the harbor. The Coast Guards made an effort to save the boat, but no luck.

The monthly meeting of the Third Order of St. Francis was held Sunday afternoon at Holy Cross church.

With the editor's permission, your B. I. reporter wishes to extend to all a Joyous Christmas.

Ann McDonald Buried On Island

Ann McDonald of South Bend, Ind., formerly of Beaver Island, died at the home of her sister, Mrs. Harold Overmyer of Mishawaka Wednesday afternoon.

A cerebral hemorrhage was the cause.

Miss McDonald, who was 43, was born on the island and spent her childhood here. She is survived by Mrs. Harry L. Merry, Detroit; Mrs. Erna Vories, South Bend; Mrs. Joseph Sendenberg, St. James; Mrs. Marie Smith, Kalamazoo; Mrs. Harold Overmyer, Mishawaka, Ind.

Miss McDonald's body was brought to the island for burial. Services were held Monday morning at Holy Cross church.

Greetings Can Go—Strike Danger Over

You can send all the holiday messages you want now, according to M. E. Wakefield, Charlevoix manager of the Western Union office.

Monday afternoon he received this official message: "Cancellation of threatened strike by AFL telegraph unions last night will insure full Western Union service including greeting telegrams during holiday season."

Mrs. Shirley Post, daughter, Sally and son, John, will spend the holidays in Charlevoix. Mrs. Post is a sister of Gordon Freedman.

Joe McPhillips Gets Air Contract

Joseph McPhillips has been awarded the contract for flying the mail to Beaver Island during the winter months. It was announced by the Post Office department.

He is the operator of the McPhillips Flying Service here and manager of the local airport.

He plans to use a new Stinson Station Wagon, a four passenger plane, to make the flights after Jan. 1 or whenever ice in Lake Michigan necessitates making the trips by air. The plane will make at least three trips a week, weather permitting. The North Shore now carries the mail and will continue the run as long as possible.

This is the 22nd year the air mail contract has been awarded for one of the shortest air routes in the United States—32 miles.

Mrs. Hazel Crain Entertains for Son

Mrs. Hazel Crain entertained with a dinner at her home Friday evening honoring her son, Andy's 9th birthday anniversary. Guests were the Gordon Dennis family. Refreshments included a large birthday cake. Monopoly was played during the evening. He received several gifts.

Traverse Sends Jail Prisoners To Charlevoix

The Charlevoix county jail received four prisoners from Grand Traverse Dec. 14 after Circuit Judge Earl C. Pugsley ordered the jail at Traverse City closed until proper and adequate alterations and repairs could be made. Sheriff Floyd Ikens has announced.

Two of the four prisoners brought here will be transferred to the Southern Michigan prison near Jackson later this week.

While the prisoners are being housed here, Grand Traverse county will continue to defray all expenses, Mr. Ikens added.

The Grand Traverse county jail, according to testimony given at a hearing before Judge Pugsley, is unfit and unsafe for human habitation. The removal of the prisoners will facilitate alterations and repairs including fireproofing, separation of cell blocks from sheriff's living quarters by erection of a wall, segregation of prisoners, closing of openings, construction of a concrete floor and roof repair.

The Charlevoix county jail has been designated as the only jail north of Grand Rapids and well into the Upper Peninsula where Federal prisoners can be confined.

Cost of County Government Goes Up 53 Percent Last Year Over '45

County government in Charlevoix cost 53 percent more in 1946 than it did in 1945 according to a report just issued by the Michigan Public Expenditure Survey.

Using per capita figures, the report says that in 1946 it cost each person in the county $22.80 in tax money to run the county government. In 1945 the bill was $14.98, or a difference of $7.82. Only seven counties of Michigan's 83 showed higher increases than the $7.82. Top on the list was Lake with $19.74. Four only showed decreases.

Two factors must be taken into consideration which are not shown in the Survey's report. Charlevoix county spent considerable funds for new equipment in 1946.

The population is estimated at closer to 15,000 today than the 13,301 shown on the 1940 census. This would reduce the per capita costs but not the proportions.

The expenditure is divided up as follows:

Administrative and
Operating	$ 4.65
Highways	12.34
Welfare	5.86
Miscellaneous	.01
Total	$22.86

The first homes and the scores given them were:

L. E. Towle, 25; Karl Erber, 23; Robert Fochtman, 19; Catholic Rectory, 17; Floyd Brown, 16; Fred Tyler, 15.

Also mentioned by the judges were the homes of Bill Ratigan, Dr. Gerald Gibbons, Charles Marshall, Frank Boss, William Wallace, Dr. G. B. Saltonstall, and Lillis Flanders.

Merry Christmas to one and all

One man — one of many — created a character who in child-like faith and all-embracing love will live through the centuries as the symbol of Christmas.

The man was Charles Dickens; his character was Tiny Tim. And in the words of Tiny Tim, oft-repeated, we'd like to say:

"A MERRY CHRISTMAS, GOD BLESS US EVERY ONE"

W. H. Wallace

WE GREET YOU AT CHRISTMAS

And wish for you every happiness of the holiday season.

Union for the latest bulletins which sometimes were days old. When the telegraph offices closed, people asked us about it. Now people turn on the radio and have the latest news in less time than it takes to call the operator.

"Yes, things have changed but for the better. I have no yen for the good old days."

"Did I ever have any unusual experiences while on nights? No, I don't think so, for after a while 'owl hours' become very routine. It's the day girls who get all the excitement."

Remembering the 'biggest' day the local office ever had, V-J Day, 1945, we asked if she was working that night. She answered, "No. I was lucky, but there was sure a jam there for a while."

Miss Cooper has no special hobbies. "Just keeping house is enough to keep anyone busy," she added. She lived with her mother, the late Mrs. William H. Cooper, until her death in 1944 and since then has continued to live alone in the family home at 406 Mason St.

When the telephone operators held their annual Christmas party Monday night Miss Cooper was surprised to find that she was the honored guest. Mrs. Mabel Martini, chief operator who is also a veteran of the company with more than 20 years service, gave a brief talk on Miss Cooper's years with the company and presented her with a gift from the group.

Later the guests, 21 in all, played games, exchanged gifts and enjoyed a buffet lunch served from a table decorated with evergreens and lighted tapers. The small tables were decorated with colorful place mats and evergreens. A lighted Christmas tree held the gifts.

Miss Margaret-Ane Gustler, superintendent of the Charlevoix Hospital, and Miss Elizabeth Lee, Hospital, and Miss Elizabeth Lee, via plane from Traverse City Tuesday to spend Christmas with their respective families in Detroit and Wayne.
